The Great Exhibition of 1851
(Patronized by PRINCE ALBERT)

IS fast approaching, when people of all nations will flock to London. The main consideration for visitors is to secure early accommodation, as the influx will then be so enormous that neither Hotels nor Lodging Houses will be able to supply the demand; consequently the charges will be prodigiously high. Ladies and Gentlemen may now secure for themselves and families, on moderate terms, suitable apartments for the occasion, by writing, stating what they require, what rent they will give, what length of time wanted, and in what locality most wished, addressed to SIMMONDS & CO., Old Established Colonial Agents, 5 Barge Yard, City London, enclosing a bill or remittance for rent, and 5 per cent. Commission for selection and engagement.
