IT WAS A BIG DAY AT THE NICKEL

The Nickel sprang a genuine Thanksgiving day surprise on its thousands of patrons yesterday in presenting two of the most pleasing singers heard in the house for many a day. Miss Marie Maxwell made an instant hit in the clever coon ditty, I've Lost My Gal, and when little George Fairbairn got through with his first song, Carrie and Harry, it was seen he was destined for perpetual encores. This little fellow, who had held the boards at the Montreal Nickel for six months, has a sweet, strong treble and sings with all the coolness and ease of an adult professional. Whilst these two new comers "went big," as the saying goes, it remained for the old favorite, Fred. Driscoll, to make the hit of the day with the irresistable song, My Wife's Gone to the Country, which was encored six and seven times. The audience joined in the refrain lustily and the extra singers helped it along as well. Whenever this song came on it was a big sensation.

It was capacity business of the utmost at the Nickel all day, and the record of last year came very near being eclipsed. Had the weather been better it would certainly have been broken. As it was, the big show-shop was filled to overflowing continually and it was only by redoubled efforts on the part of the house staff that provision was made for all. The picture programme was unusually good, introducing no less than three fine Biograph films: His Lost Love, Eloping With Aunty, and Two Memories. A screaming farce, A Piece of Ancient Headwear, was a big laugh. The orchestra was better than ever in a special programme.

NOVA SCOTIA DEATHS

Digby, Oct. 25—James Alfred Peters, one of the most prominent citizens of Westport, died suddenly at his home in that town at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, aged 78 years. He was around as well as usual Saturday night and spent a portion of the evening in E. C. Bowers & Co's store.

Mrs. Eliza Purdy, of Lynn, died at the home of Mrs. M. L. Oliver last night. She had come to visit her Digby relatives, she being a sister of the late M. L. Oliver, and was taken ill with heart trouble. Her daughter, Mrs. B. W. Eddy, arrived here last week. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. A son of the deceased, Fred Purdy, arrived in St. John from Boston, Saturday night, and as there is no Sunday boat, had to spend the Sabbath in St. John. He arrived here this morning too late to see his mother alive.

FOREST FAIR TONIGHT

The new Forest Fair, under the auspices of the Exmouth street church Y. M. A., will be opened this evening at 8 o'clock in Glad Tidings hall, Brussels street. There will be speeches by Hon. Robert Maxwell and J. A. Wilson, M. P. P. Rev. Samuel Howard, of St. Stephen, founder of the Y. M. A., will also give an address. The fair will continue up to and including Friday evening and an orchestra will be in attendance. On Thursday evening a Thanksgiving supper will be held in the school room of the church. The arrangements for this are being made by a large committee of ladies.

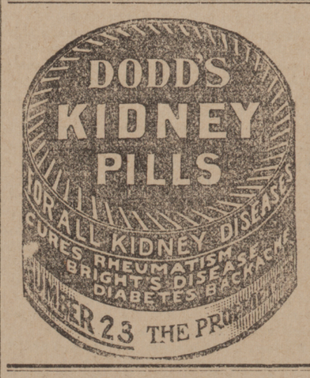

The ball and rooms have been very prettily decorated with evergreens and red berries The visitor can find many attractive booths, where fancy goods and refreshments can be purchased, and a number of games for which suitable prizes will be awarded.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The Presbyterian congregations of the city held a united Thanksgiving service in Calvin church yesterday morning.

Rev. W. M. Townsend, of Fairville, preached the sermon. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson led in prayer, and Rev. A. A. Graham read the lesson. A special anthem was sung by the choir of the church. Mr. Townsend's text was: "It is good to give thanks unto the Lord," Psalms xcii, v.—1. The offering will be given to the Protestant Orphan Asylum.

Seventy-two foreigners are seeking naturalization in Brantford.
