POETRY.

From the New-York "Knickerbocker."

THE ATLANTIC.

Highway of Nations! from all impost free,
Clasped in the broad embrace of every zone—
Garners of empires pour their wealth to thee,
And Commerce makes thy bounding breast her throne.
And what a change!—the wo-worn colony
Thy rough waves stranded on a shore unknown,
Have peopled, hewed, and lent the forest wings,
And launched them on thy depths, to ride like bannered kings.

And I have floated 'neath their ensign's fold,
And many a glad hour, ocean, over thee;
I love them, free of soul, and proud and bold,
And full of honor's stainless chivalry—
Sailors 'in heart and hand'—waves never rolled
Beneath more true-born children of the sea:
Long may their flag, young freedom's pledge and sign,
Wave, in her glorious name, its azure over thine.

Thou heaving wilderness, whose curling hills,
Crested with foam, sweep on before me now,
The hand of HIM whose word thy going wills,
Hath typed his anger on thy writhing brow;
And in thy calms his love—his love which fills
Ten thousand realms where thou shalt never flow;
Love that oft casts the vengeful sword away,
And smiling stoops from heaven to rob thee of thy prey.

Sea of a hundred shores!—blest be the breeze
That wafted me unto thy mightiest one,
Where despot may not come, and human knees
Are bent to the Omnipotent alone.
No captives here in desert prisons freeze,
Nor fettered vassals pine in cells of stone,
But from his sacred home man walks abroad,
Erect, unchallenged, free—the image of his God!

VARIETY.

Matrimony.—At the Collegiate church of Manchester, on Sunday, (lately,) 70 couples were united in matrimony; and on Monday 150 couples were tied together for better or for worse. The following is the wholesale mode in which the business is despatched:—The parties are arranged in couples of twelve; when the time arrives for slipping the ring on the fingers of the brides, the word of command is given, and the bridegrooms are seen busily feeling in their pockets for the symbol of endless affection;—the women are then requested to repeat the words of the Minister, which they "nothing loath," never fail to do; then the men are requested to follow the example, and their gallantry prompts them to immediate obedience. The clergyman can thus despatch about fifty couples per hour.

The following is said to have occurred lately in the parish church at Manchester: Two country bumpkins, after the ceremony had been said over 18 couples, came blubbering to the curate, complaining that he "had married them to the wrong women." "I cannot help that," said the curate, "you must settle it among yourselves."—Eng. pap.

Wealth of Manchester, England.—President Humphrey, in one of his letters from England, says:—

"Manchester is, next to London, the largest town in England, and is rapidly increasing, both in wealth and population. A distinguished banker in Liverpool assured me, that the clear profits of business in Manchester could not be less than twelve millions sterling (about sixty millions of dollars) per annum. As the town is continually extending, it bids fair in a few years to swallow up all the manufacturing villages in the vicinity. Great fortunes have been made and are making there; and nowhere out of the metropolis is solid capital supposed to be so large, as in Manchester. She is wont to say of her rival sister upon the Mersey, that she is able to buy out the whole town of Liverpool, and keep it on hand."

Upwards of £50,000 have been subscribed towards erecting fifty additional churches in London. The Bishop of that city, headed the subscription with a donation of $2000.

THE NAVY.—Capt. George Back was presented to the King, at the Royal Levee, on the 25th May, on his appointment to the Terror bomb-vessel, in which he was immediately to sail, on a new voyage of discovery. He intends to go up Wager river as far as he can; from which point he anticipates he can complete his survey of the northern shore of the American Continent, from Cape Turnagain, which he reached in his first expedition, to Victoria Headland, the point where he made the sea in his last expedition. Lieutenants W. Smyth and Owen Stanley, and Assistant Surgeon J. A. Mould, have likewise been appointed to the Terror.

Buckie Fishing.—On Wednesday, the first of the fishing boats took their departure from Buckie, (a small fishing station in Aberdeenshire,) for the southern markets, laden with white fish. The oldest inhabitant of the village does not recollect any season which has been equally successful. One day, lately, the boats came in, and landed the enormous number of 124,596 haddocks, and on another, 200,020! The cod, or great line fishing has been equally prosperous averaging from 18,000 to 21,000, at each return of the yawls from sea. In consequence of these extraordinary "takes," the sea-beach on a fine day, presents a very animated picture, forcibly reminding the spectator of the cheerful season of hay-making (barring the odour,) some being engaged in spreading, and others turning, stacking &c., so that the shore is generally covered for a mile and a half. The money realised for the produce of this fortunate season will make ample amends for the failure of the herring fishing for the last two years.

Important to Dealers in Guns.—A case was tried recently at the Somerset Assizes in England, for the recovery of compensation in damages for the loss of a son's services, under the following circumstances:—The defendant exposed a double barreled gun for sale, which he warranted to be a sound, safe, and perfect gun; it turned out that the gun was an inferior one, that it burst, and shattered the left hand of the plaintiff's son, rendering amputation necessary. The Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff—damages £30.

Vapour Baths vs. Hydrophobia.—A French Physician, being seized with hydrophobia, and entertaining no expectation of recovery, went into a vapour bath, heated to 42 degrees Reaumur, (126 Fahrenheit,) as the easiest means of suffocation. To his astonishment the whole symptoms vanished at once and he has never since had the slightest recurrence of this dreadful disease. By the same means he has cured upwards of eighty patients.

We have examined this morning an IMPROVED SHIP'S CAPSTAN, invented by Mr. Andrew Morse, Jr. of Bloomfield, Maine. The object of the improvement is to gain, in a simple, compact, firm construction, both the quick and easy movement of the common capstan, and the full power of the compound windlass so as to supersede the latter cumbersome and awkward machine.—We understand that several practical ship-masters and builders, with many intelligent mechanics, have expressed a high opinion of its merits.—Boston Transcript.

Two Oceans within fourteen hours' sail!—The Atlantic and the Pacific are likely to be united by Yankee enterprise. The Congress of New Grenada has granted to Mr. Charles Biddle and others the exclusive privilege, for 50 years, under the name of Transportation Company of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, to navigate the river Chagress with steam. A further exclusive privilege for the same period is granted Mr. Biddle, for the transportation of goods and passengers, by the rail-way, Macadamized road, from the head of navigation of the Chagress to the city of Panama, reserving to the public a transportation road for horses and mules.

Extensive cessions of land are made to Mr. Biddle in the same decree, in which colonies of natives and foreigners may be settled, and be exempted from certain contributions for 20 years.

One of the last provisions of the decree ordains, that if two steam-boats at least are not kept constantly in such a state (excepting accidents) so as to admit of the transportation between the Atlantic and Pacific being effected in fourteen hours, the exclusive privilege is to be forfeited.

DIGBY, N. S.—Schr. Susanna, which cleared for St. Andrews, has been detained, Clem Petito, her master, having been committed to the County prison on a charge of murdering a seaman, name unknown, on his last voyage from Eastport to this port. There are two accomplices, passengers by the same vessel, who have hitherto evaded the hand of justice.

Mr. Simon Newcomb, of Wallace, advertises in the Pictou Bee, for emigrants to proceed to Texas, from which place he has lately returned. If the Pictou and Wallace folk know which side of their bread is buttered, they will stay where they are—we opine.—Yarmouth Herald.

KING'S COLLEGE, WINDSOR.

JUNE 28.—At a Convocation held this day, the Rev. James Shreve, A. M., Rector of Chester, was duly admitted to the Degree of Doctor of Divinity.

We shortly since announced the appointment of the Rev. Geo. J. Mountain, D. D. heretofore the Archdeacon of Quebec to the newly created Bishopric of Montreal, under the Church of England. It would appear that his holiness the Pope has followed a somewhat similar plan and has established a new Bishopric in Canada, to be comprehended within this district. The Bishop of Telmesse will no longer hold a title in partibus, but assume the designation of that of Montreal.

The Hon. John Quincy Adams has been appointed by the City Authorities to deliver an Euology on the late President Madison. The services in commemmoration of his decease will probably take place at the latter part of August.

Grinding old Garments into new.—Sir George Head, in his tour through the Manufacturing districts, gives the following account of a new trade carried on at Dewsbury: Literally tearing in pieces fusty old rags, collected from Scotland, Ireland, and the Continent, by a machine called a "devil," till a substance very like the original wool is reproduced; this, by the help of a small addition of new wool, is respun and manufactured into sundry useful coarse articles, such as the wadding which is introduced within the collars of fashionable coats, and various descriptions of druggets, horse sheeting, &c. The trade or occupation of the late owner, his life, and habits, or the filthiness and antiquity of the garment itself, oppose no bar to this wonderful progress of regeneration; whether from the scare-crow or the gibbet, it makes no difference; so that, according to the transmutation of human affairs, it no doubt does frequently happen, without figure of speech or metaphor, that the identical garment to-day exposed to the sun and rain in a Kentish cherry orchard, or saturated with tobacco smoke on the back of a beggar in a pot house, is doomed in its turn "perfusus liquidis odoribus," to grace the swelling collar, or add dignified proportion to the chest of the dandy. Old flannel petticoats, serge ... are not only unravelled and brought to their original thread by the claws of the devil, but this machine, by the way, simply a series of cylinders armed with iron hooks, effectually, it is said, pulls to pieces and separates the pitch mark of the sheep's back,—which latter operation really is a job worthy of the very devil himself. Those who delight in matters of speculation have here an ample field, provided they feel inclined to extend their researches on this doctrine of the transmigration of coats; for their imagination would have room to range in unfettered flight, even from the blazing galaxy of a regal drawing room, down to the night cellars and lowest haunts of London, Germany, Poland, Portugal, &c. as well as probably to other countries visited by the plague. But as such considerations would only tend to put a man out of conceit with his own coat, or afflict some of my fair friends with an antipathy to flannel altogether, they are much better let alone. * * It is really extraordinary to observe, on taking a portion of shoddy in the hand as it comes from the mill, the full extent of its transmutation—how perfectly the disentanglement of the filament has been effected; although, notwithstanding its freshened appearance, time and temperance must have inevitably brought it nearer to the period of ultimate decay.

Natural requisites for the learned professions.—'Na, I'm grieved to think about thae callants o' ours,' said the careful mother of three promising young men, to the sagacious father; "I'm grieved to think about them, for I muckle doubt we'll never be able to mak any thing wise-like o' them.' 'Never fash your thoomb about the callants, Janet,' said the old man; 'there's na fear o' the callants; we's gie them lair, and that'll set them on their feet. Nae doubt Charlie is a run de'il, and owre coorse and furysome a fallow to make a wright, or a weaver, or a tailor o' him; but he'll do for a doctor, for though he could not be trusted to wark among dear mahogany, nor to handle fyke warp and weft, nor to rin the sh ers through guid braid claith, he'll do well enough for physicking and the setting o' banes. As for Jock, there's nae denying that he's a loppy, sneeckdrawing, pawky scoonerel, and no inclined to win his bread at any honest calling; but, wi' a tift o' the lair in his head, he'll make a cap'tal lawyer, and answer weel for the dispensing o' justice. And though, as ye ken, Tam is but a fule, wi' as little sense or gumption as a sokin turkey, and no fit to learn ony trade like a wise body—we'll put him through the college, and when he comes out he'll be qualified to get a kirk, and to be a teacher o' the people.'—Ayr Advertiser.

Poetical Superscription.—A letter with the following direction was dropped into the Post Office at Bangor, last week:—

As I'm directed rather queer,
And look so mighty knowing,
It may be you would like to hear
To whom, and where I'm going:
To Saccarappa, State of Maine,
I'm sent, and shall not fail,
For I've implicit confidence
In Amos Kendall's mail.
Post Masters! Fail not, on your peril,
To give me to Miss S. U. Merrill.
