LATE LOCALS

Steamer Governor Cobb sailed this morning with a large passenger list for Boston and Maine ports. She took away 259 packages of blueberries.

The funeral of Miss Isabelle Johnston took place this afternoon from her late residence, 295 Main street. Rev. R. P. McKim officiated at the house and grave. Interment was in Fernhill.

The Mission Church congregation will hold a gathering this evening in the school room in continuance of the patronal festival of S. John Baptist. There will be addresses, music and refreshments. All attendants and their friends are invited.

The open season for wild geese, ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, etc., will commence tomorrow, and some excellent sport is expected. Already the geese and ducks are assembling at their favorite haunts and from now until November there will be plenty of opportunities for those who are fond of this class of sport.

British steamship Pontiac, Captain Meikle, which arrived here on August 24, from Manchester and commenced to load deals on the 25th, was given very quick despatch. Stevedore Nevin Cameron put on board of the vessel about 1,700 standard in six days. The deals were supplied by John E. Moore & Co. The Pontiac sailed last night for Brow Head for orders.

About forty young ladies, friends of Miss Estelle Hayes, called on her at her home in Victoria street last evening and surprised her very pleasantly by presenting to her a shower of chinaware in honor of a pleasing event which is to take place this month, in which she will be one of the most interested parties. An enjoyable evening was spent in games and music and the gathering broke up a little before midnight.

NOVA SCOTIAN'S JAW BROKEN

In the municipal court Tuesday morning Fred Levasseur of this city was arranged on a warrant alleging assault and battery, July 30, upon the person of one William Wells of Nova Scotia. A plea of not guilty was entered. Judge Harding adjudged the respondent guilty and sentenced him to pay a fine of $25. He appealed and furnished bonds in $200 for the February term of the Supreme court.

Acording to the story told in court by Wells, he, with four or five companions, went to a local hotel the night of July 30, and into the barroon. While Wells and his friends were drinking, Levasseur is alleged to have come up and struck Wells a blow in the jaw, breaking the bone, without any provocation. Wells has been in the Old Town hospital since the mix-up and was just discharged last Saturday. He appeared in court Tuesday with his jaw in bandages. (Bangor Commercial, August 31).

E. D. C. GARDEN PARTY

While the attendance at the Every Day Club garden party was extremely small yesterday afternoon, there was a crowd of several hundreds in the evening, and if the various attractions were not largely patronised the crowd had a good time. The band played, and a huge bonfire aided the full moon and the white and red lamps to illuminate the scene among the booths of evergreen.

The mysterious fortune teller was a special attraction. The members of the club had gone to much trouble to decorate the place, and a large group of ladies worked with great zeal to make the affair a success. Supper was served in the big tent. There were games, guessing contests and other attractitons.

It was decided to continue the affair this evening, the gates opening at 7 o'clock. The band will attend.

When it was proposed last evening to have a bonfire, C. F. Tilley, who was present, with three friends, volunteered to provide. He went out and very quickly returned with a delivery team loaded with barrels and boxes, and the thing was done.

The garden parties at Rothesay and the Methodist grounds, Silver Falls, were well attended and enjoyable.

MABLE C. BROWN DEAD AT JEMSEG

Daughter of Principal of Dufferin School Passed Away Today.

A telephone message from Lower Jemseg announced the death this morning of Miss Mabel Cora Brown, which took place there at 7.45 o'clock this morning. She was eighteen years old, daughter of Malcolm D. Brown, principal of the Dufferin school, St. John, and numbered many friends who will learn with regret that she is dead.

Mr. Brown and his family spent the summer at Lower Jemseg, and about two weeks ago Miss Brown became ill, it finally developing into spinal meninigitis. Mr. Brown, and his son, who had come to the city, joined the family at Lower Jemseg a few days ago. Miss Brown is survived by her father and mother, a brother and two sisters, and for all there will be much sympathy. The funeral will be held at Lower Jemseg at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

McDOUGALL CASE THIS AFTERNOON

No Witnesses Present in Police Court This Morning; Crowd Disappointed

The preliminary hearing in the case of C. Bruce McDougall was postponed this morning until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when it is thought it will be finished. The reason for postponement was that none of the witnesses who were to have appeared this morning were in court. A special order had been made for Mirisses, but it was said that he was not physically in condition to give testimony this morning, he was sick. It is thought that the case for the crown will be closed by 5 o'clock this afternoon.

It was the intention this morning to have a doctor consulted about Mirisses, and if it was considered that he was able to hear the evidence read in his cell, and that such would be done. He has been under the care of Dr. Jas. Christie since going to jail.

The courtroom was crowded with interested spectators, and they were evidently disappointed at postponement of the hearing.

MENACE TO HEALTH

Stagnant Pool at Corner of Portland and Camden Streets Complained of.

A stagnant pool of muddy water at the corner of Portland and Camden streets is the cause of much complaint among the residents in that neighborhood. It is in a vacant lot. A number of small children were seen playing with sticks and sailing boats in the pond yesterday, and a very disagreeable odor arose. To make matters worse, there is a sewer flowing into the puddle. The health of the community is endangered, and as the spot is a favorite pleasure-place for little children who do not know that they are courting disease by playing around the water, the people think action should be taken to do away with the nuisance.

NORTH END BLAZE

Fire This Morning Damages Mrs. Nicholas Miller's Home in Chesley St.

The north end fire department was called out this morning about 11 o'clock by an alarm from box 134. The fire was in the house occupied by Mrs. Nicholas Miller, 82 Chesley street, and the damage was not very great.

The blaze, it is thought, started from a defective flue. It had gained but little headway before being noticed. A stream from the chemical and hose was sufficient to extinguish the fire, which was out in about half an hour. The damage done was mostly confined to the roof of the building. The interior of the house was flooded, and the furniture destroyed by water to quite an extent.

POLICE COURT

Before Judge Ritchie, in the police court this morning Andrew McGee, charged with being drunk in St. Patrick street and with breaking windows in James Cooper's store on the Marsh Road was remanded. Mr. Cooper testified that McGee and another man had caused his shop windows—three small panes valued at 15 cents each—and the sash enclosing them to be broken. He did not think it was done wilfully but, McGee was drunk and through the liquor he probably broke the windows.

The prisoner pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was remanded until the cost of the damage can be ascertained.

Sigurd Anderson, a young Norwegian, arrested for being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself when found wandering about in the Old Graveyard was allowed to go with a warning to take better care of himself in future. He was declared liable to a fine of $8 or two months.

Chas. Ward, an old man, charged with being a vagrant, was remanded. The evidence showed that he had no means of support and had been away from this city about twenty years following the "hobo profession." His honor said that he had better get out of town again as he would soon be a public charge. He was poor, old and dirty and he should go where he had been for so long even although he belonged here.

Jacob Jacobson, charged with encumbering Pond street with a quantity of junk on Saturday the 28th inst., was fined $8. He told the court that he "was guilty and not guilty," but the evidence proved that he had blocked the sidewalk and gutter with junk.

Frederick Watson, reported for driving under the I. C. R. gates in Mill street was told that he was liable to the full penalty for the offence, but was let off.

Miss Edith Carter, daughter of the chief superintendent of education, has returned from Windsor. Mrs. Fred A. Shand, at whose home Miss Carter was a guest, gave a garden party in her honor.

THE CABINET GLENWOOD

The Cabinet Glenwood has become very popular in the homes that have them in use and their recommendation of them has greatly increased the sale of the Cabinet in the last few months. The baking qualities of this Range are unequalled, the top and bottom flues being made in just the right proportion to carry an equal and even heat to every part of the oven. The sectional top prevents warping and is so placed that by changing the cross shape castings that hold the covers, a wash boiler may be put on the two back covers leaving the front covers for cooking. You should come and see these Cabinet Ranges whether you want to purchase or not, then you will know what can be made right here in St. John.

The New Fall Clothing

For Youths and Boys Is Ready

Off for college? Off for the new, real start in life—your first position? The needed clothing is ready.

Men's fall clothing is coming in, but we were most concerned to have the young men's and boys' ready. Plenty for the early man's demand is here.

Oak Hall clothing is planned, made and sold on the basis that you may well adopt for success in college or business.

It is fair clothing—as good inwardly as on theoutside; so made as to withstand some abuse and still come up smiling. Consequently this clothing business is growing faster than any other in town.

But it isn't kept honest just for growth's sake—it's our idea and ideal of a store to have it give honest, straightforward service.
