PROPOSED INDUSTRIES

The Courtenay Bay water front, on the city side of the bay, is said by Mr. F. C. Durant to be valuable property: therefore he wants a considerable portion of it for himself. He has added plans for a dry dock to his sugar refinery plans, and informs the citizens that he can develop their idle property. He is now as voluminous and confiding as he formerly was reticent and mysterious. Doubtless he represents capital and enterprise, and desires to make a good bargain, but the bargain must be fair to the city. The Courtenay Bay property must not be handed over to any individual. A great development will take place there in the not distant future. The very reasons which prompt Mr. Durant to acquire the property should influence the city to retain possession for the present. It would be better to lose an industry than make a rueful bargain. But the city will not lose an industry if Mr. Durant is really in earnest about the sugar refinery. St. John is incomparably the best location, and suitable sites are not wanting. The city wants the industry, and the citizens will approve of reasonable concessions to secure it, but there must be a limit. It should not be at all difficult for Mr. Durant and those whom he represents to place a monetary value upon the concessions they would deem fair and necessary. One thing at a time. After the sugar refinery matter is settled the dry dock matter can be taken up for consideration.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

The Natural History Society now possesses 29,185 specimens and a library of 12,153 books and pamphlets. The museum is a very valuable one, and there should be a wider popular interest in an institution which is of great educational worth, If a census were taken of the citizens of all ages who have seen this museum, the number would be depressingly small. The society endeavors to popularise the institution, and has a very considerable membership, but even the latter includes very many persons who merely subscribe and do not visit the rooms. The museum could be made of much greater practical value if the various clubs, societies, schools and organizations of one kind and another would plan to pay visits to the museum and make its contents the subject of some study and discussion. The society is somewhat handicapped through lack of funds, and as is the case with most institutions the greater portion of the work in connection with it falls upon the shoulders of a few people. But as the city grows the museum will assume larger proportions and the society receive more generous support. The highest credit is due to those citizens who have patiently and earnestly devoted themselves to the task of bringing it up to its present magnitude and importance as an educative factor in the life of the city.

TEMPERANCE REFORM

Local option won a notable victory in the parish of Harcourt, Kent county, yesterday. By a vote of 134 to 44 it was decided to banish the saloons from the parish. The fact is but another indication of the trend of public sentiment, especially in the villages and country districts, but also in the cities and towns.

There was a temperance demonstration in Montreal last Sunday, of such proportions and significance as to be made the subject of the following editorial comment by the Star:—

"The spectacle of Protestants and Catholics, English-speaking and French-speaking, marching together yesterday in the sacred cause of temperance, and joining in a religious service in St. James cathedral—the representative church of the majority—was one which must have filled the hearts of those who labor earnestly for the uplift of the community with hope. In union there is strength; and the opportunity of the evil forces is always found in the division of their opponents. The letter of Archbishop Bruchesi to the gathering put the fact with blunt directness when he said: 'There are far too many saloons in Montreal.' With this every man who knows anything of the life which centres about them, will agree. Those who believe that one saloon is 'too many,' and those who hold that a certain number are inevitable, and that the best we can do is to see that they are respectable and well run, will unite in saying with the Archbishop that in any case there are far too many in Montreal, and that not a few are a disgrace to Christian civilization."

The Star goes further, and points out how much the religious forces could do for civic betterment by working in harmony and with united effort in all matters affecting the moral welfare of the people. It is pointedly declared that "a moral miasma is more deadly than a leaking sewer; and boys drink in a far more destructive infection from the seductive drafts which sin presses to their lips than they would find in typhoid-laden water." In conclusion the Star asserts that "the twin dangers of the low saloon and the brothel might well become the objective of a united campaign enlisting the support of our entire moral citizenship."

OLD AGE ANNUITIES

The Shareholder anticipates that among the returns to be presented to the approaching session of the Dominion parliament will be one showing what has been done to bring into operation the "Act to authorize the issue of Government annuities for Old Age," which was assented to on 20th July, 1908.

In New Brunswick Mr. N. W. Brown has been laboring to make the people familiar with the provisions of the act, and is still engaged in the work. On this point the Shareholder well says:—

"The government is acting wisely in taking steps to educate the people on the subject, for without education the existence of the act would be of little avail. Under a proper system of education the masses will be brought to learn the advantages of thrift, and to apply it to make provision for themselves in advance by setting aside small sums from time to time which will realize for them annuities at a time when they are so advanced in years as to be unable to follow their ordinary labors. There exists a certain degree of pride among those for whom the act is intended and they have to be taught that they are not to be objects of charity, but that they are receiving what they have honestly paid for in advance. If this be thoroughly understood, the government old age annuitants should swell to a large number, realizing that they are not public pensioners, but self-supporting, independent and self-respecting citizens. To make this perfectly plain is the foundation of the success of the plan of government annuities for old age. Were the leaders of the different trade unions throughout the Dominion to take up this educational movement they would do much for the manhood, comfort and happiness of the membership. The problem of old age pensions has received considerable attention not only in this country but in the older ones on the other side of the Atlantic. If Canadian citizens avail themselves of the government's offer, the problem will be solved and satisfactorily."

An American anarchist sees in the execution of Ferrer, the Spanish revolutionist, the doom of every throne in Christendom. Utterances of this sort, made at a safe distance from any throne, or those who uphold it, may tend to inflame some minds, but fills the minds of sane and reasoning people with aversion.

On the subject of woman suffrage the Toronto World says:—"Female suffrage is in force now in Australia, New Zealand, and several of the United States. It has not brought about any revolution, nor will it when it comes in Britain or Canada. Women must not expect the millennium when they get a vote. They may expect to gain in moral weight and dignity by the recognition of their equality with men. Men may be stimulated to display a real superiority which they are at present willing to rest on an artificial basis."

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

The Sackville Post thus sizes up the agitation concerning the I. C. R.:—"There is evidently a desire upon the part of certain maritime province politicians to hand the I. C. R. over to a company These politicians are represented by the St. John Sun and the Halifax Chronicle, which papers are daily engaged in 'knocking' the present management of the road. Today, according to these papers, nothing is being done quite right in connection with the I. C. R."

LIBERALS HAVE VICTORY IN PERTH

Andover, N. B., Oct. 19.—The Liberals won a distinct victory in the councilors' election for the parish of Perth today, Alexander Dionne and J. W. Niles being victorious over E. W. Larlee and G. E. Morehouse. The votes stood as follows: Niles, 178; Dionne, 159; Morehouse, 124; Larlee, 124.

In the parish of Andover, James Howlett and James Porter, Conservatives, were elected with 68 and 67 votes respectively. Frank Henderson, Liberal, received 61 votes, notwithstanding the fact that he had not canvassed at all.

The liquor case against Bernice Green, which was to have been tried today was postponed on account of the arrest which took place on Saturday of Spotters Roy Kennedy and Charles Crandelmire, charged with perjury. Their examination will take place tomorrow before Magistrate Williamson. W. P. Jones, of Woodstock, will defend the "spotters" and T. J. Carter will prosecute.

The steam tug Mabel Reid arrived yesterday afternoon with two steam scows in tow, the property of E. R. Reid, of St. Andrews, who is making his home here. He has a large concrete plant.

THE MOTHER EARTH

Yours were the hands that held me first of all,
Yours were the lips that taught me how to smile,
Yours were the eyes that watched my every step,
Yours was the heart that showed me Love worth while;
Whatever good is in me, part or whole,
Is but the dear reflection of your soul!

When others laughed at all my dreams, you held
Those dreams and me close to your loving breast,
Giving me strength to try, and when I failed,
Your faith alone stood firm above the rest.
For you believed some day I would succeed—
The finest spur that any man could need!

And so, today, though far from what I sought,
The goal unreached, the prize as yet unwon,
Your hands still hold on high my wav'ring hope
As once they held my baby self—your son.
Oh, mother-mine, together, hand in hand,
We'll win! If not, you still will understand.

CANNABALISM IN AFRICA

Natives Hunt Victims in Leopard Skins and With Iron Claws

(London Standard.)

The West African mail contains news of a case of cannibalism that has lately been tried in Sherboro, to the southeast of Sierra Leone, and resulted in the hanging of a Paramount Chief and four of his "nobles." The men belonged to one of the leopard societies that were a source of great trouble to the neighborhood before they were brought under hand by British rule. The name was derived from the practice of the members, who were accustomed to hunt down their human prey in leopard skins furnished with large iron claws.

The chief induced one of his men to kill a little boy, strengthening him for the purpose with pagan rites. By means of these it was sought to make the murderer's footsteps inaudible, to give him courage for the deed, and to make the place of the murder conveniently dark. The dead body was taken to the chief and his friends, who made short work of it. After a year they were tried for the murder and convicted.

KELLEY FREE; RAMSAY FINED $32

The case against William Ramsay and Michael Kelly for creating a disturbance on the Shamrock grounds on Saturday afternoon and assaulting Policeman Alex. Crawford, was brought up in the police court yesterday afternoon. After hearing the evidence of a number of the witnesses of the occurrence, Magistrate Ritchie allowed Kelly his freedom and fined Ramsay $32 or four months in jail. His honor in sentencing Ramsay, said that he deplored the fact that not one of the spectators had offered to assist the policeman in helping him to arrest Ramsay. E. S. Ritchie, for the defendants, in his address contended that the arrest of Ramsay was illegal and cited several cases to prove his contention, and therefore asked for the dismissal of the case. H. J. Smith, for the prosecution, in his address briefly summed up the evidence of the witnesses, and also referred to the Canadian Police Code in regard to the scope of a policeman's authority in making an arrest. His honor, who was an eye witness of the affair, spoke highly of the police force of the city, and stated that they must be protected.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA IN FEW MINUTES

Gas, Heartburn, and All Misery From Stomach Vanish Before you Realize it.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, Nauseouseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour and full of gas or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

TO BE MARRIED IN CALGARY

Miss Elsie K. Lawson of Amherst Bride of Samuel G. Baird

Amherst, Oct. 19—Miss Elsie K. Lawson, daughter of B. James Lawson, secretary-treasurer of Dunlop Bros. & Co., Ltd., will leave by tomorrow's C. P. R. train for Calgary, Alberta, where she will be married to Samuel G. Baird, son of Samuel Baird, of Salem, N. S. Mr. Baird has been in the west about eight years and is one of the successful business men of that city. Miss Lawson will be accompanied from Amherst by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen, of Calgary, who have been visiting Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wry, of Jolicure.

Clifford Jones, a brother of Mrs. B. J. Lawson, who has been in Ottawa on legal business, will also join the party. Miss Lawson, on arrival, will be the guest of Mrs. Lawson's brothers, Clifford and Stanley Jones.

The many valuable presents received by Miss Lawson testify to her great popularity. The young people of the First Baptist church waited on her last night and presented to her a very flattering address accompanied by a valuable rose wood cabinet, containing a dozen solid silver knives and forks with ivory handles. The married women of the church also presented to her a very dainty set of china cups and saucers, a dozen silver tea spoons and table linen.

Miss Lawson will be greatly missed in church and social circles, and all will wish her God-speed in her new home. Miss Emily Fenerty, of Halifax, a cousin of Miss Lawson, has been visiting her during the past week.

Miss Lawson is a niece of Rev. G. A. Lawson, of Halifax, and Mrs. Lewis, wife of Rev. A. S. Lewis, of Yarmouth, and Mrs. Emily MacKinnon, of St. John.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE

Annual Meeting in Moncton Next Week—Reports Show Growth

The sixty-second annual meeting of the Grand Division of New Brunswick Sons of Temperance will be held in the Sons of Temperance Hall, Bank of Nova Scotia building, in Moncton, opening at 2.30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 25. A meeting of the propagation committee will be held in the same place and on the same date at 1.30 p. m. E. S. Hennigar, of St. John, is grand worthy patriarch, and Rev. C. W. Hamilton, of Salisbury, grand scribe. Considerable interest will attach to the meeting by reason of the fact that the head of the order in British North America, J. O. McCarthy, most worthy patriarch of Toronto, is to be in attendance. It has been long since the order in New Brunswick had such an honor.

The order in this province has made some progress in the past year. Despite the fact that beyond some propagation work done by the grand worthy patriarch for a few weeks, there has been literally no one in the field, eleven new divisions or reorganizations will be reported since the last annual meeting. Of forty-two divisions reporting for the June quarter, twenty-nine show increases in membership and of thirty-one reporting to date for the September quarter, twenty-one show increases.

The question of propagating the order will engage considerable attention at the annual meeting. The work of the young people's societies will also call for special attention.

19 KING STREET

KING EDWARD'S COOK

Salary of $10,000 a Year—Three Years' Experiments Over One Sauce

Mr. Menager, the head cook at Buckingham Palace, occupies an important post in the royal household, says Answers. His salary is £2,000 per annum, and he is recognized as being one of the greatest culinary artists in the world. The royal kitchens and the whole kitchen staff are under his complete control.

Mr. Menager does not live in Buckingham Palace, but has his private residence close to it. On arriving at the palace — usually about 7 o'clock in the morning — his first care is to inspect the lunch menu for that day, which has been prepared by his first assistant, and also the menu for breakfast the following morning He then prepares the dinner menu for the following day—a task that occupies him usually a couple of hours.

No two dinners at the royal table are ever the same. Certain dishes are from time to time repeated, frequently by special request of the king, but what may be termed the general scheme of each dinner is always different. One of the side kitchens is reserved solely for Mr. Menager's use, where he carries out experimental culinary operations, and is constantly elaborating and working out new ideas. Some dishes have taken him months of preparation before he has decided to put them into the menu. There is one particular sauce which Mr. Menager invented some years ago to which the king has a particular liking. Mr. Menager was making experiments for three years before he served this sauce to the royal table.

There are many dishes, by the way, which can be tasted nowhere except at the royal table. The secret of their preparation is known only to Mr. Menager, and he guards such secrets with great care. None of his assistants have the least notion of how these special dishes and sauces are prepared. They simply have the handling of the raw materials, and each assistant carries out different directions in its prepartion for table.

The dinner menu is submitted every day to Their Majesties for approval; but this is a mere matter of form, for neither the king or queen ever think of altering or interfering with Mr. Menager's arrangements.

At 3 o'clock a report is laid before the great chef by the order clerk of the various meats that have been ordered, in accordance with Mr. Menager's instructions of the day before, and also what is called a kitchen report is given to him by the head assistant cook—which is a detailed statement of the manner in which the dinner for that night is to be prepared. After seeing that everything is in good order for the evening's work, Mr. Menager leaves the palace about 4 o'clock returning at 6.30, when he never fails to make a personal inspecion of the various ranges, ovens and stoves, and takes a careful note of the temperature of each.

The preparation of the royal dinner is then begun. Mr. Menager remains in the kitchen whilst the work is going forward, keeping a keen eye on everything and every one, and issuing from time to time instructions to his first lieutenant. At ten minutes to nine exactly a bell is rung, and the servants who are to bear the dishes to the state dining room enter the kitchen.

At 9 o'clock dinner is served, and Mr. Menager's work for the day is over. He remains in his private room until 10 o'clock, when he receives a message from the king commending the dinner. This is a ceremony His Majesty never forgets to perform.

NOT COMPLIMENTARY.

The Minister—I'm glad to see that you come to church every Sunday.
Stranger—Yes, sir. I just like to come and sit still and think of nothing.

FOURTEEN POUNDS IN TWO MONTHS

Remarkable Gain Made by Terra Nova, Cape Breton, Woman

"Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) has wrought some wonderful cures. Here is a typical case, as described by the patient herself:

"During the Fall of 1906 I contracted a severe cold, which settled upon my lungs. After being treated by two physicians of high standing my condition was not any better, but in fact getting worse. My friends began to have serious doubts about my recovery.

I had heard of Father Morriscy's remarkable career as a medical adviser, and wrote to him explaining my case. In a few days I received an encouraging letter from him, and some of his "Lung Tonic," and immediately I began to improve, gaining fourteen pounds in two months.

I strongly recommend his "Lung Tonic" for Colds and any form of Lung Disease."

Yours sincerely,
ANNIE McDONALD.
