NEW DONALDSON

LINER IS SATURNIA

The new 9,000 ton passenger steamship for service between Montreal and Glasgow in company with the Athena and Cassandra, has been named the Saturnia. She is due to arrive in Montreal for the first time on June 29. She will sail from Glasgow June 11. The Saturnia will also be the last Donaldson line Glasgow boat to leave Montreal next season, departing for Scotland, November 17.

The Donaldson line, in their new folder dealing with the coming season, announce an increase in rates the minimum second cabin rate going up $2.50, and the third class rates to British, Scandinavian and Finnish points, $1.50.

The Saturnia was built by Messrs. Charles Connell & Co., of Glasgow, and is designed to carry 1,000 third class passengers. Last night a little girl named Mercer, belonging to St. Andrew's street, was thrown to the ground by some ruffian and twenty-five cents stolen from her. She was walking along Mecklenburg street on her way to a grocery store.

A wedding is a delightful affair—unless you are the masculine end of it.

W. F. Todd, M. P., for Charlotte county accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived in the city from St. Stephen yesterday and registered at the Royal. To a reporter he said he did not think the session of parliament would last very long.

Frank Crawford, a Carleton man, had his hand crushed while at work on the S. S. Empress of Britain last night. Dr. F. L. Kenney attended him in the emergency hospital.

REVOLT OF SUPPORTER OF HAZEN

A. R. Slipp, M. P., Puts It Straight On Valley Railroad Question

PEOPLE AROUSED

Says Talk of Overthrowing Government if Something is Not Done—Interesting Matters At Fredericton Board of Trade Last Evening

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of the board of trade was held this evening when many matters of public importance, including the Valley Railway, river steamship service, discrimination in freight rates by railways and an agricultural college, in connection with the university, were discussed and action taken thereon.

A. R. SLIPP, M. P.

President George W. Hodge, in his annual address, referred to the prosperity which the city had enjoyed during the past year and spoke most hopefully of the future.

He dwelt at some length upon the St. John Valley Railway question, and predicted that within a year the road would be under construction.

The need of an agricultural college for New Brunswick was dwelt upon, and he hoped that one would be established in connection with the university.

The urgent need of a new railway station for the Intercolonial was pointed out, and he thought there was considerable room for improvement in the passenger service to this city on both railways.

The president thought that more might be done to boost Fredericton as a manufacturing centre and, in this connection, he suggested the appointment of a publicity committee.

In closing he suggested that there should be a merchant's week here at least twice a year.

John T. Jennings submitted a report from the transportation committee, which was adopted. The report, among other things, stated that Fredericton had been subjected to unfair discrimination during the Christmas season in the sale of excursion tickets from Boston to the Maritime Provinces. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, G. W. Hodge; vice-president, J. J. Jennings; secretary, J. J. F. Winslow; treasurer, M. Tennant; tourist committee, F. B. Edgcombe, J. W. McCready, T. V. Monahan, A. R. Slipp, A. A. Saute; transportation committee, J. T. Jennings, C. Fred Chestnut, F. B. Edgcombe, G. Y. Dibblee, J. W. McCready; council, C. F. Chestnut, P. B. Edgcombe, J. D. Phinney, W. E. Farrell, W. G. Clark, John Palmer, A. R. Slipp, J. J. Weddall, G. Y. Dibblee, J. S. Neill, J. W. McCready.

John Palmer brought up the matter of railway freight rates, and cited instances where Fredericton jobbers were discriminated against in favor of St. John on goods forwarded to North Shore points. He said the freight tariff appeared to favor St. John all the way through.

J. S. Neill and others complained of the excessive winter freight rates charged Fredericton merchants by the C. P. R. on goods brought from St. John. It was pointed out that it cost more to bring some lines of goods from St. John to Fredericton than it did from Glasgow to St. John. G. Y. Dibblee strongly condemned the train service on the Fredericton branch of the C. P. R. He said the single express train run out of this city each day was more for the benefit of St. John suburbanites than for Fredericton people, while the other trains were not equal to a fast freight.

A committee was appointed to take the whole matter up with the railway companies and if necessary to carry it to the railway commission.

A motion that the local government be requested to increase the subsidy to the steamer Hampstead from $500 to $1,000, created some discussion. Several speakers sharply criticized the Hampstead and her officers and an amendment recommending the government to offer a larger subsidy to any company giving an efficient service was adopted.

The president's address was taken up section by section and his recommendations heartily endorsed.

Mr. Phinney wanted to know why the president was so hopeful in regard to the Valley Railway project. To judge from the newspaper controversy he (Phinney) did not think it was making much progress.

Mr. Winslow thought that everybody should be hopeful in regard to the road.

A. R. Slipp said that while great interest was manifested over this matter in the country districts there seemed to be apathy shown in the cities and towns, particularly St. John. People in the country, he said, have reached that stage in this question where they are talking of overthrowing governments if something is not done. So far as he was concerned, he would take no further part in elections if justice was not done in this matter.

After a few remarks by Mayor Chestnut the matter was referred to the council. The question of the establishment of an agricultural college and merchant's week was also referred to the council.

The case of Meehan vs. Stevenson was settled in the circuit court this morning and the record withdrawn. The defendant was being sued for debauching the plaintiff's wife. P. A. Guthrie, was counsel for the plaintiff and H. F. McLeod for the defendant. The parties to the suit belong in Marysville.

The case of Tompkins vs. Johnson, in which the defendant was charged with setting forest fires, was also settled.

There being no further business the court adjourned sine die.

The January term of the York county court will open tomorrow, Judge Wilson presiding.

DR. HEWETT'S LECTURE

Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the Archaeological Institute of America, lectured in Centenary Sunday school room last evening on The Excavations of the School of American Archaeology in 1909. Dr. W. W. White presided and the lecture was fairly well attended. Lantern slides were used by Dr. Hewett in explaining the work of the society in southern Utah and northern Arizona and the pictures and descriptions of the cliff towns of Kit Sil and Totatakin were very interesting. Ruins in New Mexico where archaeological excavations have been in progress were next shown and explained and Dr. Hewett dealt in an interesting way with the habits and life of the ancient cliff dwellers.

The lecturer spoke particularly of the studies of the ancient civilization of the American continent, now being directed from the institute's school of archaeology in Santa Fe, New Mexico, but at the same time called especial attention to the world-wide character of the work of the organization with its branch societies in all the principal cities of the United States and Canada and its schools for the study of archaeology in Greece, Italy, Palestine and America, pointing out that the study of humanity which is the great function of the Archaeological Institute of America is what leads to the real brotherhood of man.

Prof. Hewett went to Halifax on last night's train, where he will lecture this evening.
