CANDIDATES FOR THE WHITE HOUSE

Presidential Aspirants and their Wives.

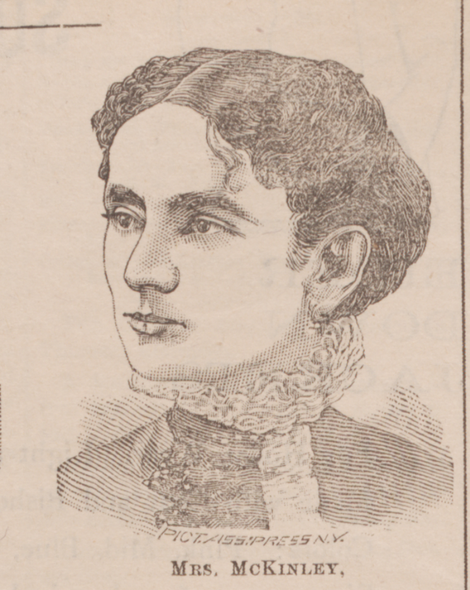
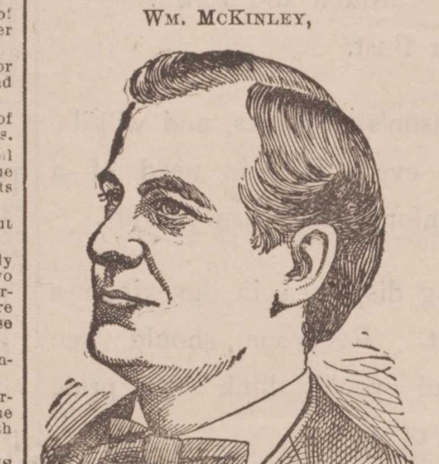
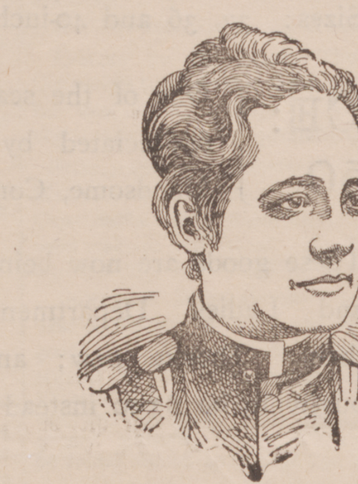
WM. McKINLEY,



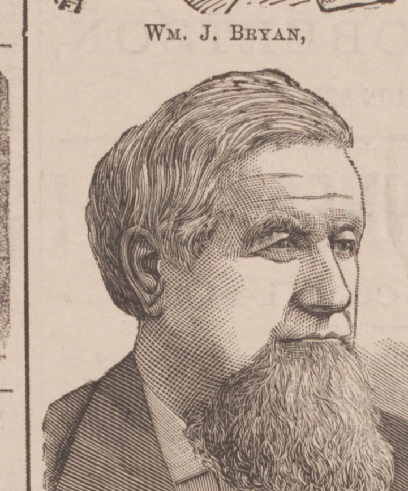
MRS. McKINLEY,



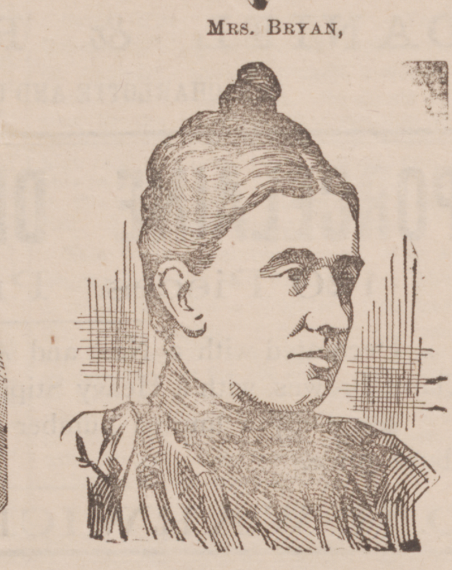
WM. J. BRYAN,



MRS. BRYAN,



JOHN M. PALMER,



MRS. PALMER.

The careers of the three aspirants for the Presidency of the United States are fairly well known. Major McKinley is an Ohio lawyer, author of the McKinley tariff bill, and a leader in the Republican party. Mr. Bryan is a comparatively young man, but he won by his eloquence years ago an important place in the counsels of the Democratic party in Nebraska, and is now the champion of the silverites. Senator Palmer has long been a sturdy Democrat, but is now in the position of fighting the candidate put forward by the regular convention of his party. He is nominated as a "National Democrat."

The wives of the candidates, whose pictures are also given, are not as well known as their husbands. Mrs. McKinley was the daughter of James A. Saxton, a wealthy citizen of Canton, Ohio. After a thorough education and a tour of Europe she acted as cashier in her father's bank for some years. It was there that Major McKinley met her. Their marriage took place in 1871. Except for a short period since then Mrs. McKinley has been a confirmed invalid. The husband is devoted to her, and she takes great interest in politics and is able to give him valuable counsel.

Mrs. Bryan was born in Perry, Illinois. Her father, Mr. John Baird, was a prosperous merchant, and every opportunity was given her to cultivate an unusually fine mind. She attended the public schools until she was sixteen, then went to Monticello Seminary near Alton, and later to the academy near Jacksonville, where she graduated with highest honors. Here she met and became engaged to Mr. Bryan, who was attending the college in the same place. They graduated about the same time. In 1884 they were married. Mrs. Bryan studied law and was admitted to the bar, not to practice, but to more fully assist her husband in his work. She is the mother of three children.

Mrs. John M. Palmer is a woman of refinement and social position. She is a daughter of J. L. Lamb, a wealthy citizen of Springfield, Illinois. She is the Senator's second wife. The first Mrs. Palmer died in 1885, and two years later he married Mrs Hannah L. Kimball, of Springfield. Mrs. Palmer is her husband's junior by fully thirty-five years. She is his constant companion.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Further Symptoms of a Recovery of Confidence—The Wood Trade.

[Henry Clews & Co.'s Circular.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.

The various interests centering at Wall street continue to show the symptoms of a recovery of confidence which have become steadily more apparent for two or three weeks past. On the one hand, the conviction has gained ground that an unnecessary intensity of alarm has been encouraged by taking the gravest possibilities of the situation at their worst and making insufficient allowance for the counteractions and preventions which a great public danger always begets; and, on the other, the shaping and drift of political forces are construed as so directly in favor of the ascendancy of a sound money policy that the election is looked to as ending the dangers of the silver mania and introducing a new era of confidence and of national prosperity. Concurrently with these assuring tendencies, has come an influx of gold from Europe which has enabled the banks to voluntarily increase the gold in the treasury, and at the same time has warded off a threatened stringency in money from which serious results were, two or three weeks ago, apprehended. The amount of gold already imported and on the way is about $27,000,000; and, although large and sudden movements of this kind are always attended with temporary checks and reactions, those best situated to judge anticipate that the gold imports will reach forty to forty-five millions before they cease. As this amounts to an important augmentation of the reserves of the banks, the apprehensions of stringency are virtually removed, and the loan market is working steadily towards a condition of ease.

The banks consequently are showing more disposition to lend; and the distress caused in commercial circles through the difficulty in procuring discounts is steadily abating. One gratifying feature in the discount market is the comparative absence of any distrust among the banks about the commercial situation. The fact that merchants have so well withstood the strain upon credit for so long a period is regarded as evidence of the general soundness of the mercantile situation; and where any curtailment of discounts is apparent, it is more due to the banks not having yet been able to restore their reduced reserves than to any misgivings about the safety of borrowers. As the gold imports increase, this cause of restriction of credit must, however, disappear.

These are all solid improvements in the situation. They imply a real change in the public estimate of the chances of an extinction of the silver danger. They show that judgment and calm discretion have gained the ascendancy over an undiscriminating public fright. They are evidences that a point has been reached at which people understand that while free coinage, if it were enacted, would be a catastrophe beyond all estimate, yet the thing is an impossibility to the practical common sense, the honor and the native conservatism of a majority of the American people. Thus financial opinion and the opinion of business interests at large stand upon a distinctly higher and more trustworthy basis than a few weeks ago and that change has been taken with a deliberation and a strictness of caution which will save it against any relapse. It is under these circumstances that the market for securities has shown a marked recovery in values and that Europe also exhibits a material recovery of confidence in our investments.

Present conditions and the prospects from now until the November election may be reasonably construed as warranting judicious selections of bonds and of stable stocks for investment. So far as respects transient purchases for a profit on fluctuations in prices, buying would appear to have the advantage over selling; but margins should be ample and good profits should be accepted. After the election, if we may not hope for so complete a reconstruction of financial conditions as may seem desirable—(for much must depend on the composition of the House and more on the attitude of a refractory Senate)—yet a great revival of confidence may be reasonably looked for; so that investments made between now and the day of election will be almost sure to yield a high rate of remuneration.

P. S.—At the close of this writing, it is understood that foreign bankers are advised by their London correspondents that about £6,000,000 more gold is expected to be shipped to the United States before the movement culminates; and intimations are given out that arrangements may possibly be consummated for shipping £4,000,000 forthwith.

The British Wood Market.

[Farnworth & Jardine's Circular.]

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1.

The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been 45 vessels, 44,447 tons, against 43 vessels, 48,007 tons, during the corresponding month last year, and the aggregate tonnage to this date from all places during the years 1894, 1895 and 1896 has been 275,983, 254,921 and 328,490 tons respectively.

The business during the month has again been fairly satisfactory, values generally well maintained, and in some articles a slight advance has taken place. Stocks are not excessive and if supplies are kept moderate for the remainder of the season prospects are fair for a steady market.

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Spruce and Pine Deals.—Spruce deals have again arrived freely, viz., 15,305 standards, against 14,924 standards same time last year; the deliveries have been satisfactory, and prices have continued firm, with a slightly upward tendency; the stock, although somewhat increased, is not large, a considerable portion consisting of cargoes just arrived. Shipments, however, should be reduced to keep our market steady. Pine Deals.—There have been no arrivals.

Birch.—Both logs and planks have been imported more moderately; the demand shows a slight improvement, and recent sales have been at rather better rates; stocks are now in a more healthy condition.

BARGAINS THAT ARE BARGAINS.

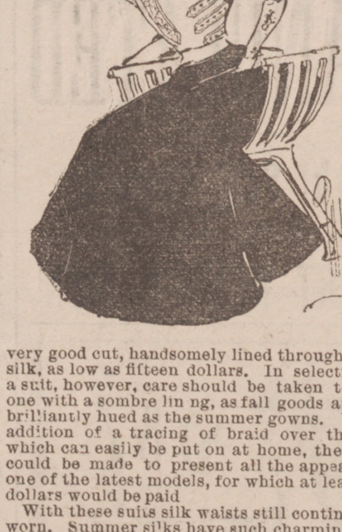
The Time is Here When the Thrifty Woman May Add to Her Store.

It is now a good time for the feminine mind to become absorbed in bargains. The big shops have not yet displayed their fall goods, and have on hand a number of suits, in odd sizes, which they are anxious to dispose of. As a result the prices on them have been considerably lowered and by making a judicious selection one may easily secure a handsome garment for little money.

Dark blue serge suits made for the summer season are thus offered, They can be secured in very good cut, handsomely lined throughout with silk, as low as fifteen dollars. In selecting such a suit, however, care should be taken to choose one with a sombre lining, as fall goods are not so brilliantly hued as the summer gowns. With the addition of a tracing of braid over the seams, which can easily be put on at home, the costume could be made to present all the appearance of one of the latest models, for which at least thirty dollars would be paid



With these suits silk waists still continue to be worn. Summer silks have such charming effects, especially the Persian patterns, that they will probably be worn throughout the winter. Indeed, we have not found a substitute for the loose, silk waist. In comfort and usefulness it excels every garment worn by maid or matron.

THE LATEST.

Laid Low by Indigestion.

I was so run down I had to give up work.

Scott's Sarsaparilla the kind that cures.

Indigestion or dyspepsia is the bane of thousands, and is one of the most depressing of afflictions. It arises from an impure or impoverished condition of the blood, which weakens the digestive and assimilative organs, rendering them incapable of performing their natural functions, and if neglected, the sufferer loses flesh, complains of exhaustion after slight exertion, and becomes rapidly debilitated.

Mr. Wm. W. Thompson, a prominent resident of Zephyr, Ont., in a letter dated Aug 12th, 1895, says: "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the fact that Scott's Sarsaparilla has caused a most remarkable change in my condition. I was so much run down I had to give up work and felt as if life were not worth living. Mr. Dafoe induced me to try Scott's Sarsaparilla, and after taking four bottles I am now feeling as I formerly did years ago, and I want to say for the benefit of those suffering from indigestion and feeling, to use slang phrase, 'completely knocked out,' don't despair until you give Scott's Sarsaparilla a fair trial."

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a blood food, it stimulates all vital organs to healthy normal action, enabling them to throw off all poisonous and debilitating humors. Sold by druggists at $1, but there is only one Scott's. The kind that cures.

M. P. A. A. A. Sports.

The ninth annual games of the Maritime Province Amateur Athletic Association were held at Moncton Saturday afternoon. The sports as a whole were decidedly slow, although some of the events were very good. Coombs was never in better trim and won his events with ease. In the hurdles he equalled the record made by Jordan, of New York, and had he been pushed in the pole vault would have equalled, and possibly passed, the record. A promising young runner is D. Mackintosh, of Halifax, who beat his brother and S. A. Finley from Montreal with ease in the mile run. It was the first time he ever raced, and he covered the distance in the remarkably quick time of four minutes and thirty-seven and a fifth seconds. Gerard won the hammer throwing with ease and Salmon in the bicycle races made an excellent showing. The three mile bicycle race was a fine event, Ayerst, of Montreal, beating the record eight seconds. The following are names of the winners:

100 yards dash—J. W. Humphrey, 1; Bert Glendenning, 2; time, 10s.

Pole vault—F. W. Coombs, G. H. Reid. Height, 9 feet 9½ inches.

220 yards dash—First heat, R. P. Forbes, 1; B. Glendenning, 2; time, 24 3 5. Second heat, F. L. Stephen, 1; B. R. Armstrong, 2; time, 25. Final, R. P. Forbes, 1; B. Glendenning, 2; time, 24.

Putting 16 pound shot—W. Henderson, 33 feet 5 inches; C. A. Smith, 32 feet 1½ inches.

Half mile bicycle—First heat, L. Unsworth, 1; W. S. Archibald, 2; time, 1.21 2 5. Second heat, James Drury, Montreal, 1; E. C. Salmon, 2; time, 1.16 4 5. Final heat, James Drury, 1; L. Unsworth, 2; time, 1.25 2.5.

Throwing 16 pound hammer—G. B. Gerard, 1; W. Henderson, 2; distance, 97 feet 3 inches.

880 yards run—George Stephens, 1; H. W. Mackintosh, 2; time, 2.1 2 5.

Running broad jump—F. W. Coombs, 1; W Henderson, 2; 19 feet ¾ inches.

Mile bicycle—First heat, L. Unsworth, 1; W. S. Archibald, 2; time, 3 01. Second heat, James Drury, 1; R. Keith, 2; time, 3.19. Final—James Drury, 1; R. Keith, 2; time, 3.08 3.5.

New Athletic Rules

The M. P. A. A. A. annual meeting was held Saturday evening at Moncton. Messrs. S Kerr and Fred. S. Heans were reinstated, also some P. E. Island athletes. A new constitution was adopted, and a rule was made that hereafter athletes who compete at meets not sanctioned by the executive will lose their amateur standing. The officers elected are: J. N. Duffus, Halifax, president; W. P. Robinson, St. John, vice president; T. Torrie, Moncton, second vice-president; H. D. Creighton, Halifax, treasurer; E. T. Hammett, Halifax, secretary. On the executive are W. P. Robinson and R. L. Johnston of St. John.

Corbett and Fitz Matched.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons at the conference at the Hotel Bartholdi this afternoon agreed to fight to a finish for $10,000 a side. Each man posted $5,000, but as it is against the law to sign articles for a prize fight in this state, it was decided to meet again in a few days in Jersey City, where the articles will be duly signed. George Silver was selected referee and Al Smith temporary stakeholder. It was decided the fight must take place sixty days after Corbett's fight with Sharkey, or before March 1st next.

Athletic

B. J. Wefers, one of the fastest sprinters in the world, won the 100 yards dash at the A. A. U. championships on Manhattan field, on Saturday. His time was 10 1-5 seconds. Humphrey, the Moncton runner, is credited with running 100 yards on Saturday, on the Moncton track, in 10 seconds even. Mr. Humphrey should seek larger fields for honor and glory. If he ever gets beside Wefers, or even some of the men whom Wefers has beaten, he will find that in order to do 10 seconds under proper conditions he will have to get considerable of a gait on. The alleged superiority of the Moncton track over the Manhattan track doubtless accounted for Humphrey's superior performance on Saturday. Mr. Humphrey is a fine runner, and if he can run a hundred yards in 10 seconds in Moncton, he can knock the American championship records into smithereens.

Fifteen hundred people witnessed the annual track and field championships of the A. A. U. on Saturday at Manhattan Field. The feature of the day was the attempt made by Bernard J. Wefers to repeat Lon Myers' feat of winning the 100, 220 and 440 yards championships on the same day. Wefers did not have to exert himself much to win the shorter races, but in the quarter he was defeated. It was a grand race by Wefers and Tom Burke, of Boston, to within 40 yards of the tape, when Wefers' bolt was shot and Burke won by five feet in 48 4 5s. Kilpatrick won the half mile in 1 57 3 5 G R. Gray put the shot 44 ft. 3½ in. and Mitchell threw the hammer 134 ft. ½ in.

A special quarter mile limited handicap will be arranged by Wm. B. Curtis and H. S. Cornish, of New York, at which Tom Burke, the Boston runner, will figure on the scratch and will endeavor to break Wendell Baker's world's record of 47¾ seconds for a straightaway path. The race is to take place next Wednesday on either the old race track at Clifton, N. J., or Smith's Farm, Trenton, N. J., where there is a straightaway track of 600 yards.

Bull Fighter on a Bicycle.

The bicycle is not popular in Mexico, where the people think it is too much like work to ride them, but Emanuel Garcia, the champion toreador, thought business was falling off, so for an innovation he put out flaming posters announcing that he would fight a fierce bull, mounted not on a horse, but on a bicycle. When the day arrived the amphitheatre was crowded. The bull was an immense one and had plenty of fight. He was tormented into a frenzy and when Emanuel appeared on his wheel the bull sailed for him. Emanuel dodged amidst great applause, but the bull wheeled about and charged again. Emanuel again tried to dodge, but the wheel not taking the same interest in the fight, swerved a little and the bull got its horns in the spokes. With a mighty toss the bull sent Emanuel and his wheel away up in the air in among the spectators. The spectators enjoyed it, but Emanuel didn't, and will not likely try it again.

Throwing the Discus

Throwing the discus is an innovation in American athletics that will be shown to the public for the first time at the games of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club that take place at Columbia Oval, Williamsbride, September 19. It is a Greek sport that was revived at the recent Greek games held at Athens, and the fact that Garrett, of Princeton, was the winner, having scaled the discus a distance of 93 feet 4 inches, gave rise to its popularity in America. The sport is more interesting than hammer-throwing and much more graceful. It is believed that the time is not far distant when the discus will force the hammer and shot to the rear. It is but four and one half pounds in weight and is adapted to athletics of both heavy and light weight. Of the several men in America who have been trying their hand at the new game two of their number have eclipsed the performance of Garrett. Up to within a few days Herty, the strong boy of the New West Side A. C., was credited with the best distance, 95 feet 7 inches, when word came from Boston that James Cunningham, of the East Boston A. C., had scaled the missile 101 feet and 4 inches. Big Jim Mitchell, now of the Pastime A. C., is credited with a throw of 88 feet 4 inches, and John Larkin, the all-around champion of the Xavier A. C., has sent the discus through the air for a distance of 86 feet 8 inches. The construction of the discus is quite interesting. It is a perfect circle, 8 inches in diameter. The body part is of a lignum vitæ, 7¼ inches in diameter. It is 2 inches thick through the centre, which is 2½ inches thick in diameter, and tapers off in convex form to ½ inch at the edge, that is bound by a ⅝ inch curved steel band, which prevents any cutting or hurt to the hand when the discus leaves it. The centre is covered with a brass plate riveted on both sides. In shape the discus resembles two saucers placed together face to face.

While delivering the athlete stands in a nine-foot box, instead of the seven-foot circle used for the hammer and shot. Unlike in these events, the distance is not measured on a line with the centre of the circle, but from the front edge. In case the discus shoots to one side, it is measured at a line extended at right angles to the front of the box, after the manner of the running broad jump. It is the aim of the athlete to send the discus scaling away in as straight a line as possible.

When compared with the throwing of a hammer the movements of the athlete are peculiar. In case he is right-handed the athlete stands with his right foot just inside the rear line of the box, facing the direction in which he desires to throw the discus, with his left foot extended well forward, the discus held in his right hand in a perpendicular position—that is, with the edge across the fingers inside the band, and the discus lying against the palm of the hand and the lower portion of the forearm. He then raises the right hand until the discus is almost over the left shoulder, where he steadies the lower edge of it with the left hand. He then draws the right hand down and back swiftly, taking a step with the right foot just as the discus reaches its lowest point. As he completes the drawing back of the arm to give impetus to the throw, he takes another step forward with the right foot and gives as near as possible a scaling motion to the discus by extending his hand quickly forward. To critical eyes it is not considered exactly a throw. It seems the more skilled one becomes in scaling the further will it be carried.

COMES TO LIFE IN HIS GRAVE

John Atlas, Professor Watson's Hypnotic Subject, Awakes Under Ground Promptly on Time.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 10.

John Hugh Gill Atlas, who was hypnotized by Professor Watson and buried alive five feet under ground at the State Fair at Narragansett Park last Monday afternoon, was taken from his grave to-day, and now seems to be suffering but slightly from his seventy-two hours' sleep under ground.

It was 3 o'clock, twenty minutes before Prof. Watson had predicted Atlas would wake unassisted, when the men began to remove the soil from the grave. But before they had completed the work Atlas began to kick upon the top and sides of the pine box. Atlas forgot at first where he was and kicked so violently that when the box was opened it was found that he had dislocated his right knee.

SEEMED A DEAD MAN.

When Atlas was brought to the surface his pulse was beating but fifteen to the minute He lapsed into a condition that so closely resembled rigor mortis that for a few minutes the committee feared that he would not survive. They gave him a hypodermic injection of whiskey, and afterward, as a last resort, an injection of one one-hundredth of a grain of nitro-glycerine.

Under this treatment he recovered sufficiently to permit of his removal to the platform, where the air was purer. At this time his pulse was fluctuating between fifty and seventy-two.

An eggnog was given to him and he gradually grew stronger, and about twenty minutes after his removal from the box his temperature stood at 95.6 degrees.

HAS HAD ENOUGH.

He was rubbed in alcohol and given a light supper of tea and toast, and at six o'clock the physicians stated that he had nearly recovered.

Atlas says he has submitted to the burial experiment for the last time.
