Early Morning Fairville Fire

Breen's Blacksmith Shop and Barn Owned by William Fox Badly Damaged.

Breen's blacksmith shop, on Fox's Alley, Fairville, was completely destroyed and a barn owned by William Fox badly damaged, by a fire which was discovered at about 1.30 o'clock this morning. It is believed the smithy was insured, the barn was not. The fire gave every indication of attaining serious proportions when first discovered, and an alarm was sounded from the upper bell, but as the extreme calm prevented its being heard for any distance, another alarm was sounded from the lower bell. It met with a good response, and the department did good work in getting several streams playing on the fire and preventing it spreading to several houses in the immediate vicinity. For a time it was feared Fairville was to be visited by another conflagration such as that which visited the enterprising community in April last.

Heard Address By Guglielmo Marconi

Local Enthusiasts of Radio Telephony Clearly Listened to Address by Originator of Wireless Last Night.

Local enthusiasts of radio telephony who had the good fortune of using their receiving sets last night about 10.30 o'clock, had the pleasure of listening to a brief address by Guglielmo Marconi, originator of wireless, who spoke from the broadcasting station of the General Electric Company at Schenectady.

The great inventor expressed his pleasure at being afforded the opportunity of addressing such a tremendous audience, composed entirely of people interested in radio. He said that radio was still in its infancy, and yet a great deal had been accomplished along this line. He was amazed at the progress made on the American continent in adapting radio to commercial and other purposes, and emphasized the good which had been accomplished by using this method of communication as a means of saving life and property, and of facilitating commercial enterprise.

The speaker prophesied an astounding development in the uses of radio within a very short time, and expressed the hope that his audience would continue their interest in its different phases. He expressed marked approval at the advancement, made in the General Electric plant, both in the matter of equipments and in the methods employed in their broadcasting programme.

In addition to the address, the "listeners-in" were treated to an excellent programme of musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal.

Securing Acts For Exhibition

Secretary Porter Returns from Boston and New York — Fire Divers Is Headliner.

H. A. Porter, secretary of the Exhibition Association, returned yesterday from Boston and New York, where he had been looking over acts for the big show here this fall, and he came back with six acts lined up that he thinks will make the visitors to the exhibition sit up and take notice. He got back two days earlier than he expected on account of having been able, unexpectedly, to book up a headliner for the show.

The act secured is one which he saw last year at the Brockton Fair, and which, at that time, he made mention of as one he would like to see in St. John. As it was announced they had gone to South America, he had, however, given up all thought of securing them for this year. By accident he happened to mention in one of the booking offices about this act and was told they were playing at the Paragon Park, Nantasket Beach, where they had a season's engagement, and he immediately got in touch with them. As the Park closes after Labor Day, he was able to have them released in time to open here on that day. It is known as the Hellkvisits or Fire Divers. It is performed at night, when the performers, a man and woman, dive from a high tower into a lake of flame, after first having set fire to their clothing, and is one of the most thrilling stunts ever seen. In the day time they do fancy diving stunts.

More Winners

Having secure this act, Mr. Porter went on to New York and back to Boston, looking over possible attractions and got a line on the other five acts, but as he has not received the signed contracts, he refused to give out the character of the acts, any more than to say he was sure the people would be satisfied with his selection. He also secured a line on the greatest dog and pony act on the stage, and a new act just from Europe.

Of the six acts which he expects, four are full of thrills, one is an out and out comedy, and one is for the kiddies; this latter and one of the thrillers have a good share of comedy in them.

In addition to the acts for this year he was able to get a line on one or two which will be available for next year, one of which will be held in reserve for a booking from here.

Funds Secured For Russian Sufferers

Collections Taken at Doors of Three Theatres Last Night Amounted to $128.74.

The sum of one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and seventy-four cents was secured in a collection taken at the doors of the Imperial, and Queen Square theatres, and the Opera House, last evening in aid of the "Save the Children Fund," and through it the lives of fifty-one Russian children will be saved, as two dollars and fifty cents is the estimated sum necessary to keep a child from now until the harvest.

The money was collected through the activity of Miss Mary Chesley, who is present in the city in aid of the fund, and who last evening showed slides illustrating conditions in Russia, and gave a brief talk on the necessity of contributing to the fund, also the pitiful conditions in famine stricken Russia at the present time, where the number of children, who have died through starvation and pestilence, outnumbered the entire population of Canada.

The collections were taken up by young women representatives of the Y. W. C. A. and the Portland street Methodist church. The contribution from the patrons of the Imperial, which amounted to $83.21, was the largest individual collection received.

Joseph Barlow, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer E.P. Dawes of the Customs and Excise Department for an infraction of the Inland Revenue Act, namely operating a still without a license. No arrests were made by the police up to the time of going to press.

Fishing Conditions Slowly Improving

Inspector J. F. Calder Speaks of Industry in Southern Bay of Fundy District.

J.F. Calder, Dominion Fisheries Inspector, of Campobello, who is a visitor in the city, reports that conditions in the Grand Manan and southern Bay of Fundy fishing districts are slowly improving, and are much better than they have been. Sardines and herring are scarce, he says, although occasional strikes have been made, and the sardine factories have been opened up and are anticipating better conditions. The line fishing of cod, hake and pollock has been good.

Mr. Calder said that the United States fishery officers were busy about Eastport last week because of the dynamiting of the waters for pollock that had been practised there. As yet he said nothing of the sort had occurred on the Canadian side of the line and the fishery patrol was on the alert to apprehend any law breakers who might attempt to do so.

Summer Freshet Is Chief Topic

D. J. Purdy Says High Water for June a Record — Reports of Damage Received.

The big summer freshet is all the talk about the wharves at Indiantown these days, and every day comes more reports of damage done between here and Fredericton, to the intervals and islands in the river.

D. J. Purdy, one of the best known river steamer owners in the city, who has been running boats on the river for a great number of years, said yesterday that never, so far as he could recollect, had the water risen as high in June as this year. It was the usual thing to look for a raise in the water during this month, but, so far as he could remember, it had never risen so high as to cause any material damage to the hay crop.

At Indiantown, yesterday, the water came well up on the Public wharf at high tide, several feet higher than it did during the spring freshet, and today may see it raise even higher.

From Gagetown to Fredericton the amount of damage done to the hay, crops and cattle, can hardly be estimated as yet. Many of the farmers, in addition suffering damage to their crops, have lost cattle which were on the intervals and many only succeeded in saving their stock by superhuman efforts. In other places the cattle were forced to the higher points where they huddled together waiting for the waters to subside.

At Maugerville and Oromocto, the oldest inhabitant does not remember such a flood and the summer freshet of 1922 will go down in history as the great freshet.

PRESENT PETITION TO COMMON COUNCIL

Boys Prevented from Playing Ball on Victoria Square — Parents Take Matter Up.

The boys of Indiantown are up in arms and a number of their friends are right with them, over the refusal of the police, last evening, to allow them to play ball on the Victoria Square, where they have been playing ball for some years and the only place in Indiantown in which they can play. It is understood a couple of residents made a complaint to the police that the playing was dangerous and some one would be sure to get hurt. It is understood one man claimed that his wife was very nearly struck by a batted ball the other evening.

When they were forbidden to play last evening, some of the parents of the boys started out with a petition, which was largely signed by the property owners of that section, and it will be presented at the Common Council today, asking that this order stopping the games be rescinded. One lady, who has had nine windows broke by batted balls, was the first to sign and expressed her indignation at the order to stop playing.

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS

Thomas Hamm, of Queen street, was knocked unconscious by falling on the back of his head while working at the dry dock at East St. John, shortly before last midnight. He was taken to the General Public Hospital where it was found that his injury was not of a serious nature, and he will be allowed to return to his home this morning.

The condition of both Walter Neal and Robert Chipman is reported to be improving slowly.

STILL ALARM

A still alarm was sent in to No. 1 Hook and Ladder Station, King Street East at 11.15 last evening for a fire which broke out on a motor car at the corner of Carmarthen and Queen streets. The fire was put out before the department arrived and before much damage was done.

PRAISEWORTHY RECORD

A most praiseworthy record, attained by few, is possessed by Miss Edna Genevieve Lunney, 192 Millidge avenue, of St. Vincent's High school, and a member of this year's graduating class, who attended school for eight years without missing any time in that period.

A sister, Miss Eileen, a last year's graduate, who captured the mathematics' prize, also attended school for eight years without missing a day.

EIGHT THOUSAND OF CITY'S SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL BEGIN SUMMER VACATIONS TODAY

Most Interesting Programmes Arranged for Closing Exercises, With Special Historical One at High School — List of Graduates from High School and Honors Awarded.

Today is the long looked for one among the 8,000 school children of the city, the day on which they are released for two months' holidays from the boredom and drudgery, to them, of having to listen to the teacher ask questions and then try and answer them. For the graduating classes at the High School and St. Vincent's the gladness will be mixed with a certain amount of sadness for associations formed through years of companionship in class will be broken as they go out into the battle of life, each to carve out for him or herself a destiny.

Special programmes have been prepared in all of the schools, to which the parents of the scholars are invited.

Miss Harriet Roberts, the leader of the class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts. Mrs. Roberts was formerly Miss Ina Brown and graduated from the St. John High School.

Miss Elizabeth Morton, who pressed Miss Roberts very closely for first place, is also the daughter of a former graduate of the school, now wife of Rev. H. H. Morton, of Trinidad. She was Miss Jessie Forbes, daughter of Hon. J. G. Forbes.

The Honor Roll.

Sanford Goldman, whose mother is an active member of the Women's Council and ex-president of the Daughters of Israel, stood well up in the class. His father is Joseph Goldman, a prosperous merchant of Wall street.

Almost ties were James McInerney, son of the late Dr. J. P. McInerney, and Teresa Kerrett, daughter of the merchant, Joseph Kerrett, on Union street. The marks of Charles Hare, son of G. G. Hare, the well known city engineer, were in close succession, as were those of Fred. Harrington, son of Joseph Harrington, principal of St. Vincent's High School.

Edith Lawrenson, whose father, Edward Lawrenson, conducts the popular York Bakery, was not far ahead of Kathleen McArthur, who is a daughter of F. K. McArthur, a surveyor of high standing.

Margaret Jordan and Muriel Hawker were only a few points apart, the former being the daughter of Gilbert Jordan, the well known manager of the Sun Life Assurance Company, and a cousin of the leader of the class, Harriet Roberts. The latter is a daughter of the late Joseph Hawker, and granddaughter of William Hawker, the highly respected druggist and old-time citizen who still conducts business on Prince William street.

Helen MacGowan, who led the next group of three whose marks were very similar, is the daughter of the late J. S. MacGowan, and niece of Major John MacGowan, who won such merit in the late war. Ronald McKinnon, son of H. V. McKinnon, well known in journalistic circles, and Harold Holder, son of Robert Holder, a leading business man and traveler, followed Miss MacGowan's lead in good order. Harold was one of the best male leaders of play on the grounds of the Playgrounds' Association last season, and will, with several others of the class, continue in High School next year, taking twelfth grade work.

Helen McKay, daughter of J. A. McKay, manager of McRobbie & Sor's business on King street, headed the last group of three, with Chipman McKay, whose father is on the clerical staff of the Colwell Fuel Company, and Benejamin Guss, son of Morris Guss, a prosperous merchant, completing the list of this very large honor roll of an unusually large graduating class of 117.

As this is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the High School, it seems fitting that the conditions should be extraordinary. It should be with feelings of pride that the citizens of St. John assemble to witness a gathering which in its entirety bespeaks the democracy for which the organization stands.

Several of the students will take up the Normal course at Fredericton next autumn, and all hope to continue along some line of scholastic endeavor.

They are starting on the threshold of new endeavors. The wish for them can only be that they may "Build more stately mansions, as the swift seasons roll."

Those receiving graduating certificates are: Gordon Adams, Helena Adamson, John Armstrong, Frank Baxter, William Baxter, Ralph Beatteay, Helen Bishop, Eileen Branscombe, Fred Brenan, Coster Brittain, Mary Brittain, Rheta Brittain, Rose Budovitch, Edna Burrows, Frank Campbell, Scammell Case, Harold Chown, Dorothy Christie, Royden Christopher, Gladys Clark, Helen Clark, Gladys Clayton, Fred Connolly, Curnay Coolen, William Corkery, Muriel Cosman, Joseph Coughlan, Lillian Cruikshank, Mabelle Currie, William Donohoe, Horace Field, Donald Fowler, Ada Francis, Paul Fraser, Francis Fritz, Alice Fulton, Vida Gibbs, Raleigh Gilbert Sanford Goldman Benjamin Guss Evelyn Hanson Ruth Hanson Charles Hare, Fred Harrington, Howard Hartshorn, George Haslett, Muriel Hawker, Marion Henderson, Harold Holder, Douglas Horton, Freda Hoyt, Agnes Hughson, Margaret Jordan, Lelia Kee, Teresa Kerrett, Dorothy King, Dorothy Latimer, Edith Lawrenson, William Lee, Freda Macfarlane, Muriel Mahony, Rupert Mahony, Gladys Martin, Fred Milan, Elizabeth Morton, Gladys Murphy, Florence Murphy, Kathleen McArthur Maude McBay, Arthur McCloskey, Hazel McCready, Helen MacGowan, James McInerney, Chipman McKay, Helen McKay, Margaret McKinney, Ronald MacKinnon, Donald MacLauchlan, John MacMurray, David McNulty, Louis McNulty, Josephine McQuade, Alton Noble, Harold Northrup, James Nugent, John O'Pray, Robert Orr Grace Parkinson, Helen Pattison, Harry Peters, Alma Pike, Margaret Rice, Edna Riley, Leo Riordan, Harriet Roberts, Ethel Rose, Mabel Ryan, Irnia Schofield, Robert Scott, Donald Smith, Stuart Stevenson, Ethel Thompson, Frank Thompson, Audrey Turner, Edna Turner, Doris Urquart, Edward Walsh Vernon Welsters, Constance Weaver, Edgar Welsford, Richard Wetmore, Myrtle Whittaker, Eileen Williams, Harold Williams, Ralph Williams.

Winter Street School

As the Assembly Hall of the Winter street school will not accommodate the pupils of the main building and the annex at the same time, their Principal, W. A. Nelson, has arranged for the Annex to conduct their closing today, as the scholars in the larger school held sway on Empire Day.

Today will be the occasion of a very interesting programme in two parts. First, a pageant of girls, representing in dainty costumes, the native flowers of New Brunswick, and the second, for boys and girls, who will give, in dress and verse, representations of the flags of the British Empire.

The orchestra under the leadership of Harrison Morgan, will take charge of the music This boy leader is the grandson of Morton Harrison, and is worthy of the name he bears. He has trained several of the boys in the school and has greatly added to the enthusiasm for better singing throughout the school year. One hundred will take part in above programme.

Sixty-eight will take the High School entrance examinations, and it is thought that nearly all will pass. The pupils have shown special attention to their work, and this has made the year one of the most successful for the school.

In the main building at Winter street, the closing will be held in each room, respectively, a resume of the year's work being the leading feature of the programme to be carried out. Singing of patriotic songs will brighten the examination period, and give the needed variety that seems to be a part of the last day at school.

The St. Vincent's High School closing will be held in the Y. M. C. I. gymnasium, which is especially decorated for the occasion with the class colors, dark and light blue, and the colors of the Y. M. C. I., red and white. In the middle of the room a large arch has been erected with the class motto, "Constantia et virtute."

Miss Lillian Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Clarke, 34 Paddock street, is the class leader and will be valedictorian. Miss Rose McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McGill, 327 Charlotte street, will read the class prophecy. Worthy of special mention is the record made by Miss Mary Crozier, one of the graduates of this class, who has not missed a single day from school since she started, eleven years ago.

There are eighteen graduates from this high school. They are: Mary Bridgeo, Lillian Clarke, Evelyn Crowley, Mary Crozier, Mary Kane, Patricia Hennessey, Florence Leary, Marian Lahey, Imelda Le Couffe, Viola Le Couffe, Edna Lunney, Rose McGill, Gussie McGrath, Mary McLaughlin, Mary McNulty, Nellie O'Brien, Edith Power, Agnes Quigg, Madeline Sullivan.

Protestant Orphans' Home

Many friends attended the closing exercises of the Protestant Orphans' Home School, Britain street, and the West Side Orphans' Home, yesterday. A pleasing programme was carried out in the Britain street building under the supervision and direction of Mrs. F.W. Murray, the president.

The school closings were held a day earlier than those of the other schools in the city, to afford those who desired to do so, an opportunity to attend some of the other closings as well. Today a regular session will be held in place of that taken up by yesterday's exercises.

Rev. H.A. Cody, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond and Mrs. F.J. Harding, addressed the orphan pupils and assisted in the presentation of prizes, which were won as follows:

Highest standing—Mr. and Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, to Alice Armstrong and Warren Legge.

The boy and girl who tried to do their best—T.H. Estabrooks, to Helen Foren and Murray Lanyon.

Least bad marks—Mrs. F. J. Harding, to Freda Rogers.

Credit is due to Miss Nellie Vanwart, the teacher of the school, who prepared the programme. The numbers were as follows:

Recitation—A Tiny Tot—Edna Ware.
Recitation—The Boy's Complaint—Warren Lodge.
Recitation—The Violet—Alice Donovan.
Dialogue—The Flag—Eight boys.
Recitation—The Story of Grumble Tone—Frank Lanyon.
Chorus—The Buttercups.
Recitation—If—Mabel Hall.
Recitation—A Little Boy's Troubles—Hazen Ingraham.
Dialogue—Saluting the Canadian Flag.
Chorus—My Own Canadian Home.
Recitation—For England—Gertrude Appleby.
Recitation—The Garden—Woodrow Legge.
Recitation—The Chinese Lad—Geo. Mullet.
Recitation—Why Cats Wash After Eating—Frank Donnelly.
Recitation—Be Careful—Alice Armstrong.
Chorus—What June Brings.
Presentation of prizes.
Salutation of Flag.
God Save the King.

The work and exercises of the West Side orphans were the source of well earned congratulations on the part of their teacher, Miss Florence Coster. Rev. J.A. Holmes presided and presented the prizes donated by the president of the Home, D.C. Clarke, as follows:

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moments call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.
