Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

IS THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE—Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE (late Army Medical Staff) DISCOVERED a REMEDY, to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. Browne is the SOLE INVENTOR, and as the composition of Chlorodyne cannot possibly be discovered by Analysis (organic substances defying elimination) and since the formula has never been published, it is evident that any statement to the effect that a compound is identical with Dr. Browne's Chlorodyne must be false.

This caution is necessary, as many persons deceive purchasers by false representations.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE—Vice Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the INVENTOR of CHLORODYNE, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—See The Times, July 13, 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE Is the TRUE PALLIATIVE in Neuralgia, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Rheumatism.

GENERAL BOARD of HEALTH, London REPORT that it ACTS as a CHARM, one dose generally sufficient.

Dr. GIBBON, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta, states: "TWO DOSES COMPLETELY CURED ME OF DIARRHŒA."

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE Is a liquid medicine which assuages PAIN of EVERY KIND, affords a calm, refreshing sleep, WITHOUT HEADACHE, and invigorates the nervous system when exhausted.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE Rapidly cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Spasms, Colic, Palpitation, Hysteria.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The IMMENSE SALE of this REMEDY has given rise to many UNSCRUPULOUS IMITATIONS. Be careful to observe Trade Mark. Of all Chemists. 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d.

It certainly spoils half the pleasure of a boating trip of any kind when the dampness or crushing ruins the style of your once jaunty suit. This never happens when a Fibre Chamois interlining is used because no amount of moisture, creasing or hard usage can take the stiffness out of it. Skirts and sleeves made on it have all the style and grace of the first day of wear right through the whole season. These points, as well as its extra light weight, have made it the only popular interlining for all kinds of outing suits.

But buy Fibre Chamois, the genuine goods, with the label on every yard, because its many worthless imitations always give disappointing results.

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Queen Victoria, on June 20 next, will have reigned sixty years, a reign longer than that of any previous British sovereign, and lately many schemes have been mooted for the proper observation of the occasion. Most of the plans advanced provided for a commemoration of the event before the full sixty years had passed. They have all been disposed of by official intimation from Her Majesty, who makes it known that, while she is gratified by the evidences of loyalty and affection displayed by her subjects, she wishes that should she be spared to rule sixty years any celebrations shall be reserved until that period shall be actually completed.

A reception and banquet was given by the London Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in honor of Li Hung Chang. The Chinese statesman made a speech, declaring that as long as he lived he would advocate progress, industry and commerce in his native land, and would especially urge that the remotest corner of China be made accessible by railroads. Sir Donald Smith formally invited Li Hung Chang to be the guest of the Canadian government during his Canadian visit. He replied he would be most happy to accept the invitatirn and said he looked forward to his Canadian visit with much interest. He will leave Southampton by steamer St. Louis on August 22 and will enter Canada from New York at Niagara Falls and spend a day at Ottawa, proceeding thence straight through to Vancouver and sail in a Canadian Pacific steamer on September 13 or 14.

UNITED STATES.

Murray Hill Bank, one of the oldest banks in New York, has closed its doors pending an examination of its affairs. The bank has deposits of about $1,250,000, which, it is believed, will be paid in full.

At least three persons were burned to death and over $100,000 worth of property destroyed by a fire which broke out in a six story brick building at 465 Greenwich street, New York, Tuesday afternoon.

At a banquet in Calais Tuesday night tendered to visiting Boston Fusiliers by the city government, among the speakers were J. D. Chipman, of St. Stephen, responding to the 'Militia of Canada;" G. W. Ganong, M. P., St. Stephen, the "Dominion of Canada," and G. F. Hill, of St. Stephen, the "Premier of New Brunswick."

A mob at Hahnville, La., on Monday night battered down the walls of the prison, took out three Italians who were charged with murder and hanged them. Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador, has telegraphed to the state department at Washington asking for official information regarding the affair, and the department has promptly called on the governor of Louisiana for a full account of the occurrence.

FOREIGN.

There is reason to believe that Great Britain and Russia have arrived or are arriving at an understanding to save the Armenians and Cretans from further outrages by Turks. France, it is said, concurs in the arrangements, which provides probably that a British fleet shall protect Crete, and Russia shall send military residents to the principal towns of Armenia, keeping an army within their call.

I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the univeral brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. The body was recovered a few minutes later, but life was extinct. Despondency and marital troubles were assigned as the reason for the act.

FUNERAL AT BATHURST.

BATHURST, Aug. 11.

The funeral of the late Charles D. Seaton took place at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Robert Ferguson, "Gowan Brae," Youghal, to the new burying ground of St. Luke's Presbyterian church, and was very largely attended, the cortege being over a mile long, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The services at the house and grave were conducted by the Rev. A. F. Thomson, and were most impressive. The floral offerings were many and most beautiful. The mourners were Messrs. Arthur E. Ferguson, of Portland, Me., James Ferguson, Alex. Ferguson, John Ferguson and Gordon Duncan. The pall-bearers were Messrs. George Gilbert, W. G. O'Brien, A. M. Des Brisay, Samuel Melanson, John E. Baldwin and W. R. Payne.

Rev. Joseph McCoy, of Chatham, and Rev. A. F. Thomson, of Bathurst, exchange pulpits on Sabbath next.

MR. WHITE'S BENEFIT CONCERT.

The benefit concert to Mr. J. M. White, in the Institute on Tuesday evening, was fairly successful financially and highly so musically. About three hundred were present, and the excellent programme was much enjoyed. Great interest was aroused by the opportunity the concert afforded of hearing a pianist of Mr. DeZielinski's reputation. He was favorably received, and from the commencement of his first number he held the audience. He first played a prelude of his own, which the audience greeted heartily, and then played the March of the Dwarfs, by Grieg, and a scherzo by Ethelbert Nevin. In every number Mr. DeZielinski showed great power, breadth of expression and brilliancy, and he received quite an ovation. Miss Horton has a sweet soprano voice of much promise, and her numbers were rendered with great taste. In her second selection Ever True, by Shelly, she quite captivated the audience. The other vocalists, Miss Manning, Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Lindsay, were well received, and Miss Ina Brown's readings were most enjoyable. Mr. White seemed to play better than usual, and in both numbers earned an enthusiastic encore. Mr. DeZielinski, who was one of the chief promoters of the concert, thanked the audience for their attendance and attention.

A STAGE TRAGEDY.

LONDON, Aug. 10.

At the Novelty Theatre to-night in the play, "The Sins of a Night," Mr. Crozier played the part of the villain. The plot provided that he should be stabbed in the last act.

In some manner yet unexplained, instead of a harmless blow being delivered, the dagger penetrated Crozier's breast, inflicting a wound which caused his death in a few minutes. The spectators were not aware of the mistake that had been made, and Crozier's realistic fall was greeted with applause.

Tried several medicines, but none gave much relief. Until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound my blood was in a dreadful state, but I am happy to say your medicine cured me."

PEOPLE'S PASTIMES.

Base Ball.

The Electrics, of Carleton, or more properly a few of them, mixed in with some of the Roses and Young Roses, met defeat on Tuesday at the hands of the Mutuals by a score of 20 to 14. The game proved pretty tame for the spectators, as the batting was heavy and the fielding rank.

On Thursday the St. Johns and Starlights play another game. When they last met the Starlights punished the St. Johns rather badly, and the latter are now eager for satisfaction. They will put their best team in the field and endeavor to regain their lost prestige.

The Alerts and Roses play again on Saturday, and as these two teams always play a fairly contested match, the grand stand at the Shamrock grounds should be full.

National league games on Tuesday: Pittsburg 9, St. Louis 1; Baltimore 17, Washington 3; New York 8, Brooklyn 2; Louisville 6, Cleveland 6; Chicago 6, Cincinnati 0.

Cricket.

The Halifax Recorder says:

"The Wanderers were badly beaten by the Garrison; the latter made 140 for seven wickets in their second, when they closed their inning; and they put the Wanderers down for 46 runs. The Wanderers evidently require some practice if they expect to keep up to their old standard."

The Wanderers are evidently suffering from the same complaint as the St. Johns.

The Bermuda cricketers will probably be here at the end of this month, and it is doubtful if a strong team can be raised, as few of the team are in practice. This is partly their own fault and partly due to the fact that they have been wrongfully deprived of the grounds on certain occasions. Besides the grounds have been allowed to get into such a state that it would be impossible to get a good crease. The field is overgrown with weeds.

Sports at Moncton.

The sports at Moncton on Tuesday in connection with the K. of P. excursion were largely attended. The summary of events is as follows:

100 yards dash—Humphrey 1st, Dann 2nd, Glendenning 3rd. Time 10 sec.

440 yard dash—Glendenning 1st, Malcolm 2nd. Time 55 sec.

Half mile bicycle—Bailey 1st, Sancton 2nd, Jones 3rd. Time 2.30. Sancton and Cannon collided on the third quarter and the latter retired.

Yachting.

The races on the Kennebeccasis on Tuesday proved to be events of more than usual interest. There were two races for cups presented by Mr. H. Gilbert and the club. The first race was for third-raters. The contestants were Gracie M., Kathleen, Dolphin, Catamaran and Wapiti. They finished in the order named, the Gracie M. winning easily.

The second-class race was contested by the Clytie, Pert, Lily and Marguerite. The Clytie finished first and the Pert second.

Police Magistrate Ritchie presented the prizes. The Storm King took up a large party.

Aquatic.

The grocers are trying to arrange a race between the St. John professional crew and the McLeod-Sullivan crew, to be rowed at their picnic at Isle of Pines, Tuesday next. They have offered a prize of $60.

At the Belleville regatta on Thursday, Hanlan was first in the three mile single scull race. The time was 10.51 4-5. The four-oared race was postponed on account of rough weather.

Athletic.

It is proposed to hold big handicap games at Worcester, Mass., Aug. 28. Bernie Wefers will try for the 120-yard record, and stands ready to run any amateur in the world 300 yards. Kilpatrick will try for the 1,000 yard record.

Tom Burke, of the Boston Athletic association, has been matched to run Charles Kilpatrick a scratch half-mile at the New York Athletic club games on Sept. 1. Burke is training at the Charlesbank, while Kilpatrick is at Travers Island.

Among the Fighters.

Jim Hall cannot get bonds and has to stay in jail until his examination on the 19th.

Jeffries, the California heavyweight who is coming east with Jim Corbett, is said to be a very clever man. Paddy Slavin expresses a desire to meet Jeffries.

Tommy White, of Chicago, and George Dixon are to come together at last. They have agreed to box twenty rounds before the newly organized Broadway A. C., New York. The contest will be decided on Sept. 15. White has been after Dixon for some time and is pleased to have a chance at the colored wonder.

The New York Sun sporting man is better up on fighters than in geography. He says that Eddie Connolly and Stanton Abbott will fight in St. John, Nova Scotia.

SALMON FISHING ON THE CASCAPEDIA.

[Quebec Chronicle.]

The Governor General was fishing in the Grand Cascapedia River a few days ago. Lt. Col. Andrew Haggard, D. S. O., of England, with Mr. John McDonald, of Montreal, had exceptional sport on Saturday, August 1st, after having fished for sea trout on the Charlo. Mr. McDonald killed some two dozen fine sea trout, some of them weighing over two pounds each. Col. Haggard also caught a few of them, but devoted most of his time to fishing the salmon waters, though the men told him that it was no use, that nobody ever caught them so late in the season. In fact they did not remember ever getting any in August at all. Though the water was dead low there was a tearing gale blowing down the stream, and the Colonel succeeded in raising three fish that day, one of which he lost by its getting round part of a tree in the bottom of the pool. All of them rose to very small flies, one a black and the other a gold body. The two fish he killed were a beautiful clean run ten-pounder and a salmon of fourteen pounds, which made a run down a heavy rapid. On their way home at night the two fishermen called at the Governor General's camp and gave him one of the salmon and some sea trout, and were kindly received and entertained by His Excellency. They did not try the Metapedia at Campbellton at all, as originally intended, because of the lowness of the water.

NO MORE BANANAS FROM CUBA.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.

Dumers Bros., who effectually control the banana industry in the vicinity of Banes and Sama, Cuba, have decided to cease shipping fruit from Cuba owing to Captain General Weyler having closed those ports. This means no more bananas will be received at the United States ports from Cuba for some time to come. The price of the fruit will probably be materially increased.

VERY CLOSE CALL.

THE LAKE ONTARIO AND VANCOUVER COLLISION.

Capt. Campbell's Story Places the Blame on the Shoulders of Capt. Williams.

QUEBEC, Aug. 10.

About midnight last night the Dominion Royal Mail steamer Vancouver, outward bound for Liverpool, collided with the Beaver Line steamer Lake Ontario, inward bound from Liverpool. The collision occurred about twenty miles below Father Point, during a dense fog. No lives were lost and neither of the vessels were seriously damaged.

The Lake Ontario arrived in port at four o'clock this afternoon and went over to the Grand Trunk Railway wharf at Levis to land freight and passengers, leaving for Montreal at half-past seven, where she will probably arrive late to-morrow afternoon. There was no water in her hold, and the only evidence of a collision is a damaged bow. The Vancouver is now on her way back to this port and is expected to arrive at eight to-morrow morning.

There is no doubt but what both vessels had a close call. Both were, in consequence of the heavy fog prevailing at the time, running at less than half speed, but still the shock of the collision must have been very great. That both steamers were able to make their way safely to port after the collision is probably due to the fact that the collision occurred bow on. The Lake Ontario has, or rather had, a clipper bow, while that of the Vancouver is almost perpendicular. The result was that when the ships struck the overhang of the Lake Ontario's bow received the force of the impact, and it would not have been until the two ships had crushed the one into the other for some distance that the forefoot of either ship would be compelled to receive the shock of the collision. Happily the collision was not so severe, and both ships remained water-tight below the water line.

BLAMES CAPT. WILLIAMS.

Capt. Campbell, of the Lake Ontario, was seen by a reporter soon after the ship's arrival. He was reticent, preferring not to say much pending the result of the enquiry which will follow. He blames Captain Williams, of the Vancouver, for having kept so close in shore on an outbound trip and consequently in the way of inbound steamers making for the pilot ground off Father Point. The Lake Ontario was steaming at about a four-knot rate, while her whistle was going with the Beaver Line pilot signal, which is a long blast and three short ones. The Vancouver was sighted on the starboard bow nearly ahead. She crashed right in, but as the Lake Ontario's bows are pointed and those of the Vancouver are nearly perpendicular, the latter's forward deck, with anchors, chains, windlass and everything was mowed down. Perfect order reigned on the Lake Ontario while the Vancouver appeared to swing out the lifeboats. Shortly afterwards, however, the Vancouver headed up stream. Capt. Campbell puts the entire blame on the Dominion Line steamer. He reports foggy weather during most of the voyage and a great number of icebergs off Belle Isle.

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS'S ACCOUNT.

Captain Williams's account of the collision cannot, of course, be secured until the arrival of the Vancouver in port, but a despatch from Father Point gives some particulars as reported by the Vancouver's officers, that ship having immediately after the accident returned to Father Point for a pilot. The despatch says: "R. M. S. Vancouver, that sailed from Quebec on Sunday morning at 9.20, received the British mails and some passengers off here and proceeded for Liverpool at 10.30 p. m. Sunday. A dense fog prevailed and the Father Point fog signal was fired steadily from 7 p. m. until 3 this morning. The Vancouver had to feel her way in here by the use of her lead, aided by the fog signal. About an hour and a half after passing here, while she was proceeding slowly, with her whistle sounding regularly, all at once she was run into bow on by an inward bound steamer, her bow on the starboard side being badly smashed in almost to the water line."

The bows of the Lake Ontario bear evidence of having sustained a pretty hard shock. She has a hole extending from a distance of ten feet on the port side to about twenty feet on the starboard side. The cutwater is gone at that place. The hole is just under the forecastle deck and leaves open the anchor-weighing apparatus. Piled just within the hole under the forecastle deck is a mass of iron plates, iron chucks, pieces of derrick pulleys, huge iron bars, all of which were wrenched from the bows of the Vancouver. Below this gap is another opening, measuring about twenty feet, and extending entirely on the starboard side. This opens the bows in the forepeak in the twin-deck. On the forecastle deck the rails, davits, crane and mooring chucks are gone.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

ELECTRICITY AT HOME.

How Life is Made Easy in a New York Residence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.

The nearest approach to the fairyland of the fables exists in New York city, says the Sun. It is the home of the president of one of the large exchanges and it is situated on West Seventy-fifth street. In this house it is almost impossible to do a stroke of work or perform a series of concerted actions. Everything is done for you, apparently by magic, though really by electricity. It is probably the most elaborate electrically equipped residence in the country, if not in the world. Everything is done by the current, and it is necessary only to reach out your finger to have it done.

The occupants of the house seldom or never walk up stairs. An electric elevator carries them from floor to floor and even up to the private roof garden fitted out with electrical devices. No attendant is required to work the elevator. It is the perfection of automatic action. A single push button on each landing controls it. No matter if the car is above or below your floor, a pressure of the button will call it to you. This is, of course, possible because of the automatic action of the pole-changers and switches which are placed at every floor and worked by the car itself. Once a certain push button has been pressed, the car passes under the control of the person who presses the button, and no matter how much the other buttons are pressed they will not act until the first one is released.

The car door also is automatic, and the car cannot be moved until the door is shut and locked. This elevator is lighted by tiny but brilliant electric lamps, and there is a flexible tube telephone in the car which enables one to speak to any part of the house.

Such a thing as the ordinary opening and shutting of a door never occurs in this house. Near every door there is a push button. Press this and the door slides into the wall or vice versa. The pressure of another button locks or unlocks the door. Sometime it is not necessary to be near the door in order to open or close it. Hanging down beside the beds are what is known in electrical circles as "flexible"—bifurcated cords with wooden knobs or handles on the ends. In each handle are four buttons, marked successively Asleep, Awake, Shut and Locked. The pressure of the first two buttons sends a signal to various parts of the house that the master or mistress is asleep or awake. The bedroom is approached by a long hall or entry way. Lying in bed the occupant of the house can shut and lock, or unlock and open the door at the end of the fifty-foot passage by merely pressing the proper buttons. Hanging near the bed is another flexible button which means all kinds of qualified summons to the house servants.

The roof of the house, with its electrically lighted garden, presents a beautiful sight from a distance, just as the distance is beautiful when viewed from the roof, for the Palisades lie off to one side, with the Hudson in between.

The dining room of this house is exquisite in tone, the lights shedding a genuine radiance down from the ceiling. It is said that the owner even contemplated an electric table which would sink out of sight and its place be taken by another after each course had been eaten, much after the Roman fashion of table removal. The nearest approach in this case, however, is an electric dumbwaiter, large enough to carry a whole dinner course.

Close your eyes to quality and the world is full of cheap things, but with your eyes open the real good things are few and far between. The "Something Good" cigar, the "best on earth," is one of them. They are positively a ten cent smoke for five. See that you get them, and see that they're stamped. Made only by Empire Tobacco Co., Granby, Que.

"No," said the rural voter, "I must say I don't take stock in no schemes to make money out o' nothin'."

"But you must admit that money is very hard to get."

"Yes. Money's mighty shifty. Es the old sayin' goes, 'Riches hez wings.' But some o' these schemes seems ter me like tryin' ter ketch it by puttin' salt on its tail."—Minneapolis Tribune.

MUCH TOO SMART.—"I see you haven't your clerk any longer," said the store loafer. "No," said the grocery and general store man; "a woman came in and asked for a stove-lifter——" "And he told her she wanted a lid-lifter?" "Nope; he handed her a pint of kerosene."—Indianapolis Journal.

TOWED FOR MILES BY A SHARK.

A Florida Doctor Uncertain for a While Which Was Caught.

[Jacksonville, Fla., Times-Union.]

GROVE CITY, Fla., July 26.

Dr. Wilcox caught a shark last week in the Gulf, near this place, which gave him a very interesting and exciting fight before he captured it. The doctor is a great fisherman, and the abundance and great variety of the fish on this part of the coast gave him all the amusement needed in that line. One great trouble he has to contend with in fishing in the pass on the Gulf is the shark, as they take his best bait and generally his hook and most of the line.

Tiring of that trouble he procured a shark hook and fifty fathoms of rope suitable for the business, and on Wednesday dropped anchor at his favorite fishing ground, just outside of Stump Pass. He fastened one end of his rope to the mast, baited his hook with a couple of mullet and threw it over. Almost before the hook reached the bottom the rope began paying out rapidly. The doctor caught on to the rope, but his weight did not stop its headway at all, and when the rope was all out, the boat—a twelve-foot skiff—began to drag the anchor.

As the fish was heading for the bay, the doctor hauled in the anchor, thinking the fish would go inside, where, in shallow water, he could more easily capture it. By the time, however, he had gotten the anchor in and cleared the deck for action, the fish changed its course and started down the pass for the open sea. It kept in the pass till near the outer bar, when it crossed the reef where the water was only about five feet deep, and on which a heavy sea was rolling. The boat was going like a thing of life, and the doctor does not know whether the swell rolled over the boat or the boat dived under the swells, but he does know the boat filled and everything except the anchor was floating. He caught a bail bucket just as it was going overboard, and when the boat got into deep and smooth water he began the double duty of bailing and divesting himself of such raiment as would be a hindrance in a long swim.

He soon relieved the boat of most of the water, and the fish not showing any signs of changing its course, he began to take in the situation. In going over the reef he saw it was a very large shark, and wanting just such a specimen, the doctor, who is a fine swimmer and all-round athlete, determined he would stay in the race and trust to luck. The fish never changed its course or slackened its speed till it had gone about four miles in the Gulf, when it began to show signs of weakening, and commenced to circle around. The doctor then began to take in slack whenever he could, using the anchor as a windlass. After an hour of the hardest work he succeeded in getting the shark near enough to the boat to use his pistol on it. He unloaded a thirty-eight calibre Smith & Wesson in its head, under the effects of which it gave up.

Looking over the boat, he found his sheet ropes broken, the sail torn, blocks gone, together with one of his oars, and he four miles from shore, with the wind off the land and the tide running out. He had been jerked around till he was sore, bruised and tired, but his only chance was to work with one oar and tow that shark so as to hold his own till the tide turned, which he did, reaching home just five hours after he had hooked the fish. It measured 11 feet 4 inches in length and 47 inches around the body. It was of the spotted or leopard variety, and a vicious-looking specimen. That species is said to be very dangerous and is rarely seen on this part of the coast.

KILLED BY A LIGHTNING BOLT

Bangor Physician Died at His Sweetheart's Side.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 10.

The community was deeply shocked today on learning of the sad death of Dr. Wm. L. Pressey at Islesboro, an island summer resort in Penobscot bay, on Sunday. A terrible thunderstorm came up there, driving hundreds of visitors into the cottages and hotels. Dr. Pressey, of this city, was at his cottage, and his fiancee, Miss Elizabeth G. Brown, daughter of J. G. Brown, of Boston, called the "Iron King," was also there passing the afternoon.

In the Pressey cottage there were four other persons, Dr. Pressey's father, his mother, his brother Frank and the maid servant, Maggie Bissett. Mrs. Pressey, her son Frank and Maggie Bissett were in the living room in the front part of the house; Dr. Massey and Miss Brown were in the dining room adjoining and opening out of the front of the house by a wide door. As the shower appeared to grow, Miss Brown became timid. She stood by the dining table, and Dr. Pressey stood beside her, with a lemon squeezer in his right hand. As she expressed some terror at a particularly brilliant display of lightning, he threw his right arm about her shoulder to reassure her.

The two stood that way for an instant, when a terrific crash came, shattering the house and causing terror. When the first shock had cleared away Dr. Pressey was found on the floor where he had fallen.

Dr. Pressey was lifeless. Over him kneeled the distracted girl to whom he had but just been offering assurances of safety, trying, with bare hands, to beat out the flames that burned his clothing. He had been struck and felled by the bolt.

WORDS IN SEASON.

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.—GAL. VI. 7.

ST. JOHN REVISITED.

O! city fair, laved by the salt sea tide,
And resting proudly on thy sea-girt rock;
From many lands thy children to thee flock,
In loving homage—greet thee far and wide.
For here are homes of love, and sweet content,
And loyal hearts, and virtues brave and strong;
Long be the time when faction or dissent
Shall rend or rive to do thee wrong.
Be loyal still, as were thy sires of yore,
Proud of the race from which you sprung;
Whose world-wide Empire girdles every shore,
And songs of praise from varied clime are sung.
The heart exultant throbs with joy to feel Expectant joys I cannot now conceal. W. S.

PERSIS'S GREAT RECORD.

Slowest Voyage Ever Made by Steam—Lady Furness Steams Nearly 9,000 Miles in Ballast.

[New York Herald.]

Into this port on Saturday night came a steamship from Iloilo with an unmatched record all her own—a marine sauntering which in its prodigality of leisure rivals the performance of that Mississippi river steamship which, on so eminent an authority as Mr. S. L. Clemens, was wont to race with islands and to keep lookouts posted on the stern instead of in the bow.

The vessel is the Persis, a British steamship of the sort called tramp. She is not the "overloaded, undermanned, meant to founder" sort of craft, but a vessel stout of build, slow of motion, of little horse power and of many barnacles. How many of these barnacles are clinging to the bottom of his ship Captain McDonald cannot say, but he imagines that the marine growth must be at least a foot in depth.

From the tautological port in the Philippines the Persia sailed on April 24. She was laden with 2,640 tons of sugar, consigned to the American Sugar Refining Company. She met heavy weather in the Indian Ocean and did not reach Port Said until June 18. Traversing the Suez Canal she reached Gibraltar July 5, and sailing thence the same day set out across the Atlantic. Gales baffled her again. Her coal was about to give out, so she put into Bermuda. She reached the Delaware Breakwater Friday and this port the following night, making the slowest voyage for a steam craft within the memory of the shipping folk here.

The Persis sailed from Iloilo twenty days after the sailing ship A. J. Fuller set out from that port bound for the Delaware Breakwater. Although the Fuller came around the Cape of Good Hope and the steamship by the nearer steam route, the Fuller beat her to port by a good margin, reaching the Breakwater July 31.

The Lady Furness, another seaworn traveller, followed close in the languid wake of the Persis and found a berth in the upper bay yesterday afternoon. The Lady Furness is a British tramp, commanded by Captain Tregarthen. She comes into notice through her having made one of the longest voyages on record for a steamship in ballast. She cleared from Delagoa Bay, July 3, and travelled nearly nine thousand miles. There was no cargo of any nature to be had for this port when the vessel sailed, and as the ship was chartered to load again at this port for South Africa, she was obliged to come empty handed.

PROGRESS OF THE PULP INDUSTRY.

The big lumber mills on the Penobscot river, known as the W. T. Pearson mills, at Great Works, which have recently been managed by W. P. Lowell, who is now at the head of the mammoth mill to be erected at Ashland, Me., on the line of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad, have been shut down and sold to one of the large pulp concerns in the vicinity of Bangor. Whether it will ever be utilized again as a lumber mill we do not know, but the presumption is that it will not. Thus the pulp and paper mills are not only securing large and valuable blocks of spruce lands, but are also buying and controlling the fine water powers on the leading rivers of New England, says the Northeastern Lumberman.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF.

From a Well Known Citizen.

"My daughter Polly, has for more than a year been troubled with severe symptoms of kidney disease. She had constant and acute pains in her back. The pain in her head was fearful and almost unendurable. It frequently prevented her from attending school, and she found study at home practically impossible. She had no appetite, and did not sleep well. The pain was very severe around her heart and she was much troubled with fluttering and palpitation. She was completely worn out in body and was tired and drowsy all the time. Her mother and myself became seriously alarmed as she was constantly getting worse.

"Last July my daughter Sarah, a teacher in the Public School at I[illegible]sville, Ont., came home to spend her vacation, and finding her sister in such a distressing and dangerous condition, said, I am taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they are doing me much good, I have a box with me and will divide with Polly, which she did. By the time Polly had finished the half box her improvement in health was so marked, that I procured more from Mr. Fraleigh's drug store.

Her full restoration to health and spirits was rapid and continuous. She has now none of her former dangerous, painful and distressing kidney troubles. She eats and sleeps well, and for more than a month has enjoyed the most vigorous health. She has not lost a day at school since she commenced taking the pills, and has so much faith in them since they restored her to full health that she wants me to keep six boxes in the house all the time, in case they should be needed and not available. Her cure has been so wonderful she thinks they will cure any complaint. If the pills had cost $10.00 a box, I would not have begrudged the money. The restoration of my daughter to full health and strong girlhood, from her former serious sickness, etc., has made her mother, myself and daughter a happy family.

"I make this sworn statement with the full approbation of my wife and daughter, voluntarily and without any urging or inducement whatever, to show the gratitude my daughter, wife and myself feel for the wonderful cure wrought by the Doan Kidney Pills. We have not the least doubt that her trying the pills just at the time she did saved us a large doctor's bill, as she was all but sick abed at the time. I am sixty-two years of age, a carpenter by trade, have been a resident of St. Mary's for forty years, and county constable for thirty years and am well known, and I make this solemn declaration believing the same to be true, and knowing the same to have the same effect as an oath, and according to the Act respecting extra Judicial Oaths 1893.
