THREE KILLED!

Mutiny on a Maine Barquantine

LEADS TO THE MURDER OF THE CAPTAIN AND HIS WIFE

And Also the Second Mate—Vessel Taken Into Halifax —All Hands Arrested.

[SPECIAL TO GLOBE.]

HALIFAX, July 21.

The American bqetn. Herbert Fuller, Capt. Nash, from Boston July 8 for Rosario with lumber, put into Halifax this morning.

There had been mutiny on board, in which the captain and his wife and the second mate were killed in their berths at night. The first officer was on watch and knew nothing of the affair.

The murderer or murderers crawled aft to the cabin and descended and with axes chopped to death the three persons named.

The bodies of the dead are now covered with canvas and tossing astern of the barquantine in one of the boats. The barquantine is lying at anchor in this harbor.

The Herbert Fuller came into port about 7 a. m. with a fine southwest breeze, making a good run to anchorage. The stars and stripes flew at half-mast from the mizzen, but not union down. The mutiny had been quelled, the ringleader put in irons and the ship was under lawful control.

About 9 a. m. to-day the revenue cutter Argus conveyed a squad of Halifax police aboard the ship and every man on board, chief officer and all, were brought and lodged in the police station, leaving the pilot in charge of the vessel.

The news of the presence of the barquantine in port and of the murder which had occurred at sea had passed through the city with amazing swiftness and there were assembled several hundred people at the north gate of the Queen's wharf when the crew of the vessel came ashore.

There was a terrific rush on Water street to get a glimpse of the one man in irons who was supposed to have wielded the murderous axe.

The barquantine arrived here this morning early and it was quickly reported that several murders had been committed on board. The vessel belongs to Harrington, Maine, and was bound from Boston to Rosario. The stories of the murders proved true.

The police were notified and the whole crew arrested and locked up in the police station. The vessel hailed a pilot off the harbor this morning, who went aboard and brought her in. The man who gave the order to the pilot was Lester Moncks, of Boston, a Harvard student, who was a passenger, and who with the cook had taken charge of the ship. The affair was reported to the police here and the following on board were arrested: Thomas Brane, a Nova Scotian; John Sherer, colored, Rosario; Frank Lahese, France; Charles Brown, Sweden; Henry Starr, New Jersey; Wm. Haggerty, England; Herrick Berook, Holland.

Moncks, the passenger, was also placed under arrest.

Brane, the first mate, and Lahese are charged with having committed the murders. When the police went on board the cook told them that Brane, who was handcuffed, was the murderer. One of the sailors also accused Brane and said he saw Brane murder the captain, through a window.

Brane, on being questioned, said he did not know who had committed the murders. He knew nothing about them until they were all over.

When the police entered the chart room a horrible sight met their gaze. The couch on which the captain rested during his watches was upturned and covered with blood. The chairs were upset and charts etc., strewn about. The walls were spattered with blood. Everything indicated that the captain made a terrible fight for life. The apartment of the captain's wife and the room of the second mate, who had also been murdered, gave evidence of struggles.

The first mate was stripped at the police station and blood was found on some of his clothing.

The American consul will permit none of the crew or passengers to make statements. The passenger's evidence will be most important. It is alleged he saw the first mate come from the captain's cabin after the murder was committed. He took statements of all the crew after the murders and made entries in his log.

The murders were committed on the night of the 13th of July.

The arrested men will be arraigned in court this afternoon.

Seaman Brown this afternoon makes a statement to the effect that he saw the first mate kill the captain. He heard a noise in the captain's cabin, and on going thither saw the first mate murder the captain.

POLICE INVESTIGATIONS.

Two Police Officers On Trial Before the Chief.

Chief of Police Clark is holding a court of enquiry this afternoon, investigating two separate charges made against Sergt. Jacob Ross and Officer Wm. McConnell.

The charge against Sergt. Ross was made by ex-Ald. Baxter, who alleges that Ross used to him language unbecoming and uncivil, in fact abusive language. It appears that about a week ago Sergt. Ross went between ten and eleven o'clock to the drill shed in Carleton and remonstrated with some of the men there for making a noise. They were playing ball and the ball would strike the side of the wooden building with a bang, which Ross claimed was very annoying to the neighbors. Mr. Baxter is the captain of the artillery company, and he and the sergeant had some words over the matter. It was then Mr. Baxter alleges that the language was used. Sergt. Ross told a reporter this afternoon that he used no offensive language to Mr. Baxter or anyone else. The case was being heard at three o'clock. Mr. A. G. Blair, jr., appears for Sergt. Ross.

The case against Officer McConnell is preferred by Mr. Samuel J. Aide, a Carleton grocer. Mr. Aide was arrested about three weeks ago by Officer Killen for drunkenness. He was placed in the Water street lockup and while there he alleges that Officer McConnell spat on him through the door of the cell, and used taunting epithets to him. Officer McConnell denies that anything of the kind took place, and Officers Killen and McLaughlin, who say they were present at the time, bare him out. This case will be heard after the Ross enquiry.
