

VISITORS HALT BUSINESS OF CITY COUNCIL

Commissioner Frink Suggests That When Members Have Callers the Latter be Politely Shown to Door at Meeting Time—Tax Appeals to be Heard Friday.

Several matters were dealt with at the committee meeting of the common council yesterday morning and business which has been set aside during the hydro discussion had its innings. Among the subjects taken up were the repairs to the street railway trestle on Rodney wharf and the extensions at the civic swimming scows, Kennedy street. The letter of the mayor to the New Brunswick Power Co. and their reply of acknowledgement, stating the matter would be placed before the directors this week, was ordered filed.

Myor Fisher presided and Commissioners Wigmore, Frink and Bullock were in attendance. Commissioner Thornton was reported absent from the city.

At ten minutes after eleven only the mayor and Commissioner Frink were in the room and the Commissioner suggested that adjournment be made. Just as they were about to leave Commissioner Bullock arrived and a few minutes later Commissioner Wigmore came in. Commissioner Frink suggested that when any of the members of the council had callers they politely show them the door when the time arrived for a council meeting.

A bill from the Parish of Lancaster for $115.00 for school taxes on city land was presented by Commissioner Bullock and ordered paid with the understanding that the city would have permission to appeal later.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock renewal of lease of lot 1652, Brooks ward to Mrs. Laura J. Morrissey was recommended.

Commissioner Frink recommended that the request of the Jones Electric Co. for permission to erect an electric sign at 86 Charlotte street be compiled under the usual regulations. Carried.

A communication from the C.N.R. office Moncton stating they would pave the section between the railway tracks crossing Haymarket Square with reinforced cement blocks, the work to be done next spring, was ordered filed.

Commissioner Bullock reported that an agreement had been reached between the city engineer and the engineer of the New Brunswick Power Co. for repairs to the trestle of the Company alongside Rodney wharf and recommended that the council approve of the plans, which call for the removal of the fence to the inside line of the wharf instead of where it is at present and leaving the trestle open, instead of plank over. The matter will be further considered today.

Rodney Wharf Piles.

The commissioner of harbors was given authority to place fifteen piles on the face of North Rodney wharf at an estimated cost of $150. The proposed extension to the accommodation at the swimming scows was under discussion and Commissioner Bullock will present a further report on this matter today.

On the suggestion of Commissioner Bullock the mayor will present a report on changes in city hall to give the chamberlain more office room. The scheme in mind is to remove the drafting rooms to the water and sewerage building, Carmarthen street, and to convert the top floor into a council chamber.

Commissioner Wigmore said he would at the same time present a report on needed improvements at the water and sewerage building.

On the suggestion of Commissioner Frink seemed to think was trying to have some fun with him about it, the commissioner of public works is to bring in a report on the Lower Cove boulevard.

An application of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. for permission to erect two poles in Dufferin Avenue, plus a lateral from Main street to Elm street and to enlarge a man hole at the corner of Union and Prince William streets, was referred to the commissioner of public works for a report.

Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., wrote asking that a date be fixed to hear his appeal from the 1922 assessment and it was decided to hold a session on Friday morning to hear these appeals. The meetings will be open.

TRAFFICKERS IN DRUGS RAPPED

Two Year Sentence Imposed as Result of a "Party" in Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 27—Drug traffickers were roundly condemned in the court of King's Bench here today when Mr. Justice Lafontaine passed sentence of two years' imprisonment on Elie Lafortune, found guilty of manslaughter last week, in connection with the death of Paul Rolland, 19, in the course of a "drug party" in a house on St. Denis street.

"The family of the accused is one of the best," said the judge, "and it is a terrible thing that he should be the cause of so much distress. But he must suffer for his wrongdoing, and I hope he will change his ways as a result."

Totally blind and groping his way to the witness box on crutches, Raphael Molano, 40, defended himself against a charge of being in possession of a tin containing 77 decks of cocaine which was found in a suitcase in his rooming house on St. Urban street. Yvonne Beland, employed to look after Molano's rooming house, pleaded guilty to being in possession of the tin, and bore out Molano's statement that he knew nothing of the matter. Decision will be given Nov. 29.

AMEND ORDER IN GARNEAU GIRL CASE

Royal Commissioners Are Determined to Locate Murderers of Quebec Woman.

OBJECTIONS TO THE ADVENTISTS' TAG DAY

Methodist Ministers Adopt Resolution of Protest—Mayor's Explanation.

Quebec, Nov. 27—The order in council appointing the Royal Commission, which was instructed to investigate the conduct of the Attorney General's department in connection with the murder of Blanche Garneau, a Quebec girl, who was put to death two years ago, will be amended. The commissioners will also make all possible inquiries and hear all available witnesses who may be able to supply information which might lead to the discovery of the real guilty parties.

Aime Geoffrin, K. C., one of the lawyers for the Attorney General's department announced this afternoon when the commission resumed operations that the government would amend the order-in-council as to make it possible for the commission to attempt to discover the murderers.

This will mean not only extending the scope of the investigation, but will also require the production of many more witnesses and as a consequence the commission may be forced to sit for several weeks.

At today's sessions, there was little in the way of a surprise or sensation. The sort of details of the crime were again rehearsed by a number of witnesses. How the various clues had been followed by the police was explained and only incidents of a minor nature which occurred immediately after the murder and during the trials of Binet and Palmer, were brought to light in the course of the evidence.

STONE CHURCH W. A. MEETING

The Church of England Institute assembly room was well filled with the ladies of the W. A. of Stone church, yesterday afternoon who met in their regular monthly business meeting, with devotion and discussion of missions. The letter from Miss Rowland, one of the society's workers in Vancouver, was most interesting, with its romance of the marriage of the Japanese missionary and his tiny wife from the far-away island of the Pacific.

Mr. Oana was a student in Canada and he sent to Japan for his sweetheart, who could not come unless she was his wife, so they were married according to Japanese rule, on paper, and the young attractive girl ventured forth to the unknown land. As Mr. Oana wished to complete his scholastic work, they delayed their real marriage for two years, but are now settled in Vancouver, working together among their own people in the east end of the city with great success. Miss Rowland said in her letter that Mr. Oana is a scholar of outstanding ability and has many titles, which he has earned through application and earnest study. It was of interest to the meeting to hear a description of the young Japanese girl from Miss Alfred Morrissey, who met her in Winnipeg over two years ago, when Mrs. Oana came over to Canada.

At the recent wedding which was described in detail by Miss Rowland, the whole W. A. of the large city of Vancouver attended in a body. The interest never abates in Mr. and Mrs. Oana, who are a great stimulus to the work, with their consecrated ability to teach and win their people to the life of Christianity. Miss Rowland, the sender of the letter has been in Japan for eleven years and has recently come to Vancouver.

It was decided to make a special effort for Christmas within the diocese and a good report of the work of the past month was heard.

The Girls' Association of the Stone church met in the evening and decided to supply comforts for three families in keeping with the plans of the Women's Auxiliary. They are very earnest in their desire to help and were commended by the older society of which they are a branch.

Turkey And U. S. Treaty Is Planned

Paris, Nov. 27—Preparation of a separate treaty between Turkey and the United States is under consideration at Lausanne, says a despatch to the Temps. The correspondent suggests that this perhaps was the subject of yesterday's long conversation between Richard Washburn Child and

MILBURN'S Laxa-Liver Pills The Great Liver Regulators

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Therefore when the liver is inactive and failing to secrete bile in sufficient quantity constipation and other liver troubles soon follow.

Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and they have done me a lot of good. My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything. I tried some my housework. I tried everything, but your Pills seemed to do the work far better than anything I had ever taken."

MISS TREMAIN KING'S NURSE

National Red Cross Representative from Toronto, Now in St. John, Modest and Efficient.

Miss Violet Tremain, of Toronto, who is the representative of the National Red Cross at the nurseries at West Side for the winter port season, is a Canadian woman of whom all other Canadian women can be justly proud. When approached for an interview, she was modestly itself, but her desire to be helpful to the work she has in hand and incidentally to show graciousness to the reporter, made her most delightful to meet and to converse with.

Enthusiasm was apparent when she spoke of the work of the Red Cross and she paid tribute to the assistance that was given by the Women's Institutes all over Canada in the follow-up work that is carried on from the result of her reports and directions to the mothers who come, as strangers to Canada from across the seas. Being unfamiliar with clinics, these new citizens are given papers that guide them to the proper places, under the care of the Red Cross, or if that organization is not available, the Women's Institute and V. A. D.'s step in to welcome and sustain by kindly cheer.

It would be the wish of Miss Tremain that the story of her achievement should take second place and that is why it is so written. Her greatness is shown by the desire to augment her purpose as an agent of the Red Cross, rather than to state primarily all the wonderful things she has done and passed through.

Miss Tremain was in the First Canadian Casualty Clearing Station in France, in 1915, that time of awful suspense and carnage. When King George was injured, she was his nurse at the front and when he could be moved, Miss Tremain went with him to Buckingham Palace, in London. She was there for six weeks, and it was "a wonderful time," she said, in a tone that told more than many words. King George presented her with the medal of the Victorian Order and Queen Mary with pictures of herself and the King, autographed.

Miss Tremain was afterwards with the J. O. D. E. hospital in London and it all could be discovered there will be much more to relate from her experiences in her profession, in which she is skilled. One is impressed with her efficiency and capability, which is so marked in her cousin, Miss Metkiefjohn, the Public Health nurse, and there is every assurance that the port work will be handled with precision, tact and womanly ability.

In speaking of the follow-up work, Miss Tremain paid tribute to the very fine co-operation of the Public Health department of New Brunswick with the Red Cross. She declared that the two are becoming so interwoven that the work is being developed beyond the fondest hopes of the promoters.

Deposed Boy Emperor Of China Weds Friday

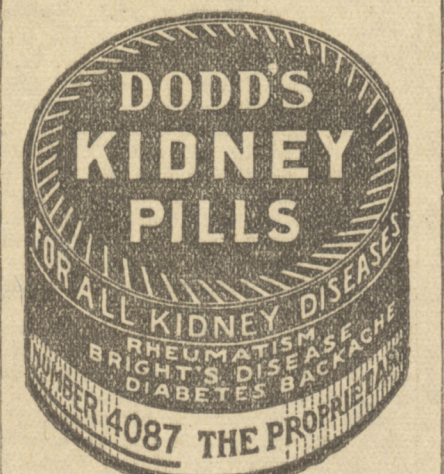

Peking, Nov. 27—Haun Tung, 17, deposed boy emperor of China, will be married next Friday, according to the customs of the old Manchu dynasty to a Chinese princess one year his junior, upon whose face he never has gazed.

His only information about his future wife, gleaned from newspapers through the aid of tutors, is that she rides a bicycle, studies English and sews.

His first glimpse of her, the Princess Kuo Chin-Si, daughter of Prince Kuo Chin-Si, will come when she is unveiled during the ceremony which starts at four o'clock Friday morning and lasts for several days.

Ismet Pasha.

"If the basis for such an arrangement was laid bare at Lausanne," the correspondent telegraphs, "the conference would find its entire character changed, and it would reinforce Turkey's position considerably."

"I Believe in Fair Play!"

— Mr. SMP —

An Appeal to Housewives

THE local hardware merchant is one of the most useful citizens in any community. His one object is to serve faithfully the householders of the community in which his store is located. Give him Fair Play.

He is vitally interested in the neighborhood and all its citizens. He pays his local taxes and helps maintain the community. The money he gets from selling his goods to you, he spends in turn with other merchants of the community. His life's savings are invested in the hardware business he conducts. He is raising his family and helping to keep up the schools where your children are being educated.

But, unfortunately, all these things are forgotten when some householders buy goods at their doors from peddlers or house-to-house canvassers. These individuals are very persistent in their efforts and will go to great lengths to sell you their wares. They deliberately play on your sympathies. They should be turned down at once! They have no grain or tittle of interest in you or the neighborhood, other than to sell their wares and be gone. You will probably never see him or her again.

When you buy kitchen utensils or household articles from one of these peddlers you are not playing fair either with yourself or the hardware man of your community. You are injuring your hardware man for the reason that these peddlers are in direct competition with him.

The hardware merchant is in business to serve you. To sell you his goods at a fair, reasonable price is his daily occupation. Strengthen him by buying from him and he will be of even greater service to you.

Loyalty to those who serve you is as fine a thing as loyalty to those whom you serve. Remember the hardware merchant. Buy from him when you can, and treat him with the same fairness that you expect from others.
