at the head of King-street, recently the residence of the late Thomas Millidge, Esquire.
The House has just undergone many improvements, with additions; and a spacious Stable and large Shed have been erected, which, with the central situation of the Establishment, combine every superior advantage for the accommodation of country readers, or visitors to the city in general.
I. F. will particularly inform the Farmers who visit the City to market their produce, that they will find every convenience and facility to meet their wishes, and to ensure them that no inconvenience, however, that all who have hitherto favoured him, with their patronage will give him a call in his new situation.
