CORPORATION LAW.
At a Common Council held at the Council Chamber, on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1835:—
READ AND ENACTED THE FOLLOWING
LAW:
A LAW to prevent NUISANCES in the City of Saint John.

BE it ordained by the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of Saint John, in Common Council convened, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or cause to be thrown, put, deposited or placed, in or upon any of the streets, lanes, highways or public squares within this city, any rubbish or other material of any kind, or any filth, mud, or other material for building, or any other article, stone, rubbish, or any incumbrance whatsoever, without having first obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor, Recorder, or the Alderman of the Ward, wherein, in the same may be placed, so to do, and such permission shall be granted to persons who shall be erecting or repairing some house, store, or other building; and shall not give authority to any person to occupy or encumber more than one-third part of the width of any such street, lane or alley, nor to extend further than the breadth of the lot on which any such house, store, or other building is about to be erected, and the person obtaining such permission, shall at his own expense, cause such building materials as aforesaid, to be enclosed with a sufficient fence, and shall keep the same so enclosed, and also shall cause such incumbrance placed without such enclosure, to be placed on some conspicuous part of the incumbrance, and keep the same constantly lighted during the night, so as to prevent as much as possible injury or inconvenience to persons passing thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for each and every offence.

II. And be it ordained, That it shall and may be lawful for the Mayor, Recorder, or any one of the Aldermen or Assistants of the said City to remove, or cause to be removed, any such in-cumbance, and at any time after four-and-twenty hours notice, any such incumbrance placed without such license, and to cause the same to be carried to some suitable place, and if of any value, to be advertised and sold and the proceeds thereof applied as far as they may go, to the payment of the penalties imposed by this law, and the expenses attending such removal, and the surplus if any, to be paid to the owner.—Provided always, and be it ordained, That it shall and may be lawful for the Mayor, Recorder, or any one of the Aldermen or Assistants of the said City, for the purpose of removing any such incumbrance, to enter on the premises, and to remove the same, and to cause the same to be carried to some suitable place, and if of any value, to be advertised and sold and the proceeds thereof applied as far as they may go, to the payment of the penalties imposed by this law, and the expenses attending such removal, and the surplus if any, to be paid to the owner.—Provided always, and be it ordained, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or cause to be thrown, put, deposited or placed, in or upon any of the streets, lanes, highways, or public squares, any rubbish, or other material of any kind, or any filth, mud, or other material for building, or any other article, stone, rubbish, or any incumbrance whatsoever, without having first obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor,
permission shall be granted to persons who shall be erecting or repairing some house, store, or other building; and shall not give authority to any person to occupy or encumber more than one-third part of the width of any such street, lane or alley, nor to extend further than the breadth of the lot on which any such house, store, or other building is about to be erected, and the person obtaining such permission, shall at his own expense, cause such building materials as afore-said, to be enclosed with a sufficient fence, and shall keep the same so enclosed, and also shall cause such incumbrance placed without such enclosure, to be placed on some conspicuous part of the incumbrance, and keep the same constantly lighted during the night, so as to prevent as much as possible injury or inconvenience to persons passing
thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for
each and every offence.

III. And be it ordained, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or
obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor,
part of the width of any such street, lane or alley,
placed on some conspicuous part of the incum-
thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for
each and every offence.

IV. And be it ordained, That it shall and may be lawful for the Mayor, Recorder, or any one of the Aldermen or Assistants of the said City,
out such license, and to cause the same to be carried to some suitable place, and if of any value, to be advertised and sold and the proceeds thereof applied as far as they may go, to the payment of the penalties imposed by this law, and the expenses attending such removal, and the surplus if any, to be paid to the owner.—Provided always, and be it ordained, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or cause to be thrown, put, deposited or placed, in or upon any of the streets, lanes, highways, or public squares, any rubbish, or other material of any kind, or any filth, mud, or other material for building, or any other article, stone, rubbish, or any incumbrance whatsoever, without having first obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor, Recorder, or the Alderman of the Ward, wherein, in the same may be placed, so to do, and such permission shall be granted to persons who shall be erecting or repairing some house, store, or other building; and shall not give authority to any person to occupy or encumber more than one-third part of the width of any such street, lane or alley, nor to extend further than the breadth of the lot on which any such house, store, or other building is about to be erected, and the person obtaining such permission, shall at his own expense, cause such building materials as afore-said, to be enclosed with a sufficient fence, and shall keep the same so enclosed, and also shall cause such incumbrance placed without such enclosure, to be placed on some conspicuous part of the incumbrance, and keep the same constantly lighted during the night, so as to prevent as much as possible injury or inconvenience to persons passing thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for each and every offence.

V. And be it ordained, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or
obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor,

thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for
each and every offence.

VI. And be it ordained, That no person or persons shall throw, put, deposited or place, or
obtained permission in writing, from the Mayor,
part of the width of any such street, lane or alley,
placed on some conspicuous part of the incum-
thereby, under the penalty of forty shillings for
each and every offence.

VII. And be it ordained, That no person or
