[FOR THE COURIER.]

FRIENDSHIP'S SUNNY DAYS.

The summer gale of early joys,
Still round my temples plays,
And many a fond endearing thought,
Of friendship's sunny days.

Wide o'er the earth thy cheering beams,
Shall light life's dreary ways,
With memory's ne'er departing gleams,
Of friendship's sunny days.

The dews of Heaven—the opening bud,
That human life portrays,
Are fresher to the great, and good,
In friendship's sunny days.

In age, or youth, the gilded scene,
A fairer tint displays,
And life is all more brightly seen,
In friendship's sunny days.

Mr. R. D. Wilmot, from the Committee appointed to take into consideration the petition of Mr. W. G. Lawton of St. John, relative to his claim, which has been several times before the Sessions in St. John, submitted a report, which was accepted by the House, stating that Mr. Lawton has just cause of complaint in the matter, as the articles had been furnished to Mr. Mathew, a public officer, for public purposes, and it did not appear to the Committee, that Mr. Lawton had any claim upon Mr. Mathew for the amount, and they recommended that in making any grant to the Commissioners of the Alms House for the City and County of Saint John during the present session, a special appropriation of the amount claimed by Mr. Lawton (£358 15s. 7d.) shall be made in favor of Mr. Lawton, to be deducted from the said grant.—The committee consisted of Mr. Wilmot, Hon. Mr. Fisher, and Messrs. End, Carman, and Thomson.

The Bill to incorporate a Company for the erection of a Bridge across the St. Croix, at Salt Water, in St. Stephen, Charlotte County, was passed in the Assembly on Saturday last, after a long debate—the Members for Charlotte differing in opinion on the subject, Mr. Brown advocating and Mr. Boyd opposing the Bill.

The bill to increase the capital stock of the St. John Water Company, and to provide a more efficient supply of Water in the City of St. John, sent up from the Assembly, was read a second time in the Legislative Council on Saturday last.

On Saturday last the House was chiefly occupied in supply. Most of the grants recommended by select committees were passed without debate. A warm discussion, however, was elicited upon a grant of £25 being moved to the widow of the late Dr. Collins, who, it will be recollected, died on Partridge Island while administering Medical assistance to the emigrants on that Island during the prevalence of fever in 1847—a duty he was solicited to undertake by the Hon. Mr. Partelow, then Mayor of St. John, in consequence of the illness of the Health Officer and other Physicians at the station. The Committee divided 16 to 16—and the Chairman (Mr. Botsford), gave the casting vote in favor of the grant.

A grant of £500 was afterwards passed to aid in affording relief to persons to have suffered by the last fire at York Point.

A bill for the encouragement of the Fisheries, submitted by Mr. R. D. Wilmot, was committed and a short debate ensued. A motion to throw out the bill was negatived, and the committee finally agreed to report progress. This bill appropriates £3000 per annum in the shape of bounties for the encouragement of the Fisheries.

REPORT ON THE FISHERIES OF THE GULF OF SAINT LAWRENCE,

Laid before the House of Assembly by command of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor.

There is probably no part of the world in which such extensive and valuable Fisheries are to be found, as within the Gulf of Saint Lawrence. Nature has bountifully provided within its waters, the utmost abundance of those Fishes which are of the greatest importance to man, as affording not only nutritious and wholesome food, but also the means of profitable employment.

These Fisheries may be prosecuted as well in the open waters of the Gulf, as within every Bay, Harbour, Creek, Cove and Inlet in connection with it. Whether on the bleak and steril Coast of Labrador; or on the Western Coasts of Newfoundland and Cape Breton; or along the Eastern Shores of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; or within the Bay of Chaleur; or around Prince Edward Island, Anticosti, or the Magdalen Islands, the Fisherman may pursue his labours with nearly equal chances of success, and the full prospect of securing an ample reward for his toil.

With such valuable and unlimited Fisheries in close proximity to these Colonies, and as it may be said at the very doors of the inhabitants, it is no less strange than true, that they are prosecuted to the greatest extent, and with most profit, by citizens of France and of the United States.

The French exercise an almost exclusive right of fishing upon the western Coast of Newfoundland, the fertility and great mineral wealth of which have only recently become known, and are not yet fully appreciated.

From seven hundred to eight hundred sail of American Fishing Vessels enter the Gulf of Saint Lawrence annually; and scattering over the whole of its wide extent, with little heed of the limits to which they are restricted by Treaty, pursue their business unmolested, and but rarely leave their stations without full and valuable fares.

The Jersey Merchants also prosecute these Fisheries with great zeal and assiduity, and, as it is believed, with much profit. They have permanent establishments and Fishing stations in Gaspè, Labrador, and Newfoundland, and two or more establishments in New-Brunswick; but they by no means confine themselves to any particular locality. They employ upwards of one hundred Vessels almost exclusively in carrying the rich products of the deep to various Foreign markets, besides the smaller craft required upon the Coast. Two of the leading Jersey firms, Messieurs Robin and Company, and Nicolle Brothers, are supposed respectively to afford employment, directly or indirectly, to nearly one thousand persons.

The inhabitants of those shores of Cape Breton and Nova-Scotia which are within the Gulf, pursue the Fisheries in their immediate neighbourhood to a moderate extent; and a few of their Vessels visit the Magdalen Islands and the Labrador Coast during the season. The people of Prince Edward Island, who are favourably placed for securing a goodly portion of the riches of the sea, make still more limited efforts; but their efforts can scarcely be described as more limited or more feeble than those of the people of New-Brunswick who dwell upon its shores from Bay Verte to the western extremity of the Bay of Chaleur—those Shores commanding as great an extent and variety of Fishing ground, and as abundant supplies of valuable Fish of every description, as can be found in any other part of the unrivalled Gulf of Saint Lawrence, while they possess equal and perhaps superior facilities for prosecuting its Fisheries both extensively and profitably.

The most valuable Fisheries of the Gulf are those for Herring, Cod, and Mackarel. But before entering upon the question of their encouragement and extension, by increased facilities of communication, it will be proper to give some description of each. With this view they will be taken up in the order of the Fishing season; after which, the secondary Fisheries of the Gulf will be briefly noticed.

[The report then goes into a detail of the Herring Fishery, and furnishes much valuable information with respect to it and to the mode of curing the fish. The number of barrels of Herrings exported from the several ports in the Counties of Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland and Kent, during the last eight years, is stated to be 9939—the export of 1848 being only 356 barrels. "The Herring Fisheries of the Gulph," it is added, "would be more benefited than any other by the construction of Railways, and the increased facilities of communication which they would afford. No other description of Fish would probably furnish so large an amount of Railway traffic, as, if once properly established, this Fishery, which can now be scarcely said to exist, might be prosecuted to an almost unlimited extent."

The Cod Fishery is next noticed, and then the Mackerel, the Salmon, the Whale, and the Seal Fisheries. Under these several heads a vast amount of valuable information is furnished, which want of space alone prevents us from placing before our readers in detail.

Under the head of Shell Fish, are enumerated Lobsters, Oysters, Clams, Muscles, Whilks, Razor-fish, Crabs and Shrimps, all of which are found in the Gulf in great abundance, and of excellent quality. Indeed so plentiful are Lobsters found on the coast, that at Shippegan and Caraquet carts are sometimes driven down to the beaches at low-water and filled with them, and the fields are strewn with lobster shells, each potato hill being furnished with two and perhaps three lobsters.

The River Fisheries are last noticed. The principal, in addition to Salmon, are Gaspereaux, Shad, Basse and Trout. A variety of small fish are also found in abundance.

The Report concludes as follows:]

That the varied, extensive, and most abundant Fisheries of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, would be greatly influenced by the construction of a Railway along the Eastern coast of New-Brunswick, there cannot be a reasonable doubt; but in all probability, the proposed line of Railway from Shediac to the Harbour of St. John, would affect those fisheries in an equal, if not a greater degree.

The hardy and enterprising fishermen of the Bay of Fundy dread the long and dangerous voyage around the whole peninsula of Nova-Scotia to the fishing grounds of the Gulf, a voyage which frequently lasts three weeks, and is deemed by Underwriters equally hazardous with a voyage to Europe; but it is not alone the dangers of the voyage which deters them from the prosecution of these Fisheries; it is the great loss of time they occasion, and the expense they create, as these render the adventure, too often, far from profitable.

A Railway from Shediac to the Port of Saint John, which is open at all seasons of the year, would enable the various products of the Fisheries to reach a port of shipment in four hours, and the necessity for the long voyage around Nova-Scotia would be obviated. The fishing vessels could winter at any of the ports on the Gulf Shore which they found most convenient; their stores and outfit could be sent up by Railway; and they would, in such case, enjoy the advantage of being on the fishing grounds at the earliest moment in spring, and the fisherman could protract his labours until the winter again had fairly set in.

The fresh salmon packed in ice which were sent last season from St. John to Boston by the steamers, owing to the facilities of transport in the United States, in two days after they left St. John, appeared at table in prime condition, at Albany, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New-York, and Philadelphia. If the Salmon of the Northern Rivers could be transported by Railway to Saint John, they would find a ready market in the numerous towns and villages of the United States, and the salmon fishery alone would prove a perfect mine of wealth to the Northern part of the Province.

The immense products which might be obtained by a vigorous prosecution of the Fisheries for herring, cod, and mackerel, would not only furnish a fruitful source of profit to a Railway, but they would afford such an amount of remunerative employment to all the productive classes as almost to defy calculation. They would enable the Province to open up and prosecute a successful trade with several foreign countries, with which at present the Merchants of New-Brunswick have no connection whatever. The Farmer also would be greatly benefited by the extension of the Fisheries in connection with the Railway, because he would not only find a more ready market for his surplus produce, but he would be furnished with wholesome and nutritious food, at all seasons of the year, on the most reasonable terms.

Aided by Railways, the Fisheries of the Gulf of Saint Lawrence, now of so little importance, and such limited value, would take rank as one of the highest privileges of New-Brunswick—its unfailing source of wealth forever hereafter. And while the efforts of the people were successfully directed toward securing these bounties of Providence, lavished with such unsparing hand, they would rejoice in the goodness of an all-wise Creator, and offer up humble but earnest thanks to Almighty God for His exceeding goodness and mercy towards his erring and sinful creatures.

Extract from the Minutes.

Fredericton, 20th March, 1849.

MEDALS TO THE ARMY.—The Quebec Mercury of the 15th inst. says—The long-expected Medals have at last reached Canada. We have been favored with the sight of one received by George Henderson, Esquire, of this City. It is of silver, and is handsomely executed, about the size of a crown, with three clasps or bars, bearing the words "Nive," "Nivelle," "Corunna;" on the obverse is Her Majesty's profile, and on the reverse Her Majesty is represented, crowning the hero of Waterloo and the Peninsula with laurel, and the graceful group is encircled with the words, "To the British Army—1783—1814." The name and rank of the recipient are engraved on the edge of the medal.

STATISTICS.—In Quebec during the year 1848 there have been 2903 baptisms, 506 marriages, and 1633 deaths. In eleven counties, comprising the district of Quebec, the total baptisms in 1848 were 11,717; marriages, 1928; burials, 4521.

FROM THE WEST INDIES.

JAMAICA.—The House of Assembly had after a short prorogation, again met and passed a Revenue Bill, to expire on the 1st October, next. On the 17th February the House, by a majority of 18 to 3, resolved to pass no further Revenue or other Bills having previously provided, as they deemed fit, for the necessities of the Colony—so that the business of the Session may be considered at a close.—The Rum Duty Bill had been rejected by the Council. It is presumed, however, that the Governor will take measures for affording the Assembly an opportunity of reconsidering matters and preventing the evils resulting from a stoppage of parochial supplies.

TURKS' ISLANDS.—Governor Forth arrived at Turks' Islands on the 24th January, in H. M. S. Vixen from Jamaica, and on the 27th was inaugurated.—When the new Charter or Constitution was read, a royal salute was immediately fired. The U. S. Consul, took offence, it seems, at not being, as he considered, properly invited to join in the ceremony—and during the proceedings lowered his flag half-mast, and subsequently turned the union down.

H. E. Cartwright, Esq. has been appointed Acting Police Magistrate, and John James MacIntosh, Esq. Acting Colonial Secretary, pro tem.

DEMERARA.—Georgetown, February 17th.—Our Market is at present abundantly supplied with Bread Stuffs, and indeed with almost all articles of American production, except Pork, of which our stock is small, and in the absence of further arrivals for a day or two, it must advance materially in price.

The arrival of our new Governor has caused considerable speculation in articles, which formerly were subject to a heavy duty, as it is supposed he must be empowered to concede to the demands of the Colonists, or to enforce Government measures, by orders in Council, or some such process—as yet, however, we are all in the dark, as to what the result will be; though the general opinion is that he has come out with full power to settle the existing differences in some way or other, and I cannot entertain a doubt about the Duties being re-imposed, almost immediately, as the present state of affairs cannot last.

TO BE LET.

THAT very superior Property, known as the "Beech-Hill Farm," situate in the Parish of Hampton, on the bank of the Kennebeckasis, thirteen miles from the City of Saint John.

It comprises 400 acres of excellent land, nearly one half of which is under a very high state of cultivation, and cuts about 200 tons of the best quality of upland hay; the remainder is well covered with hardwood. There are extensive gardens and orchards upon the premises, laid out at great expense, and producing fruit of choice and varied descriptions, and in great abundance.—The buildings consist of a beautifully-situated and well-built cottage, the grounds about it tastefully arranged with shrubberies, groves and avenues; three good farm-houses, with dairies, root-cellars, workshops, &c.; three large barns, with commodious stables, and the whole provided with every convenience required in a first-rate farming establishment.

The premises are open to the markets of Saint John at all seasons, by land and by water; and in summer the Steamers to Hampton regularly touch at the landing-place, where a substantial wharf has been lately erected by the present proprietor.

The system of agriculture pursued on this place has been of the most approved kind; and the property now offers inducements to farmers superior to any to be found in this Province. It may be advantageously divided into several farms, and will be leased, at low rents, for short or long periods, to suit the convenience of applicants.

Any further information will be given by the subscriber. R. M. JARVIS.
