THISTLES SCORE ON ST. ANDREW'S FOR THE CUP

Six Rink Match for McCaffrey Cup Yesterday Was Won by Thistles by 37 Points—Thistle Ladies Beat Moncton

The first of the two games between the Thistles and St. Andrew's in the McCaffrey cup series was played last evening and resulted in a decisive victory for the Thistles by thirty-seven points. Each club had three rinks playing on its own ice. The Thistles won two and had one game at home and lost one game by three points on St. Andrew's ice.

The feature of the match was the game between James Mitchell and Frank Harrison on Thistle ice, which resulted in only twenty points being scored in the eighteen ends. It is said to have been one of the most hotly contested games ever played in St. John, and nearly approaches the record made in the inter-rink matches between New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in 1888, when eighteen points were scored in eighteen ends.

The failure of Frank S. White for St. Andrew's to put up a fight against J. Fred Shaw, came as a great surprise. The latter rumped away from his opponents by scoring twenty-eight points in five.

The second game between the clubs will be played next year. Previous to the match each had lost a game to Fredericton and St. Stephen. The Fredericton club, it is said, was undefeated, but their matches against the other clubs in the province have all been played on their own ice. The competition calls for home and home games between all the clubs and will close next year.

The score by rinks in the game last evening was:

SCORE LENNERTON WILL RUN AGAINST DORANDO

Fast Dartmouth Distance Runner in the City Today En-route to New York to Meet Famous Italian.

L. C. Lennerton, the fast little Dartmouth runner, would so well here at sports held by the Every Day Club, is in the city with the intention of going to New York to stack up against the famous Dorando, the Italian Marathon runner, at Gotham.

"Pat" Powers, the American baseball magnate and former manager of Tom Longboat, is looking after the interests of the speedy Nova Scotia boy, and Lennerton is hourly expecting word from his manager.

The latest Canadian to get after the distance runners now performing in New York, is not only the fastest fifteen-mile in the maritime provinces, but one of the fastest in Canada. While modest about his qualifications, Lennerton has lots of confidence in himself, and when asked what he thought of his chances against the Italian, said: "Of course I don't know whether Dorando was pushed in his last race with Shrubb, but he will have to go faster than that to beat me, as my time is faster for the distance."

St. John and New Brunswick in general will watch Lennerton's progress with interest as a maritime province boy.

Lennerton, in talking with a Times man, said that while Strubb was by far the king pin of the distance men here, he expressed the opinion that by displaying more judgment, he would improve. Of the local runners, Lennerton considers "Herb" Danaher the most promising. He has strongly urged Danaher to refrain from running in the proposed professional Marathon, as, with proper handling, he has a good future. If Danaher desires to run professionally, Lennerton believes that his best method is to remain in the amateur ranks till he gets more experience and some reputation.

There are lots of good distance runners developing in Halifax and Dartmouth now. Lennerton says, as many as 20. Among the best are W. Mosher and G. Wolfe, of Dartmouth, and A. Rogers and J. Mackay, of Halifax. The latter especially has a great future as a ten mile. For the Marathon distance Wolfe, with Holmer out of the way, is the pick. This is the man who ran in the Boston Marathon two years ago. Rogers and Wolfe, with Holmer, Downey and Lennerton, were the Halifax Harriers in the Montreal Star road race, the 24th of October last. Mackay won the six mile, St. Peter's road race in Dartmouth last year. Of the short distance men, Boss and Schaefer were, of course, the whole thing.

Asked what he thought of Schaefer's defeat of Bobby Kerr last year at Halifax, Lennerton replied, "It was just a fluke, a flash." Sports in general in Halifax this year looks good, Lennerton says, and there should be lots of it the coming summer.

Lennerton speaks volumes for the efforts of the Every Day Club to boom athletics here and hopes that the public will support them. As to his treatment in sports here, he says that he could not have been used better.

PRIZE FIGHTING UNDER BAN IN SPOKANE

Professional Boxing Receives a Bad Jolt—Mayor Prohibits Battles for Purse or Gate Receipts.

Spokane, Wash., March 3—Prize fighting, in the guise of trials of skill, strength and endurance, received a trouncing that will put the game in Spokane on the shelf at least for three months, when Mayor C. Herbert Moore officially recognized the Amateur Athletic Union, thus shutting out battles for purse or gate receipts within the city limits.

Everything had been arranged for a series of four-round fights, ranging from a battle for $1,000 between "Boomer" Weeks, a member of the local fire department, and Dr. B. F. Roller, of Seattle, who recently deserted the mat to don the gloves, to scraps of the meat-traffic town, when Major Moore gun-shoed to town from southern California and handed Her Rice, chief of police, an order which had all the characteristics of a juicy lemon from the fighters' viewpoint.

"Everything's off," quoth Chief Rice, who announced some time ago he would permit four-round contests, provided they are pulled off in the direction of recognized clubs, adding:

"The mayor has placed the boxing game where it belongs—a sport for pleasure and exercise. Any club complying with the Pacific Northwest Association's rules can have boxing contests, but the participants must be amateur, boxing club amateur rules. This applies to every club in the city, including the Young Men's Christian Association. They all look alike to me."

Mayor Moore's announcement came as a surprise to the fighters and promoters, at least a dozen of whom traveled several thousand miles to get in on the ground floor. They say this is the first time in the history of the organization that the A. A. U. has been recognized by a city government.

TODD SAYS GRANT SHOULD COME HERE

Charlotte County Member Pledges Himself to Work Hard to Get Dominion Exhibition Grant for St. John.

"The grant should come to St. John and I will do all I can to have it come here," said W. F. Todd, M. P., for Charlotte county, who was in the city yesterday, in speaking of the dominion exhibition grant for 1910. Mr. Todd said he had left Ottawa on Friday and therefore was out of touch with recent events. The general opinion at Ottawa, however, had been that the session would be a short one, the indications being that it would be brought to a close in the latter part of May.

Thus far the opposition had not offered much obstruction. The principal matters they had given their attention to were: the grant for the Mayes charges; as for the Mayes charges it was generally considered that the grant of this matter in the house had done Hon. Mr. Pugsley a lot of good, as many people had not fully understood the case and the straightforward statements of Dr. Pugsley effectively silenced the opposition and exploded their falsehoods.

Regarding the exhibition grant Mr. Todd said he thought it should certainly come to St. John and at the close of the meeting last week, when a vote of the New Brunswick members was taken, he had suggested that Hon. Mr. Fisher should send a man down here to report on the relative advantages of St. John and Chatham. If this was done he had no doubt that St. John would be chosen. He could not say, he said, why the North Shore members should try to secure the grant for Chatham, but he could not see why the members from other parts of the province should vote against St. John. He thought that, as Dr. Pugsley had taken the attitude he did in not trying to influence the members in their votes, they should be generous enough to talk to his support and vote for St. John. He added that the question was by no means settled as Hon. Mr. Fisher would likely take a hand in it and he was favorable to St. John.

Mr. Todd said that on his return to Ottawa he would do all in his power to influence those opposed to this city to cast their votes in its favor and he was hopeful of success.

Mr. Todd referred to the interest he felt in the meeting some time ago to consider an international fisheries treaty. This was a question that affected Charlotte county to a large extent and he had arranged to meet Professor Prince, the Canadian commissioner, the last of the week and talk matters over with him. The proposed treaty would affect all the Charlotte county coast and the St. Croix river. He understood that the United States commissioner was in favor of establishing more fisheries and doing away with a close season for the fish. The fishermen of Washington county (Me.), also advocated free fishing of fish.

Mr. Todd said he was opposed to free fishing as the Charlotte county fishermen had many weirs all along the coast and if free fishing were allowed it would spoil their usefulness and result in a big loss to the fishermen of that county. He also favored a close season as well as fisheries, and he believed Professor Prince held the same views.

He added that Professor Prince had gone into the matter very thoroughly and had been getting much information and would be of value when the meeting was held to draw up the treaty.

Mr. Todd left last evening for Bangor and from there will go to Ottawa.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE IN ITALIAN MURDER TRIAL

Harry Kennedy, Wilkins' boss, recalled, said he aided in tracing the footprints. Two or three pairs of mittens were lying in the rear of the logs. He saw Seppel with a gun like the rifle in court and was looking it over, intending to buy it a month before. The prisoners had the only two guns of the kind he had seen.

Fred McKinnon, timekeeper with C. H. Ferguson, said he was with Kennedy in the search.

James Dennison, re-called, said the bullet in the back of the case resembled that of a No. 12 calibre gun and he was quite certain the bullet was discharged from a gun of the same pattern as the one in court.

Coleman Shields, who lives at Plaster Rock, and is a mill foreman, said he heard of the murder at noon on Sunday and went with a party to the residency and followed the trail of the murderers. He, with others, followed from where Dennison abandoned the search to the bank of the Wapske stream and found twenty or thirty watches and found evidence of a hasty lunch. The watches were concealed under an old log in the snow. He first kicked out a two dollar bill and then a watch chain with a watch and the others subsequently. He identified the watch in court as the one he found. Eventually his party lost the track on a porch at 5:30 p. m. on Sunday. In his opinion some of the footprints were made by a boot exhibited in court alleged to have been worn by Seppel. A week later he and several others started from the log pile and found the rifle 300 yards from the logs, four feet from the track, lying under the snow. He identified the rifle in court as the one he found. Five cartridges were in the magazine and one in the chamber. It was fully cocked. The Mangers hold ten or more cartridges. He brought the rifle to court during the preliminary examination.

At this point both weapons alleged to have been owned by the prisoners, the shot gun and the rifle, were placed in evidence.

To a juror he said he knew Dennison had found the shotgun and he decided to search for the other firearms.

Albert Broad, lumber camp foreman, said he was with Shields and others in the search for the rifle. He was not present when the watches were found, as he was in a shack on the Wapske in search of the Italians accused of committing the deed. He recognized one of the watches as one he retained until they were handed over at John Fraser's office. Twenty-nine or thirty watches comprised the find and also a pipe. Parnasy was unable to identify the pipe as Green's. Adjudgment was made until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

On cross-examination Frank Neill said Seppel and Arosha frequently took their guns out into the camp on the night of John Basker will be examined at the morning session.

The questions from Foster, chief of the G. T. P. police, to Arosha, which his honor adjudged threatening, and disallowed the answers on the minutes, were respectively: "What did you do with that money?" "Who killed this fellow?" "Who fired the shot, you or the other man?"

Arosha answered him, implicating Seppel, who cannot speak English.

The alleged confession was made in the conveyance to Plaster Rock from the shack. His honor advised officers to seek information from the prisoners in future for evidence but for the purpose of tracing the crime. No threats or inducements should be made.

Arosha informed Foster that he stayed in the bushes all night on Sunday, having walked from Peter Crook's store at Plaster Rock. Foster indicated Crook's shop in passing and the accused had remarked that it was not the place.

Unique Golf

Over in the Fiji Islands the natives have a game that resembles somewhat the popular game of golf. It is called "tiga" and is said to be over several hundred years old. Played by the natives as the motive power of their roadways, it requires a 100 per cent more skill than does golf. It is played in this manner:

A long reed is fitted at one end with a large brown bean. This is balanced in the hand like a javelin and hurled forward, with the forefinger as the motive power. The tiga, as it is called, is hurled at some small hollow, several yards ahead, as the natives walk along. The reed strikes the mound, glances off and skims along several hundred feet before coming to rest. It is self-evident that great accuracy is necessary to make the tiga hit the mound exactly at just the right angle to glance off and continue its flight. As in golf, the object is to make as long a "drive" as possible.

NEARLY RESIGNED

But Held Position on Grape-Nuts.

An Oklahoma woman was saved from loss of health and position by change to right food. She says:

"The Spring of 1904 found me almost a nervous wreck from the use of improper food. I could not sleep nor eat anything, but what it seemed that my stomach was on fire.

"I had the best medical advice I could get, but medicine did not reach my trouble, and my condition grew worse all the time until I was about to resign my position, a thing I could not afford to do.

"A friend brought me a package of that wonderful food, Grape-Nuts, and asked if I had ever tried it. I told her I had no faith in it, but to please her I promised to use the package before I decided what it would do for me.

"I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day and that awful burning in my stomach disappeared. I was able to continue at my work and gained 25 pounds in three months. So I now have health and position to Grape-Nuts."

BOURASSA IS TOO BUSY TO COME TO ST. JOHN TO SPEAK

He Cannot Accept the Canadian Club's Invitation at Present—Judge Russell of Halifax Will be Invited—Signs of Prosperity in the Club

The Canadian Club executive met in the Times building yesterday afternoon. Secretary Knowles read a letter from Henri Bourassa, in which the latter explained that, owing to legislative duties and, later, the establishment of his new daily paper, it would not be possible for him to address the club for some months at least, much as he would like to do so.

It was decided to have the secretary write Judge Russell, of Halifax, and ask him to address the club at a luncheon, as soon as convenient. The president, secretary and secretary and the past president and past secretary were appointed a committee to arrange for speakers.

The secretary reported that 203 persons had renewed their membership since last meeting.

The following new members were elected: Percy W. Thomson, F. E. May, W. Harding, W. H. Nason, Harry G. Smith, Rev. C. R. Flanders, Rev. W. Robinson, R. H. Cotter, C. F. Sanford, Harold K. Clawson, W. J. Sutherland, W. C. Rothwell, John R. Miller, William Murdoch, James F. Robertson, Geo. R. Ewing, T. J. Morgan, Robt. B. Price and C. A. Clark.

It was reported that the cupboard for the club's new dishes had been secured and the dishes stored in it. The club's property has also been insured. The question of a cooking outfit for the club was referred to the president, Mr. Harvey and Mr. Hawker.

There were present at the meeting the president, C. B. Allan; the secretary, E. T. C. Knowles; Geo. A. Henderson, Dr. R. E. Quigley, F. B. LeRoy, M. F. Agar, William Hawker, Dr. T. D. Walker, Jas. A. Eatey, J. N. Harvey and A. M. Belding.

TUTOR WHO DARED TO PAY COURT TO ARCHDUCHESS

Budapest, Hungary, March 3—Again the darkening twilight of the aged Emperor's life is clouded. Once more the Austro-Hungarian court is torn by scandal.

The court gossip whispered at first that there had been a frightful scene in the palace here, in which the two infuriated actors were the Archduke Joseph and Major Geza Mihalovic, tutor of the Archduke's children.

Archduke Joseph represents the Emperor; Archduchess Augusta, daughter of Archduchess Gisela and Prince Leopold of Bavaria, is the younger of the Emperor's two Bavarian granddaughters. Like her father and mother, Archduchess Augusta, can boast of little personal beauty. But she is unaffected, charmingly natural and as fond of rather boisterous fun as if she had been born in a peasant's cottage instead of a palace.

The gossip, when their tongues began to wag, dared to say only that while Archduchess Augusta and her children were in Vienna attending the Emperor's jubilee celebration, Archduke Joseph dismissed Major Mihalovic from his household and ordered him to repair immediately to Beke-Gyula and place himself at the disposition of the commander of the troops there. Instead, Mihalovic hurried to Vienna. Learning this, the Archduke had Mihalovic arrested in Vienna and placed under the supervision of the physicians in the garrison hospital there. For the gossip had it, the Archduke had unanimously assumed that a soldier of fine birth and education who so deliberately disobeyed his orders must have gone insane.

But for all the magnanimity attributed to him, the Archduke denounced Major Mihalovic to the highest military authorities in Vienna. And in a few days the official military gazette announced that Mihalovic had been transferred to Maros Vasarehy.

This official fiction might have veiled the scandal. But many-tongued rumor, growing bolder, soon assigned a reason for the sudden disgrace of a gallant soldier who had stood high in Imperial favor. The whispers grew louder that Archduchess Augusta had displayed the greatest partiality for her children's handsome tutor; that she had passed all her leisure hours with him in the gardens of the palace here. Report went so far as to say that by the order of some one, certainly not the Archduke, ivy-covered screens had been placed around a pretty arbor in the palace gardens and that, behind the

HOWES CAUGHT IN PORTLAND

He Had a Bad Record Here and This May Lead to His Deportation From U. S.

Portland, Me., March 3—Thomas W. Howes, of St. John, who was arrested by Patrolman Chandler and Hamilton, Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock, after a sensational chase of a mile and a half through the suburban residential district of Portland, was held here by the United States immigration authorities pending word from the department at Washington which is likely to result in an order to deport the man, who is a criminal alien.

Late tonight, however, the local police obtained information from Howes which caused them to wire the police departments of Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, on the supposition that he has information at least of breaks in these cities. The police will not state
