NEW YORK FINANCIAL BUREAU.

New York, Aug. 20—Liquidation started, is generally permitted to run its course as heretofore suggested, but in a market like that now at hand, order lines may be expected rather than demoralization, for it is a readjustment, and not a real bear market, fundamentals being bullish while technicalities are temporarily unfavorable. The technical position can soon be corrected.

Weak accounts are already being eliminated. The establishment of a shortage is next in order. Good stocks as well as bad ones suffer naturally in readjustments, but they are safer, and those presenting a maximum of safety to purchasers during weakness after raids will be found in the low and in the medium priced stocks. When digestion of the level with its distribution shall have been accomplished, resumption of improvement by specialty action will be witnessed. We are in the long over-due but perfectly natural set back of general character and we continue to advocate the observance of the neutral position by daily operators who will get the best results by purchasing the low priced stocks on weakness after declines and selling high priced issues on rallies in both cases for turns only and protected by stop order unless it is intended to accumulate a line on a scale down.

Unfavorable news may now be expected for a time with an organized bear party in the saddle and flushed with partial victory. We suggested that the fact that Harriman was out of reach would afford a good opportunity for the bears to do away with him, and so they did in the last hour yesterday. He went aboard limping, he may come off jumping. His friends are divided as yet as to his real condition. Maybe, but far be it from us to assert it as a fact, the limp concealed ulterior designs. Crops are O. K., so is business. We face the greatest prosperity ever known.

Corrective measures sometimes proceed to the extreme in markets as well as elsewhere in compliance with the law of action, and reaction. If action has been excessive, the reaction is often commensurate. Therefore conservatism is desirable at present. But hope may indulge itself for the future. Press comment and market literature are mixed.

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

New York, Aug. 20—The market cannot be regarded as any other than very discouraging from the standpoint of recent small buyers owing to the failure of bullish crop news to stimulate a sufficient demand to maintain the market above the 12 1-4 cent level. Recent fluctuations suggest an increasing demand around or under 12-cent; decreasing demand and increasing pressure above 12 1-4 cents.

Leading bears do not hesitate to increase their lines on bulges owing to confidence in the improbability that the early new crop movement may absorb at the 12-cent level, but in the absence of the actual pressure the bad crop reports bring in enough buying to prevent the discounting of the approaching increased receipts. Meanwhile, it is becoming more and more apparent that the average outsider is so impressed with the invariable course of the market during the height of the early movement during previous years that arguments to the contrary this season, notwithstanding, the stability of the market must be actually tested before there is likely to be any revival of bull speculation on a big scale.

SHOT SKIPPER AS INTRUDER

Eastport, Aug. 18—Fearing that intruders were making a third attempt to board his vessel and not recognizing his employer, Eugene Roberts, 22, of Milbridge, shot and perhaps mortally wounded Captain Robert B. Ross, aged 40, of this city, on the schooner at her dock last Tuesday night shortly after 11 o'clock and was attempting to force open the cabin door when the sailor threatened to shoot. Capt. Ross did not hear the warning and as he continued to kick at the door, Roberts discharged a shot gun with the intention of frightening him away.

Capt. Ross happened to change his position just as the explosion took place and received the full charge of shot in the thigh an ugly wound being made. Blood poisonsible to extract the shot. Capt. Ross ating was feared, especially as it was impostached no blame to Roberts, who immediately summoned assistance and surrendered to the police. Capt. Ross probably will be removed to a Bangor hospital.

MR. LOWELL IN SACKVILLE

(Sackville Tribune)

A visitor to Sackville on Tuesday was James Lowell, M. P. P., of South Bay, St. John county, Mr. Lowell has lately been spending a few days in Kent county and in different parts of Westmorland, and naturally could not overlook Sackville. It was his first visit to the town and in conversation with the Tribune Mr. Lowell expressed himself as agreeably surprised by the evidences of progress and prosperity which he noticed.

Naturally in the course of conversation Mr. Lowell touched upon the recent by-election in St. John county which he was so largely instrumental in winning for the Liberals. The result there, he said, was a decided set-back for the Hazen government whose leader made the fight especially his own. Mr. Lowell also said that wherever he has gone in the province he has found that the sentiment is strongly against the Hazen administration. The highway act, with its increased taxation, is viewed by the electors with particular disfavor.

BURGLARS AT WORK

Effort to get Into Burpee Brown's Drug Store Last Night.

An attempt was made last night to break into Burpee E. Brown's drug store on the corner of Princess and Sydney streets. Entry was made through a cellar window, and thence upstairs to a room in the rear of the store. Here the would-be burglar cut a hole in a door leading from the room into a passage to the cellar, that forms part of the building occupied by Mrs. O. J. McAfee, as a boarding house, the opening made, however, was not large enough to allow a man's body through.

It is thought that whoever cut the hole in the door did so under the impression that it led into the drug store.

HOW FRAUDS WERE WORKED FOR INSURANCE

C. P. R. Detective in Montreal Discloses Methods Discovered.

Montreal, Aug. 19—In their investigation of the "fake-claim" bureau, following the arrest of Nathan Orloff, Ossif Shykofsky and Abraham Katsoff, Labor Agent C. H. Bailey and Detective H. J. Page, of the C. P. R., who hold in their hands documents implicating in the frauds professional men of Montreal, have become familiar with the doings of the organized gangs of thieves whose only means of living is to prey on big transportation companies and smaller concerns.

One of the most popular methods used by the gang was the following:

A contingent of five or six foreigners would be sent to Montreal by the leader of the gang, who is now in Seattle, Wash., after having been chased out of Canada by the federal police, acting under instructions from the Dominion Immigration Department. Upon arriving here the "tools" would invariably try to secure work that would keep them together at all times, and one of them would generally succeed in securing an accident insurance policy on one of the local companies. If any of these five or six men would receive injuries, the injured man would invariably claim that he was the man insured, and the scheme was so finely worked that nine times out of ten it succeeded.

"They all look alike," said Detective Page, "and to one not familiar, and who has not made a study of their operations and ways of playing the trick, it is almost impossible to detect the fraud, as the 'tools' are always of the same build and are even mistaken one for another by the timekeepers who have them constantly under their eyes."

The gang has always at its disposal cripples of all kinds and physical freaks galore, ready at a moment's notice to act.

STARVED HORSES ATE WALLS OF STABLE

(Montreal Herald.)

Literally dying from the effects of starvation, too exhausted even to support the burden of their own weight, two wretched horses in the rear of 353 Sherbrooke street west, ravenously devoured the very floor on which they stood, and part of the walls which surrounded them.

An officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals visited the place yesterday. Complaints had been received concerning ill-treatment of a horse alleged to be going on in a stable in the rear of these premises, owned by one Duggan.

On reaching the premises the inspector found himself face to face with one of the worst cases of cruelty he had met in years. In the stable there were two horses in such a weak condition that they were unable to be taken out without being assisted. Judging by their condition they had not had anything to eat for upwards of a week; the woodwork surrounding them had been eaten away in their efforts to satisfy their craving for food of some kind. It is expected that one of the unfortunate animals will have to be done away with as a result of this experience.

One of the horses was found to be that sold by a Mr. Childs to the man Duggan, in which transaction Mr. Childs claimed to have been victimized, as the Dominion Bank had refused to honor the cheque given in payment.

A warrant has been taken out by the society, charging aggravated cruelty.

Driven from the forest by fires, many deer and other game fell before the rifles of hunters near Duncan Springs, (Cal).

CART LOAD OF STOLEN GOODS

Big Thieving From Arnold's Department Store — Employe Arrested

An unexpected recovery of goods, the size of which is taken to indicate wholesale thieving, at the departmental store of Arnold & Company, was made at noon by Detective Killen. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Arnold notified the chief of police of missing several articles, and said that he had detected Walter Patrick, an employe, in the act of conceaiing a few of the articles in his pockets, while at work.

At noon Detective Killen went to Arnold's and accompanied Patrick to his boarding house in Moore street, where he discovered numerous umbellas, boxes of goods, stands, pictures, trinkets, crockery and various other articles, the total value being estimated at $200 by Mr. Arnold, who idnetifies the things as his property. The goods were loaded on a truck, and Detective Killen took Patrick into custody on suspicion of stealing the goods.

Patrick is twenty-five years old and has been employed by Mr. Arnold for some years. He was lodged in the lock-up at police headquarters at 1 o'clock, and when he was safely under lock and key, Detective Killen again went on the search for another rendezvous where it is alleged goods had been concealed.

DEFICIT IN INDIA

Surplus Was Expected But There is no Such Distress as Year and a Half Ago.

London, Aug. 19—India's new undersecretary, the master of Elibank shows in the house of commons that owing to past depression, there was a deficit of three and three-quarter millions for 1908-9, instead of the expected surplus of £571,000.

Yet there was no distress such as prevailed eighteen months ago. Public health was good, agriculture was actively pursued, and if the harvest came up to expectation the effects of the past drought would disappear.

Amid cheers the master of Elibank paid a tribute to Lord Kitchener, the outgoing commander-in-chief, as a distinguished soldier of high administrative genius." Eulogizing Lord Kitchener's work, the under-secretary mentioned that the commander-in-chief had visited every single unit of the Indian army.

"In leaving India Lord Kitchener will carry with him the recognition of His Majesty's government, and the good wishes of those with whom he worked.

With steady emphasis the under-secretary announced there would be no hesitation in dealing with seditionists.

"There will be no supineness or vacilation in dealing with anarchial outrage or malicious acts of sedition" (applause).
