POETRY.

[FOR THE COURIER]

MILTON.

Methinks when Milton first invok'd the lyre,
And made its strings re-echo o'er the land
With magic lays, his spirit caught its fire
From Him* whose counterpart he seems to be.
First in his own-day ranks behold him stand
In full defence of rights and liberty.
When his mind, like the "Bard of Avon's" scann'd
The universe of thought—twin names are they—
Twin gods of song and glorious rhapsody,
Link'd in the chain of immortality.
"Milton's the prince of poets"—the annals say
That the fair sisters of the tuneful nine,
Cull'd for his brow a wreath of flowrets gay,
And crown'd him Monarch at the muses' shrine.

Master of Harps! I will compare thee now,
Like to some giant on a mountain's brow,
Gazing below upon the earth he loves,
Yet deeming all that o'er its surface moves,
As nothingness—or, to some fabled king
Of fairy—who, with "tutelary-wand,"
Commands the splendour of perpetual spring
To gleam around his dwelling—thus do ye stand
In my "mind's-eye," when o'er the glowing pages,
Which the world holds in memory of thee,
I cast my eyes, while the heart disengages
Itself from the simpler lessons. Oh! to be
Companion'd thus alone with thee and thine,
Is the most soothing transport of my life:
Life! what art thou? a bark athwart the brine
Of time's rough ocean, whose mast is bent in strife
Against the tide of fortune,—for a storm
Is ever gathering o'er each mortal form.
Fair winds may oft times cherish, still there's fear,
The heart's recess must own the soul's alarm.
Milton! you point life's billows to a calm,
A powerful—good—and all existing balm,—
The noblest effort of thy well earn'd fame,
And monumental standard of thy name.

We extract from a late number of the North British Agriculturist, an account of the mode of Farming practiced at Netherby, the estate of Sir James Graham. We recommend the system of cropping, there pointed out, to the consideration of our Farmers.

As an example of the mode of farming practised on the estate we may shortly describe that of Mr. Birrel of Guards. He occupies the extreme northwestern boundary of England, his land lying a few yards from the shop of the famous Gretna blacksmith who used to bind for ever the runaway lovers who presented themselves at his forge. In extent the farm comprises 475 acres, 60 being reclaimed moss, for which the landlord supplied the tiles, and the tenant expended the rest of the cost of the reclamation. This was a condition of the lease, the landlord providing tiles, and the tenant binding himself to reclaim a certain number of acres annually. The farm is divided into three natural divisions. (1) of moss, (2) weak land unsuitable for wheat, and (3) good land fit for the growth of any kind of crop. These are each subdivided into five fields, and the rotation being a five course, there is thus annually a field of each quality of the farm bearing the same kind of crops—there being three fields of oats, three of green crop, three of wheat, barley, or oats, three of "seeds," and three of pasture. This, with steady management, insures as nearly an uniform result as can be attained. The green food and fodder bear a pretty constant proportion to the quantity of stock, and the amount of horse and manual labour is regulated in the same manner. The rotation begins with oats, which are sown broadcast on one furrow, and yield 27 bushels an acre on the inferior land, to 36 and 48 on that of better quality. The oats are followed by green crop, one-third of which is potatoes, one-third white and yellow turnips, and one-third Swedes. The potatoes are manured with the best dung of the farm, and yield from 6½ to 7½ tons an acre of the Prince Regent variety, which is at present selling at £3 per ton. The turnips and Swedes receive about 20 tons of dung and 2 cwt. of guano per acre, all that have been dunged for being drawn for consumption in the feeding houses. The turnips which are to be eaten on the ground by sheep receive no dung, but have three cwt. of guano per acre. The Swedes are all taken up in December and stored for use in spring, as the farmers here are quite sensible of the injury done both to the soil and the root by leaving it in the ground during the winter and early part of spring. Two-thirds of the land, after green crop, is sown with oats, one-third with wheat, the average yield of which is 30 bushels an acre. 20 fat cattle, reared on the farm, are sent to market annually, and 300 Cheviot lambs are bought in September, and after being wintered on turnips, are sold fat off the grass during the summer. They receive cake or corn from the end of January till sold, and leave an average advance of 20s. each. 60 pigs are bred and fattened annually on the produce of the farm, and bring about £200. They are bought by dealers, who take them by railway to Leeds, Nottingham, and other midland towns, whence a brisk demand has arisen, accompanied by paying prices. Five pairs of horses, assisted occasionally by two young ones, do all the horse work of the farm. They are chiefly fed in the stable, except during the summer, when they are turned out nightly on a good pasture.

So little do the farmers wish to increase the extent of their arable land, and so sensible are they of the great advantage of laying their land to grass with a full plant of "seeds," that it is not uncommon to see the farmers themselves, and of their own choice, sowing out their fields without a corn crop. This practice is attended with much success. On the fine farm of Mr. Gibbons, of Burnfoot, a large extent of strong land is now being laid to grass in this way. It is fallowed and thoroughly cleared of weeds, and in the month of June or July, as soon as it can be got ready, it is sown with a mixture of grass, rape, and clover seeds, in these proportions—5 lbs. perennial rye grass, 7lb. white clover, 7lb. cow grass or perennial red clover, and 3lb. or 4lb. of rapeseed, per acre. This is stocked with sheep the same autumn, the 40 acre piece which saw having yielded excellent keep for 380 for upwards of eight weeks. It is now a green, very refreshing to the eye at ... on and feed a heavy ... mer. ... m, on the ... Besides preparing all this, the daughter of a substantial farmer or independent yeoman may be seen on market-day at Carlisle selling her poultry and dairy produce, while her father or brother is disposing of and delivering his corn and potatoes.

THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.—It is said that a check has been given to the printing of copies of the Book of Common Prayer, from the anticipation generally entertained that, at the instance of the episcopal authorities and other dignitaries of the Church of England, some modification of an Evangelical tendency will be introduced into the Liturgy.

NEW INVENTION IN PAPER MAKING.—M. Adolphe Roque who has bestowed many years of patient investigation on the improvement of the manufacture of paper, has at length, we are informed, succeeded in adapting to that purpose the fibres of certain filaceous plants, especially the banana and the aloe, whereby the present costly, laborious, wasteful, and patchy "rag" process may be superseded by a raw material, easily procurable in large quantities, and safely and economically worked into a clear, strong, and durable texture.—Literary Gazette.

The splendid Rotton Park estate, near Birmingham, for a long period the property of the Noels, of Worcestershire, has just been purchased by Mr. Gillott, the steel pen maker, for £95,000.

The chief officer of the Royal Yacht Victoria & Albert, Commander Crispin, is a zealous Roman Catholic, and so great a favorite in the Royal household, that the Queen and Prince Consort recently stood sponsors for Commander Crispin's twin children, who were baptized in the Roman Catholic chapel!

CARDINAL WISEMAN'S ANCESTORS.—The Falkirk Herald says:—"Our readers may, perhaps, be astonished to learn that this celebrated cardinal, according to current report, is a regular descendant of the Wisemans, cheese-dealers, in the town of Strathaven. It is generally reported in the middle ward of Lanarkshire—with what truth we know not—that one of the Wisemans adventured as far as Cork, about the middle of the last century, to try his fortune in Ireland; that the said Mr. Wiseman took up a cheese and provision store in Cork; that, by a subsequent marriage, he became entangled with a Roman Catholic wife; and that the mother, thinking she was ruling the fate of the boy, sent him to Spain, whence we have received Cardinal Wiseman. There can be no doubt but that Wiseman is nearly a local name, and that it is peculiar to Strathaven. Many of the name are yet cheese-dealers there.

Field Marshal Thomas Grosvenor died at Mount Arrarat, near Richmond, Surrey, on the 20th Jan.—He was in his 87th year, and entered the army at the age of fifteen. He received the thanks of Parliament for his services at Copenhagen, along with Lord Cathcart, General French, and Sir Arthur Wellesley. He was appointed Colonel of the 65th Regiment in 1814, and was honored with a Field Marshal's baton in 1846.

The monster packet-ship Washington, one of the black star line, has arrived at Liverpool after a smart passage of sixteen days from New-York.

The autograph (signature only) of Oliver Cromwell was sold in London, a few days ago, for £2. Queen Elizabeth's signature brought £2 10s.

The United States Mail Steamer Ohio, arrived at New-York last Saturday afternoon from Chagres and Havana. She brings $200,000 in gold dust from Chagres, on freight, and 150 passengers, some of whom have large amounts of gold dust. The dates from California are no later than those before received.

The Steamship Prometheus, from Chagres and New Orleans, and the Cherokee from Chagres, also arrived at New-York on Saturday morning. The Cherokee brought $500,000 on freight and in the hands of passengers.

The freight list of the clipper ship White Squall, which had arrived at San Francisco from New-York in 124 days' passage, amounted to $72,000—being about one-third the value of goods on board, taking the fair average value in the market; while a very large quantity of the goods will not yield the freight money, much less New-York cost; and yet it was stated in one of the New-York papers that her cargo was one of the most valuable that ever left that port.

BLAKE'S
Patent Fire Proof Paint.

THE subscribers have received per schooner "Columbine," from New-York, a further supply of this singular and valuable substance. In addition to the slate color, they have a beautiful chocolate or brown, resembling the sand stone now in use and so much admired for fronts of buildings.

Its principal ingredients are Silica, Alumina and Prot. Oxide of Iron, which, in the opinion of scientific men, satisfactorily accounts for its fire-proof nature, the two former substances being non-conductors, and the latter acting as a cement to bind the whole together, and make an adhesive and durable Paint.

For use it is mixed with Linseed Oil, and applied with a brush the same as ordinary Paint to Wood, Iron, Tin, &c. It hardens gradually and becomes Fire Proof. It is particularly recommended for roofs of buildings, steam boat decks, fences, &c. A roof coated with this substance is equal to one of Slate, at a vast saving of expense.

Specimens may be seen at the Office of the subscribers. The price is 3d. per pound.

We annex two of many certificates sent us.

ALLISON & SPURR.
St. John, Sept. 29, 1849.

"This may certify that we have been acquainted with "Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint" for some years, and are well assured that it is really what its name indicates—FIRE PROOF.—We consider it a better Fire Proof than Tin or Zinc, and will insure buildings well covered with it at a much lower premium than those covered with the above mentioned metals.

MR. BLAKE.—Dear Sir,—We last Spring covered the roof of the "American" with your Fire Proof Paint. We now find that it has become as hard as slate; and the almost constant tread of the servants, (who use the top of the house for drying clothes,) does not affect it in the least, and it proves all that it was recommended.

Coughs, Asthma, and INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
ARE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY
Keating's Cough Lozenges.

DURING a period of more than 40 years, this valuable medicine has triumphantly borne the severest test of public opinion, and upon that sound basis alone, it has gradually but surely won its way to pre-eminence, until it is now universally acknowledged to be the most effectual, safe, and speedy remedy ever offered to the world for that large class of disease which affects the Pulmonary Organs.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES have been proved by long experience to be equally efficacious and powerful in those severer forms of Pulmonic Affections—Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, and Spasmodic Cough; as in the milder, but often not less troublesome disorders of the Throat and Chest, Winter Cough, Hoarseness, difficulty of Breathing, and Irritation of the Throat, &c. Their entire freedom from all deleterious ingredients and opiates, whilst it renders KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES a safe remedy for the most delicate female or youngest child, has caused them to be held in the highest esteem by Public Speakers, Clergymen, and Professional Singers; but, perhaps, the high approval which is bestowed upon these Lozenges by some of the most eminent of the Faculty, is the best and most convincing guarantee of their safety, efficacy, and purity.

Prepared and sold in Boxes, 1s. 1½d., and Tins, 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 10s. 6d. each, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., No. 79, St. Paul's Church Yard, London.

Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Venders in the Kingdom.

N. B.—To prevent spurious imitations please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the GOVERNMENT STAMP of each Box.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONIALS.
CURE OF HOOPING COUGH OF AN ADULT.

Denmark House, Henley-upon-Thames,
April 8th, 1850.

SIR,—From an Advertisement in the Christian Witness, I was induced to try some of your Lozenges; having about 5 years ago had the Hooping Cough at the age of 29, which left me very weak, and a Cough till within this last 12 months. Now I can say I am in perfect health, through only taking 4 small Boxes of your Lozenges. I write this to thank you, for the good of my present fellow sufferers, and begging you will make this public. I have already recommended them to a great many of my friends and still will do so. I am, Sir, your's respectfully,
CAROLINE KING.

Another instance of the good effects of Keating's Cough Lozenges, upwards of Twenty-One Years standing.

Liverpool, 6, Bold Place, Jan. 26, 1848.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have great pleasure in informing you that my wife has received great benefit from the use of Keating's Cough Lozenges, you recommended her a short time since. Previous to this she had been troubled with a severe Cough, and was under some of our first medical men here without experiencing any relief; however, Keating's Lozenges have done wonders.

With respects, believe me, your's faithfully,
THOS. MAYOR.
