St. John Globe

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUG 31, 1896.

THE EXHIBITION.

It is announced elsewhere in the GLOBE to-day that preparations for the exhibition in this city are progressing rapidly and satisfactorily, and an appeal is made to intending exhibitors to apply at once for space, and to put in order the places assigned to them. It is to be hoped that all persons interested will take note of this fact, and will act promptly. There is nothing so disheartening about an exhibition as to find important work put off until the last minute, and to find work going on in some departments while other sections are crowded with sight-seers. The time now is short and every moment should be utilized in order that there should be no complaints of incompleteness on the opening day. Necessarily, perhaps, there must be some unfinished work, but it should be reduced to the minimum. The managers of the exhibition are doing their best, and the exhibitors ought to earnestly second their efforts.

A VALUABLE BOOK.

Under the short title "Foster on the Constitution of the United States," the Carswell Company, Limited, Toronto, have brought out the first volume of "Commentaries on the Constitution of the United States, Historical and Juridical, with observations upon the ordinary provisions of State Constitutions, and a comparison with the Constitutions of other Countries," by Robert Foster, of the New York bar. The work is dedicated to Hon. Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States. Mr. Foster is an eminent lawyer, author of several works of a high legal character, and lecturer on Federal Jurisprudence at the Law School of Yale University. The scope of the work will require three volumes for its completion. The volume before us is the first, the only one yet issued, and it discusses the origin and models of the constitution, the convention which framed it, its preamble and the nature of the compact, the qualifications of members of Congress, the Senate, state sovereignty, and other like matters, terminating with the subject of impeachment. It contains the first exhaustive historical and analytical argument against the legality of secession, the first constitutional history of the Confederate States, the first history of Reconstruction from a legal as well as an historical point of view and the first history of impeachments in the different States. The last includes a large number of curious facts known hitherto only to a few special students, such as the conviction and removal of a governor for following Lincoln's example in suspending the writ of habeas corpus without authority from the Legislature and the removal of a judge for obeying a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States overruling decisions of the State courts that were supported by the wishes of a majority of the State electorate. The entire work will be one of great value. Bryce in his "American Commonwealth" has said that to comprehend their supreme instrument of government is a personal duty incumbent on each one of the American people. The Canadian student of constitutional history will find it of great usefulness to be thoroughly conversant with the springs of American history; for the relations of the two people are not only very close, but Canadian history is intimately interwoven with that of the United States, and the relations are consequently to grow closer. A standard work upon the constitution of the United States is that of Judge Story, but it was written over half a century ago. Then the original sources of the provisions in that instrument were in many cases concealed from view; and so remained until they were brought to light by the researches of Stubbs and Freeman into the constitutional history of England, and of numerous American scholars into the colonial institutions. Reports of the debates of the Federal Convention had not then been published, and the only direct knowledge possessed by Story of the intentions of the men who framed the constitution was derived from the journal of the convention (which contains merely a record of the formal proceedings without any of the debates), the imperfect minutes by Yates of the early sessions, and the subsequent statements of a few members, colored by later political controversies. The preceding history is consequently far better understood now than it was when Story's work appeared. Subsequent history has also materially influenced the construction of the instrument. The conflicts over slavery in the Territories, the attempted assertion of the alleged rights of secession, the acts of Lincoln and Congress under color of the war power, the reconstruction, and the subsequent amendments, have radically affected the operation of the Federal Constitution. The exercises of the power to regulate interstate commerce that have followed the construction of railroads, and the limitations upon the police power of the States that have been imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment, and have caused the development of the doctrine that freedom of contract is an essential element of constitutional liberty, have opened new fields of law unknown to the bench and bar during the first half of the century. Meanwhile the political warfare in the different States and the British colonies has given rise to continual conflicts between the different departments of their respective governments, in which there has been a growing tendency to submit all disputes to the arbitration of the courts. In that way, solutions have been made or attempted of many constitutional problems, the results of which are scattered and often hard to find, but which when known—although thus worked out in miniature—are likely to be followed in national controversies in America and even elsewhere. Mr. Foster's work is the first attempt to place all this matter in form accessible to the professional and general reader. It is at once a complete constitutional history of the United States and a compilation of all the precedents which aid in the construction of the Federal Constitution. It not only contains all the judicial decisions; but also presents a full abstract with copious extracts of all the important State papers, such as President's messages, Congressional resolutions, and the reports of committees of both Houses of Congress, many of them only to be found in a few libraries, in which attempts are made to construe it. Primarily to the lawyer the work is of great importance, but it is also full of interest to every man who wishes to know something of the principles which underly the government of the greatest of recently-founded nations, and the practices which have grown up out of those principles. Inadvertently there are many facts stated dealing with other national constitutions. In style the work is clear, terse and precise, wholly free from obscurity, and it presents a great mass of information in as attractive a way as useful knowledge can be presented.

The Montreal Herald gives this instance of the way the affairs of the Public Works Department were mismanaged for the benefit of supporters of the Tupper administration:

The late government said that they were short of dredges, and therefore had additional ones hired at $8 per hour. This meant an expenditure of about $80 per day. Notwithstanding that this was the case, the Hon. John Haggart, who was Minister of Railways and Canals, loaned one of the Dominion dredges to the Montreal Cotton Company for use at Valleyfield, so as to dig out the tail race from its manufactory there free of cost. This government dredge, it is understood, was so engaged for the past year. When the Acting Minister of Railways, Mr. Davies, discovered that this dredge was so employed he gave instructions to have it stopped. It will be remembered that the manager of the cotton mills at Valleyfield took an active part for the candidates of the late government at Beauharnois, Mr. Bergeron. How far this was due to favors such as above mentioned from the government cannot be said, but an explanation will certainly be demanded from Mr. Haggart as to the causes which prompted him to hire one dredge from parties who were supporting the government and then loan one of the Dominion dredges to a company which was actively engaged in furthering the political interests of the country.

The Campbellton Enterprise is shocked because there is a demand for the removal of an I. C. R. official who took an active part against the Liberals in the general election. It is very easy to disturb the equanimity of some persons now. It is not long since a poor man was removed from a petty job in St. John because the Conservative young men's club discovered he was a Liberal. And he was not an office-holder or an "offensive" partisan, either; he was just an ordinary workingman who voted on election day according to the dictates of his conscience.

Hon. Mr. Davis, member for North York in the Ontario Legislature, becomes Provincial Secretary in place of the late Mr. Balfour. He is a business man of the highest standing, and has occupied a prominent position in the Legislature.

ON TO OTTAWA.

Prohibitionists to Assemble at the Capital on Thursday Next.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.

The Dominion Alliance will to-morrow issue an invitation to the temperance bodies throughout the Dominion to send representatives to the delegation which will be received by the Hon. Wilfred Laurier at Ottawa at noon on Thursday, Sept. 3. The railway companies have agreed to give reduced rates if over fifty attend. The prohibitionists will assemble at the Parliament buildings at ten o'clock and hold a conference with the prohibition members of Parliament. The deputation is under instructions of the recent convention to plead for prohibition. Should the government give assurances of early action on a plebiscite their policy is to then arrange for a Dominon plebiscite campaign, otherwise to arrange for an early reintroduction for a motion for the immediate enactment of a prohibitory law.

CONFESSED AND WAS LYNCHED.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 31.

Richard Holmes, colored, was lynched at East Point, Grant Parish, last night for a criminal assault on a 10 year-old white girl. The girl's parents sent her on an errand to a neighboring house about a half mile distant, when she was met by the negro and assaulted. Holmes confessed his guilt.

SHIPPING NOTES.

SCH. W. H. PIERCE, while dropping down the harbor Saturday afternoon, caught on the Sunken Rock. Tug Dirigo took hold of her but parted the hawser. The schooner floated at high tide and proceeded to Parrsboro.

LAUNCHED. — Capt. Thomas Egan's schooner, the Twin Sister, was successfully launched at Sackville on Wednesday. She is a neat looking craft of 80 tons register. The schooner was rigged by Mr. Alex. Ling.

THE ARTISAN DESPERADO.—Barque Artisan, of St. John, N.B., arrived at New York Sunday morning from Manila via Delaware Breakwater, sugar laden, after a passage of 171 days. Captain Purdy reports that the Artisan experienced a succession of very heavy gales from the west and southwest off the Cape of Good Hope, lasting 28 days consecutively. When the Artisan was within 15 days sail of the Delaware a seaman named Frank Jones refused duty and tried to incite a mutiny among several of his mates. He also threatened to set fire to the ship and attempted to kill the mate and one of the sailors. Capt. Purdy put Jones in irons and locked him up in the lazarette. He was handed over to the proper authorities to-day. The Artisan is anchored off Stapleton.

BEAT THE RECORD.—The record for the voyage from Portland to Louisburg, C. B., was lowered from three days to sixty hours on the last trip of the big four-master, the William B. Palmer, of Bath, 1806 gross tons, commanded by Capt. Frank E. Dyer of Waltham, Mass. The record of three days for the outward trip to Louisburg, however, had been held by the Sarah E. Palmer, also of the Palmer fleet. The Wm B. Palmer left Portland Tuesday evening, July 28, and dropped anchor in Louisburg harbor Friday morning in sixty hours. She had only a five and six knot breeze the first 24 hours. It freshened gradually and during the night before her arrival at Louisburg the log showed for several hours in succession 13½ knots, and for about two hours 14 knots. The large four-master Alice B. Crosby left Boston 24 hours before the W. B. Palmer left Portland, and reached Louisburg five hours after her.

THE ZEBINA GOUDEY ABANDONED — The Italian barque Teresina, at Bangor on Sunday, brought Captain Geo. L. O'Brien and crew, 15 men all told, of the barque Zebina Goudey, of Yarmouth, N. S., which was abandoned Aug 19 in lat. 40 39, lon. 55 39, in the Gulf Stream, 300 miles southeast of Sable Island. The Goudey sailed from Mobile July 23 for Sharpness, Eng., with a cargo of oak and hard pine timber. On Aug. 16 she met with heavy weather and sprang a leak. Half the crew were sick with malarial fever, and with all the others at the pumps it was impossible to keep her free. On the 19th all hands were taken off by the Teresina, whose master set fire to the Goudey, considering her a dangerous obstruction to navigation. Capt. O'Brien and his mate, John L. Perry, belong in Yarmouth; the second mate, James McKerry, in Prince Edward Island; one of the crew, E. Corden, in Biddeford, Me., most of the others being Norwegians and Swedes. The British consul at Portland has been notified. The Goudey was a barque of 1,088 tons register, was built at Annapolis in 1881 and was owned by G. G. Sanderson, C. Johnson, J. G. Allen, L. E. Robbins, Job Hatfield, W. Currier and R. M. Ferguson, of Yarmouth.

Mme. Paul Blouer, the wife of Max O'Rell, is one of the most helpful helpmeets a literary man could have. She is not only the translator of all her husband's books into English, but is an excellent cook, and is to be seen at her very best when entertaining her husband's friends, whose name is legion.

A man arrived at Johannesburg in the early days of the mining boom with no assets save a tin of condensed milk and a needle. He spread a report that smallpox was on its way through the country, gave out that he was a surgeon and vaccinated the whole community with his needle and condensed milk at five shillings per operation. When last heard of he was a wealthy capitalist, enjoying the monopoly of selling liquors within the precincts of the Johannesburg stock exchange.

NEW TEACHER.—Miss Moran has been appointed teacher of the Alms House school in succession to the late Mr. Arthur Parks, who held the position for seventeen years, and died last week, on the day the schools re-opened.

DECORATION DAY.—On Monday next the members of Golden Rule Lodge, I. O. O. F., Carleton, will have their annual parade to Cedar Hill Cemetery and will there decorate, with appropriate ceremonies, the graves of their departed members.

ON THE BEACH.—During the past few days a number of small herring and many squids have been thrown on the beaches along the bay shore. The squids had evidently been chasing the herring and got stranded. Once before this summer they were driven ashore by hundreds.

WILL RESIDE IN MONTREAL.—Among the passengers by the S. S. Taymouth Castle from Trinidad was Chun Se Su, aged 26. He gave his occupation as a clerk, and as Chun wants to reside in Montreal he contributed $50 to the revenue for the privilege.

BUSINESS NOTES.—An offer of 25 cents on the dollar has been made on behalf of Messrs. Coles & Sharp.

Mr. J. M. Johnston is settling with his creditors for 35 cents cash. Mr. Johnston owes about $12,000 in St. John.

Ernest Fairweather, James E. White, T. B. Robinson, S. Hayward and James Reynolds; and $1 each from Rev. A. G. H. Dicker, Dr. M. MacLaren, J. E. Barnes, M. Gallagher, T. Campbell, Capt. Thomas, J. R. Woodburn, George Robertson, A. L. Goodwin, and $1 50 from James Woodrow.

AN APPROACHING WEDDING.—Mr. Lee L. Street, C. E., son of Collector Street, who arrived from Boston to day, on Tuesday next, at 2.30 p. m., at the Cathedral, will lead to the matrimonial altar Miss Frankie, eldest daughter of Hon. G. N. Babbitt. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Babbitt, and Mr. F. J. Sherman, of the Merchants' Bank, will support Mr. Street. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dean Partridge.—Fredericton Herald

RECENT DEATHS.—The music-loving public and many others will read with sincere regret of the death of Miss Mabel Gibbs, the well known and popular violinist. Miss Gibbs was the eldest daughter of Mr. John Gibbs, of Sydney street. She has been ill for some time, but strong hopes were entertained of her recovery.

The death occurred on Sunday at noon of Mr. Philip Hayes, a well-known resident of Carleton for nearly half a century. He was 89 years of age. He leaves a large family to mourn their loss.

THE SHORE LINE EXTENSION.—There are rumors of trouble over the proposed extension of the Shore Line Railway through Maine. The town of Calais voted a considerable sum to aid in the undertaking, expecting, of course, that the St. Croix would be bridged at St. Stephen and that the road would run through Calais. The latest plan is to take the line through Milltown and Calais-Milltown, where the river is narrower. The Calais people are considering how to prevent this and, it is said, will take legal proceedings.

A HIGH SCHOOL WANTED.—Carleton people are talking of petitioning the Trustees for a high school. At present all children who desire to advance beyond the eighth grade are compelled to come to the city. There are fifty or more boys and girls who come over every day. The trip is a long and in winter a very dreary one and takes a great deal of time. It is likely petitions will be circulated praying for the establishment of an advanced department in Carleton. Two teachers could easily do the work and each would have a room full of students.

THE WEST INDIA LINE.—S. S. Taymouth Castle, Capt. Forbes, arrived yesterday afternoon from the West Indies with a large cargo and a number of passengers. She left Bermuda Wednesday night and had a good run up. She has only about 100 tons of cargo for this port, the balance, some 1 500 tons, being for Halifax. Her passenger list was as follows: J. J. Ferguson, wife and two children, from St. Kitts; Mrs. Chambers, Miss Haley and servants, from St. Kitts; Capt. Cardan, F. B. Bill, Mr. Leabbin, Mr. Doe, E. D. Tucker, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Wadlington and Mrs W. T. James from Bermuda; Chung Se Su, from Trinidad for Montreal. She also brought up three soldiers and a sailor and nineteen Chinese bound to Hong Kong.

INTERESTING SERVICES AT HAMPTON.—A large number of people from St. John attended the opening of the mission in the Catholic church at Hampton on Sunday by Rev. Father Devlin. A choir consisting of Miss McCafferty, organist; Misses McCaffrey, Brennan and Cullinan, and Messrs. John A. Kelly, Frank and George McCafferty and J. P. Lunney went to Hampton on Saturday and took part in the Sunday services. The opening service of the mission took place at ten o'clock, when High Mass was celebrated for the first time in Hampton by Rev. F. McMurray. A sermon was preached by Father Devlin.

In the afternoon at 3 30 o'clock the consecration of the new Catholic cemetery in the village took place. The weather was very fine and the attendance was large. The ceremony opened with a hymn by the choir, after which Father Devlin preached. The cemetery ground was blessed by Father Devlin, assisted by Fathers Savage, Byrne, Collerette and McMurray, the choir chanting the Litany and Miserere during the ceremony.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the Vespers service was sung by Father Collerette and a sermon was preached by Father Devlin and the benediction pronounced by Father Savage.

The mission will last until Thursday and the St. John choir will remain there until then.

ALL LADIES connected with the Local Council of Woman are urgently requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Important business.

ST. JOHN EXHIBITION.—Preparations for the exhibition are rapidly being completed. The buildings and grounds will be in nice order to receive exhibits during the week preceding the exhibition. Parties who have secured space should put it in order for the reception of their exhibits.

The space in the industrial buildings is pretty well taken up. Manufacturers who have not made their entries already should do so at once.

The time for entries for live stock and produce has been extended. For convenience of the owners of live stock an auction sale will be held on Wednesday, 30th Sept. Stock owners can make sales by auction without payment of auction fees. Arrangements can be made for removal of live stock after the sale.

The Executive Committee will deal generously with live stock exhibitors where difficulties are shown.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE.

Work of the Last Day's Session.

On Saturday evening a session of the A. M. E. conference was held to consider the charges preferred against Rev. Mr. Henderson, of St. Philip's church, by Mr. Charles C. Hamilton. In reference to the charge of imprisonment presiding Elder Kersey said it had been investigated, and it was proven that Mr. Henderson was not guilty of any crime. The second charge of misdemeanor in a Prince William street saloon was then taken up, and the evidence of Messrs. T. C. Washington and D. J. McIntyre heard. The former said he knew nothing of the affair beyond common report, and the latter stated he knew nothing against Rev. Mr. Henderson's character. The case was then dismissed.

The conference was brought to a close this morning. Votes of thanks were passed to the press and to the steamship companies and railroads for courtesies extended; to the general conference for appointing Rev. Mr. Grant as Bishop over Nova Scotia; to the citizens of St. John and to the visiting clergymen from the States. The station sheet as completed is: St. John, Rev. H. B. Brown; Halifax, Rev. Mr. Henderson; Yarmouth, Rev. R. R. Phipps; Amherst, Rev. J. L. Davis; Liverpool, Rev. J. D. Williams; Shelburne, Rev. G. W. Smith; Woodstock, Rev. H. P. Grose, and A. Kersey presiding elder.

The benediction was pronounced by Bishop Grant and the conference ended. The Bishop left for Boston this afternoon. The other visiting delegates also left for home to-day.

EQUITY OCURT.

The case of Malcolm Morris vs. The Halifax Banking Company, Andrew Jack and the administrators of the Raymond estate is being heard to-day. The case arises out of the Kelly & Murphy failure. It will be remembered that that firm held a bill of sale of the Blackall property, and that notes to the value of $450 had been made by Blackall and endorsed by Kelly & Murphy and discounted by the Halifax Banking Company.

Similar notes to the value of $145 were held by Andrew Jack, and the Raymond estate has a claim against the property in question of $50, for which they claim a lien. Mr. Morris as one of the creditors of Kelly & Murphy objects to an arrangement made at a meeting of the creditors, whereby the claims of the Halifax Banking Co. and Andrew Jack to have the Blackall notes paid in full out of the proceeds of the sale of the Blackall property were compromised. He claims that this money should go into the general fund of Kelly & Murphy assets. The defendants have all disclaimed except the Raymond estates, and the matter will be tried out as between the plaintiff and them. Mr. A. W. Macrae for the plaintiff; L. A. Currey, Q. C., for the assignee; W. Pugsley, Q. C., for the Raymond estate, and J. R. Armstrong, Q. C., for the Halifax Banking Co.

THE NEWCASTLE POST OFFICE IRREGULARITIES.

At the Newcastle police court enquiry into the alleged post office stealings—

Blair Robertson, agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Newcastle, testified: In the months of May and June he had been missing letters and made complaints to the postmaster about missing letters. Some were mailed to the Bank of Nova Scotia, but not received, and he failed to get any trace of them. He said that on the 9th of June he received a registered letter from the Newcastle post office. Some of the stamps had been erased and the envelope looked as though it had been tampered with. This aroused the suspicion of the witness and he called one of his clerks in to witness him opening the letter. He opened the letter and found it contained 5 dollar bills of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax and 61 cents in postage stamps. The letter stated that it contained 2 two dollar bills and a one dollar bill. He sent for the postmaster and drew his attention to the fact that some of the stamps had been erased. He went to the post office and accused Smith (the clerk) of opening the letter and Smith denied it. When the witness pressed Smith, telling him he could prove he opened the letter, Smith admitted it. He threatened to issue a warrant to arrest Smith and left the post office walking towards the police office. He knew of other irregularities in connection with the Newcastle post office than those charged against Smith.
