MISCELLANEOUS SELECTIONS.

Spanish and French Alliance.—Louis Philippe has triumphed—his hopes are accomplished, and the Duke de Montpensier is now the husband of the Infanta of Spain; the marriage took place at nine o'clock in the evening of the 10th October.

The English Ambassador made a protest—a second protest—"to the effect that the British Government will refuse to recognise the claims of this alliance to the throne of Spain." The terms of this decision are short and determined; but the events which may one day or other hinge upon it threaten to be protracted and unsatisfactory. Time alone will show whether the fears so openly avowed relative to the young Queen will be realized. For the sake of peace, we hope they may not; but come peace or war, it is very clear to those who have taken the trouble to understand the Spanish character, that the Duke de Montpensier, or any other Frenchman, or his descendant, will never be allowed to retain quietly a large share of power in the Peninsula.

A telegraphic despatch from Madrid gives the following account of the marriage of the Queen and her sister, in the magnificent Hall of Ambassadors:

Before the entrance of the Queen and the Royal Family, the following arrangements were made by the masters of the ceremonies. On the right of the throne were placed five chairs, destined for the Infanta Luisa Fernando, the Duke de Montpensier's intended; the Infante Francisco de Paula, the Infante Francisco de Paula Antonio, the Infante Francisco de Assiz, the Queen's bridegroom, and the Dukes de Aumale and Montpensier.

On the left of the throne, and at a little distance from it, stood a sumptuous Altar, surmounted by a cross; upon it lay the insignia of the Patriarch of the Indies. On its right were ranged the six honorary chaplains of the Queen, to assist that Prelate.

These preparations being concluded, and the Patriarch of the Indies having attired himself in mitre, cope, and stole, and placed himself before the Altar, the Queen and her mother, accompanied by all the Royal Family, with the exception of the bridegrooms, entered, the two Queens placing themselves in the order mentioned above, every one standing up to receive them. Four grandees, four major domos of the week, four gentlemen in waiting, and two ushers, then proceeded in search of the Infante Francisco de Assiz and the Duke de Montpensier, and on returning to the door of the saloon, the Court Secretary announced their Royal Highnesses, saying, "Senora, the Princes;" whereupon the Dukes of Bailen, Castroterreno, and Rianzares, and the Duke d'Aumale, the French Ambassador, and Baron Athalin, the respective sponsors of the bridegrooms, left their seats and led in their Royal Highnesses, who, after bowing to the Queen and the Infanta, passed on to their chairs. This was the signal for the commencement of the religious part of the ceremony. The Queen, who was as pale as her sister was flushed, descended the steps of the throne, the Infante Francisco de Assiz placing himself by her side, the Queen Mother being on Her Majesty's right hand. At the same time the Infanta and the Duke de Montpensier, with the Duke d'Aumale, stationed themselves on the right of Queen Christina. The Patriarch of the Indies then read a short exhortation upon the duties of matrimony, and proceeded through the usual form of demanding of the principals whether there was any impediment why they should not enter the bonds of holy wedlock, and whether they accepted each other for husband and wife. He then blessed them with the sign of the cross, in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. This concluded the ceremony, and immediately after Queen Christina, who was observed to raise her handkerchief to her eyes more than once during its continuance, embraced her daughters and kissed the Duke de Montpensier and the Infante Francisco de Assiz upon the forehead; at the same time the brides and bridegrooms received the congratulations of the Royal Family, and the Queen and her sister retired with their husbands.

Death of the Right Hon. Sir Brooke Taylor, G. C. H.—This aged knight, for many years a distinguished member of the British corps diplomatique, died on Thursday last, at the venerable age of 70, having during his career represented the British interests at the courts of Berlin, Munich, Hesse Cassel, and Wirtemburg. He never was married. By the demise of the right hon. gentleman an annual pension of £1 336 reverts to the public purse, he having enjoyed that yearly income nearly twenty years for his diplomatic services.

Will of the late Lord Metcalfe.—The will was made on the 28th July, 1846. The personal estate in England, and within the Province of Canterbury, was estimated for duty at £100.000. To Lieutenant James Metcalfe he leaves a specific bequest of £50,000 sterling, books, engravings, plate, &c. Bequeaths to James Macauly Higginson, Esq., late civil secretary, and his lordship's private secretary in Canada, £20.000 sterling.—To his lordship's sister, Viscountess Ashbrook, £1000; to his sister, Mrs. Georgianna Smyth, an annuity of £500; to his trustees and executors each, £1000. Leaves to his butler and valet an annuity of £100, as also a legacy of £200, and the whole of his wardrobe, to his under butler £1000.

Enlargement of the Goodwin Sands.—In consequence of the extraordinary extension of these sands in the direction of the Bunt Head, it has been found necessary to move the light-vessel half a mile further to the westward, in order to cover the shoal, and the buoy that marks the extreme end of the Bunt Head sixty fathoms further in a S.W. direction. A shoal has also sprung up in the Gull Stream, in the direct track of the navigation.

On Tuesday evening week, a collision took place in Kingroad, between the Herald and Phœnix steamers, and Sir William Symonds was knocked overboard, and given up as lost by every one on board; but during the night an express arrived from Clevedon, that he was safe. The tide had carried him down as far as Clevedon when he came in contact with a boat which had been at Weston-supper-Mare Regatta, and was making in to Clevedon. Sir William caught hold of the bowsprit, and was providentially saved. The distance which he floated was about nine miles!

The Lords of the Admiralty have ordered that when any of Her Majesty's ships are to be paid off, the men who choose to continue in the service may have six weeks leave of absence, their pay going on.

Abundance of mackerel have been caught lately on the Welch coasts. They have been sold at Bangor eighteen for sixpence, and at Beaumaris thirty for sixpence.

The Court of Common Pleas will exhibit some marked changes next term—a new Lord Chief Justice, a new puisne judge, with a court open to the whole bar; the exclusive privileges of serjeants-at-law have been put an end to, after an existence of 600 years, by an act of the last session of parliament.—Globe.

The Scientific Congress, lately assembled at Genoa, appointed Rome for the next place of meeting. On the resolution being submitted to Pius IX., he immediately gave it his full sanction.

Notwithstanding the great increase of railways the post-horse duties have increased during the year.

An attempt is being made to raise recruits, under the pretext of emigration, for the purpose of joining the expedition under General Flores, intended for the invasion of the States of Equador, Columbia. The agents of the parties concocting this desperate scheme are busily employed both in England and Ireland, but especially in the latter country, where the most extravagant inducements have been held out to the labouring classes to proceed as emigrants to Equador. "A free passage, good wages on the passage, and on arrival some twenty or thirty acres with a cow," are the terms offered. But the wives of families of the emigrants are not to go with them, but to follow next year. At a period of destitution like the present, these inducements have caused large numbers of persons in the county of Limerick, to flock in from the country, eager to accept the offer and embark at once. To such an extent has this affair reached, that the magistrates for the city of Limerick, have met to investigate the matter, and finding nothing to substantiate the pretences put forth in the emigration scheme, have issued a placard warning the public, not to be led astray by these fictitious allurements.

A Curious Apology.—Yesterday a funny looking man named Lapitt, dressed in a red coat, was charged with being drunk and incapable. He made the following defence—"Heaven bless your honour, I'm as innocent as a babe. By your leave I'll tell you the fact, I have got a queer leg, a most awkward leg, which sometimes shows off all manner of antics. It reels from side to side, then dashes into the middle of the road, halts suddenly, then hurries rapidly along, carrying me Heaven knows where. Presently you may see me leaping into the air, then comes the catastrophe; the other leg, as sober and well conducted a leg as any man need wish for, is thrown off its equilibrium and there is nothing to be done but to fall prostrate, when up comes a policeman and naturally fancies I am drunk." He was discharged amid the laughter of the court.—Cambridge Advertiser.

Rats.—The editor of the Western Literary Messenger says, he has got a sanctum, but the rats wont let him come into it. Why don't he try the phosphorus experiment? Here it it is.

Catch a rat in a wire trap, keep him until night. Then procure a preparation of phosphorus in oil. Apply it all over the rat, except his head, and turn him loose into a hole. Such scampering and getting out of the house as occurs, as his phosphorescent majesty pursues his alarmed friends who he is anxious to overtake, afford certainly a security against the return of the depredators for a long season. Try it, ye who doubt.

Care—The tax paid by the higher classes for their privileges and possessions. Often amounting to the full value of the property upon which it is levied: care may be termed the poor-rate of the rich.

If you wish to be happy, keep busy; idleness is harder work than ploughing, a good deal. There is more fun in sweating an hour than there is in yawning a century.

He would take this method of returning his sincere thanks to his friends for the liberal support that he has received during the last fourteen years in business, as well as to inform them that having visited London last winter, and Boston and New-York this summer, he has entered into new arrangements, by which he will be regularly supplied with every description of WATCHES, CHRONOMETERS, and all other Goods in his line, which will be sold lower than at any other establishment in this City.

Having purchased, when last in London, a splendid Astronomical CLOCK, and one of Dent's DIPLIEDESCOPES, and other Apparatus suitable for correcting and rating Marine Chronometers and completing and adjusting Nautical Instruments, and having expended a large sum to make his establishment efficient and accommodating to the Public; he would now cherish the hope of receiving a continuance of that patronage and support which the nature of this enterprize would warrant him to expect. He is aware of the opposition that the plain honest trader sometimes meets with from unprincipled and designing men; but the same principle which has guided him through evil report and good report, will govern him in his future efforts to serve the Public and himself conjointly.

☞ Chronometers and every description of Watches and Clocks, Jewellery, &c. repaired on moderate terms. JAMES AGNEW, Watchmaker, &c. King-street.

N. B.—Shipmasters are respectfully invited to an examination of the above-named CLOCK and Apparatus for rating Chronometers; and their patronage and support are solicited.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

Dr. D. Jayne.—Dear Sir: Having been for a long time afflicted with Bronchitis, a disease which annually sweeps away thousands of the human race to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of Consumption, and having heard of the great efficacy of your Expectorant for Coughs, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, and every other disease of the Lungs, I purchased two bottles of it, and am happy to inform you, and all the sons and daughters of affliction, that it immediately suppressed the cough, removed the pain and difficulty of breathing, and produced a free and easy expectoration, and very soon effected a complete cure. J. Davis, Baptist Minister, Beaver, Pa.

Rev. Dr. Babcock, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. says that knowing Dr. Jayne to be a regular physician, and having used his Medicines personally and in his family, does not hesitate to commend them as safe and eminently useful restoratives, and a valuable addition to our Materia Medica.

Rev. Jonathan Going, D.D. Professor of Granville College, Ohio, says he was labouring under a severe Cold, Cough and Hoarseness, and that his difficulty of breathing was so great that he felt himself in danger of suffocation, but was perfectly cured by using Dr. Jayne's Expectorant.

ASTONISHING EFFICACY OF HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

THE TESTIMONY OF A CLERGYMAN VOUCHING TO ELEVEN CASES OF CURES BY THESE WONDERFUL PILLS.

Extract of a Letter from the Rev. George Prior, Curate of Mevagh, Letter Kenny, Carrigart, Ireland, 10th January, 1846.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—I send you a crude list of some eleven cases, all cured by the use of your Pills, I cannot exactly give you a professional name to the various complaints, but this I know, some of them baffled the skill of Derry and this County. In a previous letter this gentleman states as follows:—Within a short distance of my house resides a small farmer, who for more than twenty years has been in a bad state of health; Mrs. Prior gave him a box of the Pills, which did him so much good that I heard him say, for twenty years past he never ate his food or enjoyed it so much as since taking your Pills.

(Signed) GEORGE PRIOR.

 The above reverend and pious gentleman purchased some pounds' worth of the Pills for the benefit of his poor parishioners.

EXTRAORDINARY CURES BY Holloway's Ointment.

CURE OF A DESPERATE CASE OF ERYSIPELIS.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Joseph Gildon, Jun., a Farmer, East Kenal, near Spilsby, Lincolnshire, 8th April, 1846.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—I have the gratification to announce to you a most wonderful cure wrought upon myself, by the use of your Ointment and Pills. I had a severe attack of Erysipelis in my right foot, which extended along my ancle, and was attended with swelling and inflammation to an alarming degree, insomuch that I was unable to move without the use of crutches. I consulted a very eminent Physician, besides other Medical men, but to no purpose. At last I tried your Ointment and Pills, when, strange to say, in less than two weeks the swelling and inflammation gradually subsided to such a degree that I was enabled to pursue my daily avocation, to the utter surprise and amazement of those who were acquainted with my case, seeing that I was cured so quickly. I and my family are well known here, as my father holds his farm under the Rev. J. Spence, Rector of our Parish.

(Signed) JOSEPH GILDON.

Holloway's Ointment will cure any cases of Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, Sore Nipples, Cancers, Tumours, Swellings, Contracted or Stiff Joints, Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Burns, Scalds, Chillblains, Chapped Hands and Lips, Bunions, Soft Corns, Piles, the Bite of Moschettoes, Sand-flies, Chiego foot, Yaws, Coco-bay, and all Skin Diseases common to Europe, or to the East and West Indies, or other Tropical climes.
