ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE W. C. T. U. MET AT WOODSTOCK

Department Reports Reveal Satisfactory Work Going on Through the Efforts of the Union in New Brunswick and P. E. I.

Special to The Journal.

Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 4—The sixteenth annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of N. B. and P. E. I. is in session here. Last night there was a meeting of the executive at the home of Mrs. Frank Brown. This morning and afternoon the regular programme was carried out and this evening addresses were delivered by local clergymen. This session is being held in the hall of the Methodist Church. At nine o'clock this morning the President, Mrs. Perry of Summerside presided. In the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. Webster of Fredericton, was appointed and Mrs. T. A. Clark of Newcastle, Cor. Secretary. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. Seymour of St. John, evangelistic superintendent.

Minutes of exec. were received. The following committee were appointed. Credential, Mesdames Hanson and Seeley. Finance, Mesdames Lawson, Slipp, McWha and Wilson. Courtesy, Mesdames Mutch and Coleman. Resolution, Mesdames Clarke, Tingley, Humphrey and Grimmer. Plan of work Mesdames Seymour, Scott, Fillman, Hanson, Hoare and Grimmer.

Many of the department reports were read and showed good work and brought out much discussion of an interesting nature. A valuable paper on "Y" work by Mrs. Card of Dorchester by Mrs. Clarke and brought out the importance of work among our young people to fit them to take the places of present workers, and fit them for a life of purpose and usefulness. A vote of thanks was ordered sent Mrs. Card for her very excellent paper. Mrs. Conron gave an interesting and helpful bible reading. At the noontide hour, meeting adjourned.

Wednesday afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Robertson of St. John. The minutes of morning session were adopted. Several more reports of work were read and discussed. A paper on child welfare was prepared and read by Mrs. London. After discussion of many of the good points, it was decided to have the paper printed and distributed. Mrs. Griffiths delighted the audience with a solo, "The bird with a broken wing." Greetings were brought to the convention from the Woodstock Women's Institute by Mrs. Dalling, and from the local union by Mrs. Mutch, and a letter of greetings and good wishes from our Dominion president, Mrs. S. R. Wright, read by Mrs. Perry. Mrs. McWha made reply and in thanking Woodstock Union for entertainment said this is the fourth time they have had convention meeting. In 1892 as a Maritime Union, then in 1898 with Mrs. Gray president and fourteen years ago when Mrs. Simon McLeod, formerly of Woodstock, was then president.

The following delegates registered: Mrs. J. S. Perry, Summerside; Mrs. Jas. McWha, Sussex, N. B.; Mrs. A. E. M. Lawson, Fredericton; Mrs. John Webster, Fredericton; Mrs. T. A. Clark, Newcastle; Mrs. Hope Thomson, St. John; Mrs. Mary Seymour, St. John; Mrs. O. D. Hanson, Fairville; Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Fairville; Mrs. A. L. Bonnell, Fairville; Mrs. H. T. Bonnell, St. John; Mrs. A. H. Wright, St. John; Mrs. Elswith Scott, St. John; Mrs. I. M. Hoare, St. John; Mrs. W. A. Kennedy, Woodstock; Mrs. Fred T. Tingley, Sackville; Mrs. William A. Fawcett, Sackville; Mrs. Parkin, Petitcodiac; Mrs. W. L. Grimmer, St. Stephen; Mrs. O. Kitchen, Fredericton; Mrs. H. N. Hayward, Fredericton; Mrs. James Kelley, Fredericton; Mrs. George Wilson, Moncton; Mrs. D. H. Charters, Moncton; Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, St. John; Mrs. J. D. Seeley, St. John; Mrs. (Dr.) H. H. Coleman, Moncton; Mrs. C. O. Mutch, Woodstock; Mrs. C. Straight, Cambridge; Mrs. Daniel Wilson, Cambridge, preached on the significance of the day's observance. In the afternoon, Thanksgiving Service was held at St. Augustine's, Summerhill. The collections at all the services were large.

GAGETOWN

Gagetown, Oct. 3—Cameron L. Scott, who owns a general woodworking shop here is recovering from a painful accident received a few days ago, when he had his left hand caught in the planes, at his shop. Mr. Scott had been planing a piece of birch and one of the hard knots caught in the knives of the planes, and as he was endeavoring to draw the board out, his left hand caught in the planer, cutting two fingers very severely. The little finger was nearly severed. Dr. Jenkins dressed the wound, and it is not thought that it will be necessary to amputate any of the fingers. However, it will be some time before Mr. Scott will have the use of his hand again.

The partridge season and big game season opened on October first, which being Sunday, proved an almost unbearable occurrence to those interested in hunting. Partridge are reported to be very plentiful and are remarkably tame. A young lady walking along the back street near the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon was surprised to see a partridge fly up from the side of the road, and wing its way into a nearby orchard. Flocks of partridge have also been seen in orchards near houses a short distance back from the town, leading the eager sportsman to surmise that the woods are overflowing with them. Practically all the partridge in this locality are of the spruce variety; the birch partridge is considered quite a rarity. Big game seems to be quite plentiful; but so far no moose or deer have been shot here.

John McKay, about fifteen years of age, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George McKay, was the victims of an unpleasant hunting accident yesterday afternoon, and it is fortunate that he fared as well as he did. Accompanied by two other boys, he went out in the woods after partridge. After a few hours tramping, the boys sat down a while, and by way of experiment, took the shot out of one their cartridges and filled it in with gravel stones. Johnnie was standing a short distance away from the other two boys, when his cousin, Rodney Wiggins, playfully pointed the gun with the improvised cartridge at him, and told him he would fire. The gun went off, the load taking young McKay in the hip. The penetration of the gravel proved much deeper than the boys had bargained for, and as a result they had to carry the victim of their fooling back to his home, where Dr. W. M. Jenkins had to be summoned to remove the stones, which were quite deeply imbedded in the flesh. No doubt all concerned will remember this shooting accident, and its circumstances for some time to come.

People here were shocked to learn of the death of young Samuel B. Johnston of Camden street, St. John, whose father had been employed in the work of raising and repairing the Gagetown Methodist Church. Both father and son were here for some days, and to all who came in contact with them, the sad accident caused much regret. The two Johnsons and the man who was employed with them had finished here, and returned to St. John only a few days before the accident occurred.

The annual Harvest Festival was duly observed on Sunday in St. John's Church, and large congregations were present at the morning and evening services. The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion, richly-tinted autumn leaves making a background for the golden ears of corn, the many colored vegetables heaped about the chancel steps, and the beautiful flowers with which all parts of the Church were adorned. The old familiar Harvest hymns were sung, and the rector, Rev. H. T. Buck-lieved to be of incendiary origin and occurring within twenty-four hours of each other, yesterday evening and this morning, caused damage estimated at approximately $20,000 to St. Jean De Dieu asylum for the insane at Longue Pointe. In neither case was there any trouble with the 3,000 inmates of the asylum, the majority not being aware that the institution was on fire. The most serious outbreak occurred yesterday, and did considerable damage to the boiler house at the rear of the hospital. This morning's fire broke out in the kitchen of the administrative building.

To Erect New Church Building

Ludlow St. Church Will Have Additional Building Known as "W. R. Robinson Memorial."

The Sunday school of the Ludlow street Baptist church has outgrown its present quarters, and to provide the necessary room, and also gymnasium and recreational facilities, it has been decided to undertake the erection of a new building to be known as the "W. R. Robinson Memorial."

The need for increased accommodation has been felt for some time, the membership of the school now being about 400, in addition to the home department and cradle roll, but the first active step was taken last Sunday, when at a meeting of the officers and teachers held after the regular session, the matter was brought up and after some discussion it was decided to recommend to the church board that a building be erected as a memorial to the late Rev. W. R. Robinson, who for twelve years was the loved pastor of the church.

A fund will be opened at once with Miss M. E. Mullin as treasurer, and it is hoped to soon be in a position to begin construction of the building.

St. David's W. M. S. Monthly Meeting

Interesting Reports Received — Impressions of Annual Meeting Given by Delegates

The second regular monthly meeting for the season of the W. M. S. of St. David's church was held yesterday afternoon in the school room of the Assembly Hall, with the President, Mrs. Campbell Johnson in the chair. The very interesting reports of Mrs. R. A. Jamieson and Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank were given of their impressions at the annual meeting of the W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church that was held at Summerside in September. They told of the work of the year as stated in the various reports that were given and of the thought of need for prayer and more devotion that was the keynote of all the deliberations. This note was sounded in the meeting yesterday.

Routine business was conducted, after the devotional service was led by the President. The Treasurer reported that the funds were in a gratifying condition. It was decided to take up the study of the educational book that is prescribed by the Presbytery this year, "Building The Nation," and this will be prominent in the programme for the next meeting. There was a good attendance and fine enthusiasm.

Amateur Style Show Fancied By Halifax

But St. John Girls Are Ahead With the Costumes and a Real Movie Camera to Supplement Their Performance at Imperial Tonight.

Halifax has followed St. John's lead in initiating a Fashion Parade by local talent and one is being organized for their big arena the end of the month. But tonight the first such step ever undertaken will come under not only the eye of an Imperial audience, but the camera men of the New Brunswick Films Ltd. A rare collection of costumes has come after a search of the Fashion world near and far by the leading St. John merchants, and a group of amateur mannikins has been found here and persuaded to help put on a treat to prove to ourselves we don't have to go to the trouble of importing young ladies of special talent in wearing fine raiment.

Rehearsals held last night under the personal direction of David Hartford, the dean of motion picture directors, who is supervising the screening of "Blue Water," gave a promising foretaste of what is to follow tonight. Mr. Hartford very kindly fell in with the novelty of the thing and thought it worth filming on the spot. So a double entertainment is forthcoming—in fact a triple feature—the display of the new style secrets, the very best that can be found anywhere at the moment—their unique presentation by our own St. John girls—and the inside view of motion pictures in the making.

The young women taking part are: Miss Winifred Blair, Miss Gertrude Costley, Miss Ruth Conway, Miss Olivia Gregory, Miss Anna McGarrigle, Miss Marion Power and Miss Jean Young.

The St. John merchants co-operating in the enterprise are:

H. Mont Jones, Ltd.
F. W. Daniel & Co.
Marr Millinery Co.
D. Magee's Sons, Ltd
Scovil Bros., Ltd.

F. A. Dykeman.

Mr Walter Golding has had the stage at the Imperial specially decorated for the occasion, and the sensational class of the costuming will make it a feast for the eye. It is expected that the programme will take about half an hour between the regular run of moving pictures.

HOME SAFETY

Every Member of the Family Should Be Able To Answer These Questions

1. Do you use safety matches?
2. Are floors under stoves protected with tile, stone, brick, concrete or metal, so as to prevent them taking fire from the heat?
3. Are walls, ceilings and partitions similarly protected in all places where they would be exposed to high temperatures in the event of overheating of stoves or furnaces?
4. Are ashes deposited in METAL receptacles and removed from the building weekly?
5. Is there any unenclosed space under the house where inflammable trash may accumulate?
6. Are chimneys built on the ground, or on brackets? Are they in good repair? Have flues been cleaned for winter?
7. Are stovepipes passing through partitions properly protected? Do stovepipes pass through attics, closets, or unused rooms where they may come in contact with anything combustible?
8. Is the use of gasoline forbidden inside the house?
9. Have you any fire extinguishers? Do all members of the family understand their operation?
10. Do you know where the nearest fire alarm box is? The telephone number of the Fire Department?
