

GREEK KING'S LATEST MOVES MAY FORCE DECISION BY ALLIES

This map, originally published in "The London Times," shows the territory in Anatolia and Thrace under the Paris agreement of March 1920. International observers profess Constantine of Greece an attempt to force the allies to give up their policy of indecision, which they have war, and take some definite action to Minor growing out of the disruption

Bonar Law Urges Stimulus To British Dominion Trade

London, Aug. 15.—The need for the development and expansion of trade within the confines of the British Empire has been stressed recently by a number of public speakers.

Among these is Andrew Bonar Law, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, who at a recent luncheon to the visiting members of Dominion parliaments said:

"I am not an advocate of complete indifference to the wreck of Europe, but I do say our first duty is to develop our own heritage, and in that will be found the way to safety and prosperity."

"The war could not have been won without the help of the self-governing dominions. It will be one of the tragedies of this world if, after this co-operation, we should not be closer knit in the bonds of a common empire. The whole of Central Europe, from the commercial point of view, has gone. If we have to wait for the hope of recovery until order is restored in that part of the world, it will be a black outlook for this country."

"Before the war our total exports to Germany, Russia, and the whole of Central Europe amounted to far less than half of what we sent to our self-governing dominions. It is to them we must look."

The Association of British Chambers of Commerce at its quarterly meeting in London, passed a resolution urging on the Government the need for convening at an early date an Imperial Conference at which the Government, the dominions, and commerce and industry should be represented, in order to consider the development of empire resources.

The Government has decided to meet half the cost of sending all approved emigrants to the dominions. This will cost it about £3,000,000 annually.

"Great as has been the past of the British Empire," said Lord Birkenhead, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in referring to this measure, "it will be as nothing to its future if the wisdom of our statesmen in all parts of the Empire is equal to the gigantic task that awaits them."

FORTUNE FADES; COURT FAVORITE NOW IS PEDDLER

Charles George Solloway, from a court favorite of the Romanoffs and the trainer of the horses in the royal stable of the late Czar in Petrograd to a common peddler of chocolates on the streets of London is the drop made by Charles George Solloway.

Correct this sentence: "The man had a splitting head and a miserable taste in his mouth next morning, but he made no good resolutions."

Not a Chance. Flubb—Is your wife charitably inclined? Dubb—Too much so. Why, I haven't worn out a suit of clothes in the last ten years!—New York Sun.

Short and Sweet. Following is the weekly correspondence between a wife at the seashore and her husband in town. They have been married a lot of years and the letters from the lonely wife are of a touching nature. They are all alike and so are the replies: Dear Fred—Please send cheque. Dear Little—Inclosed find cheque.—New York Evening Mail.

GAGETOWN

Gagetown, Aug. 15.—Rev. Johnson A. Cooper, rector of St. George's Church, Bathurst, Mrs. Cooper and son Clifton, motored down from Bathurst last Thursday, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Cooper. On Saturday they left for Mr. Cooper's old home in Summerhill, having been called there by the death of Mr. Cooper's aunt, Mrs. John Cooper.

Mrs. Grant Fowler and little daughter, of Hampton, were recently visitors for a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. S. Law.

Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, rector of St. Jude's Church, West St. John, who has been spending a few days with T. Sherman Peters and the Misses Peters, has returned home. Mrs. Holmes and children will remain for some time longer.

Rev. Arthur C. Allen was here from Petersburg last Sunday to hold service in St. Bridget's Church. This was Father Allen's first mass in this Mission having been previously detained by the bad roads at the usual days set for service here. During the morning Father Allen baptized the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. O'Neill, who received the name, Martha Elizabeth.

Miss Effie A. Jamieson of Toronto, who is secretary of the Congregational Women's Board of Missions was a passenger up river on Thursday to Sheffield, where she spoke on Mission Work in Angola, West Africa, in which field she was for a long time engaged. While in Sheffield, Miss Jamieson was the guest of Rev. Henry Cox and Mrs. Cox.

Last Saturday evening the Ladies' Aid of the Gagetown Methodist Church held a very successful sale in the Temperance Hall, when over $200 was taken in to be used for Church purposes. A beautiful display of fancy work was shown at a table in charge of Mrs. Leslie White and Miss Mary Dineen. Aprons and sweeping caps were sold by Mrs. R. T. Babbitt and Mrs. J. L. Allingham; while a well-stocked food table had as committee Mrs. C. L. Marshall, Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mrs. J. F. Reid and Mrs. P. T. Dineen. The ice cream booth was under constant patronage and was in charge of Miss Junetta Balyea, Mrs. Frank McAllister and others. Much time and work were shown in many of the articles displayed, and much credit is due the ladies mentioned as well as the many others who assisted in making the affair such a splendid financial success.

Harry E. Vail, who has been rowing coach for the Wisconsin State University, Madison, Wis., arrived here on Wednesday last to spend the remainder of the summer vacation. Since leaving Madison in June, Mr. Vail has been at Ottawa, coaching the Ottawa Rowing Club, which entered crews in the Canadian Henley at Port Dalhousie, and made a very fine showing. Mr. Vail had the pleasure of seeing the race between Hilton Belyea and Bob Diblee in which the former won the Canadian championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel DeVeber, who have been spending a month in St. John, returned home on Thursday. Mrs. DeVeber Neales of Chelsea, Mass., arrived last week for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Frank H. DeVernier.

Miss Molly Otty left on Monday for "Rose Cottage," North Head, Grand Manan, where her mother, Mrs. N. H. Otty, has been spending some weeks.

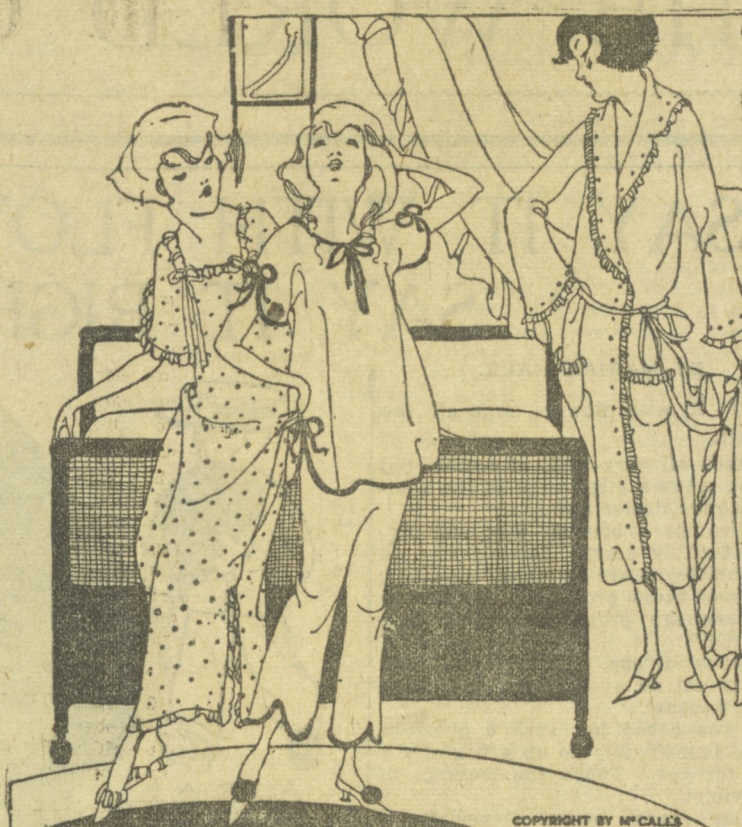

His Honor Judge Barry, Mrs. Barry, Misses Molly and Rita Barry and Paul Barry, motored from Fredericton last Sunday and spent the day. Mrs. Barry was here for a short visit last week with her son, F. M. O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill.

W. K. Rogers, lay-reader of St. Mary's Church, St. John, was here on Sunday and conducted morning and evening services in St. John's Church. Miss Ruth M. Crawford, who has been spending a month with relatives in St. John, has returned home.

Miss Sadie Brooks, student nurse at the Moncton General Hospital, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brooks.

Mrs. C. W. Townsend and Miss Salome E. H. Townsend, B.A., who has been principal of Gagetown Grammar School, left last week to make their home in St. John, where Miss

COTTON AGAIN IS MOST POPULAR MATERIAL FOR UNDERWEAR

A woman in her hours of ease would have to be rather more than hard to please if the new summer lingerie couldn't do it.

The shop windows compete with each other in displaying the good-looking novelty-cotton underwear and nightwear that seems so appropriate to summer dresses and summer weather.

It is probably the contrariness of fashion that makes cotton underwear popular again just as it becomes more expensive. At any rate no one disputes the charm of the colored baties, checked ginghams, striped volles and dimities, flowered creases and -issue ginghams used for this newest lingerie.

Dotted swiss is very popular for step-in sets and breakfast coats. Negligees are made of flowered volles. The finest of white chiffon volles is used for handsome trousseau lingerie. Ruffles and pipings are used for fringing, but not a superabundance of lace. The straight lines popular in dresses these days are inimical to elaborate underwear.

GERM A PLANT; NO BUG

SK the average person what a germ is. If he attempts to answer at all he probably will say it's a little animal that will make you sick if he gets into your system.

Germs are not little animals. They are tiny plants, the small, sometimes called bacteria or microbes. You might have some idea of the size of a germ if you could take a grain of sand and split it into a million pieces. Of course, some germs are larger than others, but the largest cannot be seen without the aid of a powerful microscope.

Millions of germs can exist in a drop of water without even crowding. Germs do not live in out of the way places. Except in the polar regions, in the middle of the ocean, and on the tops of high mountains, they are present everywhere. They are on our bodies, our clothing, in our food—everything we see or touch. The reason we are not sick all the time or most of the time is that comparatively few of these germs cause disease; also because most of us are strong enough to resist the few that get into our bodies.

Bacteria multiply by simply breaking apart. Soon the two parts are full-sized germs and each itself separates, so that it is easy to see how quickly millions of germs can be produced. Cold stops their growth, but they begin to grow again when they become warm.

Bolling kills them. Doctors and nurses boll their instruments and dressings to kill the germs, and do not handle them until ready for use.

One of the chief reasons why food is hotted before canning is to kill the bacteria. Then it is put into airtight cans, so that no more germs can reach it.

Townsend has been appointed to the staff of the High School. Both will be much missed by many friends made during their stay here.

William and Fred Coy of Boston, Mass., both on the staff of one of the large Boston banking houses, arrived last week by motor car, after an enjoyable trip from Boston. Miss Mildred Lawson of Fredericton has been spending a few weeks here with friends and relatives.

Miss Eleanor S. Palmer has been visiting Miss Eaton in Wolfville, N. S.

Mrs. John C. Clowes returned home last Friday after spending a fortnight at "Rose Cottage," North Head, Grand Manan. Miss Mildred Coy returned to her home in Upper Gagetown on Tuesday from Boston, Mass., to spend her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Frank Coy.

Mrs. Hugh A. Briggs, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Carrier, at Upper Gagetown, has returned to her home in Fort Fairfield, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Reid and family motored from their home in New York and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reid and Sheriff and Mrs. J. F. Reid, recently.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish

(Boudoir Secrets)

The judicious use of a delatone paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for two or three minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of the hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of delatone and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.

LADY RHONDDA SLIPPED INTO NEW YORK ON ADRIATIC

Travelled Incognito and Her Coming Was Unannounced—"On Few Days' Visit" She Says.

New York, Aug. 14.—Viscountess Rhondda, known as Great Britain's busiest woman, was an unannounced visitor in New York today, having landed yesterday on the liner Adriatic, incognito. She is the daughter and heiress of Britain's war-time food controller, and, at his death, inherited all his vast fortune and industrial enterprises.

"I came over here for a few weeks' stay," she said today. "I wanted to greet my friends with no one else knowing I was here. But I see it's a hard job. I have nothing to say, however, except that I am on a visit and will be going home again within a few days."

She was one of the 200 first-cabin passengers on the Adriatic when the explosion ripped that ship's hold. Her name did not appear on the passenger list and during the entire trip she kept her identity secret, except from a chosen few.

She refused to discuss her fight to obtain a seat in England's House of Lords, except to say that she would renew the battle when she returned. Though her application has been definitely set aside by the Committee of Privileges.

On Hunger Strike For Ungrateful Communists

Paris, Aug. 15.—Three liberal anarchists confined in the Sante Prison, after receiving the traditional courtesy extended to political prisoners in Europe, are on the twelfth day of their hunger strike. They began fasting to obtain the same preferential treatment for a Communist calling himself Merrick as they enjoy, although the latter was condemned a short time ago for espionage.

Merrick, who is a jovial French Southerner, in a letter said he appreciated the sympathy thus shown by the anarchists, notwithstanding their different political bias, so he had joined them in the fast. But on the third day the genial prisoner decided to eat. Some of the anarchists followed suit, but three of them still are hunger striking while Merrick enjoys his food.

The first machine for sewing mechanically was patented in 1790.

DIARRHOEA IS DANGEROUS To Teething Babies DURING HOT WEATHER

Hot weather is a dangerous time for the babies when cutting their teeth, and all mothers should watch very closely for any sign of diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum, or any other bowel trouble.

There is no remedy so safe and effectual for diarrhoea as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and all mothers who have used it speak of it with the greatest of confidence.

Mrs. James E. Green, Vermillion, Alta., writes under date of Aug. 13th, 1921, as follows:—"A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, started cutting two stomach teeth, and was so sick he couldn't eat or sleep, and had the diarrhoea most terribly bad; his rectum was raw and bleeding, but after giving him Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days he was as well as any boy could be. I wouldn't be without your grand remedy for untold gold."

"Dr. Fowler's" is for sale at all dealers; price 50c a bottle; but up by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
