SIRENS ON MONTREAL FIRE APPARATUS

Chief Suggests Change From Gongs in the Interests of Life

Montreal, Nov. 22—Owing to the risk that firemen have to meet in going to fires, Chief Tremblay has made a recommendation that the present bells on hose wagons and other apparatus be replaced by sirens powerful enough to warn all approaching vehicles to keep out of the way. It is the contention of the fire brigade that so many firms now use bells as warning signals that they are no longer the protection that fast moving vehicles require on the way to fires.

The street cars, the ambulances, and the wagons of the Heat & Power Company all have bells which closely resemble those of the fire department. He therefore suggests that a change in the signals be made.

Miss Nix, who is a daughter of the reeve of the town of Uxbridge, admits that McLaughlin did attempt to pay attention to her, but says his advances were distasteful to her and she made this quite plain to him.

Professor Burt's report on the analysis of the unfortunate woman's stomach will be read at the inquest this evening, and the evidence of Dr. McClintock, who made a post mortem, will be heard. The testimony as to McLaughlin's treatment of and attitude towards his wife, may be also put in, but Coroner Bascom is of opinion that a verdict will be reached tonight.

Mr. Brady was driving out to his home when two highwaymen halted him. One grabbed his horse by the head while both pointed revolvers at him and said: "Hand over your money or we will blow out your brains."

The farmer's answer surprised the pair. Instead of meekly holding up his hands he jumped out of the rig and, telling the hold-up men to go somewhere, he picked up some stones. The would-be robbers got "cold feet" and faded away.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22—The government's wireless station at 7 a.m. completed an hour's sending to San Juan, Porto Rico, direct. Many of the messages were for John Jacob Astor and members of his party.

Key West, Fla., Nov. 22—The San Juan, Porto Rico, wireless station continued communication with the naval wireless station here up to a late hour this morning, but no confirmation of the presence of the steam yacht Nourmahal with the New York millionaire and party was had from San Juan. AMERICAN SHIPS OF WAR SPEEDING TO NICARAGUA

Washington, Nov. 22—The next few days perhaps one or two, will show whether the strained relations between the United States and Nicaragua are to be nipped off short. The United States government has not accepted as facts beyond all contradiction the report touching the execution of Grace and Cannon in that republic. Secretary of State Knox is authority for the statement that a demand for reparation will be made upon Nicaragua should enquiries develop that allegations touching the death of the two men are well grounded.

American ships of war today are speeding toward Nicaragua. The gunboat Vicksburg will probably arrive on the Pacific coast today, and the cruiser Des Moines may arrive about the same time.

The Marietta, too is on her way to the Atlantic coast. The transport Buffalo, coaling at Pichilimayo Bay, California, is under orders for Panama. There a force of 500 marines is ready to board the vessel, should orders to that effect be issued.

THREE OF WEDDING PARTY ARE KILLED

Driving in Auto, Chauffeur Tries to Light Cigarette and Sends Car Over Railway Bridge—Groom Brother and Driver Killed, Girls Badly Hurt

Cuthbert, Ga., Nov. 22—Three members of a wedding party were killed and two probably fatally injured in an automobile accident late last night two miles west of this place as the party was returning from Cuthbert to Coleman.

With the purpose of being married, James Shepard and Miss Helene Mattox, accompanied by Horace Shepard, a brother of the groom and Miss Mary Mattox, a sister of the bride, secured an automobile at Fort Gaines and were driven to Cuthbert by Curtis Williams. All the Cuthbert ministers, however, refused to marry the couple on account of their youth, neither of them having passed twenty.

After being unable to secure the services of a minister, the party hastily left town. Speeding along at a rate of thirty miles an hour and while attempting to light a cigarette, Chauffeur Williams lost control of the machine crossing a thirty foot bridge over the central Railway and the party was dashed to the railroad track below.

The machine fell upon Shepard and Williams. The latter's neck was broken and death resulted instantly. The two Shepards died in a few moments. Miss Helen Mattox was severely bruised, her face and arms were badly lacerated and she received internal injuries. Miss Mary Mattox was also seriously injured. The women were removed to a neighboring farm house. The bodies of the three men were brought here on a handcar.

KING EDWARD'S GREETING TO SIR WILFRID LAURIER AND HIS REPLY

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 22—(Special)—Among the many messages which the prime minister received on the occasion of his sixty-eighth birthday, on Saturday, was the following from King Edward:

Windsor, Nov. 20—1909—Let me express my hearty congratulations to you on the anniversary of your birthday. I hope you will be spared for many years to come to serve the crown and empire. (Signed), Edward.

The reply of the prime minister was as follows:

ARCHBOLD TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF STANDARD OIL CASE

New York, Nov. 22—Conferences of officials and leading counsel of the Standard Oil Co., were held here today to outline the company's action following the adverse decision in the government's suit rendered Saturday. Thirty days are allowed before the decree of the court will take effect and within that time the form of the appeal which the corporation has announced that it will take to the United States supreme court will have to be perfected.

John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil Co., took an optimistic view of the situation. He said:

"I believe that the decision will result in again looking toward the repeal of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. For under that law it is not only impossible for practically every corporation to transact business, but even co-partnerships may be attacked. I believe that the officials at Washington are coming to the view that the law is too drastic and that even Mr. Roosevelt himself shares in that opinion."

DR. EMMERSON ARRIVES TO LECTURE HERE

Speaks of Dr. Norton and His Life and Work—Tonight's Lecture Outlined

Dr. Edwards Waldo Emerson, of Concord, (Mass.) who is to lecture before the Archaeological Institute, here this evening, arrived in the city on the Boston train today. Dr. Emerson was for some time instructor in anatomy in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and he is now engaged in editing his father's works. He is not a member of the Archaeological Society, but he is intimately acquainted with their work.

Dr. Emerson, when seen at the Royal Hotel and asked about the subject on which he would address the archaeologists this evening, said he had been asked to speak about the life and works of Professor Charles Elliott Norton, of Harvard University and first president of the American Archaeological Institute. He also would speak on the "relation of art to life."

Professor Norton, he said had lived in Cambridge and was a most remarkable man. He was very delicate but all through life he had worked hard and, although he had independent means, he was most industrious. He was a lover of art but was not an artist, was a lover of old world things and yet preferring America with all her crudities, while he worked toward refinement and civilization.

He was not a believer in revealed religion but was deeply religious and spiritually minded. He said "The moral issue is in the least connected with theology and dogma."

He was a friend of Lowell, Longfellow, and most scholars and writers of his generation, and in his residence abroad he became the friend of Ruskin, Carlyle, Froude, William Morris, Burns-Jones, and Rossetti and was greatly valued by them. He had great literary ability and left several well-known works.

In 1875 Mr. Norton was made professor of fine arts at Harvard and his courses were most valuable and well attended. He died at the age of eighty years, active to the last.

Dr. Emerson, in taking up the subject: "the relation of art to life," will undertake to show that the principals that have been recognized among all pupils in all times as important in art are only special applications of great universal laws, which held in life. He will speak in detail of selection, fitness, repetition, symmetry, balance, reflection, quality of curves, transitions, interchange, radiation, proportion, etc.

Dr. Emerson's lecture should be most interesting and doubtless the High School assembly hall will be taxed to its capacity. The lecture will be free.

EMPLOYES SHARE IN DIVIDENDS OF STATE RAILWAYS

Proposal in Italian Chamber of Deputies—Reduce Indirect Taxation

Rome, Nov. 21—At the opening of the Chamber of Deputies the government presented a plan for the reduction of indirect taxation, chiefly as affecting sugar, the loss of revenues in this direction to be offset by a progressive income tax. It is also proposed that railway employees shall participate in the dividends of the state-owned railways.

Signor Cabrini, Socialist, Lepury, described the mining disaster at Cherry, Ill., and urged that the government request the government of the United States to afford better protection to foreign workmen.

Foreign Minister Tittoni, replying, said that he had instructed the Italian consul in that district to make a report of the names of the victims and also to inquire into the matter of responsibility for the accident. The president of the chamber expressed the wish that the United States would extend to Italian workmen at least the same protection that they enjoy in Italy.

BELIEVE MORE MEN ARE ALIVE IN ST. PAUL MINE

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 22—Two exploring parties in the St. Paul mine today found indications which lead them to believe that many living men are still in the last workings. Nearly two hundred are still unaccounted for.

If men still live imprisoned in the depths of the mine, they are probably too weak to aid in their own escape. It was nine days ago that the fire occurred, and for that time any possible survivors have been without food and with very little, if any, water.

Their one hope is the rescue party which is working frantically to remove the timbers, dead animals and earth falls which block the way to the east workings. But it is slow work. Rain fell all night. For of the score or more bodies seen lying in the black damp were hoisted. It is stated it is impossible to reach the others, although they were in plain view.

MURDERER OF LITTLE BOYS DIES

Rizzo, Who Brutally Slew Two Tots, is Electrocuted—The 36th Execution—Auburn Prison

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 22—Theodore Rizzo, who brutally murdered three Proppio, seven years of age, and Freddie Fusigno, two and a half years old, in a lonely culvert of the city of Utica on Sunday night, Sept. 12, was put to death in the electric chair at 6.15 this morning.

The execution was the thirty-sixth one to take place in Auburn prison and was pronounced by the prison officials as successful. Three shocks were necessary to kill, one of two seconds more than a full minute and the others of less than a minute each. The second one was of three seconds duration and the third one lasted but ten seconds.

The electrocution was without an untoward feature. Rizzo walked calmly into the death chamber, his demeanor about the same as during the trial. He was closely guarded and was accompanied by Rev. John Robotic and Rev. Thomas Carroll, Catholic priests of the city.

Some apprehension was felt that Rizzo might make a scene, but subsequent events proved these fears groundless. Holding the crucifix closely in his hands, Rizzo walked to the chair and sat down. While the electrodes were being adjusted and the straps made fast about his arms, he looked about the room in a curious manner. There was no sign of fear evidenced, as he appeared to be searching for someone whom he might recognize.

The first contact was administered at 6.07.20 and was at 1860 volts, seven and one half and eight amperes. This was held for half a minute, during which time it was reduced to 200 volts, then it was increased to the full voltage, when the switch was turned off at 6.08.22.

The second contact was given at 6.09.30 and lasted three seconds, while the third was put on at 6.10.30, and lasted ten seconds. Examination was then made by the physicians and at 6.15 the official pronouncement of his death was made.

BRINGS DEAD TO LIFE BY GALVANIC ACTION

Woman Doctor in New York Claims Success in Restoring Heart Movements

New York, Nov. 20—There is a little woman in this city who is quietly achieving results which have attracted the attention of the medical profession in this country and Europe. By a method she has evolved, persons and animals in a state of apparent death have been restored to their normal activities. Even in cases where the most delicate instruments have failed to show any sign of heart action or respiration for many minutes, she has achieved successful results. This woman is Dr. Louise G. Rubinovitch of 28 West 126th street.

From intimate friends something of the wonderful work of this woman was learned.

There is no claim of bringing the dead to life. But in cases where apparent death ensues, due to strangulation or the action of any drug which suspends the heart action suddenly, prompt treatment by the Rubinovitch method has been an almost certain means of restoration.

Experiments with animals have been highly successful.

The heart is a muscle. By sending to it a current of electricity of a given kind and strength, the muscle contracts. When the current is shut off the heart relaxes. The same is true of the respiratory organs.

By placing the negative pole or cathode over the shoulder blades in the back and the positive pole or anode across the small of the back, and then sending a very mild current through those plates the heart and respiratory muscles are suddenly contracted. Shutting off the current relaxes them again, and by alternately applying and shutting off the current artificial heart and respiratory action is produced.
