MARINE NEWS

Canadian bark Emma R. Smith, Captain Foote arrived at Tampa, Fla., last Sunday from Providence, R. I.

Thomson-Havana line steamship Livingstone, Captain Johnsen, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from New York to load for Havana, Cuba. The steamer is a Norwegian under charter, and will load a large cargo for Havana at the C. P. R. wharf.

The largest outward cargo of the season was taken away by the steamship Montreal, which left this port five days ago for London and Antwerp, the valuation of which is as follows: Canadian goods, $274,902; foreign goods, $100,462; total, $375,364. Among her freight were 80,022 bushels of wheat, 45,900 bags of flour, 301 head of United States cattle and 270,250 feet of spruce deals.

The Allan line steamship Hesperian, which arrived in port yesterday was greatly delayed by the heavy weather. The Hesperian sailed from Liverpool on January 14 and was expected to arrive at Halifax early Saturday morning, but the prevailing gales prevented her from making good time. On the way over she broke one of her propellor blades, which also affected her speed.

The six masted British barkentine Everett G Griggs, the only vessel of that rig in existence and which has been tied up for some time at Tacoma has recently been sold to Seattle parties at $27,500. She was originally the British four-masted ship Lord Wolseley, but failing to make money in that rig she was sold in 1905 at $16,000 her purchasers selling her recently to a syndicate of Seattle ship owners who in addition of the price $27,500 have expended $71,000 in making the neecssary alterations.

Parrsboro, Jan. 24—The schr St. Bernard, Capt. M. Benjamin, arrived in port from St. John in ballast and will lay up for the winter. The schooner Otis Miller, Captain C H Smythe arrived from St. John with a full cargo of merchandise for the town merchants and is discharging at the up town wharves as the river here is still open to the head of navigation. The schooner Klondyke, Captain E. Williger, arrived from Kingsport, where she landed a cargo of fertilizer for Boston. She will now lay up here for the winter.

The port statistics of Boston, just published, show that during the year 1909 not a single brig rigged vessel entered that harbor, a remarkable exhibit showing the almost total extinction of this class of vessel Not a brig has been built in the United States since 1892, the last vessel of that rig to be turned out having been the Geneva of 495 tons. In 1871 there were some 700 wooden brigs and brigantines owned in this country, of which about 60 hailed from Portland. These have dwindled down to 11 owned in the whole United States of which six are owned on the Pacific coast, namely, the Geneva, Lurine, Gaillee, W. G. Irwin, Harriet G., and Blakely. The remaining five the Motley, Daisy, Sullivan, Fitcairn and Frederika Schepp are on this coast. The oldest brig afloat is the Sullivan, 344 tons gross and built in 1856.

THE KIND.

Bess—He had great hopes for his airship. He said it would move along like one grand, sweet song.

Bill—Yes, but he soon found out that it moved along like a dance.

Bess—What kind of a dance?

Bill—Why, a breakdown.

THE DIAGNOSIS.

Hodge—Mushly poured vinegar instead of syrup on his cakes at breakfast this morning.

Dodge—What did he say when he discovered his mistake?

Hodge—Not a word. In fact, he didn't seem to notice the difference.

Dodge—Poor fellow! I wonder who the girl is?
