GREAT-BRITAIN, &c.

PARLIAMENTARY SUMMARY.

HOUSE OF LORDS.—April 13.

MUNICIPAL REFORM BILL.

Lord Melbourne moved the second reading of the Municipal Reform (Ireland) Bill. He reminded their Lordships, that the bill came before them backed with the recommendation of a considerable majority of the other house; nay, more, that in as far as a condemnation of the present system of Corporations in Ireland went, the bill came recommended by the unanimous opinion of the House of Commons. The noble Viscount then recapitulated most of the leading provisions of the bill, and pointed out the changes which had been made in the measure in its passage through the other house. In allusion to the amendment moved in the other house to merge all the existing rights in those of the rest of the country, the noble viscount ably contended, that there was no such difference between the situation or characters of the people of the two countries as would justify them in making such a difference between the measures granted to England and Scotland and to Ireland, as the adoption of that amendment would create. He concluded by moving the second reading of the bill.

Lord Lyndhurst spoke at great length, and described, in his speech, the course which he proposed to pursue. He did not intend to oppose the second reading, but in the Committee he would submit amendments, the object of which would be the suppression of the existing Corporations, as their continuance was not required for any useful purpose. After pointing out several defects and inconsistencies in the bill, his Lordship declared, it was because the measure now recommended by the noble viscount, in his mind, alarmingly increased the tendency to agitation, so long witnessed with painful anxiety by most of their lordships, that he should deeply regret, such a measure should be permitted to pass through that house, and become finally the law. He must say, and he would say it with the deepest regret, that if the future Municipal Corporations of Ireland come to be such, as in all probability they must be, from the principal enactments in this bill, those Municipal institutions must become, not as has been said by a well-known political leader, "schools for agitation," but schools for sedition; and there would be just reason to anticipate, that the result of such a state of things in Ireland must be to endanger the union between the two countries, and shake the empire to its very centre.

The Marquis of Lansdowne spoke in favour of the bill, contending that the people of Ireland had as much right as the people of England to manage their own affairs through persons of their own choice.

The Earls of Mansfield, Falmouth, Winchilsea, Roden, and Ripon opposed the bill, and the Marquis of Clanricarde supported it. The bill was then read a second time.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.—April 18.

Mr. P. Scrope enquired whether the Government intended to bring forward any measures regarding the poor of Ireland, founded on the recent report.

Lord J. Russell answered, that the report was most important, and that the measures recommended in it required the most cautious consideration; but he might at once state, that the Government could not find it convenient to bring in any measure this session. As the measures would have an effect on Ireland for 100 years to come, it would be requisite to proceed with the most cautious deliberation. Lord J. Russell afterwards observed, in reply to Mr. Mark Philips, that a measure was under consideration to afford facilities to the rendering of Corporations more effectual in such towns as might apply for charters.

Sir Peregrine Maitland is to proceed to Madras, as Commander in Chief.

Sir John Franklin is to be Governor of Van Dieman's Land, in the place of Colonel Arthur.

The New Master in Chancery.—The vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Mr. Trower, in the Masters in Chancery, has been filled up by the appointment of Mr. Senior, a gentleman whose practice has been principally confined to conveyancing. Mr. William Russell, of the Chancery Bar, was very strongly recommended by Lord John Russell, Lord Melbourne, and Mr. Spring Rice, for the appointment, as was Mr. Stephenson, the son-in-law of the Earl of Essex, by the Duke of Sussex; and it is rumoured that the Chancellor and Lord Langdale refused both applications, alleging that Mr. Senior and Mr. Duckworth were the most eligible of those likely to accept the appointment, and the choice ultimately fell upon the former gentleman.

The new Poor Law.—The following appears in the Brighton Guardian:—"The Earl of Ashburnham and Lady Webster have severally warned their tenants to quit, or pay a heavy advance of rent, in consequence of the reduction of their poor rates."

Green Peas from Portugal.—Among the various new branches of trade which the establishment of steam communication has created, that of the introduction of green peas, at this early period of the season, deserves to be mentioned. There were some excellent green peas, in good and fresh condition, at Covent Garden Market, on Monday, brought from Lisbon by the Peninsula Steam Navigation Company's packet Liverpool.—Liverpool Albion, April 25.

Destruction of King William III.'s Statue.—Colonel Webber Smith, of the Artillery, Serjeant Innerdale, of the Engineers, Mr. Kertland, the chemist, and some other individuals, were on Saturday examined by the Magistrates of College Street Police Office, respecting the means used in destroying the Statue of King William, in College Green. They have all arrived at the conclusion that gunpowder was not employed in the affair; and Mr. Kertland was of opinion, that the fulminating silver discovered by Dr. Fordyce, or Howard's fulminating mercury, was the medium used to effect the explosion.

On Thursday night the Marquess of Waterford was again making himself conspicuous in the pugilistic world, by abusing three poor glee singers, but we are happy to state that although the Marquess was clad in buff, his customers were perhaps more powerful than he thought of, for they gave him a handsome dressing to cover his naked skin with, and he was contented with being closely packed in a post-chaise and driven home.

A report was current in Paris on the 15th, that the English Government had addressed to the President of the Council of France, through the medium of its Ambassador, a note destined for Don Carlos, and for which the approval of M. Thiers was asked. The tenor of the note was said to be to this effect:—

"It is absolutely necessary that the civil war, which is now desolating Spain should have a termination; and the best method of attaining this end, is the return within a month of your Royal Highness into England or France. A position worthy of your high birth will be given you there; but in case of your refusal, the Allied Powers are ready to use all the means in their power to force your Royal Highness to submit to the law of necessity."

It is not said whether M. Thiers has yet made known his intentions to the Ambassador.

The Messager, in which the above note appeared, says it will not undertake to guarantee its authenticity. There is nothing more in the Paris Papers to which the slightest interest can attach.

Up to the 1st of April, the British Legion in Spain had lost forty officers and upwards of seven hundred men, principally from sickness.

Cholera.—The cholera has again broken out at Venice, and spreads rapidly; it has also re-appeared in different parts of Italy.

Important Notice.—The Ambassadors of France and England have notified to the Porte and to Mehemet Ali, respectively, that if either attack the other, the combined fleets of France and England will instantly act against the aggressor; an intimation which will in all likelihood, ensure, for a time, the maintenence of peace between the Sultan and his nominal vassal.

Influence of Napoleon in France.—M. Thiers did not fully explain, in the Tribune, what he thought; for, in the Hall of Conferences, he said, "I desire no better than to have the mortal remains of Napoleon brought to France; but, then, you will first of all assure me, that three millions of people will not accompany them from the place of landing to the place of Vendome." These words, which are the fairest tribute to the memory of Napoleon, are not destitute of truth. The French have an extremely lively imagination, and it is impossible to say what a powerful effect might be produced, at a given time, by the presence of the mortal remains of Napoleon.—Bon Sens.

Dr. Tier, of Germany, has invented a process, by means of which beet root can be transformed into solid white sugar in the space of eight hours. The produce in October and December last, under his process, including the molasses, was from 9 to 10 per cent.

It is stated of James Hogg, the Ettrick Shepherd, that at the age of twenty he could neither read nor write.

In the post-mortem examination of the body of General Baron Stranch, who died lately at Vienna, a ball was found which this superior officer had received 30 years before in the wars of the empire.

Unprecedented quick Passage.—The packet ship Independence, Capt. Nye, reached Liverpool on Saturday noon, after the shortest passage ever made between New-York and Liverpool. She sailed from New-York on the evening of the 8th instant, and the interval between her leaving New-York and taking the Liverpool pilot on board was only fourteen days and five hours! The passage from port to port has frequently been made in sixteen days; once in the year 1822, the packet ship New-York made it in fifteen days and three-quarters; but the Independence is the only ship that ever accomplished it within the fifteen days.

The Courier.

SATURDAY, June 4, 1836.

By late arrivals at this port, we have received Liverpool papers to the 26th April, inclusive, from which we have made such extracts as our limited space will permit.

Saturday last, the day appointed to be kept in commemoration of the Birth of His Majesty William the Fourth, was duly honoured by the Troops and Heads of Departments, in this City.

☞ In noticing the Militia Inspections, last week, we omitted the Saint John Sea Fencibles, which Corps is ordered to assemble on the Sands, on Tuesday the 13th September, for General Inspection.

His Worship the Mayor has suspended John Short, Carman, for improper conduct.

United States Congress.—On the 23d ult. memorials were presented to the Senate, from the inhabitants of Warren County, Mississippi, praying Congress to acknowledge the independence of Texas. Many of the Senators appeared desirous of gaining further information before adopting any measures on the subject, and after some discussion, in the course of which Mr. Calhoun said, "he was anxious that the information should be such as would enable Congress to act this session—to recognize the independence of Texas—and to adopt them into the Union at one and the same time," the memorials were referred to the Committee on Foreign relations.

☞ At a Meeting of the Directors of the Saint John Bridge Company, on the 26th May, Charles Hazen, Esquire, was unanimously chosen a Director in the place of Thomas Jones, Esq. resigned.—Observer.

Novel Importation.—Among the novelties of the day, we notice the receipt of shipments of Hay in the United States from France!

James Rait and James Douglas, Esquires, of St. Andrews, have been appointed Justices of the Inferior Court of Common Pleas for the County of Charlotte.

Charlotte County Bank.—At a meeting of the Stockholders on the 2d instant, the following Gentlemen were elected Directors for the present year:—Harris Hatch, Thomas Wyer, John Wilson, James Douglas, J. W. Street, John M'Master, John M'Allister, James Parkinson, and Lewis Bliss, Esquires.—And subsequently, Harris Hatch, Esquire, was again unanimously chosen President.

Important intelligence for Canada.—We have announced in another part of this paper that Sir John Colborne had arrived in this city on his way to England. His intention was to embark in the Sheffield, in which packet accommodations had been secured.—But we learn that Sir John has this day signified to Capt. Allen, that he shall have no occasion for the apartments he had engaged, since he has most unexpectedly met with despatches in this city, requiring his return to Canada, as Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's forces in the Canadas, and other British Dependencies in North America, with the rank of Lieutenant-General. This appointment has been conferred on Sir John as a special mark of His Majesty's favor, and will be hailed by the "British party" in the Canadas, with whom the new Commander-in-Chief was deservedly popular, as a signal triumph.—N. York Com. Adv.

Paying Militia.—The citizens of Northampton, in New Hampshire, at their late town meeting, voted to pay the Militia of that town seventy-five cents per day for their services, while doing military duty.

Our Minister to England.—Mr. Stevenson and his lady reached this City in the last steam boat from Norfolk, and are now at Mrs. Latimer's. Mr. S. will remain here a few days preparatory to his departure, receiving instructions, &c. It is understood he will sail on the 1st of June for London. He goes in the packet ship Montreal, having declined a national ship, which was tendered him. We trust his may be a prosperous voyage and a prosperous mission.—Washington Globe.

The Honorable Edward Livingston, late Minister of the United States, to France, died on the 23d ult. at Red Hook, N. Y. after a brief illness.

Robinson, the young man charged with the murder of Ellen Jewett, was brought into Court in N. York on Tuesday, and the trial postponed until Saturday the 4th of June.

The favourable news from Texas is fully confirmed. Santa Anna is defeated and taken prisoner. He has offered to grant the Independence of Texas, to leave the country, and pay all the expenses of the war, if set at liberty. But Gen. Houston will not let him off easily, and he will yet be made to expiate the cruelties he has inflicted upon those who had previously fallen into his hands. There can be no doubt now of the final triumph of the Texians, as Mexico can never raise another army for such an invasion. We are waiting anxiously for fuller particulars.—New-York Emigrant.

Mr. Chubb.—Our intelligent friend of the Saint Andrews' Standard, quotes from American papers some remarks on the importation of Asses into the United States. They are a valuable animal!—But you may acquaint his correspondent, (the Kennebec Journal,) that the Zebra has not only been tamed, but rendered serviceable, by the celebrated Ducrow, in England—who has trained them for Amphitheatrical purposes. Your's,

Pons Asinorum.

Passengers in the ship Barlow, from Liverpool—H. G. Kinnear, Esq. Miss Kinnear, Mr. Kay, Masters Stanfield and Lethbridge.

In the Evergreen, for Liverpool—The Lady and daughters of Major Slade, R. E.

In the Charity from Londonderry—Mr. Hunter, of Letterkenny, Ireland.

In the Aimwell, from Londonderry—Mr. Peter Robertson.

In the Kangaroo, from Cork—Mr. Robert Clerke and family.

 The Committee meet every morning at ten o'clock, (Sundays excepted.)

MARRIED.

On Tuesday evening, the 17th instant, by the Rev. Dr. Gray, Mr. Robert Kempson, to Miss Ann Peel, both of this City.

On Thursday, by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Charles Humphreys, of the Parish of Portland, to Miss Mary Ann Cowan, of the City and County of Saint John.

On Friday, by the same, Mr. Daniel Tudhope, of the parish of Portland, to Miss Marion Wilson, of the City and County of Saint John.

DIED.

On Monday last, James, third son of Mr. Samuel Richey, aged 6 years.

On Tuesday evening last, Mrs. Ann Walker, mother of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Scoullar, in the 81st year of her age.

She was educated from her youth in the Scriptural principles of the Presbyterian Church, and continued to the end of her days, in the view of the world, a uniform and consistent member of that body. It was not, however, till the latter period of her life and after she became an invalid, that she was visited by the special grace of God, by which she was led to see the natural enmity of her heart, and to bewail her exceeding sinfulness.—Under this view of herself, which all who are saved must experience more or less, she continued to groan for many days, when at length the Spirit of God taking of the things that are Christ's and shewing them to her soul, dispelled her gloom and communicated joy and peace. In her christian experience she became daily better acquainted with the deceitfulness and depravity of her heart, the temptations of Satan, and her awful unworthiness, and was thence led, under the teaching of the Holy Spirit, to appreciate more highly what the Scriptures testify concerning the name, blood, and righteousness of Jesus. The happy Spirit is now gone to the possession of those eternal joys, for which she so ardently longed, and her flesh rests in hope of the blessed resurrection.—Com

Yesterday, in the 73d year of her age, Mary Harkley, relict of the late Mr. Lewis Fraser, a native of Charleston, S. C. and for many years a resident in this city.—She cherished a sacred regard for the doctrines and precepts of the Bible, by which she regulated her life. For many years she was a worthy member of the Baptist Church in this city, to which she endeared herself by a spirit of Christian charity which characterized her whole demeanour.

Funeral on Monday next, at 4 o'clock, from the residence of Robert Robertson, Esq. Lower Cove.

The late Henry Nase, Esquire, whose death we recorded in our obituary of last week, was born at Dover, in the state of New-York—early in life he met with many difficulties from his steady adherence to the cause of the loyalists. In 1776 he joined the Royalist Army at King's Bridge, and after serving upwards of six years in the King's American Regiment, came with the first settlers in 1783 to New-Brunswick, where he has since constantly resided, and has successively filled many highly respectable situations both civil and military with advantage to the community and honor to himself. His zeal in the promotion of religion was as sincere and unostentatious as his support of it was liberal and steady.—During Mr. N's protracted life he bore the character of an upright man—his deportment was uniformly mild, benevolent, and endearing. He has left a widow and a large family who severely deplore their bereavement, and with his numerous acquaintances will long feel their loss in his removal from them.

"Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord "from henceforth: yea, saith the spirit, that they "may rest from their labours; and their works "do follow them."
