NEW YORK STATE MAY SEND ITS DRUNKS TO THE COUNTRY

Drinkers May Be Catalogued and Placed on a Farm Where They Will Receive Special Scientific Treatment—Bill Now Before New York State Legislature Provides for Board of Inebriety and Special Hospital With Industrial Attachment

(New York Evening Post.)

If a bill now pending before the legislature becomes law, the habitual drunkard will find himself in a stricter era, albeit a kinder one.

The bill provides for keeping an eye on the heavy drinker and sending him off to a farm colony when he gets too troublesome. It is the result of Bellevue Hospital's resentment at having to handle the same old "drunks" over and over; of the State Charities Aid Association and the Charity Organization Society's long wrestling with the question of how to rid the social body of the drunkard; and of the inability of the Department of Charities to cope with the big problem of handling alcohol-soaked people who have to be put away in prisons or hospitals time and again.

Other organizations which have contributed of their experience, and are now lending their support to the bill, are the New York Prison Association, the Church Temperance Society, the Board of Police Magistrates, the Committee of Fourteen, the American Society for the Study of Alcohol and Narcotics, and the State Labor Colony.

Lindon Bates introduced the bill in the assembly not many days ago. It provides for the appointment of a Board of Inebriety for the city of New York and the establishment of an inebriate hospital, with an industrial colony, in which persons arrested for public intoxication may be detained and scientifically treated.

Will Catalogue The Inebriates

Under the direction of this board there will be a central office, at which will be kept the records of persons arrested for public intoxication. Whenever an arrest for this cause is made, a report of it will be telephoned to one of these offices, and a field officer of the Board of Inebriety will begin the investigation of the previous record of the person arrested. If it shall appear that he has not been arrested for public intoxication, or any other offence for the period of a year, it is provided that the magistrate before whom he is arraigned may dismiss the case. If he has been arrested within twelve months the magistrate may release him on probation, under the supervision of a field officer of the board, for a period of not less than six months or more than one year, the probationer "taking the pledge" for the period; or the magistrate may release him him on probation and in addition impose a fine not to exceed $25, to be paid in instalments.

If neithr of these courses is followed the magistrate is required to commit the offender to the custody of the Board of Inebriety, until in the judgment of that board, he shall have justified his release, but not for a longer period than three years. Persons so committed may be placed, at the discretion of the board, in the hospital or industrial colony. These institutions are to be preferably in the country, with a considerable area of land available for farm and garden work. They are to be provided with facilities best known and approved by medical science for the treatment of inebriates.

One of the most important provisions of the measure is that which authorizes the commitment of inebriates to the custody of the board upon their own petition or that of relatives or friends, if two physicians join in the application.

Dr. Albert Warren Ferris, president of the State Commission in Lunacy, is "unreservedly in favor of" the bill. "I think it would be wise," said he today, "that persons should, if in proper mental condition, be allowed to make voluntary application for treatment at such institutions.

The Precipitating Factor In Lunacy

"As I stated in a recent paper, it was ascertaind during a close individual study of 961 cases of insanity now in the Manhattan State Hospital, Ward's Iland, that in 55 per cent. of the men and 22 per cent. of the women, alcohol was the precipitaing factor in the causation of their mental condition. This result was not reached by accepting vague statements made by friends or relatives, but after close individual study of the condition of each patient mentioned and the actual family and personal history of the case."

Dr. Edward T. Devine, general secretary of the Charity Organization Society, says of the bill:

"I am enthusiastically in favor of the enactment of this measure. It is what I have been hoping for these many years.

"For the last two years we have had approximately 5,000 families under our care, comprising nearly 20,000 individuals. Of these exactly 1,000 persons were intemperate, about one-half as many women being addicted to drink as men. (In strict justice it ought to be stated that a majority of the 20,000 receiving relief were women, among them being many widows and deserted wives—a fact which goes far to explain the unusually large proportion of intemperate women.)

"I do not assert as a general proposition that 20 per cent. of destitution is due to drink—in some of the thousand cases intemperance was only a small factor in producing poverty, but there is no doubt that a great number of our desertion and non-support cases would not exist except for alcoholism."

No Sentiment In Drunkenness

Dr. Charles L. Dana, alienist and visiting physician at Bellevue Hospital and Montefiore Home, says:

"I thoroughly believe in and advocate strongly the adoption of the plan, and am naturally, as a physician, particularly interested in the provision for an inebriate hospital with an industrial colony. The hospital, of course, is meant for acute alcoholic cases, such as delirium tremens. Its inclusion in the plan does not presume any sentimental view of the average drunkard as a man suffering from disease. The largest proportion of alcoholic patients are those who owe their sufferings to the fact that they have carried a bad habit to an extreme. They cannot be acquitted of moral responsibility for their condition, but generally they cannot be cured of their bad habit without some form of restraint or discipline. This will be furnished by the industrial colony.

"As to the constitutionality of the law proposed, if the State has the right to isolate lepers, small-pox patients, and even it is maintained, those with scarlet fever, it seems to have the right to isolate the habitual inebriate, it being understood that such isolation or commitment would never be brought about except under the fullest precautions."

Dr. L. D. Mason, formerly president of the Inebriates' Home for Kings County, and President of the American Association for the Study of Inebrity, says:

"The fact is apparent that the man who is involuntarliy, habitually, or periodically under the influence of alcohol is not fit to have his liberty. He is dangerous to himself and others, a nuisance to the locality in which he dwells, and a burden to his family and the municipality. He must not be ignored; he must be dealt with on economic lines. These are the economic and moral results that I predict as following the enactment and enforcement of this law.

"The 20 per cent. of alcoholic cases now in our insane asylums would be reduced to 10 per cent. The cost to the police departments of cities of the arrest, committal, and care of the drunken population would be cut in half; that of magistrates' courts in the same proportion. The burden upon public, private, and indiscriminate charity in its relation to the drinking class of street beggars would be reduced one-half. The percentage of cures in non-seductive cases of drunkenness would be increased from 30 or 40 to 50 per cent. and higher. The number of crimes and misdemeanors committed by drunken tramps would be reduced 50 per cent.

"The over-crowding of prisons and penitentiaries would be markedly less. Hospitals would have fewer accident cases due to drunkenness. The pressure upon the private and municipal lodging-houses would be relieved. The long term favors the cure of the inebriate, and his cure means his restoration to his social and business life."

The Board of Inebrity is to consist of five appointive members, serving without pay for a term of five years each, the term of one member expiring each year, and the commissioner of correction as members ex-officio. The five appointive members are to be named by the Mayor after nominations submitted by the heads of the Hebrew Charities, the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, and the Particular Council of New York of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. The members of the board of trustees of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals are now appointed according to a similar plan.

It Grows On You

The average man nowadays thinks that if he just had an automobile, even the most unpretentious sort, he would be perfectly happy," said a man who has been following automobiles since their infancy. "As a matter of fact, however, he would be in the seventh heaven of delight but a comparatively short time, and then he would be utterly and thoroughly miserable again.

"The possession of one automobile, a modest, unpretentious, inexpensive sort of an affair, brings on the desire for a larger and a better car. I believe that there are scarcely 75 per cent. of the automobile owners in the country who are satisfied with the cars they are now using. According to my experience, every last one of them is sitting up nights trying to figure out how he can afford to purchase a newer and a better machine.

"His old car, in good condition, ought to be of just as much service to him as any new one on the market. But he sees the new models, and his friends take pleasure in telling him of their improved qualities, until he is disgusted with his own machine and thoroughly miserable and envious again. This desire to change cars and keep up with the times in the automobile world is a thing that grows upon a man. With most of us it has become a habit, almost as much of a one as smoking."

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN

Los Angeles, Calif., April 12—Three world's records on a motor cycle have been broken here, two by Jake De Rosier, and one by Fred Huyck. De Rosier broke the records for the five and fifteen mile events in 3.56 3-5, and 12.58 2-5 respectively. The record for ten miles was lowered by 45 seconds by Huyck, who rode the distance in 8.12.

Easter day, though full of sunshine, was accompanied by a cold wind. This, however, had no effect on the display of headwear which was, as usual, the feature. Special music and large congregations was the order in all the city churches. Many visited the west side and some even strolled to Rockwood.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

In the National League this season there will be four managerial changes as against two such changes last year. At Cincinnati, Clark Griffiths, for five years manager of the New York American League Club, succeeds John Ganzel as team handler; at Boston, catcher Frank Bowerman takes the place of Joe Kelley; at St. Louis, catcher Roger Bresnahan, traded by New York to St. Louis, assumes charge of the Cardinals, and at Brooklyn, Harry G. Lumley displaces Patsy Donovan. Of the four new managers all are active players, except Griffith, and even he is still competent to pitch an occasional game. The official umpires are Henry O'Day, of Chicago; Robert Emslie, of St. Thomas, Ont.; J. E. Johnstone, of Newark, N. J.; W. J. Klem, of New York; Charlues Rigler, of Maissillon, O.; Frank Rudderham, of Providence, R. I.; Stephens Cusack, of Chicago, and Harry Truby, of Peoria. Here's what Sporting Life says about them:—"The first four named are all veterans who have long since won their spurs and are practically National League fixtures. Rigler also did such excellent work in his first season as to warrant his retention. Cusack, one of the new umpires, made a splendid record for himself in the New York league last season and possesses a personality that is almost certain to assure his success in the major league. Harry Truby is a veteran player who made such a fine record last year in his first season as umpire with the South Alantic League, that President Pulliam felt warranted in giving him a trial.

Senator T. D. Sullivan, of New York, has rushed to the defence of the boxing game and says that the legislators at Albany will not favor a bill to suppress the sport.

Cy Seymour is certainly the stick-to-it "kid." Although McGraw told Seymour he was through with him, Seymour remains with the club, paying his own hotel bill and railway fare, arranging his transportation and hotel matters himself.

Among the horsemen now at Washington who are getting their horses ready for the coming Canadian racing season are: W. H. Mosby, with Brown Tony; Araiks and Balbeck, and Woods Garth, with Wilton Lackaye, Lady Isabel, King Avondale and Gridiron. Gridiron worked six furlongs in 1.24 recently, and Garth says he will be a hard horse to beat in the coming Canadian races.

President Somers, of the Clevelands, is a worried man over the sad outlook for a weak infield this season. Terry Turner, the little whirlwind shortstop, will never be seen in big league uniform again, and Billy Bradley, Lajoie's star third baseman, is practically in the same boat.

Peterboro, Ont., is to hold another six-day, three hours a night, walk. It will commence April 26, in the Brock Street Rink there. Private promoters are behind it, and a good crowd of contestants is assured. This will include W. A. Hoagland of Auburn, N. Y., holder of the American record for this event, and holder also of the record average of 6 1-2 miles an hour. He won the race last year, cleaning up $450. Hubbel, of Erie, Pa., Brown, the Auburn walker, and Jim Harrison, of Peterboro, are to compete, but David Hartley, the veteran, will not. The race will be three hours a night for six days, with a longer stretch on Saturday. It was most successful last year.

President Charles Murphy, of Chicago, paid a visit to Cincinnati last week for the purpose of making some kind of a deal for the hold-out pitcher, Bob Spade. He failed in his mission, as Manager Griffith would consider no propostion except for Tinker, Evers or Hofman.

Lester A. Osteler and Arthur D. Stansell of the Detroit Boat Club, yachtsmen, have purchased the sloop Genesee, and will add her to the fleet of that organization at an early date. The Genesee is one of the best known boats on the lakes, having won the Canada's Cup in 1899, from the Beaver of Toronto. The American boat was owned by a Rochester syndicate, but sailed under the colors of the Chicago Yacht Club, that organization having sent the challenge to the holders of the mug. The craft was built by C. C. Hanley of Quincy, Mass., in 1899. She is 45 feet over all and 27 feet on the water line, with 11 feet 6 inches beam.

James J. Callahan, representing the Chicago syndicate, which has a $10,000 option of the services of the six Marathon runners who competed in New York has wired for an offer of a $5,000 purse for the appearance in Chicago of Henri St. Yves, Tom Longboat and Dorando Pietri in a race against Sidney Hatch.

Not so much has been heard of McGraw's $11,000 beauty Marquard, since he was touched up for three home runs, and four triples down at Marlin.

Alf. Shrubb has written the following to a Toronto friend: I am prepared to run St. Yves, the Frenchman, ten, fifteen or twenty miles, at any date and ground he may choose, and I wish to say he is the greatest marathon runner that the world ever saw. He is a wonderful runner, but I think I can beat him at ten, fifteen or twenty, I would like to run him. I am quite well after my race, but the distance is too far for me. I am in good shape for Longboat on the 17th, if he will run me the fifteen miles. I think with two weeks' training he ought to be in great shape. With kindest regards—Your Friend Shrubb."

A Cleveland writer in New Orleans declares that the Pacific Coast League is about to blow up. The season has commenced in California, but the organization is in trouble, and players are deserting. The National Baseball Commission has an emissary on the coast now in an effort to break the league. His name is being suppressed for the reason the he is doing his work privately, but those who support organized baseball are confident that they will receive word from him soon to the effect that the only outlaw league worth mentioning is no more.

A New York report says: "It is said that the report that Longboat was guaranteed a round sum for his appearance in the Marathon Derby is not correct, and that he gets' nothing except what allowance the generosity of Pat Powers makes him. The story goes that when he was offered appearance money he preferred to take his chance of winning the five thousand dollars that went to first man, on condition that he did not have to share it with Powers, as arranged under his contract. The result is that he is entitled to nothing, which shows how good a manager he is when left to his own devices, and how poor a judge of his own condition.

Pitcher Andrada of the Clevelands, who is a Spaniard ,is small of stature, but what he lacks in height he makes up in the breadth of his shoulders. He is only five and one-half feet tall, but his shoulders compare with Lajoie, Hinchman, or Stovall. Not a Nap pitcher has shoulders to compare with him. Andrada, who is a protege of Stovall, arrived here with Brother George shortly after midnight Thursday, after an 85-hour ride from Long Beach, Cal. They did not work out Friday morning, but Jim McGraw took the off-side finger in hand in the afternoon and under his tuelage Andrada learned that "things are so different" in the big league. He has nice curves, considerable speed and good control. He has lots to learn about baseball yet, as he appears to be in the primer class in base ball knowledge, but in the few times he has worked out he has shown himself an apt pupil.

Cy Young has been the cynosure of all eyes and the old boy has made the native sit up and take notice by his great speed. Cy never waits for a week or ten days to cut loose wit hthe speedy ones. He says the sooner he gets over the soreness in his shoulders, arms and back the better he is satisfied, and he throws the first ball he pitches on a training trip just as hard as any on the tenth or twelfth day. Cy pursues his own methods of training and is never molested in his system.

MALONEY EASY FOR FRENCHMAN

St. Yves an Easy Winner in the Providence Race on Saturday—Orphee Wins Boston Marathon

Providence, R.I., April 10—St. Yves beat Maloney in the twenty mile Marathon here today by three laps and 25 yards. The time was two hours, 20 minutes and two seconds.

St. Yves was never headed and gained steadily on his opponent from the start. He lapped Maloney in the sixth, thirteenth and eighteenth miles, and to show that he was still fresh and untired, let out some speed in the last lap mile, which netted him 25 yards more of lead. At the finish the winner appeared in fine condition and Maloney also, although he lost, was far from exhausted.

Maloney's time was two hours, five minutes and 24 3-5 seconds.

A cold wind blew across the course, making it a little uncomfortable for the 2,500 spectators, many of whom were in Easter finery.

Boston, April 10—Another Frenchman, Louis Orphee, won the long distance running honors in Boston's first professional Marathon today, defeating Patrick Dineen of South Boston, by 2 1-2 laps, while his other opponent, Patrick White, champion of Ireland, left the track in the 25th mile. The weather was clear, breezy and cold and the record was never in danger, Orphee's time at the finish being 2.51.57, a trifle less than eleven minutes slower than that of St. Yves' at New York a week ago.

SIMPSON TRIMS APPLEBY

Toronto, April 11.—(Special)—Fred Simpson, Indian, made a regular show of Fred Appleby, an English runner of some reputation, here Saturday. In fact Appleby is reported to have beaten Shrubb, but that was a long time ago. However, Simpson took the measure of the Englishman in the first mile or two and, while not leading, ran him to a standstill in the sixteenth mile, when Appleby quit and Simpson went on and finished twenty miles alone in 2.03.35. The race took place at Rosedale open air track.

JAY GOULD TENNIS CHAMPS.

Boston, April 10.—Jay Gould, the International amateur court tennis champion, as well as national champion, succeeded, in defending his title of American champion in a hard fought contest with Joshua Crane of this city, on the courts of the Tennis and Racquet Club this afternoon. The match was witnessed by a large gathering of members who became very enthusiastic over Mr. Crane, a fellow member, after he had forced the first set to vantage and taken the second very handily. After that Mr. Gould settled down to steady play and won the next two sets. The scores were 6—5, 3—6, 6—3, 6—3.

JOHNSON AND LANGFORD

They Both Plan to Be in England The Latter Part of May

New York, April 10—Unless they change their plans, Johnson and Langford will be in England the latter part of May. Johnson says he will board ship for the other side on May 17, while Langford will leave on April 21. Just what kind of a reception Johnson will get in England is exciting considerable interest. Langford's manager, Joe Woodman, says that he will have the Boston slugger on hand to keep his agreement with the National Sporting Club, of London, for a 15-round bout with Johnson on May 24, and that he will convince the English sporting public that Johnson is a counterfeit champion heavyweight. Woodman asked Johnson point blank again whether he intended to fight Langford and received reply: "I fought and defeated Langford three years ago and that isi enough.

SHRUBB AND ST. YVES MATCHED AT 15 MILES

New York, April 11—Henri St. Yves, the Frenchman, who won the recent international Marathon Derby, has been matched to meet Alfred Shrubb, of England, in a fifteen mile race at the American League Park on Saturday, April 24.

The race will take place at night and will be run in the glare of hundreds of electric lights, especially strung for the occasion.

Many experts claim Shrubb is the fastest man in the world at fifteen miles, but those who compared the two men for that distance in the Derby are confident that in St. Yves, the Englishman has found his master.

ALL-ST. JOHN TEAM WON

An interesting game of Association football was played on the Every Day Club grounds on Saturday between the All St. John team and the Bankers of this city, which resulted in a victory for the All St. John by five goals to two.

For the All St. John the defense was sound, whilst the forwards showed up better than in the previous game. Dillon, Byfield and Pickup scored the goals for the winners.

INTER-COLLEGIATE TRACK MEETING

The representatives of the U. N. B. Acadia and Mt. Allison met on Saturday morning in the Victoria Hotel to arrange for a date and discuss matters concerning the annual inter-collegiate track meet. A. E. Brooks represented the U. N. B.; Mr. Camp, Acadia, and W. Roy Smith, B. A., represented Mt. Allison.

After some discussion, Friday, May 28, was decided on as the date of the meet, and Moncton the place. This decision is not final and is made pending the approval of the U. N. B. student body. It may be found that this date encroaches too closely on closing exercises at Fredericton. If so it is said the day preceding will be chosen.

Matters in connection with the order of events and the running off of different races were brought up for consideration, and it was agreed to allow matters to remain as now.

The contract for supplying cement to be used in construction work by the Grand Falls Power Co., has been awarded to the Frank B. Gilbrelt Company, of Longue Pointe, Que. The order amounts to nearly 100,000 barrels and is said to be the largest order ever placed in Canada.

In the Victoria street United Baptist church, yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. B. H. Nobles, received fifty-two persons into the membership of the church.

WHAT MONCTON MAN THOUGHT OF "SANDY"

A Monctonian who was at the ringside at Boston on Tuesday night when Sandy Fergusin, the Moncton fighter defeated James Barry of Chicago, writes the Moncton Transcript that the fight was a very rough and dirty one. Sandy became over anxious in the tenth or else he might have had a knockout to his credit. As it was he delayed the round and gave Barry a chance to recuperate by pushing away the referee while Barry was struggling to rise and after the gong had ended the round and Barry was being revived in his corer Ferguson made an effort to break through and get another crack at the Chicago fighter. The strong boy's manager, Hughie McLean and some of his handlers held Sandy and prevented a rough house. The same Monctonian writing to the Transcript said he did not believe that Sandy would ever be a champion for the reason that he cannot keep his head. Sandy has a good left and worked it to good effect in the fight with Barry but his right is poor. He did not show the class that Barry did. The former Moncton fighter is in grand condition. Sam Langford, the great Nova Scotia middle-weight, was a spectator at the ringside and seemed tickled to death at the rough and tumble fight.

The mile event for cruisers was won by Dalahaye-Nautilus IX in 4 mins., 4 seconds.

At the Auteuil course Paris yesterday the prize of the president of the republic, a steeplechase handicap of $10,000 and cup at two miles, 5 furlongs, was won by E. Fischoff's Journalistic. C. Klein's Chloral was second and H. Dethem's Trianon, third. F. R. Hitchcock's Stokes, finished forth. Mr. Hitchcock also ran Hylas, his famous American hurdler, but he fell.
