Mrs. Robert Paterson Cowan and Mrs. Cyrus Chumway were hostesses at a charmingly arranged "At Home" yesterday afternoon at the residence, Elliott Row. The drawing room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with quantities of pink opheila roses and pink candles. Mrs. Cowan received her many guests in a becoming gown of navy blue charmeuse with trimmings of blue tulle lace, and Mrs. Chumway was very dignified in black satin and jet.

The dining room was lovely with its tasteful and appetizing decorations and the color scheme was very yellow. The beautifully appointed table was centered with carnations and yellow candles in silver candlesticks and was presided over by Mrs. Kent Scovill, who was in a navy blue crepe de chine and smart velvet hat to match, and Mrs. William E. Bowman, who wore a handsome black canton crepe and black velvet picture hat, while Mrs. Frank Peters in a fashionable costume of black and white with hat to match, cut the ice.

They were assisted by Mrs. J. E. Cowan, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Walter Gilbert, Mrs. William E. Golding, Mrs. Charles Maguire, Mrs. H. B. Peck, Mrs. Shirley Peters, and Mrs. J. R. Haycock. A few of the guests included Mrs. Leigh R. Harrison, Miss Harrison, Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Alexander Wilson, Mrs. Daniel Mullin, Mrs. William Vassie, Miss Homer, Mrs. Russell Sturdee, Mrs. James H. Frink, Mrs. Percy McAvity, Mrs. Arthur W. Adams, Mrs. J. V. Anglin, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Nell McLean, Mrs. Ralph Hayes, Mrs. L. de V. Chipman, Miss Frink, Mrs. William Barnes, Miss Barnes, Mrs. Frederick Harding, Mrs. Frederick de Forest, Mrs. H. L. Abramson, Mrs. H. B. Ganong, Miss Addy, Mrs. J. W. McKean, Mrs. Moffat Bell, Mrs. Charles Peters, Mrs. A. P. Paterson, Mrs. E. C. Foster, Mrs. H. L. Spangler, Mrs. W. A. Clark, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. E. S. Hutchinson, Mrs. Leslie Peters, Mrs. Frederick Barbour, Mrs. L. G. Crosby, Mrs. George Blizard, Mrs. Malcolm MacKay Jr., Mrs. William Shaw, Mrs. J. V. McLellan, Mrs. Philip Nae, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Mrs. Walter MacMachum, Mrs. William Lockhart, Mrs. George MacDonald, Mrs. Stanley Smith, Mrs. Arthur Merrill, Mrs. Gordon Sancton, Mrs. Ralph Hayes, Miss McAvenny and many others.

Dr. T. D'Arcy MacGregor's many friends and patients in St. John greatly regret his departure.

There is very little to record of the doings of Society, which is anything but gay at present. Thoughts are too serious with the near approach of Armistice Day. People have few illusions about war nowadays, and many hearts still ache with the dread of it all.

Then, too, hostesses are preparing for the long, bleak winter, outside windows are a difficult and onerous task. St. John is not Florida, with its visions of moonlit water, magnolia fragrance and balmy airs. No indeed, St. John is St. John, with its harsh, cold radiance and rather inclement atmosphere.

But there are rumors of a ball in December, and doubtless with the coming festive season, there will be numerous social functions to relate, especially among the younger set, who are on the qui vive for jollities.

Mrs. Charles J. Coster's many friends in St. John are delighted that she has returned to Princess street greatly benefited in health.

"LARK"

Mr. and Mrs. Olive Honored
A costume Halloween surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olive, Millidgeville, on Halloween, when a large and representative number of the residents met to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Olive their regrets that they are leaving the community to reside in St. John. All the usual games that pertain to the season were enjoyed, the costumes being delightfully unique in their design and appearance. Mrs. R. J. White won the prize that was offered, her costume being a gown of 1822, and Mrs. William Mackenzie received honorable mention for her creation that was original and artistic. Music was rendered by Masters Roy and Ernest Giggay, accompanied by John Hannah on the organ, the singing of the young men causing much pleasure to the company. On behalf of those present, H. A. Knox presented Mr. and Mrs. Olive with a beautiful silver-mounted pyrex scallop dish, with appropriate remarks aptly expressed. Community singing was indulged in for some time, led by Mrs. James Stackhouse, and delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the party. Having been residents for some years at Millidgeville, Mr. and Mrs. Olive will be sorely missed.

Honored by S. S. Class.

The Friendly Bible class of the Main street Baptist church Sunday school, gave a house warming party for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Day, at their home, 107, Adelaide street, on Halloween. Mrs. Day was a September bride, and is just moving into her new residence, so the occasion was auspicious for the presentation of some exquisite pieces of china by members of the class, of which she is a member. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Scott, served delicious refreshments before the guests returned to their homes. Mrs. McLean, the beloved teacher of the class, presented the gifts and made a short but delightful speech, bearing tribute to

ATTEND MEETING IN WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Harold Lawrence and Miss Jessie Lawson, Junior Red Cross Organizers, Will Address Teachers' Institute Today.

Mrs. Harold Lawrence and Miss Jessie Lawson, provincial organizers of the Junior Red Cross left last evening for Woodstock, where they will address the Teachers' Institute that is in session there today. They will outline in detail the way in which the Peace Policy can be most readily adopted by the teachers and will establish more firmly the work that has been already started by the teachers who heard them speak at the Educational convention that convened in this city last summer. The idea is taking firm root everywhere and the welcome accorded the organizers is more and more cordial, as the very fine schedule is unfolded with its assurance of better bodies, for keener minds of children at school. Miss Coates, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, feels confident that the next generation will know more about health than in any period of the world's history. The young will surely have better care, owing to the teaching of the Progressive movement for health embodied in the Red Cross, the Victorian Order and the clinics that function under the direction of the Department of Health.

MANY CHILDREN ARE ENTERTAINED

Were Guests at Y. M. C. A. Recreation Centre and Enjoyed Games and a Supper.

One hundred and sixty wee tots, with a few juniors included, were the guests at the Y. M. C. A. Recreation Centre yesterday afternoon from four to six, with Mrs. Foster, General Secretary, Miss Pepler, Physical Director, and Mrs. John McAvity, as hostesses. Several ladies of the Board were glad to be assistants at "the most attractive function of the season," so they all declared. There is a class of wee boys, who were part of the party which was entertained with singing games. A real supper was served and each guest supplied with candy and fruit on departure. Many of the mothers came to chaperone and remained to admire, and the skillful ladies of the Y. M. C. A. had every small person dispatched shortly after six. Mrs. Foster was entertaining the Loyalty Club last evening at the Centre, with the President of the Club, Miss Margaret Whalen in the chair.

COMMUNITY CHORUS
FIRST REHEARSAL

Good Attendance of Members Glad to Welcome Professor A. U. Brander.

The St. John Community Chorus had its first regular rehearsal at Orange Hall last evening, when plans were made for a fine winter's work. The eight singing class, in addition to their choral work will use a book with special work for the Bass and Tenor section of the chorus.

There was a good attendance, of old members and a number of new ones, who are glad to welcome Professor A. U. Brander to the musical circles of the city again, after his absence on vacation. The interest is greatly enhanced in the Community Chorus, by the proposed plan of producing the opera "Trial by Jury" by Sullivan. Parts were selected and many details arranged last evening.

White satin is no longer exclusively for the bride, but for the society bud and the matron as well. Frequently it is made sleeveless, and depends upon its smartness for its line and drape. Often it is beaded with white or colored beads.

Where shall we shop today?

When it comes to evening dresses we invariably look for something different—something a little out of the ordinary that will greatly enhance the beauty of the wearer. Something exclusive but in no sense startling or bizarre.

I saw a little lip-stick georgette in Magee's today—sleeveless and plait edged, trimmed with dainty rosettes of the same material, the cascade draperies extending a little below the hem. Georgette evening dresses are very popular this season, and the little one I have tried to describe to you would look well on any girl, be she dark or fair.

For the slim girl there's a hoop-skirted taffeta of pale pink trimmed with silver and a scalloped hem. The waist is "Empire" and the dainty flowers at the waist add a finishing touch.

This firm has also evening dresses of velvet and canton, taffetas plain and shot, also georgettes of course in various styles and shades, warranted to suit the changing taste of midday.

If you want your evening dress to have that exclusive touch buy it from D. Magee's Sons and remember that old adage about the early bird. It applies to evening dresses as well as worms.

VOGUE OF GOWNS SET WITH GEMS GROWS IN PARIS

In Paris, gowns trimmed with precious and semi-precious stones are being worn. Perhaps that is why beads are becoming more brilliant and bead designs more bizarre.

Little glass beads, large wooden beads, medium-sized enamel beads, beads of jet, beads of jade, beads in colors you have dreamed of and never thought of wearing are now put on rocks of the simplest lines and makes them stunning.

For evening and afternoon even on the smartest tailor one finds that beads give their effective note.

PASTOR'S WIFE WAS WELCOMED

Mrs. Hugh Miller Present at St. David's W. M. S. Meeting—Plans Made for Winter's Programme.

The pleasing feature at the regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of St. David's church yesterday afternoon was the arrival of the wife of the new pastor, the Rev. Hugh Miller. Mrs. Miller was formally welcomed by the president, Mrs. Campbell Johnson, on behalf of the members, as the wife of their pastor, and also because she has been a great worker in the W. M. S. in their former parish of Campbellton. The usual routine of business was carried out and sympathy was expressed for the secretary, Mrs. Atkinson Morrison, who has recently lost her brother. There was a good attendance of the ladies, who made more complete plans for the winter's programme. Reports from the various fields were encouraging, but show, as in every branch of the missionary endeavor, a need for more workers and more equipment.

Weddings

Fraser-Morrison.

A very pretty and interesting wedding was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in St. David's church, when the pastor, Rev. Hugh Miller, B. A., united in marriage Miss Mary Gwen Doline Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Morrison of Bathurst to John MacLean Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fraser, Princess street. During the ceremony special music was played by the church organist. The bride entered the church with John N. Journey. She was charmingly dressed in a navy blue serge tailored suit, with large black hat and fox fur, a present of the groom and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. They were unattended.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser left for a motor trip before taking up their residence at 74 Wall street. Going away, the bride wore a dress of black panne velvet with seal coat and a burnt orange hat. A great many useful and handsome presents were received, among them a check from the Smith Brokerage Company, where the bride was employed, and a check and a Victory bond from the bride's parents. The groom is a well-known motor mechanic of North Market street. Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Miss Hazel Morrison of Moncton and Miss Florence Morrison of Bathurst, sisters of the bride; Miss Jessie Fraser of Fair Vale Louis Wadman of Moncton, and Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Lewis of Welsford, Kyffin-Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leonard, 5 Clarendon street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace Leonard, to Joseph Edmund Kyffin at Pasadena, Cal. The happy couple left for a motor trip through California and will spend some time in San Francisco before taking up their residence at 735 Manzanita avenue, Pasadena.

Spencer-Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Chapman, Salisbury, announce the marriage of their elder daughter, Eugenia, Burnett, to William J. Spencer, of Lynn, Mass. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Appleton Lawrence in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Lynn, Mass., on Oct. 8th, 1922.

CARMARTHEN ST.
EPWORTH LEAGUE

Stirring Address by H. P. Newcombe on "Nation Building"—An Interesting Programme Was Carried Out.

The Epworth League of Carmarthen St. Methodist church held its session last evening with attention to the program of the anniversary services now in progress. The first vice-president, Miss Estella Earle, presided. The chief item was a stirring address by H. P. Newcombe, noting public speaker on national world-wide temperance and similar subjects. His theme last evening was "National Building," when he spoke of the conservation of natural resources of the country and deplored the waste by forest fires. In order to build a Canadian nation it is necessary to develop its industries and cultivate overseas commerce, but "the great factor in all this, is character," said the speaker. "In this connection," said he, "the most potential and effective leadership must come from the church."

During the evening, the president, Charles E. Styles, pledged four new members, welcoming them to the League and the pastor of the church, the Rev. E. E. Styles, contributed a reading, "The Jackdaw of Rheims." Miss Myrtle Fox presided at the piano accompanying the sixty or seventy young people in hymn songs suitable to the delightful occasion.
