THE MONEY MARKET.

Large Shipments of Gold to the United States Continue.
(Hearst's News Service.)
New York, Sept. 19.
The local money market, owing to the large demand for currency from the interior, has been slower than was expected in responding to the large receipts of gold from Europe, and the rate for money has been discouragingly yielding. The large shipments of gold to the United States and the consequent advance in the Bank of England discount rate have caused considerable disturbance of loans at Paris and Berlin, which naturally unsettles the Continental markets generally, and precipitates realising on speculative holdings; and the more so, in this case, because it is taken for granted that the amount of gold yet to be sent here may equal that already shipped. The dangers connected with the situation in Constantinople, and the apparent possibility that England may take independent action in connection with the situation involving danger to the European equilibrium, are matters to which the European powers are extremely sensitive. In addition to these sources of caution is the prospective visit of the Czar first to England and then to France, for although it is natural to hope for good results from friendly interchanges between the heads of governments, the Czar's visit to England matters of the utmost importance and delicacy are likely to be centered in the fact that the Czar is expected to visit the British Empire, and that the British Empire is expected to visit the Czar's Empire.

At the same fair the state record for horse pulling was broken. Wm. Mason, of Norway, with a pair of horses weighing 2,947 pounds, pulled 54,021 pounds 124 lbs. 3 inches on 45 lbs.
