FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LOOK FOR PERIOD OF DULLNESS

J. S. Bache & Co's Financial Letter—The Importance of Harriman.

New York, Aug. 21.—The excessive enthusiasm of the smaller contingent worked up in pyramidical form, as indicated last week might be the case, and concentrating on Union Pacific, carried prices to the danger point. The mere withdrawal at this moment of the larger interests was sufficient, and prices have been tumbling, recovering and tumbling again, ever since. As the hopes of the plunging speculators were built on the return of Mr. Harriman and the consequent accomplishment of great things for Union Pacific, the explanation that he was coming back merely for better rest and not for renewed work, put the first damper on the unwarranted speculation. Later when it became known that he was coming back merely for better rest and not for renewed work, put the first damper on the unwarranted speculation. Later when it became known that he was coming back merely for better rest and not for renewed work, put the first damper on the unwarranted speculation.

There is little doubt that the advance would have been checked by wise managers in any event, in the interests of the whole country, because a wild outburst of speculation and the sure consequent collapse would have been a most paralyzing to all business interests. The event to accentuate the decline has been the apprehension about Mr. Harriman's health. The importance of one man to a whole country's prosperity has often been pointed out, but the fact remains that if the United States were deprived of the great ability of Mr. Harriman, an ability, the effects of which in its quick rebuilding are evident on every hand—the deprivation would be a serious one not for long time to be resupplied. It may be affirmed with confidence that when Mr. Harriman, then or more ago saved the Erie Railroad, then on the verge of bankruptcy, from disaster, with his own money and singlehandedly, he averted from the United States a period of three years of hard times, inaugurating instead an era of quick recovery to prosperity. There were other important roads in Erie's plight, and its downfall would have been the signal—the first of the row of bricks—for one after the other to drop into bankruptcy. Those who experienced the time of 1903-1906, know what this means. A country strewn with the wrecks of great industries, the toil and stress of slow recovery, the hardship of years of plodding poverty. Many able observers, especially in England, expected these conditions to follow the 1907 panic. The turning point was the exigency of Erie in the spring of 1908, when $5,000,000 of Erie notes were falling due, with a nearly empty treasury and none but pessimists surrounding the stock. Appeals were made to corporations and individuals. Only one responded in saving Erie, Mr. Harriman saved the whole structure of business rehabilitation.

Following the disruption which has taken place in prices, it would be natural to expect, after the market has quieted down to lower levels, that a period of some weeks of rest and dullness would ensue. We shall probably have such a period, but it is impossible to say whether it will have much duration, in view of the large amounts of money in the hands of the public and the speculative public. Many people have been waiting for a reaction, but will continue to wait for further lowering of prices. However much decline there may be, it is evident that the general condition of the country will make for higher figures later, and those buying carefully selected stocks from the investment standpoint will not be disappointed.

BAPTIST MINISTERS' ANNUITY INCOME TOO SMALL FOR DEMANDS

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 23.—(Special)—The first matter of business at this morning's session of the Baptist convention was the presentation by Rev. G. A. Lawson, of the report of the committee on the United Baptist Ministers' annuity fund, of which the tenor was to show that the present income is insufficient to meet the demands, and to very earnestly urge the need of greater interest on the part of both ministers and people.

The report on legislation following, being presented by E. D. King, K. C. The legislation referred to had reference to the amalgamation of the annuity funds, under the name of the United Baptist Ministers' and of the United Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces, and set forth that the committee had now done all it could do and the move for legislation must now be made in New Brunswick. The report was adopted.

The report of the committee on union with Disciples re-affirmed the position of last year, and that "sent. Ellick and Porter, of Kings Co." be appointed messengers of the convention to the approaching conference of the Disciples.

Next came the report of the committee of Canadian Baptist Union.

The report was presented by Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, of St. John, and was heard with close attention. It reviewed what has been accomplished, and as the Hon. Mr. Foster, in moving its adoption said, the only new thing which it contained was a recommendation that the committee on union be continued. The convention has done all within its power and now awaits the action of Ontario and Quebec.
