A GOOD IDEA.

Our experience goes to show that merchants who continue to sell goods at 30 per cent. below cost cannot stay in business very long; therefore we have always made it a point to buy our furniture as low as possible and sell them at a small profit, always taking care that the customer gets good value for his money. We are satisfied and think our customers are, too, that this is a good, old-fashioned way to do business. There is no need of having to deprive yourself of new and up-to-date furniture, while it is so cheap. If you want any description of furniture call around and see us.

END OF THE TRIAL OF JAMESON AND HIS COMRADES.

The Chief Justice's Charge Was Against Them.

LONDON, July 28.

The case of Dr. Jameson, Major Sir John Willoughby, Major Raleigh Grey, Col. H. F. White, Major R. White and the Hon. Henry Coventry, who took prominent parts in the raid into the Transvaal, was continued in the High Court of Justice this morning. The defendants, it will be recalled, are charged with violating the Foreign Enlistment Act of 1870, in that they took part in an armed expedition against a state with which Great Britain was at peace. Yesterday counsel for the defence and the prosecution submitted their cases, and at half-past ten o'clock this morning Lord Chief Justice Russell began to sum up the case. At that time the court room was crowded, interest in the case reviving as it drew to a close. Among those present were well-known society ladies. In summing up Lord Russell emphasized the importance of the trial. He said that the crime with which the defendants were charged might entail consequences which nobody could foresee. There had been no attempt to gainsay the statements of the witnesses for the prosecution, but if the jury had any real doubt as to the nature of the defendants' act they must give them the benefit of it.

Continuing the Lord Chief Justice said that if such things as the defendants were charged with had been done by the Queen's authority they would have amounted to an act of war. Done by the Queen's subjects without her authority they amounted to an illegal filibustering raid. If the grievances referred to in the letter signed by the five leaders of the Johannesburg reform committee, summoning Dr. Jameson to the assistance of the residents of Johannesburg, were legitimate, the Queen's representative should have been appealed to and not the British South Africa company.

LATER.

All the defendants in the Jameson trial have been found guilty.

THAT CONTEMPT CASE.

Appeal Favorable to the Nova Scotia Legislature.

LONDON, July 28.

The judicial committee of the Privy Council has handed down its decision in the case of Fielding against Thomas, which was heard on July 26, 1895, which was an appeal from Nova Scotia, raising the questions of the legality of the arrest and committal to jail of the respondent by order of the House of Assembly of Nova Scotia for contempt. The Privy Council allows the appeal. It reverses the decision of the Nova Scotia court and orders the respondent to pay the costs. When the case was argued on appeal, counsel for the appellants contended that the Colonial Legislature was empowered by the Imperial statute to make laws respecting its own powers and constitution, and that the provisions of the Nova Scotia statute, under which the Assembly acted in this matter, were not ultra vires of the Legislature. The House, he declared, had the right to pass laws enabling it to commit and punish for contempt, and to provide for the indemnity of its members and against civil actions and other proceedings for acts done in the House. The provincial legislature, he contended, had all the privileges, immunities and powers of the British House of Commons and the Dominion parliament. Counsel for respondent argued that his client had not committed any breach of privilege in regard to the petition. He had not been guilty of contempt in declining to present himself for a formal reprimand. The House might not have the power to order his arrest or committal in such a case. It was incapable of enacting a provision to indemnify its members if they punished any body illegallly.

THE HERBERT FULLER TRAGEDY.

Hearing Postponed.

BOSTON, July 28.

In the United States Commissioner's Court this morning, when the case of Bram and Brown, of the Herbert Fuller, was called, Assistant District Attorney Casey announced that since yesterday the defendant Bram had obtained counsel in the person of J. E. Cotter, who informed him that he had not enough time to examine into the case so as to proceed with the hearing to-day and desired a continuance until Friday, to which continuance the government agreed. The commissioner accordingly continued the case of both defendants to Friday, committing them without bail, and ordering the witnesses to recognize in $500 each for their appearance on that day. Bram has not retained counsel yet.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

Captain General Weyler has issued a decree promising to the captains of vessels $24,000 for each filibustering steamer and $9,000 for each filibustering sailing vessel they seize.

Peter Jackson, colored heavyweight pugilist, was arrested lass night outside Tivoli Music Hall, London, for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined five shilling this morning.

The will of John Stetson, theatrical manager, Boston, has been allowed for probate. The property now goes to Mrs. Stokes, of New York, mother and heir of Mrs. Stetson. The contestants, John Stetson, sr., and Adah Richmond, actress, will take appeal.

In the chess tournament at Nuremberg to-day no games were concluded at one o'clock.

The will of ex-Governor Wm. E. Russell, probated yesterday, leaves all his property to his wife and appoints her executrix. The will is dated Dec. 18, 1893.

Edwin Josselyn, iron founder and one of the foremost business men in Lawrence, Mass., was fatally injured this morning by being thrown from his carriage in a runaway accident.

ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

Hon. Albert T. Dunn Has a Walk-Over.

Surveyor General Dunn was elected by acclamation to-day for St. John County. Mr. Dunn's nomination was filed early in the day with Sheriff Sturdee. On it were a large number of the names of prominent county electors. The proceedings were very quiet, there being only a few people present, as it was known for some time that no opposition would be offered to Mr. Dunn's candidature. There was therefore very little interest shown, and there was no gathering of any kind. At two o'clock, Mr. Dunn with Premier Mitchell, L. P. Ferris, M. P. P., and about a half dozen friends appeared at the Court House. The Sheriff announced that Mr. Dunn's nomination was the only one received and declared him elected. Mr. Dunn did not consider it necessary to make a speech, but he was warmly congratulated by the Premier and his colleagues. He also received the congratulations of Hon. Messrs. Emmerson and Tweedie, who are in town to-day. Mr. Dunn was nominated by:

HALIFAX CARNIVAL.

Visitors are Pouring into the City To-day Concerning the Oarsmen.—

[SPECIAL TO GLOBE.]

HALIFAX, July 28.

This, the first day of the carnival, was ushered in by a downpour of rain, which ceased about 8 o'clock. The weather has been fine, although somewhat cloudy. All incoming trains and steamers continue to bring great crowds of visitors. At present the hotels are full, but the accommodation bureau are providing comfortable quarters for all comers.

The great event of to day's programme is the single scull race, which is set down for 5 o'clock this afternoon. The water in the harbor is smooth, and everything at favorable for an afternoon of good sport.

Saturday Hanlan compared photos of the St. John and Halifax crews and then offered to bet Bubear two silk hats that St. John would win from Halifax. Bubear, who had seen both crews row, accepted the bet. He feels confident that Halifax will make a grand race and is sure they will beat the St. John four. Hanlan saw both crews row Saturday. He stated to Bubear yesterday that if he had seen the crews rowing previously he would not have made the bet in question.

Bubear celebrated his 37th birthday on Saturday.

Haines and Gibson, two of the English crew, were out for a spin yesterday afternoon. They are not going to row in the doubles, but they are so much overweight that Bubear, the trainer, is giving them lots of work.

The English pair challenged the St. John professional four on the harbor yesterday afternoon. They saw the St. John four going down the harbor and turned about and waited for them. The St. John boys did not accept the challenge. The weather this afternoon is perfect.

DEATH IN THE STORM.

A Cyclone Visits Pittsburg and Vicinity.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 27.

A cyclonic storm burst upon this city at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon, which, in a few minutes, caused the death of two persons and the fatal injury of another, and the monetary loss of probably $100,000 throughout Alleghany county. Several churches in the hill district were partially unroofed and one was struck by lightning. A number of smaller houses were unroofed. The streets were flooded and sewers discharged their overflow into the houses. Some street cars were compelled to suspend from periods ranging from a half hour to an hour and a half. Hundreds of trees were uprooted and many lawns laid waste, and chimneys and windows demolished in all directions. At the Sugar Camp grove picnic ground, on West Pennsylvania branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, near Aspinwall—where the Eighth Ward fishing and hunting club of Alleghany was encamped—the limb of a tree fell upon the commissary tent, in which a number of members of the club had taken refuge from the storm. One was instantly killed, one had his back broken and cannot recover. In Pittsburg a teamster was struck by a falling sign board and he died within five minutes. The storm seized the steeple of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, over twenty five feet high, took the big bell along and dropped all into a neighboring yard. A one hundred foot stack at the brick yards of Booth and Flynn was blown down. The temperature fell from 93 to 73 degrees. The fury of the tornado was spent in less than ten minutes. It was followed by several storms of less violence during the evening. During the eight hours ending at midnight, 1.43 inches of rain fell.

The report of the drowning of 18 men by a cloudburst, last night, in the vicinity of Reading mines, is confirmed by William Marion, an employe in the Pennsylvania railroad general office, who came to the city from Bridgeville this morning. Bridgeville is three miles distant from the scene of the drowning. Marion says the men were coal miners and occupied one house.

The lawyers and "gentlemen" combined form nearly two-fifths of the whole House.

ANARCHISTS SHUT OUT.

Socialist Congress Refuses Them Admission.

LONDON, Jul 28.

The International Socialist Trades' Congress met in St. Martin's Town Hall to-day, and the question of the admission of anarchists as delegates, which yesterday precipitated a free fight and caused the chairman to declare the congress adjourned, was again taken up for final action.

The chair to-day was occupied by Herr Singer, the well-known socialist member of the Germain Reichstag, who speaks English fluently.

After the usual preliminaries the congress took up the question of the admission of anarchists, against which a large majority vote was cast yesterday. Speeches for and against their recognition as delegates were made by Jean Jaures, a radical socialist member of the French Chamber of Deputies: Tom Mann, who was formerly a member of the House of Commons, and several other properly accredited delegates.

The speakers were very much excited, and those in favor of the admission of the anarchists hotly contended that if they were not admitted the congress would not be internationally representative in its scope and that its decisions and conclusions would not carry the weight which they would otherwise have.

Opponents of the proposition declared with equal spirit that the admission of the anarchists would have the effect of leading the general public to believe that the socialists favored the anarchist propaganda, which the speakers contended was not the case.

Eventually another vote was taken and it was finally decided that the anarchists should not be admitted. The congress then proceeded to the discussion of other questions.

THE MATABELE REVOLT.

LONDON, July 28.

At the House of Commons to-day Mr. Chamberlain said a telegram had been sent to the colonial office in reply to a government message offering to send more troops to aid the British forces which are employed in the suppression of the Matabele revolt in Rhodesia. The message was signed by Sir Frederick Carrington, commander of the forces in Rhodesia. He said that he was undoubtedly hampered by want of men in his operations against the Matabeles, but if more were sent he could not feed them owing to the difficulty in transporting provisions due to the rinderpest and the nature of the country.
