St. John Globe

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUG. 15, 1896.

TO-DAY'S PAPER.

The GLOBE to-day contains twenty-nine columns of reading matter. In the extra sheet our Paris correspondent deals with the visit of Li Hung Chang and other matters; "Ill-fated Millions" and "Freaks of the Mind" are interesting articles; "Cyclers and Cycling" is timely; Caylor's "Base Ball Gossip" is up to date. There is a new piece of music, poetry, etc., etc.

A RECORD OF FAILURE.

When in July, 1895, Lord Salisbury was returned to power by an enormously large majority—far larger than is usually given to either the Liberal or Conservative party in Great Britain—he was afforded an opportunity to form a strong and able government, and, apparently, to accomplish almost anything he desired. He had in the House of Commons a majority of one hundred and fifty-two. Even if a considerable proportion of the Liberal-Unionists deserted him he would have a majority. He had the House of Lords with him, of course. Yet, in the year that has elapsed the record of the Salisbury cabinet has been one of complete failure. This is true in regard to domestic as well as to foreign policy. In the Parliamentary session which has just closed —hastened to a close so that the members should not miss the first week of grouse shooting—the government has been humiliated more than once. Only two important measures have been passed. The agricultural rating bill, which affords relief to the landlords in the amount of $8,000,000 a year, could only be passed by the frequent use of closure. The Irish land bill has been amended and re-amended and then amended again so that its authors can hardly recognize it, and its value has been almost entirely destroyed. Even the members of the government hardly knew what their policy was on this important matter, the House of Commons witnessing the spectacle a few days ago of the leader of the House correcting the Secretary for Ireland, who had charge of the bill. The English education bill was one of the most important measures of recent years, but the government was compelled to withdraw it, and the same fate overtook the Irish education bill. Altogether the session was an unsatisfactory one for the cabinet, added to which was the fact that at two or three by-elections the Liberals won decisive victories. Then, abroad, affairs have not added to Lord Salisbury's prestige. His government made feeble attempts to stop the Armenian atrocities, but failed to accomplish anything, although the whole civilized world was horrified at the barbarities practiced by the unspeakable Turk. The trouble with Venezuela, and the questions arising therefrom between Great Britain and the United States, has had a serious aspect, and no definite result has yet been reached. Affairs in South Africa have gone from bad to worse, until ruin is threatened to some of the British possessions in that quarter, and now the massacres in Crete have been added to the other troubles of the minister. England is being aroused to the dreadful state of affairs in unhappy Crete, but nothing is being done to help her unfortunate people, although Turkey exists simply through the sufferance of Great Britain.

THE LIBERALS AND THE FARMERS.

Sir Richard J. Cartwright, one of the ministers who met the representatives of the farming and fruit industries at Montreal the other day in reference to cold storage plans, told those present that an object which the new government will set before themselves is to do what they can to lessen the disadvantages which, from no fault of their own have weighed upon the agricultural community these many years. "We are not able by act of Parliament," he said, "to raise the price of your produce, but to a large extent we have power in lessening the rate of freight between our country and the great markets of the world, and especially in putting those products on the market in the best possible condition." Sir Richard said that so far as regards cheese the Canadian article is highly valued in Great Britain, and all that is required is to provide facilities for transportation, but, he said —as regards butter, we are so far from having advanced that we have retrograded considerably. We were in the habit of exporting upwards of six thousand tons of butter a year, but in 1895 we only exported two thousand tons, and that did not fetch by nearly twenty per cent. as good prices in the English markets as Danish or continental butter. That ought not to be. When I tell you that the little country of Denmark, with a population scarcely half that of Canada, sent to England last year $29,000,000 worth of butter, which brought a hundred shillings per hundredweight, while Canada only sent $778,000 worth, which sold at eighty shillings per hundredweight, you will say that is conclusively a market for the development of the Canadian butter trade. I believe what can be done in that can be done in fruit, notably in the article of apples, grown here in greater abundance and finer than anywhere else in the world; eggs, poultry and a considerable variety of articles I have not a word to say against Canadian manufacturers, but I desire to point out that the exports of agricultural products muster six or seven times more in the export rolls than do the exports of manufactures, even if you throw in ice, which I saw in the list not long ago.

GOLD IN EUROPEAN BANKS.

There is going on a rapid accumulation of gold by European nations, and the stock of the precious metal held by European banks has of late years increased enormously. Some months ago a French statistician published tables showing the quantity of gold held by banks and governments on 30th April last; the sum total was $1,947,000,000. The largest holder was the Bank of Russia, which had $426,000,000. To this amount must be added $89,000,000 which Russia herself is holding for, it is believed, war purposes in the near future. Next to the Bank of Russia is that of France, whose holding is $390,000,000. The Bank of England is third on the list, with $232,000,000. There are large gains in other European banks: for example, the Austro-Hungarian, which had $27,000,000 in 1890, had $110,000,000 at the end of April. At the same time the national treasury of the Austro-Hungarian empire had $81,000,000 in the yellow metal, while in 1890 it had not a dollar. The amount in the Bank of France has increased $160,000,000 since 1890, while the quantity held by England and Russia has, to speak generally, doubled since the same year. The total amount of gold held by banks and national treasuries has increased about $800,000,000 since the end of that year. Almost all of the national banks of Europe have gold reserves sufficient to redeem the amount of notes outstanding. In other words, they have dollar for dollar. The theory ordinarily maintained with regard to a paper issue, is that the gold held should be in the proportion of one to three of paper. The inference may be fairly drawn that there is an ample supply of gold for all the monetary purposes for which gold is needed, for twice as much more paper money than is now out could be issued in Europe without any danger to the financial operations which are carried on among these nations or with the world generally. Perhaps the consciousness that sooner or later there will be a great commotion among the heavily armed European powers has much to do with this rapid accumulation of gold in the European treasuries.

QUEENS AND SUNBURY CAMPAIGN.

A Lively Meeting Held at the Narrows.

There was an interesting meeting at the Narrows, Queens Co., Friday night. The meeting was called by the Conservatives, and Hon. G. E. Foster was the attraction, but they were not going to have things all their own way, for Mr. G. G. King was after the ex-Minister of Finance with a sharp stick, and he visited the meeting to refute the statement made by Mr. Foster at Hampstead that he (King) had bargained away his seat in Parliament. The meeting was well attended. Mr. J. Flowers presided. Mr. King arrived before the meeting started. He was accompanied by Col. Domville and Mr. C. J. Milligan, and demanded a hearing, but this Mr. Foster refused. Mr. King, however, said he must be heard and he insisted on being allowed to make answer to Mr. Foster's allegations. Mr. Foster finally agreed to allow him time after he had spoken. He would not allow Col. Domville or Mr. Milligan to address the meeting, however, unless they spoke before he opened his meeting, which offer they declined. Mr. Foster spoke for some time, dealing mostly with local issues. He glided over the trade question and said nothing of the Manitoba school matter and did not repeat what he said at Hampstead about Mr. King. He attacked Hon. Mr. Blair and his provincial record and found fault with every measure the Local government had passed.

Mr. King followed and in his first remarks referred to an occasion many years ago, when in the same place he had heard Hon. Mr. Foster speak on prohibition, something which afterwards he said he voted for in a moment of weakness. Mr. King then went on to show that his course in resigning his seat was not without some good precedents, and he had done it in the interest of his party and because he considered it a good thing to have the Minister of Railways in Queens county. He scored Mr. Foster for whitewashing the perpetrators of most scandalous transactions and for going back on prohibition.

The meeting was a lively one throughout, and some very pertinent questions were asked. A farmer floored Mr. Foster when he asked him how the farmer could hope to compete with Americans in the English market when under the N. P. they had to be protected in their own market.

Again when Mr. Foster was claiming that town populations increased, Dr. McDonald enquired: "What was the increase in St. John?" Needless to say this question was a puzzler.

Mr. Foster had also some hot rallies with Col. Domville and Mr. Milligan, and altogether the proceedings were quite lively.

The Conservatives held a meeting on Friday night at New Jerusalem, which was presided over by Mr. Sleep. Messrs. Hazen and Dunn were the speakers. Messrs. E. H. MacAlpine and Isaac Burpee, jr., were present and replied to them, carrying with them the meeting, which broke up with cheers for Messrs. Laurier and Blair.

OPERA HOUSE.—Another full house greeted the McAuliffe-Greene Co. on Friday evening and a splendid performance of the sensational comedy-drama "The Great Train Robbery" was given. THE SWEET PEA is now the popular flower, and year by year its growth is more cultivated. Between the city, Carleton, Rothesay, Hampton and Woodman's Point cultivators there is considerable rivalry as to which can make the best exhibition, and all have beautiful displays. A Hampton cultivator to-day gave the GLOBE a beautiful bunch, containing forty-two different varieties. This is the largest and finest assortment so far seen this year. Some beautiful sweet peas grown by H. E. Goold at Sussex from native seeds were exhibited this week in Messrs. C. Flood & Sons.

Lovejoy and McDiarmid, the leading dentists of Montreal, and during that time did all their crown and bridge work. He will arrive in this city about Sept. 1st, when Dr. Maher will probably open an office in Carleton.

ALLAN FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.—Mr. Walter H. Allan, the proprietor, informed the GLOBE to-day that he has secured the services of Mr. Geo. H. Waring, so long and favorably known to the general public as a thoroughly competent and practical engineer and machinist. Mr. Waring will act as general superintendent of the works, and all old, together with as many new, customers as may be disposed to place their orders with the firm, can rely upon being cheerfully and promptly, as well as satisfactorily attended to. Mr. Waring will take charge at once.

TO FIGHT THE CITY ASSESSMENT.—An adjourned meeting of the heads of the different departments of the civil service was held on Friday for the purpose of further considering the question of fighting the city on the assessment of Dominion officials. Inland Inspector Burke was in the chair, and the pros and cons of the question were fully discussed. It was finally decided to fight the city and a committee was appointed to carry out the details. Inspector Burke, of the Inland Revenue; Inspector King, of the Postal department, and Superintendent McCordock of the Public Works, were chosen such committee.

IN DANGER OF DROWNING.—Mrs. E. I. Simonds and her little girl, about eleven or twelve years old, were in bathing at the Bay Shore on Friday afternoon. The little girl got beyond her depth and shouted for help. Mrs. Simonds, who was not far away, naturally became excited, and could not reach her. Fortunately some men were swimming about. J. A. Taylor, of Montreal, an expert swimmer and athlete; Richard Sullivan, and John Lawlor started at once for the spot where the girl was struggling. Mr. Taylor reached her first, caught her and safely landed her on the shore, to the great relief of Mrs. Simonds.

C. M. B. A. CONVENTION.—The committee in charge of the arrangements for the C. M. B. A. convention met at Ottawa Monday night and completed a programme for entertaining and receiving the delegates. The convention will open on the 25th of this month in the Opera House, Grand President O. K. Fraser, of Brockville, presiding. It is expected that 300 delegates will be in attendance. The visitors will be treated to a street car ride over the entire system, it being conceded the best way to see the city to advantage. The ladies will be given a public reception. On the morning of the opening day a special religious service will be held at the Basilica; pontifical high mass will be celebrated by Bishop Emard, of Valleyfield. The sermon in French will be preached by Rev. Dr. Daguire and in English by Rev. Canon McCarthy.

ARBITRATORS APPOINTED

For the City in the Land Expropriation Matter — Routine Business at the Common Council Meeting To day.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held at noon to-day. The chief business was the appointment of arbitrators on the city's interests in the expropriation of W. Frank Hatheway and G. S. Mayes properties in Carleton, needed for the Sand Point improvements. The Council had a special secret meeting up stairs in the Mayor's private office first and agreed on the names, so that the appointment of the arbitrators in open Council was only formal. W. Albert Lockhart was chosen in connection with the Hatheway property and Thomas H. Sime in connection with the Mayes property. Some legal difficulties prevented the appointment of the arbitrator for the Ring property, but it leaked out at the meeting that Hon. Thomas R. Jones will be the choice of the Council.

On motion of Ald. Smith it was decided to put a telephone in the Mayor's office.

Ald. Robinson declared the Burpee avenue retaining wall was sliding out again. The matter was referred to the Board of Works with power to act.

The Board of Management, on motion of Ald. Millidge, was instructed to look into the overflow on Main street, near Messrs. Phillips Bros., for a spring.

Ald. Stackhouse suggested that as the work at Sand Point had reached a stage where it could only be carried on during low tide that lumber be secured and the workmen employed at other hours in fashioning it for the proposed warehouse. At the request of the Mayor the matter stood over for a meeting on Monday of the harbor improvements committee.

On motion of Ald. Waring the Safety Board was given power to have plans and estimates prepared for a building in the Water Works yard, on the site of the old Salvage Corps shed, to hold the ambulance and patrol wagon on the ground floor and the winter plant and workshop of the water works up stairs.

Adjourned.
