His Training Work at Carlsbad—Talks of Battle With Johnson—Other Ring, Good Baseball Chat, Turf, Golf, Track and Field Sporting News

Jeffries, who is at Carlsbad, Bohemia, says: "I am working every day at the Orpheum and am following a simple regime. I rise at 6, then go out for two hours' roadwork, returning about 9. After a little massage and a short rest to cool my stomach, I take breakfast, consisting of porridge. Occasionally I take a couple of eggs. Afterward I take a walking exercise and am not home till 3. When I got to the gymnasium, always for ninety minutes and sometimes for two hours. I take no meals during the whole day, only 6 o'clock dinner, which consists mostly of chicken and wild game. I drink no soup, have plenty of vegetables. I do not eat potatoes and drink no spirits or scarcely any liquids except the Felsenquelle water morning or evening.

"My present weight is 226 or 227 pounds. I am in bed at night at 9. I have done no hard training as we know it in America. The people here don't know who I am or what I am training for at the Orpheum. They charge me the big sum of 40 cents an hour.

"I will sail for New York in October. The date is not yet fixed. But when I go back I will meet Johnson.

"I have several friends here, including Nat Goodwin, and five or six from Los Angeles. I like Carlsbad very much. I made $50,000 in the last twenty weeks before I left home."

Young Kloby, the Lawrence lightweight, contemplates a trip to the west, where he has been promised several matches.

Leonard Lauder, the clever California lightweight, has been matched to meet Phil Knight, for a 10-round bout at Kansas City, Sept. 16.

Young Kenney, the Lawrence boxer, has forsaken the game for the theatrical business. Kenney and his brothers are doing acrobatic work.

Al Wolgast's card of meeting all comers reminds one of the days of John L., when the big gladiator was taking them on as fast as they could walk up.

Harry Mansfield, of England, and Kyle Whitney, who held Mike (Twin) Sullivan to a 20-round draw, will open the Washington Sporting Club's season next week.

John Caley, the Portland promoter, formerly of St. John, has located a place for his new club and will open up in a few weeks, with Tom Sawyer and Larry Connolly in the feature bout.

Al Kubiak is going to Paris. He has signed to meet three men during October and November. Two of Kubiak's opponents will be Jim Stewart and Sam McVey.

FOR HARDWORK

The performing of certain kinds of labor requires the expending of such an amount of strength, such a quantity of energy that the workman would never be able to resist without ruining his health unless he found in a food-producing strength and energy, supplying the necessary food for the proper working of the human machine.

"RED CROSS GIN" is pure and mellow, made and matured in bond and bottled under the Government's supervision.

"RED CROSS GIN" is the only one offering the guarantee of purity and age, whereas imported gins are not subject to any Government supervision and are therefore dangerous.

Each bottle of Gin bears the Official Stamp of the Canadian Government.

One of the latest and most persistent rumors is floating around to the point that Hughey Duffy will manage the White Sox next season. Comiskey says there is nothing to the story, but he is one who keeps his own counsel.

The Big Leagues

American League

Boston, Sept. 22.—With Mitchell, a new recruit, pitching for the victors, Boston defeated Cleveland today, 3 to 1. In the fourth inning, the locals scored three times on three singles, an error, a hit batsman and a sacrifice. Wood was very effective and received brilliant support, especially from McConnell.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The combination of pitching by Mullin and extraordinary hitting by Crawford, Cobb and Moriarty proved too much for Washington today, and Detroit won easily, by the score of 8 to 3. Mullin allowed but three hits scattered through as many innings, and with perfect fielding back of him he should have copped an easy shut-out.

Batteries—Mullin and Street; Moriarty and Schmidt. Time, 1:45. Umpires, Evans and Dineen.

ing look actually worse than it was. Against a boxer of his own type Martin was a very satisfactory performer. In front of a man of the Sullivan style Martin was bewildered. It was, in short, a fighter against a boxer! but in this case the boxer won out.

There were some cynics in the audience who felt that Sullivan could have done better. That he was trying his best was plainly evident to those who understand his ring methods, but the absence of a decisive punch, a noted attribute in the Sullivan family, made it difficult to see how he could have done better.

In the opening preliminary Teddy Murphy of South Boston, bested young Dooley of Cambridge, who substituted for young Lippo, in six rounds. Tom Foley, another Peninsular district representative, took on Jack Powers of Pawtucket for six rounds. Powers looked more fitted for the part of a living skeleton than that of a trained athlete, and it was plain after the bell rang that he was up against it good and proper. A few well directed blows and Powers went through the ropes into the arms of his seconds.

The head-line bout of the night was easily that between Bert Delaney of Northboro and Billy Nixon of Cambridge. Nixon, boxing better than he has ever done at the club, battered the tough youngster through the six rounds and earned the award. Delaney took a terrific grueling, but never quailed under the storm of punches. In fact he appeared to get better as the bout progressed and was fighting gamely when the final song rang.

Before the main event it was announced that Tommy Killy, Kyle Whitney of California, Honey Melody and a half score of others challenged the winner. Dan Sullivan, the national amateur middle weight champion, announced that he was ready to meet Bill McKinnon and the latter accepted.

The card for next week is as follows—Sam Langford vs. the Dixie Kid, 12 rounds; Otto Mantell vs. Eddie Shevlin, six rounds; Dummy West vs. Young McDonough, six rounds, and one other six-round contest to be arranged.

FOUR MASTER GOES ON LEDGE

Bangor, Me., Sept. 23.—The four-master schooner Alicia B. Crosby, Captain Peterson, from Newport News for Bangor with 2,000 tons of coal for the Maine Central R. R. Company, struck on Port Point ledge at the mouth of the Penobscot River at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and remained hard and fast. The weather was clear at the time and the schooner's grounding was the result of a slight miscalculation in shaping her course. She was resting easily on the eastern side of the ledge, slightly heeled to starboard. The Bangor Bismarck and Ralph Ross will attempt to haul her off and it is thought that she will be floated without much damage. The Crosby is a vessel of 1,012 tons and is owned by J. S. Winslow & Company of Portland.
