The war with its heroic sacrifices brought with it a realization of the relationship of Canada to the Empire.

RED CROSS PLANS TO ORGANIZE THE COUNTIES OF N. B.

Provincial Society in Monthly Session Here, Takes Important Step in Advance—All Members Invited to Attend Annual Meeting—Favorable Reports.

The growth of the Red Cross provincially will require for uniting and broadening the interest of the work, that county organizations be established, and this will probably be the next advance movement of this splendid society that carries with it prevention from sickness and healing to those who are impaired in health. That the January meeting be the annual gathering was made the ruling by the provincial meeting and the executive will do all in its power to induce members from all over the province to attend.

Mrs. Frank White, president of the local society reported that over $1700 had been raised through the campaign and she expressed with great earnestness the gratitude of the workers to Mrs. G. A. Kuhring for her part in bringing about this most encouraging addition to the financial support of the work.

These suggestions and motions with other good reports, made up a most interesting hour at the Red Cross rooms yesterday afternoon when the provincial association met in its regular monthly session, with the provincial president, R. T. Hayes, M.L.A., in the chair.

Miss Jarvis, secretary, read an excellent report, which was in part as follows:—The activities of the past month have naturally been concerned with the membership campaign and particularly with the campaign in St. John. We feel that the efforts put forth in the preparations for the provincial meeting and the Sunday meeting in the imperial well paid us in the increased enrolment of members, which we feel is due largely to these two appeals.

The campaign is going on vigorously throughout the province. The relief work has gone steadily on. A soldier patient in Lancaster Hospital received a brief summons to return to Tracadie, where his little home had been destroyed by fire, with his family and provided for. Bedding and clothing were immediately forwarded from the Red Cross Depot. An appeal from Dr. Warwick to relieve families in Queens County, received immediate response, and clothing was sent to a family that had suffered through typhoid. Sussex has become interested in the work and has sent a splendid box of home made jellies and jams, which has just been received by the matron at Lancaster Hospital and a call goes out for a similar gift to the tubercular hospital at East St. John.

C. B. Allan's Report.
The Treasurer C. B. Allan being absent, Miss Jarvis read his report, which showed a good balance. The balance from last month was $6,334.42, which included headquarters grant (the last one) of $2,500.00. The expenses were: Nurses' salaries, $237.50; Junior Red Cross, $360.00; depot, $164.00; coal and rent, $51.00; hospital committee, $500.00; campaign, $412.80.

St. Stephen sent a report of $506.00, receipts from their campaign. Miss Allison and Mayor McLellan sent notes of thanks and appreciation for the membership pins and certificates that were forwarded to them on receipt of their membership fees. Riverside, Albert County, reported that the members were getting their hospital in readiness for operation and the local society purposes to furnish a room in the hospital. They asked for some articles that are stored in the packing cases of the Red Cross here. It was decided by the meeting to have the cases placed where they could be conveniently opened and the contents listed. It was also planned to consult with the Board of Governors of the Health Centre and if possible to obtain consent to use the basement of the centre building. If an operating table is available it will be forwarded to Riverside as soon as possible.

C. B. Allan's report of the visit to the Central Council was read and the report of Miss Allison was a concise account of the Rothesay activities for some time past.

A Busy Month.
Miss Melkielejohn reported a busy month with the preparations at the Health Centre, with visits to outside points as well, to arouse interest in the Red Cross program of public health. There are six nurses engaged in school work, and sixteen clinics running. 731 visits have been made and 319 nursing calls, beside 1,434 school children examinations with 38 health talks. Campbellton cannot do anything in health work until a nurse is provided and it is hoped that one may soon be sent. Reports from other places are very encouraging.

Mrs. Lawrence gave an interesting and green and tea will be poured by Mrs. L. Farquhar and Mrs. G. Fleming. Miss Faith Henderson, who had charge of the advertising will be the receiver of tickets, and Mrs. Philip Simms will have charge of the candy table with its dainty confections and pretty setting. Mrs. Reginald March will dispense tempting canned goods of the home variety and Miss Zola Lamoreaux will be in charge of the fancy table with useful articles as well that suggest Christmas time.

SMALL HATS DEFY FASHION'S EDICT;
OFFICIALLY BANISHED, TURBANS REMAIN

Fashionable Hats of the Moment, Showing the Fur-Trimmed and the All-Fur Turban.

Fashion has made most women lengthen their skirts, often very much against their wills, but is powerless when it comes to dislodging the small hat from favor.

"Long skirts demand large hats," the experts say, but women go right ahead ordering small ones, or making them themselves. And therein lies the secret of the popularity of the small hat—it may be contrived at home by any woman with the style sense, even if her knowledge of sewing is most limited.

It is a fact that many of the most smartly gowned women today who buy their gowns of the most expensive modistes take great pride in making their own hats.

Of all types, the easiest to make is the fur-trimmed turban. And this hat is to be the style leader for the next few months. The shops are showing the most fascinating ones that may be easily copied on inexpensive frames.

The new metal brocades are effectively used for crowns, so are the figured silks and the plain velvets or satins that match the fur or the costume with which the hat is to be worn.

report of the Junior Red Cross campaign carried on in Woodstock and told of the activities of the local society there that was assisted by herself and Miss Lawson. She said that they are bringing the Fisher Memorial Hospital up to standard and are providing for 120 children at Christmas, who would not have any treat or care apart from the Red Cross. It was then that the proposition for semi-annual gatherings was suggested as a means of drawing the provincial members together, which was brought to the meeting yesterday by Mrs. Lawrence and acted upon.

F. B. Ellis said that it was thought advisable to have the annual meeting of the Provincial Red Cross in January, and made a motion to that effect which was carried. The local society will hold its annual meeting next Friday.

County organizations are to be considered and will probably become established in the near future, as the provincial order grows. There were expressions of approval regarding the idea of thus improving the work of the Red Cross.

Miss Frances Alward, who has been travelling about the province on business for the Retail Merchants' Association, will arrive home today, after visiting Campbellton, Bathurst, Chatham, Sussex and other important centres.

Mr. C. B. Allan has received ten dollars from the Passamaquoddy Chapter, I. O. D. E., of St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, for the purpose of aiding in the work for the sailors in providing comfort bags. As secretary of the Navy League, Mr. Allan is much encouraged by this gift, and it is hoped that other places will follow this glowing example of good fellowship.

Miss Ethel Wigmore, daughter of Commissioner and Mrs. R. W. Wigmore, who has been in China as librarian in the Rockefeller foundation, returned home some time ago and will spend the winter in Saranac Lake. With her is Miss Margaret Woodman, who will also be at Saranac with Miss Wigmore.

Engagement Announced.
The engagement is announced of Miss Lena McNamara, Young's Cove Road, N. B., to Isaac Walter Fowler, also of Young's Cove Road. The marriage will take place on Wednesday, November 15th, at Young's Cove Methodist church.

The engagement has been announced in England between Colonel Sir Richard Walpole Griffith, Bt., 4th

The popularity of the "Jack-quette" blouse has been well established. New York has accepted it with a vim rare even in that great city of fashions. Its becomingness and suitability for many occasions has made it the big novelty of the season.

SCOVIL BROS. are showing some particularly attractive models of this popular blouse. Those of tricolette are trimmed with the new crepe net, and others may be had in velvet and crepe de chene in smart shades to tone with the skirt or suit.

One particularly attractive costume blouse will be welcomed by the woman inclined to be a teeny bit stout in that it gives the slender silhouette effect. This blouse, faillie knit, has a knotted-fringe bottom, and may be had in navy blue or dark brown.

The woman who favors the hand-made blouse will find in this store lovely ones of batiste. Some are plain, others lace trimmed and others are edged with real Irish lace. All of these models are specially priced to clear.

There are innumerable light-colored blouses here. Some have the Peter Pan collar, others the convertible. Some are shoulder tucked. Others have tiny tucks on the collars and cuffs, and of them all the heavy-weight Jap silk seems to be the most favored.

This attractive display of up-to-the-minute blouses will have your merited approval.

MARSH BRIDGE MISSION

The annual rally of the Marsh Bridge Mission of the Century Church was held last evening when a social time was enjoyed with music and refreshments after a delightful program given by the young people assisted by Miss Laura McLaughlin, and her nieces the Misses Jean and Vickers McLaughlin. Others present from Centenary were: Miss Laura Robinson and Miss George Mott and R. A. McLaughlin, who presided and who was the promoter of the good time, which rallied a large crowd. The committee was composed of Mrs. George Stevenson, Mrs. E. Blenkhorn, at the close.

King's Own Scottish Borderers, of Hendersyde Park, Kelso, Scotland, and Miss Frances de Burgh Griffith, Lucknow, Claremont, Western Australia, daughter of Mr. Edward A. Griffith and Mrs. Griffith, of Collie, Western Australia, and sister of Mrs. A. A. Pare, of Oxford Avenue, Notre Dame de Grace.

Of General Interest.
Mrs. A. A. are and her daughter, Phonsine, of Oxford Avenue, Montreal, aer sailing in January for Australia to attend the marriage of Mrs. Pare's sister, Miss Frances de B. Griffith and Sir Richard Walpole Griffith, which is taking place there in February.

Hundreds of people visited the Experimental Farm near Ottawa on Saturday, Sunday and Monday to see the wonderful exhibition of chrysanthemums, which is on view there at present. The chrysanthemum, which after many experiments has been perfected at the farm this year, is small absolutely pure white and about the size of a daisy. It is very beautiful. It has been dedicated to Her Excellency, Lady Byng of Vimy, and will in future be called the Lady Byng. The dainty little flower attracted much attention by those who saw it.

To Fulfill a Promise.

To fulfill her promise made ten years ago, Miss Annie Peck, a mountain climber and suffrage worker, has sailed for Brazil, where she will plant the suffrage flag on the top of Mount Corcovado that, when suffrage became universal in the United States she would accomplish this task, and she is now en route to carry it out.

The teachers in Lindsay, Ontario, have joined up in a Women's Federation after listening to a stirring address given by one of their number, Miss Stead. The advantages and benefits were clearly explained and the whole body of women instructors immediately became members.

Word has been received of the death by accident at Niagara Falls of John Nelson, an electrician, formerly of Campbell. Nelson fell a distance of forty feet to a concrete pavement. He was 47 years of age. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the home of Mrs. George Dow, a sister-in-law, in Campbellton.
