THE NEW BRUNSWICK FILMS, LIMITED, IS ORGANIZED

Head Office Is In St. John—Pictures Are to be Made Here for World-Wide Exploitation—First Story Filmed Will Be "Blue Waters."

At a final meeting of the provisional directors of the New Brunswick Films, Ltd., held at the Board of Trade rooms today, it was decided to proceed with the organization of limited capitalization sufficient for the making of the first photo drama. Among the provisional directors are E. A. Schofield, William S. Allison, J. M. Woodman, F. G. Spencer, R. T. Hayes, Rev. H. A. Cody, M. E. Agar, James MacMurray, J. M. Robinson, Ernest Shipman and others.

The directorate has power to add to its number, and additional names will be included upon the return to town of prominent citizens who have already expressed a desire to cooperate.

The first story to be filmed will be Frederick William Wallace's stirring drama of the City of St. John and the Bay of Fundy, entitled "Blue Waters." This story is so constructed as to permit the introduction of incidents dating back to Royalist Days and will include the scenic beauties of the St. John River and other parts of the country, with the author's permission, two dogs are to be worked into the story, one a vicious animal, the companion of the villian of the drama, and the other, a well mannered beast, who is the constant companion of "Shorty," the hero.

Symbolisms of this nature are what add to the screen values, and Faith Green, who has successfully collaborated with Ralph Connor and other noted writers on their screen offerings, will visit St. John in person in order to assemble the local incidents and atmosphere of this city and province back of the screen drama.

The title New Brunswick Films, Ltd., of Canada will, by the means of this vehicle, be flashed before the audiences of prominent theatres in all parts of the world. The trade marks "Canadian-made" already has a significant value in foreign markets, and especially in the U. S. After Faith Green has completed her adaptation, one of the best known continuity writers from New York will come to St. John and put the story into scenario form. This preliminary work will take two or three weeks to complete, by which time everything is ready for the coming of the professional organization. This organization will consist of the director, two cameramen and their assistants, master carpenter, master electrician and a master property man. The crews of the latter will be recruited locally. About twelve professional actors and actresses, assisted by local talent, will interpret the story. The local ensemble consisting of small parts, children, local types, fishermen, lumbermen, city officials, tourists, etc., will be recruited from St. John and vicinity.

This story will be completed in October and ready for the markets of the world in November, shortly after which the company will be recouped in full for their investment, as Mr. Shipman has never yet failed to obtain a cash advance on account of his market arrangements, sufficient to clean up the production cost.

For instance: "Back to God's country" made at Calgary three years ago at a cost of $165,000, has been so successfully exploited up to date that the Calgary Company has received from the Associated First National who distribute this picture throughout the world, an amount in excess of $250,000 to the present time, and the picture has yet three years to go before being exhausted. The same facts relate in comparative values to "Nomads of the North," "The Golden Snare" and "The Sky Pilot." Cameron of the Royal Mounted," another of Ralph Connor's stories made by Ernest Shipman, and which is booked at the Imperial Theatre for some date in September, is being placed throughout the Maritime Provinces at a selling value proportionate to $600,000 for the world's rights.

The distributing market has already placed its O. K. on the Wallace stories, and has informed Mr. Shipman that they could take four stories of this nature, because of their dearth upon the screen. It is altogether probable, however, that one of the Rev. H. A. Cody's stories, or possibly one of the animal or nature stories of Charles G. D Roberts will be the next to be produced, as the local company has the right to determine as to whether they will cease operations with the completion of the first story or to continue, provided the first venture proves as successful as anticipated. Option is held upon Mr. Shipman's services for a repetition of the same terms, in event of continuance, that characterizes the first contract. According to this contract local investors are awarded all their return before there is any division of profits. Mr. Shipman, who puts up $35,000 of his own money as evidence of good faith, agrees to cooperate upon a profit sharing basis only.

At the meeting today approximately $45,000 was subscribed. The legal firm of Messrs. Barnhill, Sanford and Harrison, are representing the local company in their dealings with Mr. Shipman and J. M. Robinson & Sons, and the Eastern Securities Co., Ltd., will accept subscriptions for unsold stock.

The bank for deposits and the firm of auditors will be decided upon at a subsequent meeting.

This progressive movement on the part of the citizens of St. John is in keeping with what has already been accomplished at Calgary, Winnipeg, Ottawa, St. John's, Newfoundland, and other Canadian cities. Mr. Shipman goes fro mhere to Halifax where the Board of Trade are calling a meeting for Monday next with a view to that city embarking upon the making of "The Viking Blood," by Frederick William Wallace, which is a story of the City of Halifax and the Nova Scotia coast.

Prominent citizens of Charlottetown have invited Mr. Shipman to go there and discuss the matter regarding the making of a picture which will demonstrate the beauties of that province ,and Mr. Shipman has sent his representativ to investigate the local possibilities.

This movement is national in its scope. First class Canadian-made pictures being exploited in foreign countries will not only sell Canada to the rest of the world under most favorable conditions, but will do away with the misguided conception of eternal snow and frozen spaces. It will help solve the problem of desirable immigration. It will add to the tourist trade and will give the world generally a true insight to our natural beauties, the vastness of our industrial resources, and most important of all, the daily life of our people.

Ernest Shipman is the Canadian pioneer of this industry in Canada, and has made pictures in the U. S. and other countries successfully for years. "Tarzan of the Apes" and "Romance of Tarzan" stand out as two of his best American sellers. He recently returned from Italy after entering into a five year contract with the leading producers of that country for co-operation in the exploitation of the F. Marion Crawford stories.

In connection with the local movement Mr. Shipman says: "There is more diversified scenery and more alluring incidents to be found throughout the vastness of the Dominion than in any other one country. We have rising authors here of potential possibilities. We will develop a national screen drama, and, better still, we will develop the boys and girls and men and women to interpret them. Canada has made no poor pictures and will not do so. "Canadian-made" is a trade mark which must be lived up to both in production and exploitation, and it will result in our exporting to other countries four or five million dollors worth of pictures annually."

RAIL EXECUTIVES HAVE ACCEPTED HARDING'S PLAN

New York, Aug. 11—The executive heads of 148 American railways tonight conditionally accepted President Harding's second proposal for settlement of the nation-wide rail strike. The conditions which went into the acceptance, according to unofficial sources were:

First: That the President's request that the strikers be taken back should be interpreted that as many strikers should be re-hired as should be needed by the roads to bring their shops forces to normal.

Second: That such strikers should be taken back unconditionally and that the railroad labor board later should determine whether they were to regain their seniority privileges.

Washington, Aug. 11—After several hours conference, behind closed doors, chief officials of all the railroad labor organizations adjourned tonight until nine a. m. tomorrow, declaring themselves still unready to make response to President Harding's final strike settlement offer to the shopmen, and still unready to make public the policy which unions not now on strike intend to follow in the circumstances.

Hours In Industry Subject of Survey

Engineering Council Will Discuss Relative Merits of Two and Three-Shift Days.

New York, Aug. 10—Findings in a nation-wide survey of the three-shift day in American industry will be placed before the executive board of the American Engineering Council of the Federated American Engineering Societies, at a meeting of the board to be held in Boston, Sept. 8 and 9, it was announced following a meeting of the committee of procedure here.

Two reports, dealing with exhaustive investigations of the two-shift and the three-shift day problems in numerous industries will be presented. One, prepared by Horace B. Drury, formerly of the faculty of Ohio State University, will describe the extent of two-shift operation in the continuous industries as well as the procedure followed and the results noted by those companies which have changed from the two-shift day of 12 hours each to the three-shift day of eight hours each. Mr. Drury's report will discuss the general practicability of abolishing 12-hour turns.

Among the industries investigated are the metals, glass and cement, lime, brick and pottery, chemicals, sugar, salt, petroleum, cottonseed and other vegetable oils, paper, flour, rubber, miscellaneous manufactures and mines, electricity, gas, water and ice, transportation, communication, caretaking and personal service.

A second report on an investigation of the modus operandi involved in changing the operations of a steel plant from two-shift to three-shift methods will be made by Bradley Stoughton, formerly secretary of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Both investigations are being directed by the American Engineering Council's Committee on Work Periods in continuous operation industries, of which H. E. Howe of Washington, president of chairman.

The findings of the committee, which are expected to be a notable contribution to the facts of present-day industry, will be presented to the Boston meeting for definite action A preliminary report by Mr. Drury estimates that "very roughly, the number of shift workers in the United States is probably well over 500,000 though likelynot as large as 1,000,000." Industries of the south and the far west are included in the survey, as well as the industries of the east and middle west.

HOPES SOON TO SEE TWO-PARTY HOUSE

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter Asserts Present Group System Not a Success.

(Vancouver Province, Aug. 5.)

No matter what might be the immediate effect upon the fortunes of the Conservative party a fusion between the Liberals and the Progressives would be a good thing for Canada as a whole, in the opinion of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, M. P., for St. John, N. B., former minister of customs in the Meighen administration, who is in Vancouver

"I don't know how such a fusion would affect the Conservative party, but it would bring about a straight two-party Parliament and that, to my mind, is most desirable," said Mr. Baxter. "The present group system is not a success and the sooner we get rid of it the better."

Hon. Mr. Baxter had been studying the Progressive members of the House and he says he has come to the following conclusion:

"They are selfish to a degree; they are grain-raisers, not farmers; they think nothing for any part of Canada but the prairie province, and as long as they can get their wheat to seaboard cheaply they care nothing for the rest of the country."

The visitor is on his way to San Francisco to attend the annual meeting of the American Bar Association as delegate from the Canadian Bar Association. He will be present at the meeting of the Canadian body in Vancouver later this month.

A week or so later, Whiskaway and Morvich met again at Latonia in the special. They carried the same weight and Whiskaway was again the winner.
