

Many Chickens In The Market

The Outlook Favorable for Those Looking for a Good Dinner Tomorrow.

The city market promises to be the mecca of a good many housewives today, judging from the numbers who visited this centre of activity yesterday afternoon. On all sides could be heard the sound of brisk bargaining and the shoppers generally seemed satisfied with the prevailing prices. Chickens, which are plentiful can be had for 40c a pound. Veal is now coming in and a nice Sunday dinner, different from the usual pork or lamb meal, may be had from 20 to 30 cents a pound. Beef and lamb, which generally is supplied as the basis of the Sunday dinner is selling from 20c. to 35c. for the very best cuts.

As usual, green goods are still displayed in abundance and the prices asked are very reasonable. Nice bunches of parsley and mint, intermingled with bunches of radishes and crisp lettuce form a pleasant picture. Not to be forgotten, celery is still plentiful at three bunches for 25 cents. Sweet potatoes may be had at five pounds for a quarter and very good ordinary spuds at 30c a peck. Dealers are asking 40c. to 50c. a peck for exceptionally good-looking beets and cypriots. Cauliflowers have practically disappeared from the market shelves. Squash and pumpkin at 3 to 4 cents a pound are still displayed in large numbers.

Strictly fresh eggs are very scarce and bring 60c. per dozen. Case eggs, "like the poor who are with us always" retail at from 45c. to 50c. The side aisles are piled high with very tempting dairy and tub butter at 40c. to 50c. a pound.

A nice array of evergreen twigs and plants was not far away from the centre aisle of the market. This collection of rock ferns snugly embedded in moss, diminutive branches of spruce, studded with brown cones, rose berries, mingled with pine branches, is certainly very attractive. Many visitors are buying these for decorative purposes now that the season for flowers is over.

Has "Don" Really Come To Town?

Was it "Don" the little wire haired fox terrier mascot of the old 26th Battalion which arrived yesterday afternoon by express from Montreal, or was it another canine closely resembling the once intrepid little warrior? This question was debated on by several members of the battalion who have vivid recollections of the devotion displayed by "Don" during his connection with the battalion. To settle all arguments the "traveller" was forwarded last evening to his old master and friend, Walter Lawson, at present in Milton, who will be able to pronounce with out a doubt whether it is the faithful dog or otherwise.

The original "Don" was presented to Walter Lawson during the 26th Battalion occupation of the Kemmel trenches. It was a mere pup then and the Belgians in Loree who parted with him little expected that the warrior would visit nearly every portion of the line occupied by British troops and eventually march into German territory with the victorious Allies. "Don" was registered with the second Canadian Division as a police dog, and never missed a trip into the trenches with his master. He went with the boys to the Somme battlefields and escaped death many times in the two engagements at Courcellette.

From the Somme "Don" came to the Bully Greay front where he won his spurs. During the occupation of this part of the line the German machine gunners touched off a mine. Walter Lawson followed by "Don" were the first over the top and into the crater to consolidate the edge against attack by the enemy. The dog remained with the battalion through the Vimy and Hill Seventy affairs, but at Paschendale his master was wounded, and for a time "Don" was counted among the missing. Several months later in a photograph of Canadian cavalry officers in the Canada magazine, Major Lawson was delighted to see his old friend. It was not long before "Don" was again numbered on the strength of the Battalion.

The dog remained throughout the remaining stages of the war with his master, but on the march into Germany after the Armistice, "Don" for some unaccountable reason strayed from his friends and was lost.

On many occasions the men, when on the march have seen "Don" riding on a pile of blankets on one of the transport, howling and yelping with joy when the billets were sighted. His favorite pastime was killing off trench rodents. One day at Noville St. Vast "Don" discovered a large family of these pests and in as many minutes he had disposed of fourteen. Let us hope that should the dog sent from Montreal turn out to be a stranger, the original "Don" has long since found a home worthy of his devotion and trust in mankind.

Evidence On The Charge of Murder

Preliminary Hearing in Which Mrs. Bessie Parker Is Defendant, Was Resumed Yesterday.

The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Bessie Parker, held on the charge of murder of Mary E. Frontin, was resumed in the Police Court yesterday morning.

The stepmother of the deceased, Mrs. Artanis Landry Frontin, stated that she had noticed her daughter's illness about three weeks before she went to the hospital. Dr. McDonald had been called in Monday night and her daughter taken to the hospital Tuesday. On cross-examination, she said that she had seen her daughter in the hospital, but had not talked with her.

Miss Nellie Frontin, a sister of the deceased, testified that she did not know when her sister had been taken ill. Witness had been present when deceased had been taken ill. At this point the witness was stood aside at the request of E. J. Henneberry.

Dr. V. D. Davidson testified that he had examined the patient in room 33 of the Hospital on Saturday morning and had assisted Dr. C. M. Kelly with an operation in the afternoon. He had seen deceased on Sunday and Monday and her condition was serious. The witness had seen her daughter in the hospital. He had seen the dead girl since a paper.

Miss Frontin was recalled and testified that she had gone to the home of Mrs. Parker with her sister. The house, she said, was on the right hand side of Main street. They had gone upstairs and witness was taken to another room while her sister stayed with Mrs. Parker. Previous to this visit deceased had told the witness that she had been to a woman in North End who had performed an operation on her.

The case was stood over until Wednesday, E. S. Ritchie for the prisoner; E. J. Henneberry for the prosecution.

Plans For Big Skating Meet

Representatives of Various Organizations at Meeting Expect Ample Support.

Plans for the proposed skating meet this winter, should the city get the international championships and it is believed they will, were talked over yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms. There were present representatives from the Rotary Club, Gyro Club, Maritime Skating Association, Y.M.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Frank White placed the matter before the men present and while nothing definite was done the opinion was expressed that sufficient support would be forthcoming to make the meet a success. Among those present were Commissioner Thornton and after the meeting he expressed himself as being in favor of going ahead.

REV. S. McCONNELL MAY BE DEPOSED FROM PRIESTHOOD

His Book, "Confessions of An Old Priest," Cause of Trouble in Episcopal Diocese.

Special to Journal
New York, Oct. 27.—The deposition of Rev. Samuel Davis McConnell, D.D., from the priesthood is anticipated by himself as the result of a book he has written entitled "Confessions of an Old Priest." In the book Rev. Dr. McConnell renounces the faith upon which Christian churches are founded, and denies the divinity of the Lord. For half a century, Rev. Dr. McConnell has been one of the broad church leaders in the Episcopal diocese of Long Island and New York. For many years he was rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn and later of All Souls' church, Manhattan. He was one of those who supported Rev. Algernon Crapey, D. D., before he was deposed from the priesthood for heresy at Rochester.

Rev. Dr. McConnell has been living in retirement for some time on his estate, Ellicott, near Easton, Md., and is now under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Easton.

Women's Canadian Club Annual

Excellent Reports Received and Address by Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond—Election of Officers.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club was held in the German St. Baptist Institute, last evening, with the President, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond presiding. The first order of business after the reports were read, was to bring before the house the constitution and by-laws with the revisions that were suggested at the special meeting, held last week for that purpose. The annual reports of the Recording Secretary, the Treasurer, and the Convener of the committee from the Canadian Club to the Local Council were read and the report of the President was received with sincere expressions of admiration for its composition and encouraging report of the year's activities.

Mrs. G. S. Macdonald, in the secretarial report told of eight regular meetings that had been held during the year; of one luncheon to Miss Helen Mowatt, of St. Andrew's-by-the-sea; thirteen executive meetings and a fine series of lectures, informative and interesting. Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. Dunnington Grubb, Toronto, Mrs. H. A. Cady, Prof. Basil Williams, Mrs. C. R. Sunder, of Woodstock, who has lived for years in India, and Dr. Clarence Webster, as well as Miss Mowatt, previously referred to, were those who had honored the club with their interested addresses on particular phases of life and its activities to which they are devoting themselves. Not least interesting among these gatherings was the one that met to listen to the very full and entertaining report of the visit of the President, Mrs. Raymond, to the Pan-American conference at Baltimore. In the October meeting, she again delighted the members with a very fine report of the meeting at Hamilton, of the Confederated Canadian Clubs of Canada. Mrs. Kurling also spoke at this meeting on the Red Cross, giving a very lucid outline of the needs of the peace time program.

Armistice Day was commemorated by a representative number of the club joining in a service at Trinity and decorating the tablet in the Post Office with a wreath of poppies. Thanks to Mrs. S. S. Poole and Mrs. J. Z. Currie was extended, at the close of this excellent report, for their courtesy in accompanying the musical numbers of the club, or leading in the National Anthem and O Canada. Miss Tingley, the Treasurer stated that there had been raised during the year, $843.02 with expenses $818.66, leaving a balance of $24.36. This had been raised voluntarily by Mrs. Richard Hooper, who was voted most generous to the club and the vote being heartily responded to, the club now has 356 members, with 23 additions during the year.

Mrs. R. Vanwart, convener to the Local Council of Women for the committee from the club made appreciative reference to the work that the Council was doing in its federation of societies. She told of the movement on foot to promote Child Welfare still further, by the bringing into force, after a survey has been made, the Mother's Pensions Act. The report was accepted and laudatory reference made to the splendid work of Mrs. Vanwart during the war in her correspondence committee work.

Mrs. Raymond referred to a new member that had been received in the person of Faith Green, one of the advance agents of the Blue Water film here. Mrs. Green was given a reception at the Ritz Carleton, Montreal, last evening and had sent an invitation to the club, as a formal courtesy to the society.

The President's report was metaphorical, in that it referred to the club, as a ship, starting out one year ago upon untried seas, with a new captain, whose charter was to be a club who was ably assisted by faithful officers and loyal crew. There was all that was practical too, in the report, reference being made to the regatta that all felt at the fitness of Miss Leavitt, Mrs. Wm. McAvity and the absence of Mr. John Thompson, who has gone away for the winter. Miss Leavitt was able to be present, but did not take an active part in the deliberations, but was welcomed by her many friends. Ever gracious, Mrs. Raymond did not forget to thank the various members who had materially aided and sympathetically supported her throughout the year. Her report was spoken of as one to be proud of, the vote of thanks being moved by Miss Amelia Haley and seconded by Mrs. J. H. Doody, with a few happy remarks by Mrs. W. B. Tennant.

The various points of the constitution were taken up, but it was decided to form a committee to consider the matter and with due thought to bring in the revisions at the next annual meeting. The nominating committee that was appointed at the public meeting early in the month were Mrs. H. B. Peck, Miss Tingley, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. J. R. Vanwart, Mrs. Luggins, and Mrs. C. B. Allan, who entertained the committee at her home on several occasions. The names submitted were added to in some cases, by the nominations from the floor the election bringing the following result: President, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond; 1st Vice President, Mrs. H. B. Peck; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. J. H. Doody; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. J. R. Vanwart; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Gordon S. Macdonald; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Katherine Bell; Treasurer, Miss Anne Tingley; Historian, Mrs. H. R. Lawrence; Members of Executive, Mrs. Fred Beattie, Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley, Mrs. W. P. Bonnell, Miss Ethel Jarvis, Mrs. T. H. Carter, Mrs. J. S. Flagg, Mrs. Ralph Robertson, Mrs. D. C. Davidson, Mrs. F. B. Ellis and Mrs. Fred Daniel; the scrutineers were, Mrs. Fred Harding, Mrs. Max McCarty, Miss Mary Harrison and Miss Katie Bates.

Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley would not allow herself to be put on the executive except the ordinary way, completely winning the meeting with her democratic bearing and determination to be just one of the club. Among those who were recipients of thanks from the Club were the Misses Gray and Richy, who have been

To Bring Steamer Dream To St. John

Wreckers Hope to Raise Ill-Fated Craft Sometime This Forenoon.

Operations looking to the raising of the steamer Dream were begun yesterday and one cable was fastened around the stern. This morning another will be placed around the bow and the craft raised, it is hoped to have her above the surface by noon and she will then be brought to the city.

On his first trip down, the diver, Capt. Breen, tried to see if he could find the body of D. J. Nelson, who is supposed to have been on the freight truck when the steamer sank, but was not able to get in among the freight without danger to his life and it was decided to wait until the vessel was raised before looking for the body.

Owing to the high wind which prevailed all day it was impossible to continue the grappling for the body of Hudson McIntyre.

New Brunswick To Be Represented

It is expected that New Brunswick and the rest of Canada will be adequately represented by exhibits at the British Empire exposition to be held in London in 1924, Premier King having assured Major A. E. Belcher and the others of the exhibition mission, now in the Dominion, that the Canadian government would take a part in the big show worthy of Canada's position in the Empire.

Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, Premier of New Brunswick, has received a communication from Major Belcher, who is assistant general manager of the exhibition, that he expects to arrive in St. John and consult New Brunswick officials and manufacturers in about a week. The co-operation of the New Brunswick government is requested by Major Belcher. Major Belcher and the other members of the mission have been granted the use of a private car by the Canadian Government and after touring Quebec province this week and next they will come to St. John, visiting Moncton and other points, probably.

Major Belcher has not yet perfected the arrangement with the Ottawa Government regarding a national exhibit. He expects to go to Ottawa after his New Brunswick visit and work out the details. Major Belcher says that he has been greatly encouraged by the reception he has met with in Canada. He regards the British Empire exposition as of paramount importance to the trade of the British possessions and he anticipates a vast expansion as the result of the big London show. Trade, he says, has suffered from lack of standardization and lack of regularity of supply. He added that Canada and the other dominions had greatly improved their regulations regarding standardization of their food and other products, but much remains to be done, because one bad shipment would not so much hurt the individual shipper as give a bad name to the whole trade from that dominion.

It has been suggested that Canada's exhibit be sent to London in a government steamship, if Canada retains the merchant service. The members of the British mission who will come to St. John besides Major Belcher are Mr. A. Christie, Mrs. Christie and F. W. Bates, secretary. A heavy passenger traffic to England is expected during the exposition.

Civic Politics And Women's Council

Through the act of some person, as yet unknown, the presiding officer at the Women's Council, the members of the council and G. Fred Fisher, candidate in opposition to Mayor McLellan, were placed in a rather embarrassing position yesterday afternoon.

After the meeting had been in session some time a note was handed to the chairman, Mrs. R. J. Hooper, to the effect that Mr. Fisher was outside and asking when he might address the gathering and the president asked if any one present had any knowledge of Mr. Fisher having been invited to come and address them, as she had not been told he was to come and it was not on the agenda. Mrs. A. M. Belding explained that two gentlemen had called at her home during the morning and asked about meetings of women's organizations and she had informed them that the Council met during the afternoon, but there had been no invitation extended to Mr. Fisher to make an address. Evidently there had been a misunderstanding and the president, Mr. Anderson, who was one of the men, sent Mr. Fisher to the meeting.

It was explained to Mr. Fisher that the by-laws of the organization called for all matters coming before the meeting to be first submitted to the corresponding secretary and passed by her on the official agenda and they had a considerable amount of business to transact and the attendance was small, they did not think he could be given a hearing.

Mr. Fisher expressed his regret at the misunderstanding which had occurred and withdrew.

After the meeting some of the ladies were quite outspoken in their condemnation of the attempt to introduce civic politics into the organization. most generous in granting the use of their store for the sale of tickets when the club have been having some function that called for that necessity. They are both members of the club and were present to receive the message personally. Honorary members of the Club are: Mrs. B. S. Sted, Miss Agnes Warner, Miss McCafferty, Dr. Margaret Parks and Mrs. G. E. Barbour. Mrs. Currie officiated at the piano, rendering several selections while the scrutineers were counting the ballots.

Kerr's Business College Acquired By The Modern

The St. John Business College—Kerr's—will on November 1 pass under the successful management of the Modern Business College, Limited, corner Mill and Union Streets.

The Modern College has met with wonderful success in this city and this year it is enjoying the biggest business in its history. Mr. Geo. J. Smith, the President, has already engaged additional staff and purchased new equipment. The combined schools will be conducted in the same thorough manner that caused the Modern to become the largest business training institution in the city and this year it is enjoying the biggest business in its history.

Mr. Smith states that, owing to the very large enrollment of the combined schools, it will be necessary, for the present at least, to conduct the two schools in their respective buildings. The Commercial Department, with Mr. A. B. Lumsden in charge, will be located in the present premises of the St. John Business College, while the Stenographic Department will be conducted at the Corner of Mill and Union Streets.

On account of its thorough and practical work, the Modern College is very firmly established in this city and the management is to be commended for its progressive policies. With the acquisition of the St. John Business College and the new equipment purchased, it will be one of the largest and best equipped schools in Canada. It will be a cause of much satisfaction to the friends and students of the St. John Business College that their fortunes have been passed into such capable hands.

Catholic Alumnae Doing Good Work

Provincial Branches Submit Reports to International Body in Session at Louisville.

A summary of the report of the Federated Alumnae of New Brunswick to the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae shows that both the provincial branches have been very active during the past year.

The St. Vincent's Alumnae, at the 1922 reception, received 18 graduates, Miss Lilian Clarke, one of these graduates, had the honor of winning the Alumnae, Ellis, and Parker medals. Social service work had been carried on by assisting on public tardies for funds to further the work of the Hospital Aid, Free Kindergarten, Public Health, Poppy Day, Rosebud Day, Public Playgrounds, Children's Aid, Free Milk for Babies, The Christmas "Empty Stocking Fund", the Health Centre Campaign, the National Skating Championships, and by supporting legislation re Mother's Pensions and Minimum Wage for Women.

The St. Vincent's Alumnae is affiliated with the Local Council of Women and participates in its movements for the advancement and protection of women and children. As individual members of the Catholic Women's League, co-operation is rendered in its many activities.

St. Michael's Alumnae of St. Michael's Academy, Chatham, N. B., received ten members at the 1922 graduation exercises. While this branch has been organized only little over a year, it has been very busy and much good work has been accomplished. It has assisted in charitable work under the supervision of the Hotel Dieu hospital, and its members supplied and conducted the candy booth at the annual Christmas fair. Full co-operation has been given the many works of charity and social service of the Hospital Aid, Catholic Women's League, Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., and the Sodality of the Children of Mary.

The sessions of the International Federation are being held at the Seibach Hotel, Louisville, Kentucky, and are characterized by the attendance of a large number of delegates from the 330 associations in the federation, representing 41 states of the Union; 4 provinces of Canada, Belgium, Ireland, France and England.

Robert Burgess Injured At Station

Sydney Street Resident Falls from Boston Train When Pullman Is Attached by Shunter.

A rather serious accident occurred last evening at the Union Station, just prior to the Boston train pulling out, when Robert Burgess, father of Mrs. Sydney Gibbs, Sydney street, fell out on the station pavement from the rear platform of one of the Pullman cars.

Mr. Burgess was in the act of saying good-bye to his daughter, Mrs. M. R. Smith, when a shunting engine coupled onto the rear of the train and backed one section down the track in order to add an additional Pullman. When the shunter jarred the train Mr. Burgess evidently thought that the time of departure had arrived, and in his haste to descend the steps of the car he missed his footing and fell to the ground. He was picked up in a dazed condition and the ambulance conveyed him to his home on Sydney street. Dr. L. M. Curran was summoned and had Mr. Burgess removed to the hospital, where an X-ray will be taken this morning. The latest report at the hospital indicates that his condition is rather serious.

About twenty-five of the lady members of the Ketepec and Morna Outing Association were delightfully entertained by Mrs. T. Fred Miller, Victoria street, last evening. During the evening plans for the holding of a tea in the near future were discussed and practically completed, the proceeds of which will go toward the building fund of the Association. The evening passed very pleasantly with games of various kinds and music. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.
