ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 16, 1896.

STEAMSHIP SUBSIDIES.

The question of subsidies to steamships has, no doubt, demanded from the government considerable attention, and it is not an easy question to settle satisfactorily. There are those who think there should be no subsidies except for services actually performed for the government, when practically the money paid ceases to be a subsidy, as that word is commonly understood, and is simply wages earned. This is the case with the money paid to the Allan line, for which that line receives a certain amount for mails carried in the winter to Halifax and in the summer to the St. Lawrence. Having performed this duty week by week the Allan people deny that the government has further control over their vessels, and claim that they are free to seek cargoes for their ships wherever they please; that the government has no right to refuse them the exercise of this right. In this view the Allan line is, of course, supported by the Grand Trunk Railway Company and the people for whom that railway is the great carrier for their produce. The man in Western Canada who lives on the line of the Grand Trunk Railway, for whom that line practically is the natural channel by which his goods reach their port of embarkation so that they may cross the Atlantic, is keenly interested in this question. No Canadian administration can afford to discriminate against that important railway, and to refuse to allow the vessels which carry mails to take in cargo at Portland after they have landed the mails at Halifax would appear to the Grand Trunk shipper a very unjust discrimination. Perhaps he ought to be educated to the idea of shipping only through Canadian ports, and no doubt he can be when the Grand Trunk has a Canadian port of shipment in winter and when the Canadian Pacific Railway, in order to reach the sea at St. John or Halifax, ceases to run across American territory. Probably it is not unfair to maintain that if this is the actual condition with regard to this matter there is strong ground upon which ports like St. John and Halifax—for purely trade purposes, independent of the mail service—might ask assistance from the government in order that they may be put on some footing which would neutralize the disadvantages which they encounter when compared with Portland. These disadvantages are largely those which arise out of the greater railway haul. St. John has taken this view. It has asked for assistance for five lines of steamers to English ports. The demand has been supported by reasons of a very good character. Halifax, it is understood, is making a somewhat similar demand in the hope and belief that it, too, can develop an ocean carrying trade which will start from that port. Whether the Halifax demand covers so many lines as the St. John demand, or whether it is a general request, is not definitely known, but these applications for assistance make the matter of settlement far more difficult than may at first sight appear. It is not easy to so arrange things that all interests may be helped without any being injured. No doubt the government will find a way of dealing with the matter on broad general principles and along lines as far as possible from any idea of protection, while still doing for the ports interested and for the country generally the best that can be done.

CANCELLED CONTRACTS.

The extraordinary things done by the late government in its last hours are only gradually coming to light. The giving of contracts for militia clothing for three years is an instance of the way in which business was done, and the fact that the contracts were given just before election, when campaign funds were wanted, has been the subject of pointed remark. Several of the contracts have been cancelled by the new administration. These are: W. E. Sanford, of Hamilton, for tunics, jackets and pantaloons. This contract was for three years commencing July 1, 1896. This three years' contract has been cancelled, but the department will continue taking goods from Messrs. Sanford & Co. for the balance of the year up to July 1st, 1897. The firm had another contract, to commence July, 1897, and it has also been cancelled. H. Shorey & Co., of Montreal, had a contract for greatcoats and trousers. It was for three years from 1st July, 1896. The three year contract has been cancelled and Messrs. Shorey & Co. have been placed in the same position as Messrs. Sanford & Co. A two-year contract with Shorey & Co., to commence July 1st, 1897, has also been cancelled. Doull & Gibson had a contract for trousers. It was for three years, commencing July last, and two years have been deducted from the contract. The Auburn Woollen Co. of Peterboro had a contract for cavalry cloaks, commencing July last, and two years from July, 1897; this contract has been cancelled. E. Boisseau & Co., of Toronto, had a contract for greatcoats. It was to commence on July 1st, 1897, but it has also been cancelled. Gillespie, Ansley & Dixon had two contracts for forage caps and helmets. One was for three years, commencing 1st July last; two years have been deducted. The other contract was for two years, commencing 1st July, 1897, and it has been cancelled. The action of the government in the matter of militia clothing is on a par with their proceedings in reference to mail contracts. Since the first of January last contracts have been renewed for years to come because political favorites have been benefited thereby. In return these contractors were very active partizans in the late campaign. No doubt they will receive attention in good time.

Last year the free traders of New South Wales came into power, and they immediately abolished all the customs duties except those on spirits, wines, beers, tobacco and opium, and instead raised a revenue by a t x on land and an income tax. The Boston Herald, referring to this experiment in economics, says that as the result of six months' operations, instead of proving disadvantageous, the new plan of taxation has been found to be distinctly beneficial. It was said that wheat growing would be abandoned in New South Wales because there was no longer any protection granted the farmers; but instead of this the area of wheat planting has been much larger this year than ever before, and a large number of farmers have come from the protectionist colony of Victoria into the unprotected colony of New South Wales for the purpose of engaging in the farming business. The Herald says that New South Wales may this year grow enough wheat to feed its population—a thing that has not happened in any past year. General trade has received a great impetus, and the experiment is considered so successful that the other colonies may find it worthy of imitation.

The effort to open up trade with distant lands, while practically making no honest effort to facilitate the doing of business with our next door neighbors, has not been a success. Although the Dominion has spent over $300,000 in the last three years in endeavoring to build up an Australian trade official figures show that the trade now is as large as it was before subsidies were granted. This Australian business was a fad with some members of the late government, and it has been indulged in at heavy expense to the country.

ANGLICANS AND SCHOOLS

The General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada adjourned sine die at Winnipeg on Friday. The following was the report of the committee on the educational work, which was adopted:

"1. That it is essential, both for the community and the children that there should be religious instruction in the primary schools. That a half hour each day, and if possible the first half hour, should be given to such religious instruction. That reasonable arrangements should be made for such religious instruction being given by the clergy or their deputies to the children of their own communion or by the teacher in the case of communions agreeable to this. That when the above cannot be carried out we shall rejoice at the introduction into the school course of studies of such religious instructions as shall include the teaching of selections from the Old and New Testament, inclusive of the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments, and, if practicable, the Apostles' Creed.

"2. That the dioceses in which there are non denominational universities be requested to report what measures are taken in order that students belonging to the Church of England shall be under its care during their attendance at the university. That they be further requested to report whether the daily work of the university is begun with prayer and that similar information be supplied with regard to Normal and High Schools.

"3. That it is most desirable that an educational fund be established, to be raised in such a manner as the Synod may determine, for the educational work of the church, the said fund to be managed and distributed by the General Synod."

UNFORTUNATE GIRL

Sought in Vain for Employment in a Big City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.

A slight built young woman, who gave her name as Jennie Provenche, 20 years of age, accosted Park Policeman O'Rourke, at the corner of Riverside drive and 98th street, last evening, and told him that she was starving. She asked to be locked up.

She was taken to the West 125th street station, where she told Capt. Devery that she had not tasted food since Saturday morning. Roundman Hall took her to a restaurant and gave her a meal, after which she was taken back to the station house.

She said that her home is in Biddeford, Me., where she had been employed in a factory that shut down a few weeks ago. She then came to New York and tried to find employment.

Day after day she wandered about the streets looking for work until her money was entirely gone and she was forced to leave her boarding house. Frequently she has been on the point of suicide, but she thought it would be wrong to succumb. Fasting has made her very feverish and weak. She will be arraigned in Harlem police court.

FREDERICTON NEWS.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 15.

Mr. Dudley Currie, a well-known resident of Mactnaquac, met with an accident yesterday which has lost him one of his eyes. He was driving a spike into some scantling in a hog pen which he was building, when the spike glanced and struck him in the eye with the above mentioned result.

A young English immigrant girl, who lives with Mr. John Johnson, of Nashwaaksis, was badly gored by a vicious cow on Saturday. There are serious wounds about her head and body.

Word was received here to-day of the death at Boston of John Pickard, son of Abraham Pickard, a well-known resident of Bright. Deceased, who was twenty-one years of age, went to Boston two years ago and was an electric car conductor. Typhoid fever caused his death.

The tail end of the corporation drive, consisting of about 4,000,000 feet of logs, which has been hung up near Grand Falls since early autumn, is now on its way down river, and it is expected all will be got into the boom limits in a few days.

SHIPPING NOTES.

CHARTERED.—S. S. Gena, St. John to Sharpness, deals, 51s. 3d.

MET MUCH ICE.—Barque Salina, 156 days from New York for Ivigtut, South Greenland, arrived at St. John's, Nfld., Monday for orders, having failed to reach her destination owing to heavy ice floes which it was impossible to penetrate. She has been battling in ice since May 12. This prevalence of ice off South Greenland will, it is believed, injuriously affect Lieut. Peary's chances of getting north along the Greenland coast.

DANGEROUS TO NAVIGATION.—A London despatch states "incoming vessels report having sighted a submerged vessel August 31st, lat 41 N., lon. 71 W. The wreck is dangerous to navigation."

A derelict, apparently half of a 75-foot vessel, is reported in the track of vessels between Newport, R. I., and Point Judith. Its bearings yesterday were reported fifteen miles south by south quarter from Beaver Tail.

FLOATED.—Schooner Charlie Buckl was floated off Hedge Fence Shoal on the forenoon of the 8th inst., and grounded on the east side of the harbor. On the night of the 9th inst., during a heavy gale, she drifted across the harbor, where she went ashore. All efforts then made to pump her out were unsuccessful and it was afterward ascertained she had lost a portion of her keel. Monday the tugs Underwriter and Mercury succeeded in floating her after lightering the greater portion of her deckload.

A FERRY GRIEVANCE.

To the Editor of the Globe:

SIR,—Can you tell me if the captain or the hands on the Carleton ferry have not a little authority to use in the way of detaining the boat for passengers who may wish to catch a certain trip? Last evening about fifty men from this side attended the service in St. Jude's church, West end, and all left the church in due time, expecting to return by the 10 o'clock trip. Precisely at 10 the boat left her wharf with a good number on board and leaving eleven men—among whom were two clergymen—a lady and a child on the floats to wait there for one half-hour before they could come across. Now, sir, two of these were not three yards from the boat and all the others, except three, were more than half way down the floats and yet the ferry people either lacked decency or common sense not to wait, as one minute would easily have placed all on board. As it happened the boat had to stop out in the harbor to allow the Prince Rupert to pass. Surely if the men who run the boat have not power to wait in such a case the sooner they are given it the better for all.

Yours, etc.,
JUSTICE.

INTERESTING IF TRUE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.

The Ottawa Citizen announces that a marriage is on the tapis between the widow of a late premier and a prominent Senator. No names are mentioned, but in parliamentary precincts it is whispered that the parties to this prospectively interesting compact are Lady Thompson and Sir Frank Smith.

She had just got home from Vassar, and they were walking through the conservatory together. "Oh, mamma," she exclaimed, "how pretty! What flower is that?" "That's a hollyhock, dear." "A hollyhock? Why, mamma, I painted one at school, and it don't look like that!"—Harper's Bazar.

THE DELINEATOR for October has been received by Messrs. Macaulay Bros. & Co. The number is a very interesting one, containing all the latest fall fashions.

DIME CONCERT.—Carleton Council of Royal Templars have promised a good two-hours' enjoyment at their concert and ice cream social to-morrow evening in the Temperance Hall, Carleton The programme commences at 8 o'clock.

NEWCASTLE P. O. CASES.—The Fish investigation, which was postponed until Friday last, was on that day further postponed until Thursday, Sept. 17th, because of the absence of witnesses. The Smith investigation, adjourned until Monday, the 14th, was on that day further adjourned until Monday, 21st, because of the absence of the principal.—Advocate.

THE AVALON.—When Mr. J. W. Smith reached Yarmouth he received word that the schr. Avalon, before reported ashore at Green Island, had floated the night previous, but had gone ashore again. Mr. Smith was to proceed yesterday in the tug LaTour from Yarmouth to the schooner, and in all probability the schooner would be floated and towed to Yarmouth.

NORTHUMBERLAND LIBERALS.—A meeting of the Northumberland County Liberal Association, held at Masonic Hall, Chatham, on Friday evening, was largely attended. Delegates were present from every parish in the county. It was decided that it would not be expedient to nominate a candidate at present. Hon. J. P. Burchill, Messrs. W. S. Loggie and P. Hennessy were nominated by the delegates to represent the Liberal party of Northumberland and to make recommendations relating to county affairs in conjunction with the different parish associations.—Herald.

ROYAL ARCANUM.—On Tuesday evening, the 29th inst., a special meeting of the Royal Arcanum will be held in the Mechanics' Institute. Among the visiting delegates will be Hon. John E. Pound, supreme regent, Lockport, N. Y., who will address the meeting on the general state of the order; Henry Goodwin, supreme chaplain, Boston, who will speak on "Fraternity," and W. O. Robson, supreme secretary, Boston, who will discuss the business management of the order. The visitors are all excellent speakers. They will take in the exhibition and will meet prominent men of the order there and at the special meeting.

MR. LOGAN'S GOOD WORK.—When Cumberland was represented by the Hon. Mr. Dickey he was requested more than once to arrange that trains should stop at Winchester instead of Greenville, the former being the more important place, and stopping there would best serve the interests of the people. He would not or could not do anything, but when Mr. H. J. Logan was sent to Ottawa something was speedily done. Train arrangements were made to suit the many, not the few, and the improved service gives great satisfaction to the people. Winchester has now been made a telegraph station. Cumberland made a wise move in sending Mr. Logan to Parliament.

AMUSEMENT HALL ATTRACTIONS.—The following is a full list of the great combination of pantomimists, acrobats, musical artists and comedians who will appear at every performance in Amusement Hall during the exhibition: Robetta and Doretto, Chinese pantomimists; Robb and Lexington, "burlesque comiques;" Mlle. Juanatte Elliot, song and dance artist; Robb and Lexington, black face comedians; Wilson family, acrobats; Judge and Williams, acrobatic comedians; Delphino, musical artist; Mlle. Beatrice, wire act extraordinary; Judge and Williams, Irish comedy. This great combination of vaudeville stars is now playing at a great Western fair, and will come from there direct to St. John.

DIPHTHERIA IN CARLETON.—This morning Plumbing Inspector McCarthy and School Inspector March visited the Albert school, Carleton, to investigate and see what is best to be done considering the reports of diphtheria in the vicinity of the school. Inspector McCarthy will, it is understood, recommend changes in the drainage, advised by him several years ago but never put into effect. Mr. March told the reporter he did not consider the condition at all serious and thought children were safer in the schools than running at large. Every precaution would be taken, he said, to prevent children attending the schools from infected houses, and the school buildings would be thoroughly cleaned and kept well ventilated. It is said only four cases exist, but Dr. White, who is in attendance, has pronounced them among the worst he has ever seen. A young Stackhouse child, the second victim, died to-day, and it is said the disease has made its appearance in two or three other families.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—The Day of Atonement, or "Yum Kippur," the most sacred day in the Jewish calendar, commences to-day, at sunset. Its observance is based upon Leviticus xvi. 29; xxiii. 27, and Numbers xxix. 7. According to the Mishna, Yom Kippur cannot procure atonement for a sin which a man commits against his neighbor until he has appeased that neighbor. Restitution must be made before the Divine pardon is granted. A strict fast is observed on the Day of Atonement, and from sundown on Wednesday until dusk on Thursday neither food nor drink will be tasted by adult Israelites. So sacred is Yom Kippur in the eyes of the Jewish people that the fast is strictly observed by all except those who have practically ceased to be Jews. But the fast is by no means regarded as sufficient to procure forgiveness of sin. There must be confession, sincere prayer and amendment. Without these the mere fast is ineffectual. A very beautiful custom in connection with the Day of Atonement is the reconciling of those who have become estranged during the year. If a man does not forgive, how can he expect the Almighty to pardon? Before the commencement of Yom Kippur men with tears in their eyes may often be seen to ask the pardon of those with whom they have quarrelled.

FINE ART NOTES.—In the window of Mr. F. E. Holman's store on King street may be seen two oil paintings, both of them prizes won this year at the last drawing of the Art Union of London. The larger one is entitled "Summer Time," by Walter Fowler, R. S. B. A., and was drawn by Dr. W. W. White. The smaller one is a marine view entitled "A Showery Evening at Rye," by C. P. Knight, N. G., drawn by Mr. F. Sandall. They are valued at £15 each, and are well worth an inspection by lovers of good paintings.

Among the exhibits at the Fine Art Department of the coming Exhibition will be twenty oil paintings sent out by a well-known artist of London, Mr. Percy Sturdee, which will be a valuable addition to the collection. They are all Japanese subjects, representing the life of the people there, and are a part of the collection lately exhibited at the Clifford Gallery, London, where they received much attention from English artists. Mr. Sturdee studied at the Slade school under Legros and gained the Fine Art scholarship; he then went to the Beaux Arts at Paris under M. Kebert, then spending four years travelling in Italy; he then went to Japan, spending four years there, living among the people and adopting their customs, so as to get the best insight into the lives of the Japanese. Mr. Sturdee is a cousin of the High Sheriff.

WEDDED AT LYNN.—The Lynn, Mass., Item has the following account of the wedding of a young man who formerly lived in St. John:

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cragg, 916 Broadway, Chelsea, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 9 30 o'clock Tuesday morning, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss Julia Cragg, and A. Ernest D'Orsay, assistant foreman at the River works of the General Electric Co., Lynn. Rev. J. M. Remick performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the immediate relatives. The bride was prettily attired in a travelling costume of brown broadcloth, trimmed with taffeta silk and velvet, and carried a bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her two sisters, Misses Edith and Mabel Cragg. After congratulations the bridal couple led the way to the dining room, where a bountiful wedding breakfast was prepared. The tables were beautifully decorated with palms, cut flowers and fruit. The many beautiful and ornamental and useful presents testified to the regard in which the young couple are held. As the happy pair left the house en route for "Acadia, the Land of Evangeline," showers of rice were rained upon them, and the proverbial old shoe was aimed so unerringly that it entered the carriage with them.

Mr. and Mrs. D'Orsay will be in St. John on Thursday and Friday this week.

WEST SIDE IMPROVEMENTS.

Views of Members of the Advisory Committee.

A GLOBE reporter had a lengthy conference with Mayor Robertson and Ald. Daniel this morning. Both are members of the advisory committee, and they discussed very freely the progress of the Carleton works, and expressed the belief that the work would all be completed by December. The Mayor offered the prediction that the complaints about insufficient accommodation this winter after the work is completed would be five times as numerous as they were last winter. It was explained that so far about 36,000 cubic yards of dredged material has been removed and about 175,000 yards remain. The material is removed at the rate of about 1,650 cubic yards daily. When the dredge Freeport is put at night work it is expected to take out 2,600 yards daily. Engineer Earle's opinion is that with favorable conditions and one month's night work by the Freeport the dredging will all be completed in 60 days, which means about the middle of November. In the calculations there is no estimate of the work the new government dredge will do. She is large and powerful and should materially shorten the time. During the discussion the Mayor expressed his belief that not only would the dredging be done in time, but that it would be done at a saving of fully $25,000 over any tender. Regarding the charge that the Morris & Cummings people had offered a more powerful dredge than the Freeport for $300, the Mayor said it was absolutely false. The company, he said, positively declined to lease her to the city. Concerning the wharf construction, the opinion was expressed by both Ald. Daniel and the Mayor that it would last out the twenty years and longer and that its cheaper construction and interest on the money meant a saving in that time of $126,000, sufficient to do the work over two or three times, as the dredging would then be completed. The alterations made by Engineer Earle would, it was said, only add $2,500 to the estimated cost of the work.

Col. Moore arrived here from Portland to-day. The city will endeavor to arrange with him for the hire of scows.

The tug Springhill was expected to reach Shediac to-day. The new dredge is all ready to start out, so there will not be any delay.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

Proceedings of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

The opening meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Foreign Missionary Society was held Tuesday evening at St. Andrew's church, Mrs. Dodge presiding. Miss Fisher, a missionary to Trinidad, was the first speaker and delivered an interesting address on work in that island.

Miss Stevens, of St. Stephen, read a paper on the necessity of Mission Bands. At its conclusion there was quite a discussion on the advisability of having boys in the bands.

A paper prepared by Miss Dryden, of Shubenacadie, on "Hindrances to Interest and Means of Interesting in Missionary Work" was read.

Mrs. Brehart, of P. E. I., read a paper on missionary work.

A paper prepared by Miss James was then read by Mrs. Rankine. The self-denial plan for raising money was suggested by Miss James. Questions were then asked and answered by several ladies.

The meeting adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Rankine.

This morning's session commenced with devotional exercises, which lasted a few minutes. The minutes of Tuesday's session were read and approved, after which Mrs. John H. Thomson read a brief address of welcome on behalf of the St. John society to the delegates. Mrs. Pearson, of Musquodoboit, replied on behalf of the visiting ladies. Committees on nominations and courtesies were then appointed, and it was announced that the questions in the question box would be answered on Thursday. The Presbyterial reports were then read and listened to with great attention by the delegates, as they gave a comparative statement of the work of the various societies. Halifax and Pictou are the banner societies. Halifax contributed $1,688.17, Pictou $1,500.15, St. John $944 95, Inverness $639.50, P. E. Island $190.52, Sydney $94.57.

This evening a reception and conversazione will be held for the delegates in the lecture room of St. Andrew's church. The speakers will be Miss Montgomery, for fifteen years a missionary to Persia; Rev. D. L. McRae, missionary among the Coolies of Trinadad and the Rev. Dr. Buchanan, who has been laboring among the millions of India. All are welcome.

PERSONAL.

Dr. J. D. Wilson, F. S. Wilson and Mrs. John Wilson, of Boston, are at the New Victoria.

F. F. Sweeney, Boston, and A. J. Skinner, Pictou, are at the New Victoria.

The dog cases were next taken up and the court was kept busy all morning, and several of the contested cases were adjourned until Friday. Many of those summoned had taken out licenses.

James Tait said he had one little dog, and it was licensed.

James McDevitt said his dog was licensed. The license was taken out since the summons was issued, so he was obliged to pay 50c. costs.

Mrs. John C. Burrill said she had a dog and was willing to take out a license. She paid $1 and was excused.

Charles Nichols said he never had a dog. He was excused.

Mason Williams said he had been ill and neglected to take out a license. He was excused.

Wm. Grannan's dog had taken a trip to Grand Lake and was not likely to return, so he was excused.

James Boyd said he hadn't a dog, but his son had a pup, which he had since given away. Excused.

Robt. Jameison had drowned his dog.

Robert B Addison said he had a dog which lived alone with him on Frederick street The dog had basely deserted him, however, and he would not take out a license. He was excused.

A. J. Heath said he had not had a dog for seven years. He was excused.

Mrs. Thompson Kennedy appeared with three licenses, but the police claimed she had five dogs and that the dogs were very troublesome animals. Her case stands over until Friday.

John Brennan said that he lived in Stanley Ward, and in that district they never took out licenses, as they were outside the city proper.

Beverly Vincent also claimed immunity on account of living in Stanley Ward. He said that they had no policemen out there, and they must have watch dogs They were told they must take out licenses.

Fines of $4 each were recorded against the following persons who failed to appear: Drucilla Langford, Felix Holland, John Jennings, David Guthro, Fred Wilkinson, Robert C. Ritchie and Hazen Brown.

John Leary, fined yesterday for drunkenness, was not John Leary, St. James street.
