UNITED STATES EXPLORING EXPEDITION.—Accounts from the Sandwich Islands to the 24th Oct. have been received at New-York, announcing the arrival there of the vessels composing the United States Exploring Expedition. We do not notice by the accounts in the American papers that any important discoveries had been made, in addition to that of the great Antarctic Continent, noticed some time since, in extracts from New South Wales papers.

After leaving New Zealand, the squadron rendezvoused at the Tonga Islands, where a civil war was raging between the Christian and Heathen parties. The latter are stated to have proved victorious.

The squadron spent three months in surveying the Fejee Islands. They are three hundred in number, mostly small. The natives were treacherous in the extreme, and the worst of cannibals. They came alongside of the vessels devouring human flesh, and the men are said occasionally to eat their own wives and children. A chief was captured, and is now on board the Vincennes, who, seven years since, killed ten of the crew of an American vessel. The Vincennes, on her way to Honolulu, discovered and surveyed some new coral Islands.

While at the Fejee Islands, a most distressing event occurred. Lieutenant James A. Underwood and Midshipman Wilkes Henry landed on an island called Malalo with a boat's crew, for the purpose of obtaining some provisions that had been promised by the chief of the island the day before. They had just made a landing when the natives rushed upon them from an ambush, in great numbers. Lieut. Underwood and Midshipman Henry were killed, as they were endeavouring to secure the retreat of the men, in which they succeeded, but at the cost of their own lives. Their bodies were rescued from the cannibals, for cannibals they are, as they afterwards confessed that the attack was made solely to procure human flesh for food. They were buried on a small uninhabited Island of Underwood's Group, which was named Henry's Island, in memory of that gallant and ill-fated young officer.

The whole Island on which the massacre took place was severely punished two days afterwards, when the brig Porpoise and schooner Flying Fish arrived. Nothing was spared but the women and children, and these are supposed to have become slaves to some chief of the neighbouring group.—Fear is the only influence that can be brought to operate on the natives of the Fejees, except such as have been taught by the missionaries, and they are few indeed.

The squadron is expected to be employed for another year between the Sandwich Islands and the Cape of Good Hope, and do not contemplate returning to the United States until the summer of 1842.

Oahu, October 10.—The U. S. brig Porpoise, Captain Ringold, arrived on Wednesday, after a short passage of 27 days from the Salmon Islands. All the vessels of the Exploring Expedition are now in port, and from what we hear, will make a long stay. The Porpoise, after parting with her consorts, returned to one of the Fejee Islands, to protect or take away, as the occasion might require, a family of Wesleyan Missionaries settled there, whose lives were supposed to be endangered by the savages. But they preferred remaining, having been promised protection by the old king. From thence the brig went to the Navigator's Islands.

MONTREAL, January 29.—An express mail from Halifax, with the English letters brought by the Columbia, Royal Mail Steamer, reached yesterday morning. The express started from Halifax at 3 P. M. on the 19th inst., an hour after the Columbia's arrival, making the journey to Quebec, 700 miles, over the worst roads, and in their worst state,—by 2, P. M. on the 26th, one hour less than seven days. Considering the time of the year, the long nights, and bad roads, it must be admitted that all parties concerned in this rapid transit are entitled to credit for efficiency and enterprise. The sum of £8,000 has been recently laid out upon 36 miles of the road, viz: the Temiscouata Portage; and in order to facilitate this, which is now becoming probably the most important line of road in these Provinces, a much larger sum will be most likely expended. In their present condition, even, we understand, the Mails, by the aid of a winter steam-boat on the Bay of Fundy, may get through in five and a half days.—Courier.

The Quebec Canadien, who strenuously advocates Temperance, states that in the District of Quebec, the number of those who have pledged themselves to Temperance, amounts to 7,800. The Catholic Clergy in Quebec, and those of nine of the country parishes, have succeeded in forming Societies, and nearly all the communicants of their parishes have joined. The Protestant Temperance Society of Quebec, which has been for some time in existence, now numbers 2000 members.—Ib.

BURNING COAL MINES.—The fires referred to in the following paragraph must be productive of a great destruction of property. One would suppose that some measures might be resorted to with advantage, for extinguishing, or limiting the extent of the flames. In the case of a similar disaster which occurred recently in the south of France, the public officers interfered, and employed engineers to direct a river from its course with a view of extinguishing the subterraneous fire. We have not been informed whether the effort was successful.

"Another Mine on Fire.—We are informed that the mine of Messrs. Stees & Oliver, near Pinegrove, which took fire about a month since, continues burning with increased fury. The vein is a very large one—we believe the Mammoth vein, and consequently must prove very disastrous to the proprietors of the land, who reside in Philadelphia. The mine beyond New Castle, which we have so frequently noticed, continues burning as usual, and the craters upon the summit of the mountain are increasing in size and number."—Pottsville (Pa.) Register.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN DUNDEE—Three Churches Destroyed.—At about five o'clock on Sunday morning, the Cross Church in Dundee caught fire, in consequence of the overheating or some mismanagement of the hot air stove, and by six o'clock it and the South Church and Old Church were in one mass of flame. The violence of the fire was over about eight o'clock, when the work of destruction was complete: nothing remaining of these three churches but the ruined walls. The wind being from the north-west, the steeple church has suffered but little. Had the wind been direct from the west, nothing could have saved the cluster of old buildings betwixt the Old Church and the High-Street. It is said the fire was discovered at an early stage, and, could a few pailfuls of water have been obtained, it might have been extinguished. The three churches are insured for about £4,000.—Glasgow Courier.

The death of Rear Admiral Sir Philip B. Vere Broke, the officer who commanded H. M. Frigate Shannon, at the time she captured the U. S. Frigate Chesapeake, during the last war, on which occasion he was severely wounded, and for which he was made a Baronet, and received a gold medal and the freedom of the City of London, is announced in the London papers.

The Earl of Somers died at his residence at Brighton on the 6th January.

Texas alone is estimated to contain now, about 200,000 inhabitants.—N. O. Bulletin.

The above enumeration, in various cases, appears to be given in round numbers, but is perhaps as nearly correct as can be expected from a country so ill-regulated as Mexico. The population of several Departments is much less than according to the census of 1803 as given in Worcester's Gazetteer; but this may be owing to a change in the geographical limits of the Departments,—the number of Departments, according to the above schedule, being now 21, including Texas, besides three Territories, whereas in 1803 the number of Departments was only 15, reckoning the two Californias as Departments, which are now classed as Territories.

The increase of population from 1803 to 1834, (thirty-four years) supposing the above enumerations to be correct, is less than 900,000. At the first mentioned date, the population of Mexico exceeded that of the United State s Now the population of the United States is 17,000,000; being to that of Mexico as 5 to 2. The INCREASE of population in the United States since 1820 (twenty years) is more than the whole present population of Mexico. Considering the similarity of the two countries in respect to territory, wild lands, &c. these facts are very remarkable, and afford room for many profitable reflections. It is thus that the Anglo-Saxon race, the English language, toleration, and the Bible, are spreading far and wide over the world.

In the statement of Mexican territory and population, are included Texas, Yucatan, and Tobasco, all of which are now independent communities, and the first named has become the medium of a vast extension of the blessings above indicated. Deducting these three Departments, or States, there is left to Mexico a population not much exceeding 6,000,000.

Note.—The New Orleans Bulletin makes the footing of the column of Mexican population 13,061,809. The correct addition is 6,733,304. The only question is, whether the Bulletin's error is in the footing, or in the details;—we presume the former, as there appears to be no possibility of making up such a footing in any legitimate way.—New York Journal of Commerce.

Half a pint is sufficient for the largest ham.

Meat or fish that has become tainted will be restored to a wholesome state in a few hours by being washed once or twice with the Essence of Smoke.

HAYS' LINIMENT.

NO FICTION.—This extraordinary chemical composition, the result of science and the invention of a celebrated medical man, the introduction of which to the public was invested with the solemnity of a death-bed bequest, has since gained a reputation unparalleled, fully sustaining the correctness of the lamented Dr. Gridley's last confession, that "he dared not die without giving to posterity the benefit of his knowledge on this subject," and he therefore bequeathed to his friend and attendant, Solomon Hays, the secret of his discovery.

It is now used in the principal hospitals, and the private practice of our country, first and most certainly for the cure of the Piles, and also extensively and effectually as to baffle credulity, unless where its effects are witnessed. Externally in the following complaints:

For Dropsy—Creating extraordinary absorption at once.

Swellings—Reducing them in a few hours.

Rheumatism—Acute or chronic, giving quick ease.

Sore Throat—By cancers, ulcers, or colds.

Croup and Whooping-Cough—Externally and over the chest.

All Bruises, Sprains and Burns—Curing in a few hours.

Sores and Ulcers—Whether fresh or long standing, and fever sores.

Its operation upon adults and children, in reducing rheumatic swellings, and loosening coughs and tightness of the chest by relaxation of the parts, has been surprising beyond conception.—The common remark of those who have used it in the Piles, is, "It acts like a charm."

For Sale at nearly all Shops, and at Saint John by Messrs. PETERS & TILLEY, Mr. A. R. TRURO, Messrs. T. WALKER & SON, and others. [1 y.]
