MORE DYNAMITERS.

BAND OF CONSPIRATORS UNDER ARREST.

The Case of "No. 1"—His Extradition Demanded.

GLASGOW, Sept. 14.

Bell, the alleged dynamiter who was arrested in this city, was arraigned in the police court this morning and after the taking of formal testimony was remanded until Wednesday. Bell was brought into court handcuffed to two policemen. It was learned in the course of the proceedings in court that Bell was arrested without a warrant. The police inspectors, with several British detectives, watched Bell's hotel and shadowed him from the time of his arrival in Glasgow last Wednesday until they took him into custody. When arrested Bell protested, declaring that he was an American citizen. When he was confronted with incriminating documents which were found in his bag, showing his connection with Tynan, the notorious "No. 1," he said that he had found the papers in the lavatory of the hotel. Bell is 28 years of age, is well dressed and has the demeanor of a gentleman. He is plentifully supplied with money. The police adhere to their belief that Bell is a dynamiter.

LONDON, Sept. 14.

Despatches received here from Rotterdam say that two more presumed dynamiters have been arrested in that city. The police of Antwerp, upon advices from London, searched a house at Berchen, a suburb of Antwerp, and found a number of bombs and a quantity of explosives. The tenants of the house are said to have been two Irishmen who suddenly disappeared a few days ago and it is supposed that they are the two men who were arrested in Rotterdam.

A despatch to the Globe from Rotterdam says that one of the alleged dynamiters arrested there has been identified as J. F. Kearney, of New York, who was concerned in the blowing up of the Glasgow Gas Works. It is learned that during Tynan's tour of the continent and up to the time of his arrest in Boulogne yesterday morning, he posed as a courier of Queen Victoria charged with the duty of conveying an autograph letter from the Queen to the Czar at Copenhagen. Bell, the man arrested in Glasgow, was Tynan's secretary. The Globe asserts that the Clan-na-Gael has been supplying Tynan and other dynamiters with ample funds. Tynan had a large sum of money about him when he was arrested. His principal drink while at Boulogne was champagne.

It is learned that the name of the second man arrested in Rotterdam to-day is Haines.

The formal charge made against Bell, the alleged dynamiter arrested in Glasgow, is that he contravened section 59 of the explosive substance act of 1883, which declares that any person while a subject of Her Majesty the Queen, who shall supply material or aid or abet crime under the act, is thereby guilty of felony.

The Scotland Yard officials say that the headquarters of the dynamite conspiracy are in London, but that the London police have been kept informed of the movements of the conspirators by informers in Chicago and New York.

The question whether Tynan can be extradited or not is being exhaustively discussed in this afternoon's newspapers. The St. James Gazette says that in 1883 the government of France refused to extradite Tynan and Walsh on the ground that their offence was a political one and consequently not covered by the extradition treaty then in existence between Great Britain and France. The treaty has since been extended to cover such offences, and within the last three years a number of French anarchists have been extradited under the amended treaty. The British authorities, the Gazette says, are therefore confident that they will be able to secure the extradition of Tynan. In legal circles, however, there is considerable doubt about his extradition, as the question must arise whether or not the treaty is retroactive.

ANTWERP, Sept. 14.

P. J. Tynan, the Irish conspirator who was arrested yesterday morning, was registered at the Hotel Angelais here under the name of Garth. Bell, the man who came here with him and was later arrested in Glasgow, was registered at the same hotel under his own name. The men took no meals at the hotel, but they paid for their room for the two days they were there. Their bill for champagne and whiskey and soda averaged $10 a day.

BOULOGNE, Sept. 14.

P. J. Tynan, the Irish "Invincible," who was arrested here yesterday morning, was arraigned before the Public Procureur this morning. He admitted that he was the man described in the warrant of arrest and was remanded pending the arrival of the papers required to effect his extradition to England.

MANITOBA SCHOOLS.

Return of Archbishop Langevin from Rome.

[SPECIAL TO GLOBE.]

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.

Archbishop Langevin, of St. Boniface, is the guest of Rev. Abbe Therien, Mount St. Louis Institute, en route to Winnipeg from Rome. Re the Manitoba schools he said: "My attitude is the same as it was before my departure." This is taken to mean His Grace will insist on obtaining all that the Remedial Bill called for. From friends of the Archbishop it is learned that Mr. Laurier has not yet consulted representatives of the minority. It is also learned that the Pope will insist upon the vested rights recognized by the courts. Mgr. Langevin will remain in Montreal a week.

BULLETIN FROM TORONTO.

Probabilities—Moderate to fresh winds; mostly north and east. Fair weather and a few showers in southern portion. Not much change in temperature.

Synopsis—The barometer is falling in all sections from the Lakes to the Atlantic. An unimportant depression is over the Upper Lakes, moving eastward. Low temperatures during early morning are reported from Quebec and Northern New Brunswick; the lowest, 30, was reported from Father Point. The weather is generally cloudy and cool to the westward, with light and moderate winds.

Note—Telegraph messages of enquiry regarding the weather, from ports where the morning bulletin is not posted, addressed: "Observatory, St. John," will be answered without delay. Enquiry and answer cost but one rate, which must be paid by the enquirer.

MEADOW BROOK TRAGEDY.

MAGGIE DUTCHER STILL AMONG THE LIVING.

But Can Give no Account of the Crime

[SPECIAL TO GLOBE.]

MONCTON, Sept. 14.

Little Maggie Dutcher appears slightly better than on Saturday and takes considerable nourishment, principally milk. She is quite conscious at times and recognized her brother, who had arrived from Amherst on Friday.

Her other brother she did not remember. She frequently starts up from her bed and asks for her mother.

When questioned by her brother about the fire she seemed to be unable to understand. Little hope remains that she will be able to give any clue to the murderer.

While her condition is critical it is still hopeful.

Hugh Green told your reporter this morning that when he rushed into the burning house he was attracted to the bedroom by the little girl's calls. She was the only one making a sound and he is positive the mother and son made no noise.

Had the girl not cried out he would have left the house, as the smoke was very thick. He carried the girl out and gave her to his daughter, who carried her to the house.

He is positive the injury to her head was not caused when carrying her out. He talked freely, and is perfectly willing to do what the authorities desire.

He takes no stock in the story about his brother being implicated in the crime, and says the stories about a family quarrel are greatly exaggerated.

Jack Sullivan is the one whom the Greens distrust most, and they say he was very troublesome to Mrs. Dutcher shortly before her death.

Sullivan states that he was in Moncton the night of the murder, and his father corroborates this statement and says he was home.

Charles Colborne says, however, he met Sullivan on Lower Main street at five o'clock Friday morning, and he remarked to Sullivan that he (Sullivan) was looking seedy.

Sullivan replied that he was around the wharves all night with girls.

Several stories are in circulation about Sullivan, but none can be verified.

The remains of the victims were buried in the Roman Catholic burying ground at Scadouc Saturday afternoon, three sons and two brothers of the dead woman being mourners.

William Dutcher, second son, while searching among the ruins Sunday found $45 in gold. There was one $20 piece and five $5 pieces.

Tom Dutcher, another son, states emphatically that his mother had not any large sum of money.

The dog is still missing. The inquest is going on this afternoon by Coroner Wortman.

A TRAGIC WRECK.

CAPTAIN, MATE AND SAILOR COMMIT SUICIDE.

Four of the Seamen Drowned—Vessel Gone to Pieces.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Sept. 14.

The Italian barque Monte Tabor, with a cargo of salt, struck on Peaked Hill bars about midnight last night. Soon afterward her captain, made desperate by his situation, shot himself with his revolver. The mate, fearing death by drowning, drew his razor across his throat and dropped dead into the sea. When the barque broke up, which it did in an hour after striking, her crew of twelve men clung to the deckhouse and went over the side with it. Five lost their hold and were swept into the sea and drowned. The others reached the shore exhausted, and were taken to Peaked Hill station and cared for. The dense fog which prevailed prevented the life-saving men from seeing the wreck. The first known of the disaster was when the seven survivors were found on the beach. The distance from the shore, the roughness of the sea and the fog would have made it impossible for the life-savers to render aid even had the vessel been seen when she struck. Capt. Isaac Fisher, Samuel and Charles Kelley, with their crews, were promptly on the scene, but nothing could be done. A bottle was picked up, containing a message written in Italian and probably from the wreck. The scene of the disaster is very near where the Italian barque Giovanni was wrecked in 1875, when out of a crew of fourteen only one was saved. Wreckage is strewn along the beach for miles and the life-saving men are watching for any bodies that may be thrown up. The captain was F. Dellacassa and the vessel sailed from Trapani July 21st for Boston with a cargo of 900 tons of salt, consigned to George E. Downs, of Boston.

The body of the mate was washed ashore at Race Point at 9 o'clock. About 10.30 two more bodies were picked up, one with the throat cut. This makes two of the fated ship's company who went to their death by cutting their throats.

A PUZZLE

Millinery people are wondering where we got such elegant Millinery to sell so cheap, and customers are trying to figure out where our profit comes in.

We are willing to dispense with profit for the first three months—don't know any better way to advertise.

Our sale of PURE SILK RIBBONS, different widths and patterns, at 50c. per yard is already the talk of the city. No wonder, when these Ribbons cost to import from 75c. to $1.25 per yard.

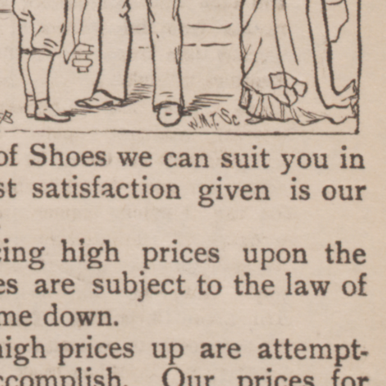
GETTING POSTED



On the shoe business in these days is not a difficult matter at all. There are just two things to be considered—quality and price.

In our large assortment of Shoes we can suit you in both of these respects. Past satisfaction given is our guarantee of future dealings.

Up hill business of forcing high prices upon the people is a hard task. Prices are subject to the law of gravity. They naturally come down.

Those who try to keep high prices up are attempting more than they can accomplish. Our prices for good, honest shoes are always down to the normal level.

For your feet's sake buy shoes that fit your feet. For your pocketbook's sake buy shoes that fit your pocketbook. Our shoes fit all around.
