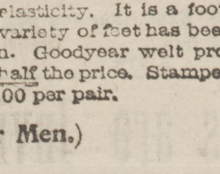
Slave of Your Foot!



Such should be the Shoe—created to protect it from the rough roads of life. But many feet to-day are slaves to the shoe, because their owners will not consult their feet, when buying footwear. Here is a shoe would give a springy foot-step even to old age, because in the building of the sole no peg or stitch under the foot destroys its elasticity. It is a foot-conforming shoe, and every variety of feet has been considered in its construction. Goodyear welt process—Same as hand-made, at half the price. Stamped on the sole $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 per pair.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 24. 1896

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Lord Russell was entertained by President and Mrs. Cleveland at Gray Gables on Wednesday. At Newport, R. I., Mrs. Calvin S. Brice gave a notable musicale and reception at Beaulieu in honor of Lady Russell.

Ex Chinese Inspector R. S. Williams, at San Francisco on Tuesday, was found guilty and sentenced to three years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000. Williams was head of a conspiracy to smuggle Chinese into the United States.

FOREIGN.

General Sir H. H. Kitchener, commander of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition into the Soudan, has definitely occupied Dongola, and the dervishes have evacuated that province. A number of dervish Emirs have surrendered to the Egyptian troops, and a large quantity of stores and munitions of war have been captured from the enemy.

MINOR LOCAL MATTERS.

The Stonewall Jackson cigar is the highest priced five cent cigar manufactured in Canada. Sold by all dealers who are satisfied with a reasonable profit.

Mr. W. Albert Hickman gave his second lecture on Birds Wednesday afternoon in the rooms of the Natural History Society. He left to-day for Boston.

William Corbett, an employe of the Record foundry, Moncton, had the first and second finger of his right hand cut off, and his thumb badly lacerated, while working at a buzz saw Wednesday afternoon.

The famous five cent Stonewall Jackson cigar can always be had at Louis Green's, tobacconist, King street. Try them and you will be convinced they are superior to many so-called ten cent cigars. Manufactured for over a quarter of a century. Enormously the largest sale of any brand in Canada.

SHIPPING NOTES.

SWEPT OVERBOARD.—Capt. Byron D. Porter, of brigt. Hattie Louise, was swept overboard and drowned on Sept. 9.

TO REMAIN HOME.—Capt. Rutherford, of the ship Regent, remains at his home in River Hebert this voyage. Capt. John Hilgrove, of Parrsboro, takes his place. The vessel sailed for Fleetwood on Sunday with a fair wind.—Leader.

PEOPLE'S PASTIMES

Base Ball.

Wednesday was rather chilly for base ball, but quite a large number of persons saw the game between the Roses and Alerts on the Shamrock grounds. The Alerts led until the last inning, when the Roses piled up four runs and won. The score was 8 to 7.

National League games Wednesday: Washington 9, New York 7; Philadelphia 17, Brooklyn 16; Cleveland 2, Louisville 0.

Cricket.

BERGEN POINT, N. J., Sept. 23.

The Australian cricketers commenced a two days' match with the New Jersey A. C. team on the grounds of the home club at Bergen Point to-day. The home club could make no headway against the terrific bowling of Jones, the colonists' fast bowler, and were all dismissed for 28. This is the smallest total for which the Australians have got rid of any opposing team during their tour, with the exception of their match against Gloucestershire, when their opponents were all out in the first inning for 18. The colonials ended their first innings for 253 runs, so it is more than probable the local team will suffer defeat by an inning and several runs to spare.

The Turf.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 23.

It was a cold day at Rigby and the race between Star Pointer and Frank Agan was for this reason declared off. If to-morrow prove suitable Robert J., 2.01½, John R. Gentry, 2.01½, and Fantasy, 2.06, will go against their records. In the 2.24 pacing race, unfinished Monday, Refina won the heat and race. In the last heat of the 2.10 pace, unfinished from Monday, Gil Curry won by a head, Crafty second, Bumps third. Time 2.11½.

Gaudaur's Reception.

The reception to Jake Gaudaur, the champion oarsman, at Toronto on Monday, was a most elaborate affair. On landing Gaudaur was escorted to a four-in-hand drag and driven a couple of blocks to a long line of illuminated electric cars. At this point Gaudaur took his seat in the skiff which had carried him to victory, and the procession, headed by 2,000 bicyclists carrying Chinese lanterns, started on a parade of about ten miles around the city, winding up at Queen's Park, where Mayor Fleming extended the city's welcome to the champion, telling him proudly that all Canada welcomed a Canadian as once more the champion of the world. The mayor presented Gaudaur with a beautifully illuminated address and a purse of $1,000. Gaudaur replied briefly and modestly, and was cheered to the echo. Several other speakers followed and the public reception closed, after which the chairman was banqueted at the City Club by personal friends.

Athletic.

The B. and A. club handicap games on Saturday should prove an attraction, and a great deal interest is being taken. So many entries are in for the hurdles and 75-yard dash that trial heats will be run. The smallest number of entries so far is in the race for schoolboys. The quarter mile bicycle should be an exciting event. It is expected that Gerard will create a new 12-lb. hammer record.

Among the Fighters.

"Spike" Sullivan, the best 126 pound man in New England, met his Waterloo in New York on Tuesday night at the hands of Willie Keefe. Sullivan was regarded as a sure winner. He started in as if he thought a thump or two would take all the fight out of Keefe. He soon found his mistake, for Keefe gave him as good as he sent, and at the end of the round had Sullivan bruised and bleeding. Keefe easily held his advantage in the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth rounds, and the referee declared the New Yorker the winner.

It was Corbett's turn to be arrested at New York on Wednesday for arranging a prize fight. He easily got $1,000 bail, and was released pending his trial.

Cal. Jordan, who was arrested in Halifax Monday for assaulting a Scott Act inspector at Windsor, was fined $50. He afterwards made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

If You Are Subject to Cramps

You know how important it is to have a prompt remedy on hand. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has a wonderful and immediate influence upon this malady. It relieves in one minute and cures in five. Pleasant to the taste, and the best remedy in the world for pain.

"Look here, Snaggs, I hear you have been telling people that I drink like a fish," said Swiller, in a blustering manner. "I may have said that to two or three people." "Well, sir, you have got to take it back." "Have I?" "You have." "Oh, well, I'll take it back, if that will please you. You don't drink like a fish at all. A fish drinks nothing but water."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

MILLINERY OPENING.—The latest novelties and ideas from London, Paris and New York will contribute towards making Madam Kane's millinery opening, which will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday next, an interesting affair to the stylish ladies of the city.

AT THE FAIR.

A GOOD ATTENDANCE FOR THE SECOND DAY.

Brilliant Fireworks Display—More of the Exhibits Described.

Just 2,228 persons paid admission to the exhibition on Wednesday, and as most of those came in the evening the buildings at that time were quite well filled. The display of fireworks given by Hand & Co., of Hamilton, was a great success. The discharge of bombs and the flight of balloons at the first were a fitting commencement and the display after that eclipsed anything of the kind ever shown in St. John. The set pieces were particularly fine and the large crowd fully enjoyed the scene. A second display will be given to-night. Judging of flowers, cattle and horses have begun and the following prizes have been awarded for carriage horses.:

Stallion, 4 years old and upwards, not more than 1.250 lbs., or under 1,050 lbs., not less than 15.2 high.

P. H. Nugent, St. Martins, stallion, Charles N., 1st; Robert Melvin, St. John, stallion, Memorial Wilkes, 2nd; W. A. Henderson, Sussex, Bijou, 3rd.

Stallion, 3 years old—P. H. Nugent, St. Martins, 2nd; no 1st awarded.

Filly, 3 years—James McCavour, St. John, 2nd; John Chipman, St. John, 3rd. No first awarded.

Filly, 2 years—W. A. McFate, Golden Grove, 1st; Thomas Clarke, St. John, 2nd; J. Berryman, blood filly, 3rd.

Yearling filly—A. S. Berryman, Oliver Wilkes, 1st.

O. H. WARWICK.

A prettily arranged exhibit, with a background of glass which reflects the objects in front, is that of O. H. Warwick. It consists almost entirely of rare and expensive china. Delft placques made in Holland are shown to advantage and look very pretty. An inviting sight is the display of French Limoges china, which consists of dinner sets, tea sets, handsome game sets, brush and comb trays and cake plates. Besides these are many examples of art pottery from the European markets. The display of Belgian cut glass is very fine, and flower pots with beautiful designs are shown. In addition to this the exhibit contains a very fine assortment of Dresden lamps, which are well worthy of inspection.

MACAULAY BROS. & CO.

Following the example of last year Messrs. Macaulay Bros. & Co. are displaying a fine lot of Midland iron and brass bedsteads, of which they are the agents. Some of the beds are canopied and look very fine. Rich coverings are spread over them, which add materially to their inviting appearance. A special feature of this exhibit are a number of pure, well-ventilated eider down quilts. As a background to the beds are hung a large number of Damascus and lace curtains, which enhance the richness of the scene. The whole exhibit is one of repose, and attracts considerable attention.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

A booth is set apart by this organization, in which its benefits are explained. It was organized in 1887 with 9 members and now has 186 681. Last year $4 197,-446 12 were paid in death claims, and since its organization $36,477,605 82 have been paid. The Royal Arcanum is flourishing in St. John and one who desires to learn who are prominent in it should visit the exhibition and see their photographs in this booth.

J. S. CLIMO & SON

make a special exhibit of examples of correct lighting in portraiture. Many well-finished photographs which they exhibit demonstrate the correctness of the lighting and go to make up a very creditable display. All the latest things in photography are shown and the taste exhibited in arranging the display is but another proof of J. S. Climo & Son's artistic talents. A number of palms, ferns, begonias and other plants, picturesquely arranged at the base of the photographs, add very much to the beauty of the scene.

D. MAGEE'S SONS.

This well-known and long-established firm have excelled themselves in producing for the public a fair view of specimens of their work. The raw material in the shape of black bear skins, otter, beaver, mink, Alaskan sable, Persian lamb, Russian sable, stone martin, coon, squirrel, wolf, muskrat, black and white Thibet lambs and other skins are shown, and side by side, or rather underneath these, are the manufactured material, of which D. Magee's Sons show none except of their own make. In ladies' wear are exhibited expensive seal sacques from 26 to 36 inches in length; astrachan, raccoon, mink, Alaskan sable, krimmer lamb, natural coon and Thibet coon sacques; white and black Thibet, white and black angora, Alaskan sable and black astrachan collarettes; small two skin boas and all the latest things in neckwear, in stone martin, mink, Alaskan sable, etc. Many boas with heads are also shown. In men's goods beaver coats, mink lined and muskrat lined, and astrachan and coon coats are prominent. In addition to these are caps, collars and gloves of all sizes and all values, and robes of many kinds of fur. In front of this valuable exhibit D. Magee's Sons have erected a row of incandescent lights which, when lighted, make a very brilliant scene, and shows the firm's name in large letters.

MASSEY-HARRIS CO.

The farmer nowadays cannot be successful without having the modern agricultural implements that save time and labor. Without them he is like a horse without a tail, or like a merchant who doesn't advertise, floundering deeply in a liquid known as soup. No concern in America deals more extensively in the most improved farm machinery than the Massey-Harris Co. In Machinery Hall they have in motion, showing their full workings, a Brantford binder, a Brantford and Toronto mower, a reaper, a hay tedder, a grain crusher, and a handy machine called a root pulper. One of the principal improvements this year is the introduction of roller bearings, which are the same in effect as ball bearings, greatly reducing the friction and resistance of the machinery. Their display was inspected by a large number of persons interested in farming. In Agricultural Hall they show full lines of seeding machines, plows, harrows, fodder-cutting machines and farm wagons.

LILLEY, SONS & ALDOUS

A nice exhibit of prepared and canned meats, etc., is shown by this enterprising firm on the ground floor of the large building. The exhibit is artistically arranged and attracts considerable attention. Their brand is the "Lily," and this name has now become a household word. In canned goods they show ox tongues, chicken, ham and tongue, corned beef, etc. They also exhibit bolognas, pork sausages, saveloys, smoked sausage, Frankforts, white puddings, brawn and head cheese, as well as mild cured hams and bacon, lard and mincemeat. These goods are all the output of their Waterloo street and Main street factories, and their acknowledged excellence make them meet with a ready sale.

WILLIAM PARKS & SON (LTD.)

One of the finest displays in the exhibition is that of Messrs. William Parks & Son (Ltd.) Their exhibit is on the ground floor of the main building, not far from the entrance. It is in the form of a large pyramid, over twenty feet in height and fifteen feet square at the base. The base is formed of pieces of grey cotton; the second tier is made up of their famous flannelette, and a third tier is composed of shirtings of various patterns. The tiers are intermingled and nicely set off by rows of carpet warps, yarns, ball knitting cotton and fancy colored twines. The corners of the base are handsomely decorated with flannelettes, and the summit of the pyramid is hung with plain colored flannelettes. A group of small Union Jacks is jauntily placed over the top of the summit, over which is a bannerette on which is printed an excellent advisatory inscription, "Use Parks' Flannelettes," the proprietors being satisfied that those who take this advice will not have any desire to try any others. At each corner groups of fancy colored warps and cop yarns are nicely arranged. At both ends of the display is a choice assortment of flannelettes, and these the proprietors wish to be inspected and examined. A new departure this year is the manufacture of cotton blankets, which to all appearances are cosy and comfortable. Cases containing rolls, covered by Mr. H O. Smart, one of their expert operatives, are also shown, and a splendid model of the engine used in their factory is also exhibited. This model is a beauty, and it reflects great credit on the maker, Mr. John F. Patterson, their engineer.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion, common diseases, but hard to cure with ordinary remedies, yield readily to Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound.

W. H. Buckingham, 396 King St. East, Hamilton, Ont., says:—"I was troubled with Dyspepsia and Indigestion for a long time, and could get no relief until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, which cured me, and I cannot speak too highly in its praise."

POPULIST PARTY POLITICS.

A Watson Supporter Expresses His Opinion.

ST LOUIS, Sept. 23

H. A. Reed, chairman of the finance committee of the People's party, is accompanying Thomas F. Watson, the Populist candidate for vice-president, on his trip through the west and was a party to the Populist conference held here yesterday.

In reply to a question Mr. Reed said: "A unity of all the reform forces will unquestionably give Mr. Bryan the solid south and west and several other States, thus insuring his election. But the combined Populist silver Democratic and silver Republican vote will be necessary for success, and the combination can only be secured by accepting what the Populists understand as the compact made at St. Louis. To support Mr. Sewall the Populists would have no partner in the compact and it would be a virtual abandonment of their organization. Every argument that proves Mr. Bryan a suitable candidate proves Mr. Sewall an unsuitable one. Mr. Sewall is undoubtedly personally a man of fine character and standing, but his present record and his individual interests are antagonistic to the reforms which Mr. Bryan advocates and the Populists demand. Mr. Sewall has only advocated free silver in a mild way since June, 1895, and at the date of his nomination at Chicago was supporting Mr. Winslow, a gold standard Democrat, for governor of Maine. He is of necessity a defender of class privilege, which Mr. Bryan and reform Democrats and Populists are opposed to. Democrats who are supporting Bryan are doing so not because Mr. Sewall is on the ticket, but because Mr. Bryan is their candidate, and because he is in favor of the reforms that they advocate. But, admitting that some Democrats would refuse to vote the ticket if Mr. Sewall should withdraw, for every such Democrat there would be ten Populists and laboring men of other parties who would vote the ticket with Mr. Watson upon it, and who would not vote with Mr. Sewall as the vice-presidential candidate. Mr. Sewall, in his contract with the Standard Oil Company for his ship Susquehanna, now loading for Japan, had the gold clause inserted in the freight contract. As the Populists are virtually interested by four years of persistent work in this very line, when they were the only party advocating free silver, they are not willing to sidetrack a true and tried advocate for a man whose voice has been unheard in the reform cause."

DETECTION CERTAIN.

The Anarchists Incapable of Keeping Their Terrible Secrets.

The Barcelona police seem to have run to earth the murderous scoundrel who threw the bomb at the Corpus Christi procession, says the London News. It did its work; some 15 persons were killed and 50 injured. There was but one principal, as there was but one bomb, but there were many confederates. Eighty-eight were in the general plot to throw something at somebody, and 48 were in the secret of this particular outrage. This was about 47 too many for safety. A secret shared by whole battalions of desperadoes is anybody's property. The anarchists seem incapable of keeping their own counsel, partly from want of nerve, no doubt, and, in some degree, from want of money. It took the whole gang to raise the few hundred pesetas required for expenses. Even when it was raised the three men first selected for the work lost nerve and, after another failure in co-operation, due to the same cause, it had finally to be undertaken by a fourth, a native of Marseilles. He kept his promise, buried his missile and then went home to supper. His liberty did not last many days. All the circumstances of this and other outrages of the kind show that the certainty of detection almost equals the horror of the crime.

IMPERFECT SIGHT and eye troubles can be remedied by properly adjusted spectacles. Chas. A. Russelle, graduate optician, 85 Germain street, tests the sight free of charge and adapts spectacles and eye glasses to suit all defects of vision. The Empress Eugenie did many things for which no thanks reached her. One day an officer was telling her about one of his comrades who had been imprudent and unfortunate, and now for 15,000 francs must be dishonored. She rushed from the room and returned with her hands full of notes. "Take these, general," she said, "and save the man. And never tell me his name." To this day Eugenie does not know to whom she sent that $3,000.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

EIGHTH PARLIAMENT—FIRST SESSION.

House of Commons.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.

The proceedings were limited to continuing the debate on Mr. Foster's resolution deprecating the government's action in not announcing their tariff policy. Mr. Charlton was the only member speaking on the government's side.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, of Toronto, spoke in support of the government, although he was elected as an independent Conservative.

Messrs Kloepfer and Henry, two Ontario Conservatives, made their maiden speeches to-day. There were speeches also by Mr. Henderson, of Halton, and Mr. Bell, of Pictou, the latter of whom referred to the paralyzing effect on the industries of Nova Scotia which the uncertain policy of the government would have.

The House divided on Mr. Foster's amendment, which was defeated by 113 to 76. All patrons and independents voted with the government. The result was received with loud Liberal cheers and the singing of God Save the Queen.

In supply Mr. Foster objected to any vote for the interior department until the government announced its reasons for not filling the portfolio.

Hon. Mr. Laurier replied there were exceptional reasons for delaying the announcement for a few days or perhaps a few weeks longer. There were several precedents set by Conservatives for this. The portfolio of railways and canals was vacant for ten months in 1885.

When Mr. Foster was speaking Tuesday evening on his trade resolution there was some cross firing. Mr. Foster was referring to the N. P. resolution of 1876, and Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, asked: "What was the date of the conversion of the Conservative party in 1876?"

Mr. Foster fenced with this question, and instead of answering rallied Mr. Wood on being a protectionist once.

Mr. Wood—Answer the question.

Mr. Foster—I think I can answer a question by asking another.

Mr. Wood—I can tell you.

Mr. Foster—Very well.

Mr. Wood rose and recalled the fact connected with that famous protection resolution of 1876, how Sir Charles Tupper had come prepared to denounce Sir Richard Cartwright's budget for increasing the taxes, and when he found that it did not asked that it be called 6 o'clock when it was only 5.15, and after recess at 8 o'clock came down with a speech denouncing the government for not protecting home industries—the very reverse of the speech he had prepared first. That was the sudden conversion of the Conservative party.

Sir Charles Tupper rose amid loud ministerial cries of "order, order," and attempted to speak, but each time his voice was drowned in the uproar. At length the Speaker intervened and Sir Charles, when quiet was restored, said: "The hon. gentleman's statement is utterly untrue and unfounded."

This contradiction was greeted by tremendous groans from the ministerial benches.

Mr. Wood—I can prove it.

Mr. Foster resuming made use of the expression "We have some points settled," whereupon Dr. Landerkin shouted "You're settled anyway," and the Liberals fairly howled with delight at Mr. Foster's apparent discomfiture. Mr. Foster appealed to the speaker to keep order and then lectured Dr. Landerkin on good behavior.

Dr. Landerkin got up to retort, but so loud did the Conservatives shout at him that he sank back laughing.

Mr. Foster, before proceeding, said: Now, if the hon. gentleman will be quiet—

Dr. Landerkin—If you will be civil.

Mr. Foster proceeded to describe Mr. Wood as a protectionist, and cited a motion by Mr. Wood in Parliament in 1876.

Mr. Wood denied that he was ever a protectionist, and explained that his resolution simply called for an investigation into the condition of our industries. Sir Charles Tupper at that time objected to the motion as the thin edge of protection.

Sir Charles Tupper (rising amid the laughter of both sides of the House and cries of order)—I give that statement the most emphatic contradiction.

TO AID AGRICULTURE.

Recommendations Made by Members of Parliament.

[SPECIAL TO GLOBE.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.

The committee appointed by the general meeting of members of Parliament held in room 34 a couple of weeks ago, to prepare suggestions upon which the standing committee on agriculture should base recommendations to the government, presented their report yesterday to a meeting of the members and it was adopted and will go before the committee on agriculture on Thursday. The report contains several thousand words and discusses the conditions of agriculture, the low prices of products, and the great question of transportation and the cost of goods purchased by the farmer. It recommends radical changes in the tariff as the only means available to reduce the cost of goods which the farmer has to purchase. The prices obtainable for farm and dairy products could be enhanced by reducing freight charges and providing means for transporting to Great Britain in good condition perishable products. The means to enhance the selling value of agricultural and dairy products are recited as follows: Warehouses to receive and store the goods till shipped by rail; cold storage cars to carry the goods to the place of export; warehouses with cold storage appliances at the port to hold the goods until shipped by sea; ships with cold storage accommodation and cold storage warehouses to receive the goods in Great Britain. The report recommends government aid for cold storage accommodation and states that abbatoirs in different parts of Canada might serve a good purpose. It also recommends the abolition of the ninety days quarantine and the substitution of a bill of health for animals coming from countries free from epidemic disease.

BOYCOTT ON CANADIAN SILVER.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 23.

Notices have been posted in all the banks of the city to the effect that no Canadian silver money will be received on deposit. This action is the result of an agitation which has been going on in local banking circles on this subject for a number of days. It was stated the boycott has been started by business men and is the outcome of the sentiment against Canadians on account of their refusal to take United States money. From now on, all Canadian silver will be subjected to a discount of 20 per cent. This will practically drive it out of circulation in this city.

The enthusiastic reception accorded to the Lord Chief Justice in the United States, says the New York Times, recalls the fact that one of the greatest Lord Chancellors of England was born in New England. Copley, the painter, was resident in America with his family during the war of American independence. At the conclusion of the war Copley decided to continue a British subject in preference to becoming a citizen of the United States and returned to England with his family, which included a son born in America, afterwards the celebrated Sir John Copley, who was Master of the Rolls and subsequently, as Lord Lyndhurst, Lord Chancellor of England.

London is aghast over the fact that the cinematoscope is exhibiting a series of pictures which represent the Prince of Wales scratching his head. It is explained that "the movement is simply a momentary placing of the hand to the ear, probably to brush away an obtrusive fly." Of course it must be so. Under no circumstance would the heir-apparent descend to such a plebian action as scratching his head.

Marie Corelli, the author, is falling foul of the press for stating that she has been entertaining a party of lady grouse-killers in Scotland. She wrote: "I do not shoot, but would like to do so now, not at grouse, but at the liars. A few liars less in the world give us all more breathing room and a sweeter atmosphere. I do not ride a bicycle, have not invented a bicycle costume, and entirely abhor bicycle riding for women. Men look sufficiently hideous and undignified on a bike, and women are worse than hideous, they are immodest. The poet's ideal of exquisite womanhood is utterly destroyed by the sight of these perspiring, red-faced, lank haired objects working their legs treadmill fashion in mere feminine vulgarity."

Austria's report of the first year's experience with anti-toxin serum is that out of 1,100 cases of diphtheria treated 970 recovered, a great improvement on the previous mortality. When the remedy was applied in the first two days of the sickness the percentage of the deaths was only 6.7. Of 318 cases of preventive inoculation only 20 were attacked by the disease in a mild form and all recovered.

TYNAN'S EXTRADITION.

The Dynamiter's Letter to the American Ambassador to France.

PARIS, Sept. 21.

The fact that Patrick J. Tynan, the alleged dynamite conspirator, had appealed to Mr. Eustis, the American ambassador to France, and to President Cleveland, demanding protection as an American citizen, was announced in the despatches of the United Associated Press on Tuesday last, but at that time the contents of his letter were not known. It is now learned that in his letter to Mr. Eustis, Tynan informs him of the fact of his arrival in the United States in March, 1883, and his naturalization in 1888. He gives his place of residence in New York, enumerates the members of his family, and refers to Judge Fitzgerald, Recorder Goff and Judge Roger A. Prior as his friends. He adds that he left New York with the object of making a European tour but learning that he was being shadowed by English detectives, he travelled under an assumed name. In the course of his travels he went to Italy, Belgium and France. It was his intention to return to New York on Sept. 20. Tynan pledges his honor that he has not taken part in any political affairs in France and that he has done nothing beyond the ordinary sight-seeing of a tourist. He appeals to Mr. Eustis to use his influence to prevent his surrender to the British authorities, for, he says, to hand him over to the British government would certainly mean death. He recalls the help given by Irishmen to France at Fontenoy. In conclusion, he states that if Mr. Eustis will graciously urge his request for release upon the French government, and if France will kindly permit him to depart for his home, both will receive the thanks of millions of Irish throughout the globe. The letter is dated Sept. 15, but Mr. Eustis did not receive it until to-day. He immediately notified the French government of its receipt, and informed it that Tynan was a citizen of the United States.

PARIS, Sept. 23.

There is good authority for the statement that England has abandoned her demand upon France for the extradition of P. J. Tynan.

ROYAL TEMPLAR MANIFESTO.

Political Action Policy Announced by the Ontario Grand Councillor—Use of the Press.

TORONTO, Sept 22.

The Grand Councillor of the Royal Templar Order in Ontario, ex-Ald. G. H. Lees, of Hamilton, has issued a preliminary letter announcing his views respecting political action, in accordance with the resolutions adopted at the Grand Council executive meeting here on September 7. The Grand Councillor expresses pleasure at the renewed activity which is being shown by the organization of electoral committees in connection with a number of the councils. He urges the councils to first co-operate with the electoral committees in organizing to secure the election of prohibitionists at the municipal elections. In preparation for the plebiscite campaign the Grand Councillor urges systematic steps to build up the Royal Templar councils with the right sort of workers; the holding of numerous public meetings with the programme planned to educate the public on the advantages of prohibition; have the speakers bring out this point in their speeches, let the singing, too, emphasize the importance of prohibition. Finally, the communication says: "Keep the membership and all temperance workers posted on what is going on by making good use of the press by using this agency freely others will catch your enthusiasm."

A STRANGE CASE.

A Father Wanted, with the Assistance of Drunken Companions, to Behead His Son.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.

One of the most extraordinary results of drunken frenzy ever known in the country has just occurred in East Prussia. A farmer named Schott, of Gemirre, while looking over his domain one morning last week, saw a lot of cattle coming through a broken gate into his cornfield. He hunted up his young son, who was in charge of that particular field, and upbraided him for not better attending to his duties. The boy's answers enraged the man, and he swore that he would have his son's life. He called together half a dozen of his companions, who, like himself, had been drinking heavily, and formed a frenzied sort of court martial. The culprit was summarily tried and convicted and Schott himself sentenced his son to be beheaded. Preparations for the prompt execution of the lad were at once begun. They bound him hand and foot and placed his head upon the stump of a tree. One of the wretches secured an axe and the "sentence of the court" was actually about to be carried out, when the terrified boy's mother and elder brother, attracted by his screams, rushed to his rescue. They wrested the axe from the executioner's hands, and then ensued a fierce struggle between the rescuing party and the drunken creatures, who wished to put the boy to death. It resulted in a victory for the mother and her sons. The boy, during the encounter, had grown suddenly silent, and it was found later that fear had not only made him dumb but deaf as well, and physicians say it is doubtful if he will ever recover the use of his faculties again.

END OF THE WORLD.

French Scientist Says Europe Will Go First.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

Jerome K. Jerome's paper, entitled To-Day called attention to-day in a serious paragraph, to an eminent French scientist who will not permit his name to be published and who says that the world, so far as Europe is concerned, is coming to an end. He adds that the earth is certainly cooling in France and Belgium and that it is likely in the very near future that we shall see great changes. In the north of France where such a thing has before been unknown, there have already been earthquakes, and the same thing has happened in Belgium. The unknown scientist further states that there are two or three French mountains slipping, while he concludes the Swiss mountains are subsiding.

The auld kirk elders of Inverness have triumphed to the last degree over the nude in art and have forced the sculptor of the Flora McDonald statue to put shoes and stockings on her. The Scotch novelists have conquered London, but London's great romancer, Du Maurier, has evidently failed to get the slightest foothold in Scotland with the Trilby craze.

Recent statistics show that in 1895 the people of the United States spent $20,000,000 for chewing gum and $70,000,000 for bicycles. The expenditure for these trifles is a bauble beside the amount spent for beer, or for pleasuring at home and abroad.

WORDS IN SEASON.

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.—PSALM I. I.

FOR A "GOOD TIME."

C. M. WILLETS, DYING OF CONSUMPTION, DISAPPEARS WITH ABOUT $1,200.

Wanted Fun Before Death—Probably Enjoying His Last Holiday.

[New York Herald.]

Dying from consumption, C. M. Willets, a ticket seller in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, frequently expressed a desire "to have a good time" before he passed away. At an early hour yesterday morning Willets left for parts unknown, and about $1,200 belonging to the company disappeared at the same time. Persons who know Willets say that he will really have a "good time" if the police don't catch him.

Willets is thirty-three years old and lived with his mother on Long Island. He was not regularly employed by the railroad company, but was an "extra" man who had been working off and on around the Grand Central Station for some time. A week ago he took the place of the agent who sold tickets at night for parlor and sleeping cars. The agent had gone on his vacation and Willets was acquainted with the work.

That he had the confidence of the officials of the road is shown by the fact that he was the only ticket seller employed who was not under bonds.

WOULD BE A LONG TIME DEAD.

According to railroad men at the Grand Central Depot doctors recently told Willets that he was in the last stages of consumption and that he couldn't live long. The man is alleged to have said to several persons around the depot that as he would be a long time dead he intended to have some fun before his name was carved on a tombstone. They thought it a joke.

Willets was in the habit of closing his office at midnight, after the last train left, placing the receipts for the day in the safe. The money was taken to a bank the next morning. Owing to the early closing of the banks on Saturday the receipts for that day are left in the safe until Monday morning. Willets sold tickets until midnight Sunday. When he started away the other clerks thought that he was in an unusually happy frame of mind.

DEFALCATION DISCOVERED.

Elmore De Camp, the day agent, opened the office yesterday morning. He was greatly excited when he discovered that there was no money in the safe. He called Policeman Joseph Fahey, who was on duty at the station, and informed him of the disappearance of Saturday's and Sunday's receipts.

A. M. Sheppard, superintendent of the New York division of the road, was notified, and a messenger was sent to Willets' home on Long Island. The missing agent had been seen there, and the officials believe that he has absconded and is now having his long-looked-for "good time."

Willets is described as being five feet six inches in height and of slim build. His hair and eyes are dark, and when last seen he wore a dark suit, fedora hat and light colored spring overcoat. Policeman Logan, of the Grand Central station, and Central Office detectives are trying to find him.

HALF-HOLIDAY FOR DOMESTIC SERVANTS.

[Westminster Gazette.]

The New Zealand House of Representatives is, in popular phraseology, "going it" Their latest achievement is a bill for a statutory half-holiday for domestic servants, which has already received its second reading. According to this proposal every mistress is bound to turn her servants out of her house from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. on one day in every week. If the servant is found employed at her ordinary work during the statutory half-holiday the mistress will be liable to a penalty of £5. If the servants return to their homes for food during the time mentioned, the mistress must wait on them, or be mulcted to the same tune, but we take it that the mistress has a legal right to refuse admittance. The result will be that a large number of the servants in the town, being country girls without friends, will be driven to parade the streets for these six hours of compulsory holiday. The humorous completeness of this proposal will, we are afraid, be fatal to its chances of becoming law.

Irresistible Proof That There is a Cure for Diabetes.

The following sworn statement is the best proof that diabetes is not incurable, and that there is a remedy which will cure it.

Ontario, County of Carleton, to wit:

I, Charles Moss, of the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, Blacksmith, do hereby solemnly declare as follows:

1. I reside at 180 Bell Street, in the said City of Ottawa.

2. For the past fifteen years I have been a great sufferer from kidney disease; among the prominent symptoms of which were severe pains in my back, hot flashes extending from the base of the spine up between my shoulders, dizziness, headaches, etc. I was in a bad state generally and suffered great agony at times. The intense pain prevented my sleeping, and seemed to get worse continually. The doctors who were called in pronounced my disease diabetes, but their treatment did no good, and they held out but slight hope of my recovery. I was then so far gone with the disease that I could not turn in bed without help. My urine was of a dark wine color, and full of sediment.

3. I took all kinds of medicine, but without permanent relief.

4. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at H. F. MacCarthy's drug store, but having been so often disappointed I had no faith in them. However, I started taking them, and they struck the right spot at once, and I commenced to get better. From that time on improvement was continuous until I am now, after five weeks use of Doan's Kidney Pills, entirely free from pain of any kind. The urine is natural, and I am now working right along every day in my shop.

5. It is a great source of pleasure for me to testify to the world of the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

Sgd. CHARLES MOSS,

Declared before me at the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, this 4th day of April, 1896.
