

LANCASTER AFFAIRS BEFORE THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Differences of Opinion Among Three Councillors of District Waxing So Warm That They Were Called to Order—Opposition to Section of Finance Committee's Report Caused Discussion—Section Referred to Finance Committee.

The affairs of the parish of Lancaster occupied a large part of the time of the municipal council, which was in session three hours yesterday afternoon and three more last evening. Differences of opinion among the three councillors of the district, Messrs. O'Brien, Campbell and Golding, were expressed frequently, the discussion waxing so warm at times that the warden was obliged to rap for order. The opposition to Councillor O'Brien to a section of the finance committee's report providing for a bond issue of $33,000 for fire protection in Lancaster, which was supported by Councillors Campbell and Golding, Mr. O'Brien maintained successfully that there was no legislation existing to warrant the assessment of fire district No. 1 for a fire house and court room combined in Fairville. The upshot of the protracted discussion was that the finance committee was empowered, on motion of Commissioner Frink to give a hearing on the section, with power to act, providing Premier Foster gave assurance in writing that the necessary legislation would be enacted.

The discussion was begun in the afternoon when Councillor O'Brien declared that there was no legislation warranting a bond issue. He considered that the passage of the section would result in a tremendous burden being placed on the taxpayers and be an extreme hardship. He moved an amendment that action be deferred until the people had a chance to express their opinion. Councillor Campbell said that legislation had been obtained. He added that Mr. O'Brien had neglected to attend several meetings which had already been held and which had voted for more fire protection. Councillor O'Brien said that he had attended the meetings and that he was not an obstructionist in the council. The urgency of better fire protection had been shown by the Jordan fire, and he praised the St. John fire department for ever being ready to assist Lancaster. He would rather resign than have it said that he was obstructing a measure favored by the people.

Councillor Golding expressed his surprise at the stand taken by Councillor O'Brien. He had no idea there would be a hold-up. Warden Thornton said that the legislation all mentioned in the section applied to the whole parish of Lancaster. The matter should have been settled before the council met. Commissioner Bullock expressed his surprise that the act was not framed to cover district No. 1. He considered that Mr. O'Brien was right, generally speaking.

Mr. Golding charged Mr. O'Brien with kicking and blocking everything in the parish of Lancaster. The motion and several amendments were laid on the table until evening when the discussion was resumed. Councillor Campbell said he had seen Mr. Foster. The warden said that the premier had called him up early last evening and said that the municipality's course would undoubtedly receive the approval of the legislature. Mr. O'Brien said he would have a story to tell before the legislation went through. He was sure that the premier would not guarantee the legislation when he understands the situation.

Mr. Campbell said that Mr. O'Brien had painted a gloomy picture of Lancaster. He (O'Brien) provided figures which he (Campbell) imagined were figments of his imagination. The people in Lancaster imagined greater fire protection. Mr. O'Brien was in the insurance business and if the rates were increased he would benefit.

Mr. O'Brien denied entertaining any such idea. A lively controversy ensued, which was ended for the time being by the warden.

Mr. Shanklin proposed that the Lancaster councillors talk five minutes at a time. Commissioner Bullock spoke of the necessity of the Lancaster representatives agreeing to which Mr. Golding replied that he never knew of any disagreement until yesterday afternoon. Mr. Frink also favored unanimity. The section was then referred to the finance committee with power to act.

Another Lancaster Issue. Councillor O'Brien then moved that no payments be made to the fire, police and sewerage departments of Lancaster without the orders being signed by all three councillors. Mr. O'Brien contending that he had not been asked to sign many such orders. Sewerage payments had been made without his knowledge. Mr. Campbell thought that the signature of two councillors was sufficient. Mr. O'Brien retorted there had been no improvement in the Lancaster system under Councillor Campbell. The warden thought that the signature of two councillors was sufficient. Mr. O'Brien said that his motion might lead to something later on. The motion was defeated.

Still Another Controversy. That section of the finance committee's report providing for a bond issue of $7,000 for sewerage extension in Lancaster was referred to a committee for investigation, the committee to report at the next session of the council, on motion of Councillor O'Brien. A long discussion preceded the passage of the amendment. Councillor O'Brien contending that it had been undertaken. Councillor Campbell in a spirited reply to Mr. O'Brien said that councillor had accused people of being hoodlums. Mr. O'Brien remarked that it was necessary apparently to stand in with certain elements in Lancaster. He favored an investigation of sewerage and highway matters. Mr. Campbell referring to a certain meeting mentioned by Mr. O'Brien, declared that it was a deliberate lie if he said the meeting had been held in other than the Temperance Hall.

Mr. O'Brien next moved that it be deferred until a section of the highway act be compiled with, regarding submitting accounts to the council. Mr. Campbell charged that Mr. O'Brien had made every effort to block the highway board since he had been elected. He had said that he (Campbell) was a "rotten councillor." Mr. O'Brien denied making the statement. He declared that the highway board had been held in a few minutes. The Labor party has not professed that its programme could be affected immediately.

Sir John Simon: "I am sorry if Lloyd George is laid aside with a cold in the head. His colleagues have cold feet."

Neville Chamberlain, Postmaster General in the new Government: "The policy of the new Government has no fire works in it. Nobody can accuse Premier Bonar Law of promising a new heaven or a new earth."

Lord Long: "Capital levy is a mad, featherbrained scheme. We ought to link with the Dominions closer. If we widened the Imperial resources we should find it easier to handle the national debt."

Sir Donald MacLean: "Before the election is over there will likely be interesting revelations as to how the late government carried on. It was in the nation's interest that the rotten foundations of the coalition should collapse in ruin."

which will be anticipated with pleasure by all who have heard her speak. The Anti-Alcoholic League is composed of statesmen, business men and scientists, a society of great importance, with such a distinguished membership. Dr. Salabee, who will be here tomorrow and will speak in several city churches, represents that body, and is to speak in their interests, to introduce the findings of the League to the people of St. John.

THE MYSTERY OF THE MISSING SEVEN THOUSAND

Resignations of Members of Non-Functioning County Housing Board Discussed.

WILL ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS AFTER PROPER ACCOUNTING

Eastern Trust Co. to Act in Place of Housing Board With Municipality.

The resignations of the members of the non-functioning county housing board and the whereabouts of $7,000 of the board's funds were subjects discussed at length last evening by the municipal council. On motion of Commissioner Bullock, seconded by Councillor Frink, amended by Councillors Campbell and Shanklin, it was voted to accept the resignations after a proper accounting had been made. On motion of Commissioner Bullock, seconded by Councillor Campbell, the council also decided to have the Eastern Trust Co. act in place of the housing board, in conjunction with the municipality. The members of the housing board are Alexander Wilson, L. W. Simms, Harold Mayes, D. Murphy, T. K. Sweeney and J. A. Barry.

The auditor's report showed that the board had $7,000 on hand, although the secretary said the board had stated that it had no money to meet $4,000 bonds soon due. Councillor Campbell asked if it were proper to accept the resignations when $7,000 was missing, for the county treasurer had said that he had no account of it. Commissioner Bullock thought that the board's financial position was a mystery. He expressed the opinion that there should be some explanation as to the $7,000. Commissioner Bullock said that it is for the trust company to give an accounting, as the county secretary's figures did not account for the $7,000. Mr. Bullock said there had been no wrongdoing, however.

Warden Thornton said that the municipality should get what cash the board had on hand before the council accepted the resignations. The auditor's statement, the warden added, apparently showed that the unaccounted for cash was in the bank. Secretary Kelley then read a statement from the Eastern Trust Co., showing that there was a credit balance of the board in the bank on October 31 of only $2,350.92. The trust company's report showed that there had been bad feeling between the tenants of the houses built by the board, and the board, that tenants had discouraged prospective buyers and that several tenants were in arrears, one having been ejected. Collections had improved recently, however, and a better feeling had been established.

Councillor Shanklin said he was anxious to save the $7,000, but not the housing board.

Commissioner Frink remarked that the $7,000 must be somewhere. Councillor Campbell said that he understood that when a board was asked for money on April 30 last the board had no account of the $7,000.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Frink, Bullock, Campbell and O'Brien, at the conclusion of which the council voted as before recorded.

FACTORY FIRE CAUSED DEATH OF THREE GIRLS

Several Injured as Result of Fierce Blaze in Celluloid Plant.

New York, Nov. 3.—Three working girls died today, victims of a fierce fire which destroyed a small, tenth celluloid factory and six of their companions and one man were burned or injured as they fought to escape.

One of the girls died in a hospital tonight. Firemen had carried her from the flaming building after she had been trapped in a second floor workroom. Two other victims were within inches of safety when they fell from the third story windows.

The firemen hoisted an aerial ladder near one, who stood on a coping facing the street while the flames scorched her. As a fireman neared her the coping gave way and she dropped with a shriek to the sidewalk. Shouting to the other to return to her grip on the sill, from which she hung, firemen shifted the ladder but she could not stretch their arms to her, she fell.

The ballot is not yet closed, papers continuing to come in from distant points, though November 1 was the date by which papers were returnable.

URGE NEW BRUNSWICK TO SEND EXHIBITS TO BIG EMPIRE SHOW

Delegates from London, Headed by Major Belcher, Come to St. John and Tell of Valuable Opportunity Canada Will Have to Advance Trade Interests by Participating in Great Exhibition in 1924—Premier Foster and Others Speak at Meeting at Board of Trade Rooms—Dominion Government to be Represented.

Members of the St. John Board of Trade, Federal and Provincial Ministers and other prominent business men of the city and province, met in the Board of Trade rooms last evening and heard with deep interest an address by Major C. A. Belcher, assistant general manager of the British Empire Exhibition Mission.

W. F. Burditt, President of the Board of Trade, acted as chairman throughout the meeting. Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster and Col. A. Christie of the British Empire Exhibition were also on the platform.

The chairman called on Dr. W. E. Foster, who responded by welcoming the Mission to the city, saying that he had received a communication from Prime Minister King that the Mission would be in the city last evening. The Empire Exhibition had been conceived some years ago, but that the war had interfered. The idea of going ahead with the scheme was to interest both the provincial and federal governments of Canada in the benefits derived by the promotion of trade within the Empire. The Premier hoped that before the mission left the city they would have an opportunity of visiting the harbor.

Major Belcher, on rising expressed his pleasure at visiting the Loyalist city of the British Empire. He said that some people thought that they had seen the whole of Canada when they travelled across the continent and embarked on a vessel at Quebec for the Old Country. It was his wish to visit the Maritime Provinces.

The object of the Mission in travelling through the Empire Dominions was to urge co-operation between the Provincial and Federal Governments. To interest the business men of the Empire in what this Exhibition stands for.

Each Dominion, Crown Colony and Protectorate has been asked to choose a space in the Exhibition, where a comprehensive display of their raw materials and resources will aid greatly in developing trade within the Empire. England is Canada's biggest customer. For every dollar that Canada spends in Great Britain, England spends three in Canada. For every dollar the United States spends in Canada, we spend three in the United States. The import of dairy products from foreign countries; 80% of her raw materials and 40% of her lumber are imported from foreign countries.

During the past two years Canada has spent two or three million dollars for raw cotton. Australia this year will produce over a million pounds of cotton and in a few years will greatly exceed this amount. The cotton produced in Queensland is equal to all of the American product. Australia can produce 800 lbs to the acre, whereas the cotton in the United States averages only 400 lbs to the acre.

Canada sold to Australia last year $18,000,000 worth of products and in this year purchased only $3,000,000 worth of goods. For every foot of timber they buy from us they purchase half as much again from the United States, as Seattle can quote a slighter lower freight rate. By selling our lumber to Australia our bottoms could return with a full cargo of cotton.

South Africa has an ever increasing demand for lumber. Fruit production is taking strides forward and the demand for wooden boxes will be very large.

The speaker then turned to the subject of immigration. He pointed out that the term immigrant applies only to the foreigner and should not be applied to the people going from one part of the Empire to another. The problems of migration and production go hand in hand. It is necessary to concentrate the wisdom of the Empire on these great problems. The idea in England exists that Canada wants millions of farmers, which is not correct. It is acknowledged that agriculture is the key to the success of any country, but most of the successful farmers throughout the Dominions, before leaving the Old Country have been artisans and clerks. Premier Greenfield of Alberta said "that for a farmer to succeed he must have courage, determination and faith. He himself had once been a clerk in a London warehouse."

Major Belcher next took up the problem of research. The diseases of cattle have cost the Dominions millions of dollars. The object of the Empire Exhibition is to broaden the interest of the Empire and to better acquaint the people of one Dominion with another. Seven groups of Crown Colonies scattered throughout the world will occupy 120,000 square feet with an expenditure of over $500,000. The Exhibition will show what England has done in the past and what she will accomplish in the future. The Mission wants Canada to regard the Exhibition with a broader view and conception in order that the year 1924 will see the Motherland and Dominions linked together in a real Empire Exhibition.

The Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter then reminded the gathering of the absolute necessity of British trade being carried by British bottoms and the transportation handled by Canadian railroads.

J. A. Gregory said that 90% of the lumber shipped out of Canada was consigned through British agencies as it was impossible for the manufacturer to ship direct without loss. The British and French governments, during the war had bought up tremendous stocks of lumber which they had been forced to sell at a greatly reduced price, thereby upsetting the entire market.

Colonel Murray McLaren, M.P., R. E. Armstrong, Secretary of the board of trade, J. M. Woodman, Superintendent of the C.P.R. Atlantic Division; Hon. David Mervin, Minister of Agriculture and Hon. Dr. Roberts, Minister of Health, also addressed the meeting.

A vote of hearty thanks and appreciation was then moved by Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter for the information extended to the Board of Trade by the members of the Mission.

The personnel of the Mission includes Major E. A. Belcher, Col. A. Christie, T. W. Bates and F. B. Williams of the Federal government. They left England on Jan. 20th and have visited South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Canada. From St. John they are going to Halifax and then to Newfoundland. The great Empire Exhibition will be held on an area of 150 acres at Wembley Park about six miles north of London.

The Municipal council yesterday afternoon adopted a section of the finance committee's recommendations providing $13,703 for the internal rearrangement of the west wing of the General Public hospital for out-patient department and for architect's fees. The hospital commissioners were present, the council going into committee to hear Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, who explained the pressing necessity for the improvements. The improvements would relieve congestion and permit the release of three rooms for general use, he said. The X-ray department was now on a paying basis. Referring to a statement by Commissioner Frink that venereal diseases were a serious menace, Dr. Roberts said that they were not contagious, but infectious. The several hundred cases which Commissioner Frink said had startled him, had been treated apart from other patients and there had been no contamination.

Commissioner Wigmore strongly supported the hospital plea as did Commissioner Bullock. Other recommendations of the committee were adopted as follows: That before any further contemplated capital expenditure is made at the General Public hospital, the board of Commissioners, that before proceeding, they be requested to first approach the County Council as to the needs of a hospital, together with an approximate estimate of such capital expenditure.

That in addition to the assessment, the County Treasurer be instructed to advance the following accounts: Rentals, $125.00; Registry Office, $550.00; Marshal Fees, $400.00; Witness Fees, $150.00; Housing Board, $2,000.00. Due 1921, paid in 1922, not included on any assessments.

There was considerable discussion of the proposed extension of Cedar Hill cemetery, which Mr. O'Brien thought should be taxed. He expressed the opinion that the extension would reduce the value of nearby property. The matter was referred to the board of health.

It was voted to exempt the Beaconsfield playgrounds from taxation. These members of the sub-district board of health who are appointed by the council under the law were re-elected as follows: George Blake, Dr. L. N. Curren, M.P.P., W. H. Golding and Mrs. Richard Hooper.
