NOTED RUNNER IN DOCTORS CARE, WILL RUN NO MORE

Sullivan's Foot in Bad Shape—Ring, Turf, Bowling Baseball and General Sporting News for the Times Readers

James P. Sullivan, one of the fastest milers and distance runners in the country, has probably run his last race. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital, New York, Tuesday to undergo an operation in an effort to save his right foot, which he injured in a race two months ago. He will submit to the "baking process," which will necessitate his confinement in the hospital for several weeks.

In the three mile race at the Canadian championships in Montreal, last September, Sullivan struck a stone in the first mile of the race, turned on his ankle and "pulled' 'a tendon. Despite the severe pain he suffered he continued the other two miles and finished first, hanging a new Canadian record. After the race his leg swelled to twice its normal size, and it was with great difficulty he was able to reach his dressing room.

On his return home he consulted a physician, and after three weeks' treatment was able to hobble about. While the swelling was reduced sufficiently to enable him to walk, the foot was not fully cured, and ten days ago it began to trouble him again. So large did it become and so intense was the pain he suffered that he was confined to his bed. With each succeeding day it grew worse, and despite the efforts of two physicians he got little relief.

After a consultation with his family doctor he decided to go to Bellevue. Drs. Steele and Langer were hopeful that amputation would not be necessary.

The C. A. A. U. is not allied—nor has any connection with the A. A. U., there is no working understanding between the two. Between the Federation and the A. A. U. the old alliance is still in existence. The relations between the C. A. A. U. and the Federation have become more friendly of late—in anticipation of the formation of the A. A. U. of Canada. But that contingency has only helped the C. A. A. U with A. A. U. to the extent that the A. A. U. will accept the registered runners of the C. A. A. U. provided that the same runners are endorsed by the Federation.

The Longboat-Shrubb race, which was to have been run at Winnipeg Tuesday, had to be postponed in consequence of a break down in the power plant that left the city in darkness.

The contracts have been signed for the ten mile race between Longboat and Sherring, to be held at the 24th Armories, Chatham, Ont., on November 30. The stakes are the gate, 75 per cent. to the winner and 25 to the loser. A deposit of $500 was made.

Rudolph Unholz is making quite a hit in Australia and the Sydney Sportsman boosts the Boer as possessing championship ability. Unholz gained considerable fame by making a good showing against Battling Nelson in a no decision ten-round affair and defeating George Memsic. Baseball

Detroit is figuring on a new catcher for next year with major league experience, and there are good reasons for believing that "Nig" Clarke, at present on the Cleveland pay-roll, will be the man.

For two months Clarke's name has been mentioned in a general way at the Tiger headquarters, but only within the past few days have these rumors taken actual form. It is now understood here, on semi-official authority, that Navin has made up his mind to purchase Clarke outright. No trading will be done, and if the deal goes through it will be a strictly cash basis.

Inhabitants of Cuba who have been raving over the brand of baseball exhibited on the island by Matty McIntyre's Detroit Tigers will have a chance to see another team of real ball players, all National Leaguers but one, in twelve games there next month.

A. M. McAllister, of Chicago, a follower of the game has signed a galaxy of stars and will leave with most of them next Saturday night. The first game in Havana is billed for December 5. Four dates have been made with the Havana club, four with the Almandares and four with the Fe team.

Two of the Cubs, Mordecai Brown and Jimmy Archer, will be taken on the trip. The other clubs represented on McAllister's list are Brooklyn, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Boston and New York of the National League and Boston of the American. To share the catching labor with Archer will be Simon, George Gibson's understudy on the world's champion Pittsburg team Brown's co-workers will be Christy Mathewson of the Giants and Babe Adams and Howard Camnitz of the Pirates.

The Turf

A. L. Aste, known as "the bootblack king," has retired from the turf. He will sell his string of sixteen racers. He will retain a slight interest in racing and keeping Gold Lady, now a brood mare, and by sending Jacquelina, his fast filly of last season to the stud.

The passing of Aste from the turf removes one of the picturesque figures in the sport. The fact that his horses competed against the thoroughbreds of wealthy men of the country proved the old saying "All men are equal on the turf." During his career as an owner he had many fast horses, but his chief prominence came through his sale of the two-year old colt Nasturtium to the late W. C. Whitney for $50,000. In Aste's colors Nasturtium had beaten Mr. Whitney's great mare Blue which brought about the sale of the colt.

Local horsemen have organized for some winter sport and have secured the right to maintain a speedway in Queen street. The new organization is known as the St. Croix Valley Driving Club, and has elected officers as follows:

R. W. Whitlock, president; F. C. Murchie, W. S. Eaton and Daniel Grooves, vice-presidents; Fred Budd, secretary; J. F. Duston, treasurer; W. H. Keys, H. Love, S. D. Budd, A. A. Laflin, R. W. Whitlock, J. F. Duston and Jas. Green executive.

Wrestling

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 25—Frank Gotch failed to gain a single fall tonight from Zybsco, the giant Pole, within an hour and thereby lost the match, the conditions of which required Gotch to win two falls within the hour. The Pole displayed great strength and an excellent knowledge of wrestling.

Athletic

Brookline, Mass., Nov. 25—Mud-bespattered after completing ten miles over soggy, heavy and rain-soaked roads, James H. Maloney, of St. Stephen's Total Abstinence Society of Worcester, won the New England amateur championship at that distance today in 54.36 3-5. He was first of a field of 22 to finish. Almost catching the mud thrown from Maloney's heels was Raymond E. Willard, of the Providence Athletic Club, while Wm. J. Hackett, of Quincy, winner of the Brockton Fair Marathon and running under the colors of the Brookline Gymnasium Association, was third.

Football

Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 25—Five football players were injured, two seriously today, in a game between Washington State College and Whitman College. Clarence Morrow, right guard for Whitman, sustained three broken ribs.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25—Wallowing and sliding around on a field that was several inches deep with mud, slush, ice and pools of water, the University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Cornell in the annual game on Franklin field this afternoon by the score of 17 to 6. It was a poorly played game for which the weather and field conditions were in a great measure responsible.

Twenty thousand persons braved the elements and witnessed the game.

PRESENTATION TO D. A. SINCLAIR OF I.C.R. LAST NIGHT

Gold Watch and Address—Gift for John P. Kiervin

There was a pleasing function in the I. C. R. car repair shops last evening when the mechanical staff presented D. A. Sinclair, the retiring mechanical foreman, with a splendid gold watch and an address. Mr. Sinclair retires on superannuation allowance after fifty years spent in the service of the road. For thirty two years he has been mechanical foreman, and this is the third presentation made to him. In all his service he never had a black mark against him and he leaves the road with a record such as few men possess. At last evening's function George W. Speer, presided and there was an informal programme, consisting of addresses by William McAdoo, W. H. Anderson, C. McFarlane and Mr. Speer; songs by O. Peterson and Gerald R. McCafferty, and a song and dance by B. J. Case.

The presentation address was read by G. R. McCafferty as follows:—

It is with feelings of regret that the employes of the mechanical department of this station learned of your decision to retire from active work. Having started in this department when it was in its infancy and being an active and prominent part of it from that time up to the present, we got to look upon you as a fixture, it is hard to realize that there must come a time when our labors cease.

When we think that God in His goodness has seen fit to endow you with health to enable you to work continuously for over half a century, and that although you have now given up your responsible duties yet you are in perfect health, we cannot help but feel that faithfulness and integrity are sure to bring their own reward.

The majority of the employes now here have grown up under your tuition and the encouragement that you have given us, consistent with discipline, has gone far to make our daily intercourse pleasant and profitable.

We trust that you may be spared many years to enjoy your well earned rest and can assure you that our best wishes will ever be with you.

We ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a token of the kind feelings that have always existed between us, and hope that it will act as a talisman to ever keep green pleasant memories of the past.

GEO. W. SPEER, Chairman.
G. R. McCAFFERTY, Secretary.

The watch, which is a particularly handsome one, bears the following inscription: "Presented to D. A. Sinclair, mechanical foreman, on his retirement from the I. C. R., Oct. 30, 1909."

John P. Keirvin, who has been seven years in the employ of the I. C. R. freight offices here, left the I. C. R. service yesterday. On the occasion of his departure H. H. Hatch, chief clerk, acting for Mr. Keirvin's fellow clerks, presented him with a handsome silver mounted calabash pipe, suitably inscribed. Mr. Keirvin leaves to take over the business formerly carried on by his late father.

FIRST VOTE IN PARLIAMENT AT OTTAWA YESTERDAY

Large Majorities Against Opposition on Two Divisions — Lancaster's Bill Again—House Sits Till Midnight

Ottawa, Nov. 25—The commons indulged in two divisions and spent five hours of today's sitting in disposing of a number of private bills on the order paper relating to amendments of the railway act.

Mr. Lancaster, the chief protagonist in the commons for legislation for the protection of level railway crossings, resurrected his time-worn bill of the past three sessions, requiring railway companies to protect all level crossings in thickly populated districts. In view of the legislation passed last year, empowering the railway commission to order crossing protection in any case and to apportion the cost between the railway company and the municipality affected and the federal fund of $200,000 a year, provided for the purpose, he restricted his bill this year to relieving the municipalities from bearing any share of the cost.

The minister of railways urged that the bill of last session should be given a fair trial before the house adopted any new principle. He moved the six months' hoist and after a long debate Mr. Graham's motion was carried by eighty-seven to fifty-three on a straight party vote. The first division of the session, therefore, resulted in a Liberal majority of thirty-four.

Two other bills of Mr. Lancaster, providing for the limitation of appeals from the decision of the railway commission, and to prevent railway companies from being relieved of liability for damages to goods on trains, notwithstanding any special contract with the shipper, were referred to the railway committee, after considerable discussion.

A select committee was appointed to inquire into the subject of proportional representation, in accordance with a resolution by Mr. Monk, adopted last week.

Replying to Dr. Chisholm, Sir Frederick Borden stated that no financial aid had been extended by the government in connection with the experiments in aviation of Messrs. McCurdy and Baldwin at Petewawa last summer. The government, however, constructed the building where the aerodrome was housed and had loaned men from the engineering force to assist the aviators.

A bill by Mr. Northrup to empower the railway commission to compel a railway company to carry out any agreement it may have made with a municipality was defeated. The bill was intended to apply to a particular case of thirty years standing in Ontario and Hon. Mr. Graham held that it would be improper to legislate for the satisfaction of a private grievance. The motion to defeat was carried by 107 to 60.

The house adjourned at midnight.

EMPRESS HAS TROUBLE MAKING DOCK AT HALIFAX

Halifax, Nov. 25—Wireless telegraphy was made to do good service with a passenger on the C. P. R. steamer Empress of Britain, which arrived from Liverpool today, as she lay in Halifax harbor. Among her passengers was David Hogarth, M. A., who comes from England to deliver a series of lectures before branches of the American Archaeological Institute. He was down for a lecture in Halifax for Saturday night, but did not know that this date was chosen, a change having been made in the original arrangements, accordingly Mr. Hogarth remained on board, intending to proceed to St. John.

The steamer's steering gear, on account of the high wind, was damaged in docking, and after the mails had been discharged she hauled into the stream to make repairs.

The Halifax committee only then learned that Mr. Hogarth had not come ashore. The sea was running very high, so that a boat could not live on the harbor, and it was impossible to get out to the steamer. A wireless message was then sent to the steamer via Camperdown, at the mouth of the harbor, and was received by her off the railway wharf. Mr. Hogarth got the message and later in the afternoon a tug took him off, so that he will be able to keep his Halifax engagement on Saturday.

The Empress of Britain sailed for St. John at 11 o'clock tonight.

AT ST. LUKE'S

The meeting in St. Luke's church last night in connection with the 140th anniversary was made all the more interesting by the presence of Rev. W. B. Armstrong, of this city, who thirty-eight years ago was curate of the church, when Canon Harrison was rector in 1872. Rev. Mr. Armstrong delivered a very interesting address full of reminiscences of the years he spent in St. Luke's. Another clergyman, whose presence lent interest to the gathering was Rev. A. H. F. Watkins, of Chipman, Newcastle Bridge. Rev. Mr. Watkins has volunteered for missionary work in South America and will leave for the scene of his new labors about the first of the year.

Last spring the congregation of St. Luke's pledged themselves to send out one missionary and give the sum of $1,000. In addition to Rev. Mr. Watkins, Miss Belle Goddard, who is now preparing for the work, will be sent and the $1,000 is already nearly subscribed. The speakers of the evening were Rev. R. A. Armstrong, Archdeacon Raymond, Rev. G. A. Kuhring, Rev. R. P. McKim, Rev. G. F. Scovil and Rev. J. E. Purdy. All these delivered interesting and instructive addresses on the policy of the church for the 20th century. A congregational social will be held tonight.

Hot Water Bottles replaced the warming pans and foot stones of our grand parents; now even the old-fashioned cemented water bag is out of date; they won't stand hot water anyway. The WALPOLE HOT WATER BOTTLE, newly patented, all one piece of Rubber, is the only one sold which will stand boiling hot water, they are guaranteed for two years. Sold by all first class Druggists.

The St. John Presbyterian church ladies' tea and sale last night, was very successful.

CLAIMS UNITED STATES CAN DO WITHOUT OUR PULPWOOD

The Philadelphia Item expresses the opinion that there is no danger of the transfer of the United States paper industry to Canada, in the event of a tariff war that would shut out Canadian pulp and pulpwood from the United States market. In an interview in Denver recently, Mr. A. E. Millington, general manager of the Spanish River Pulp & Paper Company, the largest ground wood mill in the world, said within ten years the United States will have exhausted its supply of timber available for pulp from which to manufacture paper, and in that extremity her closest point of relief will be Canada, which now stands ready to supply the world for all time to come.

Commenting on his statement, the Item says:—

"We are inclined to think Mr. Millington's words are the expression of a wish that is father to the thought. Many others in Canada seek and look forward to the day when all our news publishers will be obliged to bend the knee to Canada in order to obtain a newspaper supply. But we take no such view. We think the resources of the United States on this point are greater than some Canadians give us credit for. But for the moment we summarize the situation as it appears to a good many onlookers. Mr. Millington further said that when our present pulp supply is gone there is nothing so far discovered which will do for a substitute, so Canada naturally seems to be the place to which the United States will look for its paper. He added: 'Experiments with every supposed substitute for pulp have been failures.' The Canadians—in many cases—have an exaggerated notion of the dependence of United States mills upon their forests for our supply of pulp wood. Our paper manufacturers say, while they want some Canadian wood, they expect to get the bulk of their supply in the future, as in the past, from our own country; that the Canadians cannot shut us off from getting their wood without inflicting more injury on themselves than is offset by any benefit. That when the Canadians come to better understand the subject and give due regard to the questions of justice and international relationships, they will relinquish any such intentions. As one manufacturer puts it, the United States may say to the Canadians: "If we cannot have your wood, you cannot have our market for your paper. It is the United States, and not Canada, that holds the whip handle,' he added. About all the pulp wood we import from Canada is spruce. About sixty per cent. of this is used for making sulphite pulp, and only about forty per cent., or 400,000 cords, for making mechanically ground wood pulp. These two kinds of pulp combined are used to make newspaper. The supplies of Canadian pulp wood having been easy of access and substantially as cheap as the domestic article, our paper manufacturers have used great quantities of it for making sulphite pulp. But other kinds of wood, which we have in abundance in this country, and which Canada has not, such as hemlock, various kinds of pine, as well as some of the so-called hard woods, can all be used for making sulphite. Thus our actual requirements for the kind of pulp wood that Canada produces are limited to that which is used for makin g ground wood pulp. There are present attempts to substitute other kinds of woods for spruce in the manufacture of sulphite, and when it becomes necessary this substitution can be made almost complete. Already more domestic hemlock is used for this purpose than imported spruce. This change, when effected will render a large amount of domestic spruce which can be used for making ground wood pulp, approximately two and a half times as much as would be required,' says one of our largest manufacturers. In 1907 only 400,000 cords of Canadian wood, as stated, were used for making ground wood pulp in this country, or less than ten per cent., of all the pulp wood used in that year by our manufacturers in making paper. Less than two per cent. of our annual forest consumption is used for paper-making material."

Don't Cough! It's Dangerous!

"Father Morriscy's No. 10" will stop the Cough and Cure the Cold

Are you one of those who say, "O, it's only a little cold", and let the cough hang on, doing nothing for it?

If you are, just think a minute.

It is true that most colds, if left to themselves, will leave you after a while—but they leave you with the delicate lining of throat and lungs weakened—an easy prey to the next cold. Every cold you neglect makes it easier to catch the next one, and harder to get rid of it, and it doesn't take many such colds to give you Catarrh or some serious lung trouble.

"Father Morriscy's No. 10"—Cough Cure and Lung Tonic—is a preparation of roots, barks and Balsams that will prevent all this. It promptly clears away the mucus, removes the irritation and inflammation that causes the coughing, and heals and strengthens the delicate membranes. Besides, it tones up the whole system and gives you strength to resist the next attack.
