POETRY.

THE BIRTH OF THE YEAR.

BY HERBERT ENKERT.

The moon was sinking down the west,
And slowly, through the eastern way,
Aurora Borealis like,
Arose the delicate light of day.
The countless spheres that jewelled space,
A proud exulting anthem sung,
As into life the youthful Year
With more than mortal beauty sprung.

Beneath, his Predecessor lay;
Twelve cycles had he seen go by,
And now his aged, withered form
Was stretched in death athwart the sky.
The young Year gazed upon his face,
The dew of tears was in his eyes,
When, looking up, he saw the shape
Of hoary Saturn fill the skies.

And Saturn crowned the youthful Year,
And placed the sceptre in his hand,
And bade him journey, day by day,
And month by month, from land to land,
With counsels garnered from the Past,
Those counsels only age can give.
He taught him how to pass through life,
And live as only good men live.

And then he sent him forth. The youth
Sprung lightly on his Orient way,
Saluting the arising sun,
Bird-like, with many a matin lay;
Behind him lay the shrouded dead,
Before, Sahara-like, was space;
But, like a man, the boy strode on,
With hopeful heart and radiant face.

MISCELLANEOUS EXTRACTS.

The Island of Tigre.—The officiousness of Mr. Squier, the United States diplomatic representative in the Central American confederacy—who, it will be remembered, not long since negotiated and obtained a cession of the Island of Tigre from the State of Honduras, one of the members of that confederacy—has already brought about a collision with Mr. Chatfield, heretofore British Consul at Guatemala, but now a diplomatic representative of Great Britain, having been recently gazetted in London as chargé des affaires. We have the information by means of a letter in the Express, written, we presume, by Mr. Squier himself, and dated Leon de Nicaragua, November 8.

This letter, with many needless expletives, such as "high handed," "outrages," "insolence," &c. &c., announces that Mr. Chatfield, by way of answer to Mr. Squier's somewhat grandiloquent notification to the diplomatic representatives of the various powers, that the United States had acquired interests in the Island, &c., went to the said Island of Tigre, and took possession of it in the name of Queen Victoria; replacing the flag of Honduras with the red cross of England. Mr. Squier thereupon wrote to Mr. Chatfield, requesting him to take himself off again, as the Island was now the property of the United States; to which Mr. Chatfield responded that he should do no such thing, for the reason that Honduras had no right to sell or cede the Island, because, first, Honduras had no national existence, and, second, because he, Mr. Chatfield, was preparing, when the said cession was made, to clap a lien on the Island, in behalf, we suppose, of English creditors. Some farther correspondence passed between the two chargés, the result of which was that Mr. Chatfield proposed to refer the whole matter to his Government, and doughty Mr. Squier peremptorily demanded that the Island should be evacuated within six days.

The letter adds that Mr. Chatfield has caused all the islands belonging to Honduras and San Salvador to be seized, and the ports of Truxillo and Moro. Also the San Salvador coast and the ports of Acajuhla and La Union. Also that the Hondurans and San Salvadorans are up in arms, threatening to take hostile measures against the British, &c. &c. In short, the two chargés, by their excessive zeal and officiousness, are cooking up a pretty kettle of fish for Sir Henry Bulwer and Mr. Clayton to digest at their leisure. It is a pity, sometimes, that little officials are so eager to make themselves and their doings of consequence.—New-York Commercial Advertiser.

The news from England must satisfy every thoughtful reader that there is [illegible] willing to believe, and that we were not in error when we attempted to sound the alarm, a week upon the arrival of the intelligence of the sei[illegible] the Island of Tigre by a British naval force. [illegible] hope was then thrown out that that act of out[illegible] as the mere personal folly and faux pas of [illegible] field, the British Consul at Guatemala, [illegible] Her Majesty's Government would hasten [illegible] it; much stress being laid by us upon [illegible] edingly amicable and rational tone lately [illegible] by the London Times on this subject. It [illegible] ver, that, on this occasion, the Times [illegible] ak by the card; and the Globe and other [illegible] ers have taken it to task, indicating so [illegible] to be regarded as exponents of Minis[illegible] any thing rather than a disposition of the Queen's Government [illegible] gance of its pretensions [illegible] ly which has [illegible] friendly way. [illegible] Gazette, which we quoted [illegible] as it has it "from good authority [illegible] mersion is determined" (which means [illegible] ish government is determined) "to American interference in Nicaraguan [illegible] he has—already, it appears—[illegible] omptly in the matter," having for[illegible] ichts to the commander-in-chief in the subject," and directed "Rear[illegible] ith his squadron to cruise in the [illegible] ama, and to be within call of Affairs at Nicaragua." [illegible] or of war in all this; a tone determined strife; and Lord [illegible] hts in being deemed a war[illegible] very act of crying "ha ha" [illegible] the charge, when he determines—the spirit of ten thousand royal au[illegible] were compressed into his single lordling—" to allow of no American interference in [illegible] affairs. But apart from the warlike [illegible] there is this grave in[illegible] drawn from it; namely, [illegible] statement of the United [illegible] and such orders as are [illegible] ly sent to the British [illegible] Pacific," then the [illegible] een the result of pre[illegible] mersion to Mr. Chat[illegible] of direct premedi[illegible] rpetrated in dero[illegible] States.—Phila-

Franklin.—The [illegible] Advertiser learns that a [illegible] been received in that city from Lady Jane Franklin, in which she asks advice and information from the party to whom it is addressed, as to the expediency of her coming over, with the view to the arrangement of an expedition, at her own expense, for the renewal, next spring, of the search for her lost husband. She meditates the purchase and equipment of two small vessels, with which she hopes a more successful result may be obtained than that which has so cruelly disappointed her, under the command of Sir James Ross.

Father Mathew paid a visit to President Taylor at Washington, on Tuesday. The National Intelligencer states that the health of the Reverend Father is so delicate, that it is his purpose to hasten to the South with all convenient speed, intending, however, to return North next Spring or Summer, and afford the citizens of Washington the happiness of a longer visit.

How they do in Philadelphia.—On Thursday morning at two o'clock, the engine of the Philadelphia Fire Company was taken from their house and carried to an open common in Moyamensing, where a fire was kindled around it and it was consumed. The act is supposed to have been committed by the Western Hose Company, as a retaliation for a similar outrage by the company of the former. The authorities do not meddle in these little quarrels, as the fire engines and equipments belong exclusively to the companies.

Gas in England.—There are now in the British isles 775 establishments for the manufacture of gas, with a capital of £10,500,000, employing 20,000, and producing nine billions of cubic feet of gas annually, to make which 1,125,000 tons of coal are consumed.

The Marquess of Waterford lately gave two poor men £20 to proceed to America, who were brought before him charged with poaching on his grounds.

Mr. John Walter, M. P. for Nottingham, and proprietor of the Times, has purchased Eastcourt, near Workingham, Berks, the seat of Admiral Sir John Sinclair, Bart., for nearly £60,000.

Airy Project.—M. Delcourt, a Parisian aeronaut, states in a French journal that he intends appealing to the European Governments and scientific societies for aid to execute a project of circumnavigating the globe by means of balloons.

Eruption of a Volcano in Java.—A letter from Batavia, (Java,) of the 26th Sept. gives some account of a late eruption of Mount Merapia, a volcano in the district of Kadoe, believed to be extinct. The eruption began on the morning of the 14th Sept. during a violent hurricane, and lasted until the evening of the 17th—more than three days. The mountain vomited forth gigantic flames and large quantities of stones and ashes. This matter, impelled by the action of the wind, was spread through the whole district of Kadoe, and also those of Djokjokarta and Seorakarta. At several points the soil was covered with ashes to the depth of three inches. The river of Blongkeng was almost wholly filled up, and it is feared that its waters must overflow in the rainy season. The inhabitants fled, and no life was lost, but the loss of property, including crops of rice, tobacco, and indigo, with whole fields of corn, was immense.—London Times.

Chinese Iron.—The Mencius, at Liverpool from Hong Kong, has brought 2990 pigs of iron as a portion of her cargo. This is considered a very interesting importation from the Chinese empire.

A Slave Brig, called the Imogene, from Benguela, being lately closely pursued by the British steamer Hydra, was run ashore between Maguinbas and Puma. The Hydra took off the cargo of slaves, numbering 352, and they were sent to Demerara. The crew escaped with the remainder of the cargo.

In Pernambuco, peace has not been restored, one of the rebel leaders having rejected the terms offered to him by the Brazilian Government. His adherents being numerous, fresh troops were to be immediately sent against him.

St. Petersburg is to be lighted with electricity, by order of the Emperor, if practicable. Experiments on a large scale are being made in various parts of the city for the purpose.

An Idea about the Universe and Shoes.—The late Earl Fitzwilliam was making his hustings oration, when he was interrupted by a clodpole. "What do you know about making laws?" observed the noble lord.—"Nout," replied the peasant; "I know nout about making shoes either, but I know that when a chap makes a pair that pinches my toes, he shall make no more for me. I kno' that all the stuff 'ee the wurld war made for a' the folk 'ee the wurld; and I haint got my share of it."

Be Civil!—"Deevil, indeed!" said a primitive country schoolmistress to one of her pupils, as she heard a little girl designate his satanic majesty "Devil." "Deevil, indeed!—set him up wi' fine names—ca' him deel, lassie; its guid eneuch for him."—Edinburgh Witness.

Extract of a letter from Mr. B[illegible] T. Evans, both a respectable Quaker, dated [illegible] Loughall, Ireland, dated S[illegible] Dr. B[illegible]

To Professor Holloway.

Respected Friend,—Thy excellent Pills have effectually cured me of an Asthma, which afflicted me for three years to such an extent, that I was obliged to walk my room at night for air, afraid of being suffocated if I went to bed by cough and phlegm. Besides taking the Pills, I rubbed plenty of thy Ointment into my chest night and morning.

CURE OF TYPHUS FEVER, WHEN SUPPOSED TO BE AT THE POINT OF DEATH.

A respectable female in the neighbourhood of Loughall, was attacked with Typhus Fever, and lay for five days without having tasted any description of food. She was given over by the Surgeon and preparations were made for her demise. Mr. Benjamin Mackie, the Quaker, whose case is referred to above, heard of the circumstance, and knowing the immense benefit that he himself had derived from Holloway's Pills, recommended an immediate trial, and eight were given to her, and the same number was continued night and morning for three days, and in a very short time she was completely cured.

N. B.—From advice just received, it appea[illegible] that Colonel Dear, who is with his Regiment [illegible] India, the 21st Fusileers, cured himself of a ve[illegible] bad attack of Fever by these celebrated Pill[illegible] There is no doubt that any Fever, however malig[illegible] nant, may be cured by taking, night and mornin[illegible] copious doses of this fine medicine. CURE OF DROPSY IN THE CHEST.

Extract of a Letter from J. S. Mundy, E[illegible] dated Kennington, near Oxford, Dec. 2d, 18[illegible]

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My Shepherd for some time was afflic[illegible] with water on the chest, when I heard of it [illegible] immediately advised him to try your Pills, wh[illegible] he did, and was perfectly cured and is now as w[illegible] as ever he was in his life. As I myself recei[illegible] so astonishing a cure last year from your Pills [illegible] Ointment, it has ever since been my most earn[illegible] endeavour to make known their excellent qualit[illegible]
