POETRY.

Fisher's Drawing Room Scrap-Book, MDCCCXL. with poetical illustrations by L. E. L. and Mary Howitt. London.

This is one of the most costly and tasteful of the new Annuals that we have yet seen. It is published in a quarto form, and beautifully bound in silk, ornamented with gold. It contains nearly forty engravings, the poorest of, which in regard to the skill with which they are executed, may well vie with the choicest productions of the most talented artists. We subjoin a specimen of the literary contents of the Scrap Book:

HOUSEHOLD TREASURES.

What are they? gold and silver,
Or what such ore can buy?
The pride of silken luxury;
Rich robes of Tyrian dye,
Guests that were thronging in
With lordly pomp and state,
Or thankless, liveried, serving men,
To stand about the gate?

Or are they daintiest meats,
Sent up on silver fine?
Or golden chased cups o'erbrimmed
With rich Falernian wine?
Or parchments setting forth
Broad lands our fathers held,
Parks for our deer, ponds for our fish,
And woods that may be felled?

No, no, they are not these, or else
God help the poor man's need!
There, sitting 'mid his little ones,
He would be poor indeed!
They are not these! our household wealth
Belongs not to degree,
It is the love within our souls—
The children at our knee!

My heart is filled with gladness
When I behold how fair,
How bright are rich men's children
With their thick, golden hair;
For I know 'mid countless treasure,
Gleaned from the east and west,
These living, loving, human things,
Are still the rich man's best!

But my heart o'erfloweth to mine eyes,
And a prayer is on my tongue,
When I see the poor man's children,
The toiling, though the young,
Gathering with sunburnt hands
The dusty way-side flowers;
Alas! that pastime symbolleth
Life's after, darker hours.

My heart o'erfloweth to mine eyes,
When I see the poor man stand,
After his daily work is done,
With children by the hand,—
And this he kisses tenderly:
And that sweet names doth call,
For I know he has no treasure,
Like these dear children small.

Oh, children young, I bless ye,
Ye keep such love alive;
And the home can ne'er be desolate,
Where love has room to thrive!
Oh, precious household treasures,
Life's sweetest, holiest claim—
The Saviour blessed ye while on earth.
I bless ye in his name,

The foregoing is beautifully illustrated in a highly finished engraving, representing a blooming mother receiving the smiling embraces of two infantine prattlers. A lap-dog appears conspicuously in the group, and is looking wistfully upwards, as careless of the divided attention bestowed upon him by the daughter, and envying to the young urchin brother the unalloyed delight to which he has climbed, in resting his ruddy cheek upon that of his fond parent.—New-Bedford Mercury.

VARIETY.

Mr. Wheaton, the American Minister at Berlin, has brought to a successful termination the negociations which have been so long pending respecting the mediation between the United States and the republic of Mexico. The King of Prussia at first hesitated to accept the mediation tendered to him by the two transatlantic republics, on account of the extreme complexity and delicacy of the question in dispute, (especially as growing out of the civil war in Texas); but some of these disputes having been amicably adjusted between the parties, his Majesty has at last consented to name M. Van Roenne, the Prussian Minister in the United States, to decide as arbiter in cases of any difference of opinion which might arise between the members of the mixed commission which is to examine the remaining claims of the two Governments, or their citizens, upon each other.

A useful Army.—It appears, from a statistical account of the public works of Sweden, that, from 1818 to 1838, the Swedish army performed in works of public utility 5,360,700 journees (the journee is the day's work of one man,) viz. canals and rivers, 4,164,000; roads and banking, 130,000; civil constructions, 240,000; fortifications, 501,700. It was by this means that, in 1832, the canal of Gotha, which connects the North Sea with the Baltic, across the widest part of the Swedish continent, was completed.

A letter from Moscow states, that about 140 soldiers have been killed or wounded, by accident, in the exercises at the camp of Borodino.

The war between the Oriental Republic and Buenos Ayres is ended, after raging four months, with the loss of one killed! Peace has been proclaimed.

Mexico has a population of 7,014,140; Texas more than 100,000.

There are 33 sovereigns in the world belonging to the Catholic church.

There are 1840 Catholic churches in Ireland, 435 in England, and in Scotland 98.

Wilson, a Protestant, calculates the number of Catholics in the world at 169 millions, the Greeks at 41, and the divided Protestants of every sect and contending creed at 50 millions.

The Freemason's Quarterly Review for October contains the portrait of the first female Freemason ever admitted, Mrs. Aldworth.

Lieutenant Colonel Angelo Taylor, recently appointed commissioner of the Bolton Police, at a salary of £500 a year, has resigned the situation, because, as he says, "it would be a complete robbery upon the inhabitants to receive such a sum for the fulfilment of an office no more important than the business of a common corporal in the regular service, viz. the management of twenty men." The gallant Colonel is truly a rara avis in terra.

We believe it is arranged that Sir John Campbell is to have the Irish Seals, merely with a view to his being insured a life pension of £4000 a year; and that the Solicitor-General, Sir Robert Rolfe, who was twice passed over on occasions of vacancies on the bench, because his seat for Penryn must be lost in the event of a new election—is now to be created the Puisne Judge, Ministers having no further occasion for a vote in the House of Commons.

More than forty persons have become bankrupts in consequence of the stoppage of the Imperial Bank of Manchester.

Society for the propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts.—We have devoted a large portion of our paper this week to a report of a public meeting of this useful and interesting Society, which took place yesterday at the Horticultural Rooms, and we were sorry to observe that the unfavourable state of the weather very much diminished the numbers that would otherwise undoubtedly have been present. The Lord Bishop of the Diocese was in the chair, and Bristol, perhaps, witnessed for the first time, three Right Rev. Prelates at one of its public meetings; our Diocesan being supported by the Lord Bishop of Nova-Scotia, and the lately created Bishop of Toronto in Upper Canada. Their Lordships gave some most interesting details concerning their respective Dioceses, and shewed the lamentable destitution of spiritual instruction in our North American Colonies. The Missionary Bishop of Toronto has been labouring in the cause of his Heavenly Master, in Canada, for the long space of forty years, and sails for his transatlantic Diocese, in the Great Western, this day. During the meeting a spirited individual informed the indefatigable Secretary, the Rev. G. N. Barrow, that he should give £10 if nine similar sums could be found; in a few minutes £110 were subscribed. This tribute at once evinced the rapidly increasing interest felt in behalf of this noble and most important Society.

Important to Shipowners.—The following resolution has been lately passed at a special meeting of the General Committee for managing the affairs of Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping, viz.:—That it will be made a regulation that every ship, after her return from a voyage beyond the Cape of Good Hope, or Cape Horn, shall, previously to her departure upon another distant voyage, be required to be placed in dry dock, or on the ways, for the examination of her bottom."—And notice has been given, that the regulation will be adopted and carried into effect forthwith.

Ornamental Bricks.—It is not generally known that all kinds of ornamental bricks may be now made without their being subject to more than double duty. This information may conduce to the re-introduction of the ancient style of brick-work, which contributed so much to the beauty of the architecture of Henry and Elizabeth.

Orders have been received at the Royal Dock Yard at Woolwich, from the Commissioners of the Lords of the Admiralty, to build a steam ship of 200-horse power, to be named the Lizard. She is to be constructed with all possible expedition.

The Legislature of Jamaica has voted £50,000 for the purpose of promoting the establishing of mulberry plantations and the culture of silk in that Island.

NO is a very useful word—be not afraid to use it. Many a man has pined in misery for many years by not having courage to pronounce that little monosyllable.

The printer of an eastern paper says, that many of his patrons would make good wheel-horses, they hold back so well. In England, said a Printer's Devil, they would do for a long race, because they are so very long winded.
