GEORGE J. GOULD AND HIS FAMILY

New York, Sept. 13—Returning with his family after a long tour abroad, George J. Gould, the well known financier, looked the best of health as he discussed trade prospects here and abroad.

"Business is fine," he said, "railroad earnings excellent, crops big and everybody hopeful. The stock market is going up, but things are looking better here than anywhere else. Germany is a great and growing commercial nation, and to me it seems that the only old countries in the world now going ahead are the United States, Germany, Italy and Japan.

"There is a disposition abroad to buy our stocks and bonds, and I do not believe that they are parting with many, although there is always some trading. They have the greatest faith in our future and our prosperity."

BOSTON BASEBALL TEAM NEARLY MADE PRISONERS

Mix Up on Train Over Ticket and Police Were Called—News of Sport in all Branches for Times Readers

The Boston American League baseball club narrowly escaped arrest Friday upon its arrival in Philadelphia. It was all through the boneheadedness of a Baltimore and Ohio conductor, and one of the party, who forgot.

It seems they changed conductors at Baltimore. Secretary Eddie Riley had produced his ticket for the twenty-seven people in the party, and the conductor had punched it. With Eddie sat one of the men. When the conductor came through the train again he handed Eddie's companion the ticket, waking him from a slumber to do so, Eddie having moved down to where a whist game was in progress. The sleepy member put the ticket in his pocket and went off to sleep again.

The new conductor who got on at Baltimore and demanded the tickets for the crowd.

"The other conductor took it up," said Riley.

"He didn't say anything to me about it," replied the conductor, "I'll have to collect the fares."

"Fat chance," replied Eddie.

"You can't ride free, that's sure," cried the conductor, getting warm under the collar. "I'll have the fares or arrest the whole crowd."

"Go as far as you like," was Riley's retort.

Conductor did. He wired Philadelphia to have police and patrol wagon meet the train upon its arrival. It was about half an hour before the time for Philadelphia to be reached when the conductor again declared himself. This time the sleepy fellow rubbed his eyes and demanded to know what the row was about, and then dug up a very much crumpled ticket.

This smoothed things out, though President Taylor declared this afternoon that he wished the conductor had gone through with it. "You would all have had a free ride," he smilingly declared.

"The Red Sox in the round up," laughed Arellanes, "that should draw.

Kirb White, the Boston National pitcher, who has been out of the game for a few days owning to rheumatism in his pitching shoulder and arm, has been granted leave of absence for the remainder of the season, and has left for his home. President Dovey has also given leave of absence to Hosea Siner, the infielder.

Marathons Win Both

The Marathons defeated Moncton for the provincial championship in two games on Saturday on the Every Day Club grounds. The score of the first game was 8 to 1, and the second 8 to 5. The change of pitchers by the visitors in the second game did much for them. The Monctonians were fairly strong at the bat but their stick work was off at critical periods, with men on bases. Shooting for the $4,000 Dryden trophy, the big event of the tri-State rifle tournament, was begun at Sea Girt, N. J., Saturday, despite the weather conditions which prevented any record breaking performances.

Wind and rain held sway over the range during the morning, but in the afternoon clearing weather permitted the completion of the 200-yard and 600-yard stages. Ohio had a margin of twenty-one points over the Marine corps team at the end of the day.

The contest is open to military teams of eight men each, the marksmen firing ten shots apiece at three distances. The standing of the two leading teams at the completion of the 600-yard stage was; Ohio, 669; U. S. M. C., 648.

Football

Leo H. Leary, the former end of the Harvard football eleven, will assist Head Coach Percy Haughton with the Crimson candidates this fall. Leary will have full charge o fthe end material in the event of Charlie Campbell being unable to coach.

Leary has had great success in the coaching line, having successfully handled Newton High and Mechanic Arts High to championships in their respective leagues. Two years ago he assisted Coach Crane at Harvard, and his development of high class ends stamped him as an exceptionally fine coach. Leary played end on the Crimson for two years, and was one of the most reliable men Harvard had in the line-up during those seasons.

The Algonquins will have a football practice on the Shamrock grounds this evening, beginning at 6 o'clock. The Indians are endeavoring to put a first class team on the field this fall and invite any one wishing to play football to be present at the practices.

The Ring

"Young" Otto and Johnny Marto, lightweights, fought ten rounds before the Fairmont Athletic Club, New York, Friday, with Marto having a shade the better of it. Otto had a fairly good lead up to the sixth round, but soon tired, while Marto forced the fight until the final round.

Sizing up his opponent in the early rounds and spurting nicely at the finish, Young Erne of Gray's Ferry won from Willie Lucas in the six-round bout at the Nonpareil A. C., Philadelphia, Friday.

Erne was contented to let Lucas do most of the leading in the first two rounds and the Fairmount lad started as though he intended to put Yi Yi out of commission.

Boy Is Golf Champion

Chicago Golf Club, Wheaton, Ills., Sept. 11—Robert E. Gardner, of Hinsdale, a clean timbered, rosy cheeked lad of nineteen years, today won the amateur golf championship of the United States from H. Chandler Egan, of Exmoor, twice winner of national honors, four up and two to play. He is the youngest man that ever won the national championship.

Hans Holmer

Says the Boston Journal:—"Hans Holmer, who won the Marathon race at Lowell against a fast field, is no stranger to the long distance running game. Holmer has had quite a reputation across the border, and last summer Frank Kanaly tried to get on a match with Holmer for ten miles. Jack Irons, the trainer of the athletes of the Wanderers' Cricket Club, tipped me off about the Quebec runner, who has lived up to the prediction made by Irons. This youth Holmer will bear watching, for he has exceptional ability.

Hockey

(Halifax Mail)

Hockey druing the coming season promises to result in a good fight for the N. S. league honors. In Amherst those Ramblers are always to be seriously taken and when the season opens they will have their usually strong team and perhaps this season it will be stronger, for George Stewart, of the Fredericton Capitals' fame is there, and Stewart can play hockey some. Besides the ex-champs are said to have a dark horse of some ability at work in one of the manufacturing plants of the town.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 12—The Maritime Conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, in session here since Friday, closed with a farewell meeting in St. George's this evening. In all, seventy-eight delegates were in attendance at the conference, fifteen from the local chapter. In addition to services held in St. George's church today the new mission hall at Sunny Brae, erected by the Moncton church at a cost of $1,200, was formally opened by Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton. The hall was completed Saturday. The edifice contains a handsome stained glass window donated by Mrs. Ketchum, of Fredericton, in member of her nephew.

A mass meeting for men and boys was held this afternoon in the Grand Opera House, the speakers being Hubert Carleton, general secretary of St. Andrew's Brotherhood in the United States, and Bishop Richardson. Stretching the truth won't make it go any farther.

UNKIND MAN 'JOSHES' THE SERIOUS POLE CONTROVERSY

(Montreal Witness.)

There are things which tend to throw doubt on both the Cook and Peary stories. For instance, none of them makes any mention of Santa Claus or of Captain Bernier, who are both understood to move in the most exclusive of Arctic circles. Neither do Cook's nor Peary's descriptions of the Polar region correspond precisely with those of Jules Vern in "The English at the North Pole," or of Charles Kingsley in "The Water Babies." In the one the pole was the crater of a volcano down which Captain Hatteras sought to plunge, in the other it was the good fairy, "Mother Carey," disguised a san iceberg. As to the difference between Commander Peary and Dr. Cook they should, before starting, have made some such arrangement at Pat made with his colleen, that if he arrived at the trysting place first he would put a stone on the gate-post, and if she arrived first she would knock it off.

According to this, if the doctor arrived first he would bury a brass tube in the snow, and if the captain got there first he would dig it up. However, Peary's claim is safe, for like a true "American," he has the pole. Where is now the arch relic hunter, Pierpont Morgan, with his museum of fabulously costly souvenirs. Where is Mark Twain's Pilgrim, who tried to chop a piece of the Sphinx? Peary has the pole, and the United States can put a prohibitive export duty on "hot air," which is the only product reported from that region. Foreign tribes of whales must immediately be required to pay a head tax and the Declaration of Independence will have to be translated into Eskimo in some more effective way, if possible, than it has yet been taught to the Filipinos.

MRS. JOHN WILSON IS SUFFOCATED

St. Andrews, Sept. 12—A fire with a fatal ending took place about 9.30 this evening, when the residence of Mrs. John Wilson was noticed to be partly in a blaze. The alarm was sounded, and after the apparatus was at work it was discovered that Mrs. Wilson, was in the house. She was found suffocated on the sitting room floor, and when taken out Dr. Wade pronounced her dead.

She was eighty-four years of age and had been to church and was left at her home by some friends only an hour before. It is supposed she had been fighting the fire and tried to get out by the front door, but was overcome by the smoke. The body was not injured.

Says the Glace Bay Gazette:—Rev. J. A. M. Gillis who has been Parish priest at Dominion No. 4 for some time, and who went west a short time ago, owing to throat trouble, has resigned his parish and decided to stay in the west, owing to the eastern climate aggravating the trouble from which he suffers. He is now under treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, B. C., and has been appointed chaplain of that institution by Bishop MacDonald. Father Gillis' many friends will regret to learn that he has found it necessary to permanently leave Cape Breton, but hope he will find health in the west. The Parish of No. 4 will continue to be supplied from Glace Bay for the present.

GLASS IN HIS FOOT EIGHT YEARS

New York, Sept. 13—A piece of glass which had remained in the body of Simon Coleman, a tailor, of Newark, for eight years, has been removed. The fragment was three-eighths of an inch square.

Coleman kicked in a glass door in order to put out a fire in a building near his place in 1901. His foot was badly cut. The wound healed, but shortly afterward Coleman began to suffer pain in the foot. An X-ray failed to reveal the presence of any foreign substance, but Coleman finally became uinable to walk. He then located the trouble himself and a doctor took out the glass.
