MISCELLANEOUS EXTRACTS

From late British Papers.

Relief Works in Ireland.—The gross total number of men employed on the public works in Ireland during the week ending on Saturday, May 22, amounted to 175,570, and the total expense to £71,476. The expense for the week ended Saturday, the 29th, was £53,780; and on Saturday, the 5th June, to £49,370.

Stoppage of Public Works.—A circular has been issued to the engineers in charge of the several districts in which public works have been hitherto carried on, announcing that the Lords of the Treasury have given instructions that all the works, whether they consist of roads, bridges, thorough drainage, &c., shall be finally discontinued on or before the 15th of August. Wherever it may be found impossible to complete the works before the specified time, plans and estimates are to be prepared for the county surveyors, so as to obtain presentments in the ordinary way for the execution of such unfinished works from the grand juries of the counties in which they may be situate.

A Relict of the Irish Parliament.—By the death of Mr. Nicholas Price, of Saintfield-house, in the county of Down, a pension of £1,500 a year reverts to the Crown. This pension Mr. Price enjoyed since the period of the union, as compensation for the extinction of the office of Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod in the Irish House of Commons. The deceased was in the 97th year of his age, and was married to Lady Sarah Pratt, sister of the first Marquis of Camden, by whom he had one daughter, the wife of Major Blackwood, of Strangford, who now succeeds to the Saintfield estates.

O'Connell's Funeral.—A correspondence has taken place between Mr. Smith O'Brien and Mr. Maurice O'Connell, which has been the subject of much conversation. It was very currently rumoured that it was the wish of Mr. O'Connell's family that the Young Irelanders should take no part as a body in the public funeral to be accorded their late father. Mr. Smith O'Brien, in order to test the rumour, addressed a letter to Mr. John O'Connell, in which he inquires "whether it is their (the family's) wish that those who dissented from the policy adopted by the Repeal Association during the last twelve months should attend the funeral." The duty of replying was devolved by Mr. John O'Connell upon his brother, Mr. Maurice O'Connell, who replied that "the arrangements for the funeral having been entrusted to the Glasnevin cemetery committee and the Rev. Dr. Miley, the family leaves it entirely in their hands." Mr. O'Brien interpreted this into an intimation that "he should not attend the funeral;" and it seems indeed pretty plainly to bear that construction.

Funeral Obsequies of O'Connell.—The Paris …nivers quotes the following letter from Rome of …he 5th instant:—"A grand funeral service, for the repose of the soul of the great O'Connell, was celebrated to-day in the ancient church of St. Agatha, belonging to the Irish College. It is in that church his heart has been deposited. The Bishop of Hyderabad celebrated mass, and the absolution was given by Cardinal Fransoni. The vice-president of the Irish College delivered a funeral oration which drew tears from the auditory. But this is a mere family homage, rendered by the Irish to the memory of their liberator. On the 15th a public ceremony is to take place, in which Rome will …just tribute of gratitude and admiration to …mpion of religious liberty. Professor Orio…

The men are all to be teetotallers, that is, no grog or spirits will be served out to them, but they will receive double pay and rations, and will have an abundant supply of pemican, or the dried flesh of the buffalo. Winter dresses, prepared from the skin of the moose deer, are also provided for them, and every provision has been made to enable them to meet the rigours of the terrible climate they will have to endure. The men are all accustomed to the use of boats, which they will have in continual use on the M'Kenzie, and have been selected from the trades of carpenters, smiths, &c.

Dr. King has addressed a letter to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, volunteering to go out for the relief of Sir John Franklin's exploring party. He was the medical officer of an expedition in search of Sir John Ross, in 1833-4, and for some time commanded that expedition.

Gambling in the Army.—Through the influence of his Royal Highness Prince George of Cambridge, the Hibernian United Service Club have determined to discountenance gambling by every means in their power. His royal highness has stated, that every general officer serving in Ireland intended to follow the example set by himself in this matter.

Emigration from the Port of Liverpool.—The emigrants to America, who have left this port during the last month, viz, from the 15th of May to the 14th of June, amount to about 17,955 adults, exclusive of those poor people who go out by such light craft as do not come under the provisions of the Emigration Act. Of these 17,955 about 5785 only have gone to the colonies of North America, and the remaining two-thirds, or 11,570, have proceeded to the United States.

An immense stalk of maize grown in the state of Louisiana has been brought to Liverpool. This enormous stalk is seventeen feet nine inches in height, and bears six ears, each of which weighs a pound, and contains 880 grains upon an average.

A Yankee Patent.—Among the notices of recent American patents in Newton's London Journal of Arts for June, is the following:—"To John Allen, of Cincinnatti, Ohio, for a method of restoring the fulness or roundness to the cheeks." The patentee claims, as his invention, and desires to secure by letters patent, restoring hollow cheeks to their natural contour and rotundity by means of metallic bulbs, formed, fitted to, and secured in the mouth by any suitable attachment between the jaw bones of the cheek.—Daily News.

Jenny Lind continues to attract crowded houses at her Majesty's Theatre. Six guineas have been paid for a single stall seat.

The circumnavigation of the world is now a matter of ordinary occurrence to our bold mariners; and after a few years it will be a sort of summer excursion to our steamers.—Blackwood.

Ordination of Mr. Newman.—Mr. Newman was ordained subdeacon and deacon, at Rome, in Whitsun-week, and on Trinity Sunday received the priesthood at the hands of Cardinal Fransone, in the church of the Propaganda.

Belgium.—The National states that two expresses arrived in Paris on Monday from Belgium, announcing that the life of King Leopold was dispaired of. His Majesty was afflicted with insanity.

Marshal Grouchy, who commanded the French corps d'armee, which was destined to employ the Prussian army, while Napoleon attacked the Duke of Wellington at Waterloo, died on Saturday week at St. Etienne, on the Loire, in his 82d year.

In 1716, the whole national debt of Great Britain was only £31,664,551, about half the present gross amount of annual taxation. It is now upwards of £700,000,000.

The French Government has ordered that scientific men in all the departments shall examine microscopically, every fortnight, the growing potatoes in the several districts, with a view to discover if the plant be again tainted, and the cause, if such a calamity again arise.
