POETRY.

[FOR THE COURIER.]

TO THE CITY OF SAINT JOHN,

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF SIX YEARS.

God bless the dear hands, held out in each street,
To welcome me back, and bless all that I meet,
My friends and my neighbours in kindness smile on,
I'm happy to meet you, dear little Saint John.

For your friendship I mourn'd on cold English ground,
Alone and unknown amid millions around,
Now the warm face of feeling my eye feasts upon,
And my chill'd heart rekindles, dear litle St. John.

I thought 't was benumb'd and no more could feel,
Such social delights that misfortunes all heal;
Now with pleasure my eyes and my feet will rove on
To mark your improvement, my little Saint John.

Your streets and your houses have widened, I find,
Your fogs have dispersed, and your sun looks more kind,
Your moon, through clear heavens, sails beautifully on,
And quiets my sorrows, dear little Saint John.

Your children have grown; and the wild girlish face,
Now discreetly moves onward with womanly grace,
May your beautiful maidens and matrons bloom on,
And long be your pride, my dear little Saint John.

To manhood, are changed, the once mad'ning boys,
Who with stately steps measure the streets without noise;
Physic, Law and Divinity resting upon
Their now thoughtful faces, my little Saint John.

While commercial plans or mechanical arts,
Other visages sober, and burthen their hearts;
While heads, silvery grown, cry, Time 's best'ning on,
May we number our days, my dear little St. John.

Your steamers have brought little Carleton so near,
That ladies may boat it all day without fear;
And their delicate robes of beauty put on,—
Your wharves now wont soil them, my little Saint John.

While Halifax, Windsor and Digby now seem,
With St. Andrews and Eastport, to float here by steam,
And news from all countries still marching on,
With the bold stride of intellect—well done Saint John!

If our young Queen were here, I'm sure she would join,
In our boast, and be proud of her Colony, fine;
For wise Legislators, she might look upon,
And true loyalty find in her little Saint John.

As in regions of Coronets, Sceptres and Crowns,
Where envy with titles, too often, abounds;
But that sacred person may Heaven smile on,
VICTORIA forever—and bless my Saint John.

King street, 8th July, 1840. R. M.

DEFERRED ITEMS.

WEST INDIES.—State of the Markets.—The following list of prices is taken from the latest and most authentic letters received in this town.—St. Andrews Standard.

TRINIDAD.—The Unity's cargo from St. Stephen sold at $21 for Boards, and $5¼ for Shingles. The Elizabeth's cargo from St. John, was offered at $20 for Boards, and not sold 8th June.

DEMERARA.—Boards $24 to $25—Shingles $5½ to $6.

BARBADOES.—Boards $21 to $22—Shingles $4½ to $5.

A SPECK OF WAR.—The N. Y. Journal of Commerce has received letters from Panama to the 29th of May. They state that war had been declared by Peru against Bolivia, and the rebellion in the Province of Pasto, (one of the Southern Provinces of New Grenada,) had broken out afresh. To add to the troubles of the times, the small pox was raging there, and also in the Isthmus, to an alarming extent.

FIRE AT NEW-YORK.—A letter dated New-York, 4th inst., 4½ P. M. states that a fire broke out about 4 o'clock, in the oil store of C. V. B. Ostrander, Fulton, next the corner of Greenwich street, and at half-past 4 the firemen were slow in getting into operation. The large drug store of John Morrison & Son, the crockery ware store of Humbert & Lent, and the shop of——Gassner, copper smith, all on Greenwich street, the latter making the corner, were expected to be burnt.—The Transcript states that the fire was caused by sparks from fire-works, and that a woman and a child perished in the conflagration. Six buildings are said to have been burnt in Elizabeth street the same day.

The Navigation of the United States.—According to the statement which we published yesterday, derived from the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, lately laid before Congress, it appears that the amount of registered and enrolled tonnage, and of fishing vessels, of the United States, on the 30th of September last, was 2,096,478 tons. The aggregate of the preceding year was 1,995,639 tons, making an increase of 100,739 tons during the year. The reported tonnage of vessels built during the year was 120,988 tons.

It appears from the statement above cited, that the amount of foreign shipping which entered at the ports of the United States during the year 1832 was nearly equal to half the American shipping which entered from foreign ports; while the value of goods imported in foreign vessels compared with the imports in American vessels, was only about an eighth part. The value of exports in foreign vessels was something more than a quarter part of the value exported in American vessels.—There is no increase, but rather a diminution of foreign shipping, compared with the amount of American tonnage entered and cleared.—Boston Daily Advertiser, July 2.

The Alexandria Gazette of Friday says—" The harvest is now going on in all this section of the country. Notwithstanding the partial prevalence of rust and the fly, the crop of wheat may be considered a good one, and the quality is also good. There is a partial failure in rye. On the whole, the labours of the husbandman, thus far, have been crowned with success.

The Oswego Herald contains a report of Lett's trial, from which we copy the sentence pronounced on the criminal by Judge Gridley, as follows:—

" You have been tried for the crime of arson, committed in an attempt to destroy by fire the steam boat Great Britain, and the jury have declared you guilty of the offence. Their verdict has the full approbation of the court, and indeed so clear was the evidence of your guilt that the able counsel (N. Hill, Esq.) who conducted your defence, declined addressing the jury in your behalf. Your object in the commission of this crime, so far as it is disclosed by the testimony, was to destroy the British steam boats, so as to prevent the transportation of troops from point to point, in the event of a future contemplated invasion of Canada. This object, so far from mitigating, in the opinion of the court, aggravates, and adds to the atrocious character of the offence. You could have no rational expectation of effecting a revolution in Canada. The history of the late abortive attempt to achieve that object conclusively establishes the fact, that the great mass of the Canadian population are satisfied with the existing government.

" The motive, therefore, that prompts a hostile descent upon the Canadian territory, must be wholly vindictive and fiendish. Such an enterprise would not now rise even to the doubtful dignity of rebellion, but would be marked by the baser characteristics of common robbery and murder. If, therefore, this act was committed for the purpose of promoting such an object, it rises in the scale of guilt, and exhibits you as the intended perpetrator of the most atrocious acts which man can commit against his fellow man. The means, too, which you employed to destroy the boat in question, mark the daring recklessness of your character. The explosion of the combustible materials prepared to destroy the boat, could not and did not occur without causing the greatest danger of the destruction of human life. The offence you have thus committed is a bold and flagrant violation of the laws of this state, to which you have fled for protection. This country affords to the exile of foreign land the same protection which she extends to her native citizens, and demands in return the same obedience to her laws. For these reasons the Court deem it their duty to pronounce upon you the sentence which involves the highest punishment assigned by the law to the grade of arson of which you have been convicted."

The prisoner manifested a dogged and hardened composure during the whole trial, and occasionally put on a sneering smile. He evidently expected great assistance from his brother " patriots" upon his defence. The principal witness against him was his accomplice, Defoe: Lett's four pistols and bowie knife, with which he was armed when arrested, were brought into Court, and looked like the weapons of a highwayman or brigand. Revenge for the death of a relative on board of the Caroline, and other supposed injuries, seems to have been his principal motive; and revenge may again make him a dangerous man to be let loose upon a community, after the term of his imprisonment shall expire.

The New Orleans Picayune says—" It is a fact worthy of notice, that the gentlemen now employed taking the census of this city have not yet met with an unmarried lady whose age comes up to, or exceeds thirty, taking their words for it.

The Buffalo, N. Y. Sun gives the following illustration of the absurdity of adhering to abstract theorists:—

Mr. Graham having demonstrated to the satisfaction of the world, that man ought not to eat flesh, has retired from public life. Dr. Combe of Edinburgh, having demonstrated that flesh is the best food for man, and that butchers seldom or never die of consumption, has been appointed physician to his Majesty the King of the Belgians.

To whom does she belong?—Chief Justice Shaw, in deciding a case the other day, remarked that, " If a married woman has good proof that her husband is dead, she may marry again, and if her husband turns out to be alive and returns, she undoubtedly would not be guilty of bigamy, because the guilty intent was wanting; but which husband would be entitled to her would be a matter of doubt."

Method of restoring Life to the apparently Drowned—Recommended by the " Royal Humane Society of England," instituted in the year 1774. Avoid all rough usage. Do not hold up the body by the feet, or roll it on casks or barrels, or rub it with salt or spirits, or apply tobacco. Lose not a moment in carrying the body to the nearest house, with the head and shoulders raised. Place it in a warm room if the weather is cold. Preserve silence, and positively admit no more than three intelligent persons. Let the body be instantly stripped, dried, and wrapped in hot blankets, which are to be frequently renewed. Keep the mouth, nostrils, and throat free and clean. Apply warm substances to the back, spine, pit of the stomach, arm-pits, and soles of the feet. Rub the body with heated flannel, or cotton, or warm hands. Attempt to restore breathing by gently blowing with a bellows into one nostril, closing the mouth and the other nostril. Press down the breast carefully, with both hands, and then let it rise again, and thus imitate natural breathing. Keep up the application of heat—continue the rubbing—increase it when life appears, and then give a tea spoon full of warm water, or very weak brandy and water, or wine and water. Persevere for six hours. Send quickly for medical assistance.

LONDON.—It is stated that this metropolis contains upwards of 160,000 houses; that it has from 7000 to 7100 streets, and that it extends over more than 3000 acres. It is supposed to be upwards of twenty-five miles in circumference, and has a population of 1,200,000, which is annually increasing.

" Black Mail."—Owing to the crowded state of the streets in London, it became necessary for Parliament to pass a law for the regulation of carriages and omnibuses, the penalties of which are very severe. This opened a glorious field for the speculations of that numerous class of London loafers—the informers. Among the foremost of this tribe, stands one Jack Byers. So unceasing and harassing was he in his informations, that the omnibus owners finally bribed him, at a shilling per week each, to desist from his tormenting profession; and his new system of plunder nets him a weekly income of over $50.

Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, lately gave £2000 for the propagation of the gospel in the Highlands of Scotland.

There is a grape vine at Castletown, Ireland, which is 100 feet in length, and so luxuriantly productive as to make it necessary for the gardener to thin it by cutting off 2000 bunches—leaving 3500 bunches on the vine.

A great sale of paintings took place in London, recently, amounting to $141,000. One of the paintings, " The Good Shepherd," was sold to Baron Rothschild for $14,789.

A French news-crier, who, having violated the regulations of the police by crying false statements as to the contents of the papers which he sold, was deprived of the medal which authorised him to cry news, threw himself into the Seine, in a fit of despair, and was drowned.
