HER MAJESTY'S SPEECH ON OPENING PARLIAMENT.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"I cannot meet you for the first time after the dissolution of Parliament, without expressing my deep sorrow, in which I am sure you will participate, that your deliberations can no longer be aided by the councils of that illustrious man whose great achievements have exalted the name of England, and in whose loyalty and patriotism the interests of my throne and of my people ever found an unfailing support. I rely with confidence on your desire to join with me in taking such steps as may mark your sense of the irreparable loss which the country has sustained by the death of Arthur, Duke of Wellington.

"I am happy to acknowledge the readiness with which my subjects in general have come forward, in pursuance of the act of last session, to join the ranks of the militia; and I confidently trust that the force thus raised, by voluntary enlistment, will be calculated to give effective aid to my regular army for the protection and security of the country.

"I continue to receive from all Foreign Powers assurances of their anxious desire to maintain the friendly relations now happily subsisting with my Government.

"Frequent and well founded complaints on the part of my North American Colonies, of infractions, by citizens of the United States, of the Fishery Convention of 1818, induced me to despatch for the protection of their interests, a class of vessels better adapted to the service than those which had been previously employed. This step has led to discussions with the Government of the United States; and while the rights of my subjects have been firmly maintained, the friendly spirit in which the question has been treated induces me to hope that the ultimate result may be a mutually beneficial extension and improvement of our commercial intercourse with that great Republic.

"The Special Mission which, in concert with the Prince President of the French Republic, I deemed it right to send to the Argentine Confederation, has been received with the utmost cordiality, and the wise and enlightened policy of the Provisional Director has already opened to the commerce of the world the great rivers hitherto closed, which afford an access to the interior of the vast continent of South America.

"I have the satisfaction of announcing to you that the sincere and zealous efforts of the government of Brazil, for the suppression of the slave trade, now nearly extinguished on that coast, have enabled me to suspend the stringent measures which I have been compelled reluctantly to adopt, [illegible] may be recurrence to which [I] anxiously hope [illegible].

"The go[vernment illegible] to be unnecessary. [illegible] jesty have ful[illegible] of Her Most Faithful Majesty [illegible] claim which my [illegible] recognised the justice of the abolition of the di[illegible] have long urged for export of wine, and hav[e illegible] [illegible]nating duties on [illegible] giving complete effect to th[e illegible] passed a decree for [illegible] [sti]pulations of the [tre]aty on this subject.

[illegible] sume [illegible] will probably deem it advisable to re[illegible] the late Parliaries which were commenced by the subject of the [illegible] with a view to legislation on Indian possessions. [illegible] government of my East [illegible]

"Gentlemen of the House [illegible]

"The estimates for the ensuing [illegible] due time be laid before you.

"The advancement of the Fine Arts, and of Practical Science, will be readily acknowledged by you as worthy of the attention of a great and enlightened nation; I have directed that a comprehensive scheme shall be laid before you, having in view the promotion of these objects, towards which I invite your aid and co-operation.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"It gives me pleasure to be enabled by the blessing of Providence to congratulate you on the generally improved condition of the country, and especially of the industrious classes. If you should be of opinion that recent legislation in contributing, with other causes, to this happy result, has at the same time inflicted unavoidable injury on certain important interests, I recommend you dispassionately to consider how far it may be practicable equitably to mitigate that injury, and to enable the industry of the country to meet successfully that unrestricted competition to which Parliament, in its wisdom, has decided that it should be subjected.

"I trust that the general improvement, notwithstanding many obstacles, has extended to Ireland; and while I rely with confidence on your aid, should it be required, to restrain that unhappy spirit of insubordination and turbulence which produces many, and aggravates all of the evils which afflict that portion of my dominions, I recommend to you the adoption of such a liberal and generous policy towards Ireland as may encourage and assist her to rally from the depression in which she has been sunk by the sufferings of late years.

"Anxious to promote the efficiency of every branch of our National Church, I have thought fit to issue a commission to inquire and report to me how far, in their opinion, the capitular institutions of the country are capable of being made more effective for the great objects of religious worship, religious education, and ecclesiastical discipline.

"I have directed that the report of the Commissioners for inquiring into the system of education pursued at Oxford and Cambridge, should be communicated to the governing bodies of those Universities for their consideration, and I rely upon your readiness to remove any legal difficulties which may impede the desire of the Universities at large, or of the several Colleges, to introduce such amendments into their existing system as they may deem to be more in accordance with the requirements of the present time.

"The system of secondary punishments has usefully occupied the labours of successive Parliaments, and I shall rejoice if you shall find it possible to devise means by which, without giving encouragement to crime, transportation to Van Dieman's Land may, at no distant period, be altogether discontinued.

"The subject of Legal Reform continues to engage my anxious attention. The acts passed in the last session of Parliament have been followed up by the orders necessary for putting them in operation; inquiries are in progress, by my direction, with a view of bringing into harmony the testamentary jurisdiction of my several courts; and bills will be submitted to you for effecting further improvements in the administration of the law.

"To these, and other measures effecting the social condition of the country, I am persuaded that you will give your earnest and zealous attention; and I pray that, by the blessing of Almighty God, your deliberations may be guided to the well being and happiness of my people."

In the House of Lords, on Monday, a Bill was passed, making Thursday the 18th a legal holiday, out of respect to the memory of the late Duke of Wellington. Subsequently the House of Commons agreed to the same proposition.

In the House of Commons, on Friday evening, the Chancellor of the Exchequer said, in answer to Mr. Herbert, that he could not fix the time when the papers relative to the North American fishery would be laid before the House, but he believed he could assure the House that the result of the negotiations would be of great commercial advantage.

Very high floods had occurred in the Thames, the Wye, Severn, and other rivers, resulting in much damage being sustained to property in the neighbourhood.

In the valley of the Trent, the freshet is said to have been more disastrous than any within human recollection. The railways leading to Nottingham were impassible. Many of the villages on the banks of the river are partially under water, and very many industrial establishments in this vicinity are inundated, completely stopping business operations within, and greatly damaging stocks and machinery.

The Severn too, had overflowed its banks, doing considerable damage at Glouester, Tewksbury, Shrewsbury and other places. The Soar and other rivers had also inundated the low ground in their vicinity.

The Aberdeen clippers have fairly beaten the Yankees. The Surprise has arrived at Deal, after a passage of 108 days from Canton, while the Chrysolite performed the run in 104 days.

On the 16th the new Cunard screw steamer Andes arrived at Liverpool, from Greenock, and will sail for New York on the 8th of December. The Alps, the second steamer of the New line, is expected at Liverpool by the middle of December.

The Sunderland News informs the world that Mr. Hudson, M. P., has more than redeemed his losses, and is now a richer man than ever, through judicious investments in railway shares during the late depreciation.

The Prince de Leuchenberg died at St. Petersburg on the 25th October.

The Hon. John Ross, Solicitor General, left Quebec on the 23d instant, for England, on business of the Grand Trunk Railway, of which he is the President.

The gentlemen composing the "Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada East," that is the Quebec and Trois Pistoles Company, have been proclaimed by His Excellency the Governor General. Among the number are the Hon. William Walker, Sir Henry John Caldwell, James Bell Forsyth, and Edward Ryan, Esquires, of Quebec, and the Hon. George Pemberton and Henry Mather Jackson, Esq., of London.

AUSTRALIA.—Late intelligence from Australia has been received at New-York, by way of Panama.

The subject of leases to squatters was attracting much attention, and was likely to be the source of much trouble and disaffection. The Government was preparing to issue the licenses in accordance with the Act of Parliament and Order in Council. An address to the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that the leases might not be issued, was moved in the Legislative Council and rejected, and preliminary meetings were being held to decide upon what course to adopt.

A railway from Sydney to Goulburn was talked of—and there were a number of advocates for making the project far more extensive at once, and running the road from Sydney to Melbourne. There is no doubt of the feasibility of constructing this road at a rapid rate—and the advantages to be derived therefrom are very great.

The early suppression of convicts transported to Van Dieman's Land, and some security against the admission of convicts therein at present, are earnestly sought for.

Sydney has indeed grown to be a City of great commercial importance. We learn from The Shipping Gazette, that on the 14th of August last, there were over eighty vessels lying in port, some seventy expected within a few days, thirteen whaleships therefrom at sea—and there had been twelve arrivals within six days, and a very large number of departures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Secretary of the Interior to-day awarded the contract for executing the brick work for the Capitol extension, to Frederick Burshe, at $2,49 per thousand, being the lowest bid. The number of bricks to be laid has been estimated at twenty millions. The contract will therefore involve the expenditure of $50,000.

In spite of 20 per cent. duty, the Agricultural products of Canada are finding their way across the American frontier in increasing quantities. Agents of American houses are traversing the country in every direction, and buying up butter, eggs, cheese, pork, and even hay. This latter article has never before been purchased in that market for exportation; but is now purchased, packed and sent over in considerable quantities. It has already, so early in the season, reached the enormous price of $16 a ton. This trade is diverted to two great Atlantic cities, New-York and Boston, but principally the former. Cattle and pigs are also bought up in considerable quantities for the American market. This is a large and increasing trade, in the face of the existing duties; the articles in question being actually consumed in the American market, [illegible] consequently paying the duties.

The [illegible] brig Voyager, arrived at Philadelphia from [illegible] scarce [illegible] not two cargoes to be had among the Islands.

Dates from St. Domingo City to the 5th inst. have been received. Fever was prevailing there to an alarming extent. Numerous deaths had occurred.

The steamer California left San Francisco, Nov. 1st for Panama, with nearly $2,700,000 on freight.

Shipments of specie during October amounted to $4,672,000.

It is said that the city of San Francisco would pay the interest of its debt, on the 1st inst., leaving a handsome surplus.

Gold has been found in the mountains near Seatura.

A convention of miners was held on the 7th at Wood's Creek. A committee was appointed to notify all foreigners to leave that vicinity before the 25th.

SOUTH AMERICA.—By the British Mail steamship Bogota, from the south, we have dates from Valparaiso to the 16th of October. The news from Chili is scanty.

The Lobos controversy, is settled, the United States authorities at Lima having forbidden American vessels to take guano, with out the consent of the Peruvian Government.

The Peruvian Government have offered charters to all American vessels visiting the Lobos Islands for guano, so as not to throw them out of employment by a refusal of permission to load there. The force hitherto stationed at the Islands is to be withdrawn, and merely a schooner kept there to enter into contracts with the American vessels as they arrive.—N. Y. Tribune.

KINGDOM OF SPAIN.—A late Madrid paper contains the following, which suggests matter for grave thought:

"Spanish dominions once occupied an eighth of the known world. Our country has been the greatest of the globe; and, in the days of its splendor, neither the gigantic empire of Alexander, not the vastness of that of the present Czar, could be compared to it. The sun never set upon our country, which contained 80,000 square leagues and 60,000,000 inhabitants. Of so much richness and power, we have lost more than two-thirds in a couple of centuries! In 1565 we ceded Malta to the Order of St. John; France afterwards took possession of it, and ultimately the English. In 1620, Louis XIII. incorporated Lower Navarre and Bearn with France. In 1649 our Government recognised the Conquest of Roussillon, made by the same monarch. In 1640, Portugal emancipated herself, with all her transatlantic possessions. In 1581 we began losing the Netherlands; in 1648 they made themselves independent.

The English took from us, in 1626, the Island of Barbadoes; in 1656, Jamaica; 1704, Gibraltar; 1718, the Lucayas; 1759, Dominica; 1797, Trinidad. In 1635, the French made themselves masters of Dominica; in 1650, of Granada; 1665, of Guadaloupe. In 1697, we shared St. Domingo with France; in 1721, we lost our half. In 1790, we abandoned Oran after the earthquake. In 1791, we ceded our rights over Oran and Mazalquivir to Morocco. In 1713, we ceded Sardinia to the Duke of Savoy; Padua, Placentia, Lucca, and other districts in the north of Italy, were ceded to princes of the reigning family. In 1759, we lost Naples and Sicily, in consequence of the Infante Don Carlos selling them to occupy the Spanish throne. In 1800, we ceded Louisiana to France; and in 1819, Florida to the Americans; and lastly, the South American Colonies emancipated themselves successively from 1816 to 1824."
