GOWNS FOR THE PLUMP

Incorrect Correct

The woman of too-rounded outline should learn that nothing so effective as the correct lines of grace and beauty.

The trimmed hat, too, makes the wearer's face too broad for beauty, while the closer turban frames it most interestingly.

Day was granted.

Mrs. Smith spoke tenderly of the loss sustained by Mrs. A. W. Estey, former recording secretary of the Council, and a letter of sympathy was voted to be sent from the meeting. Mrs. Hooper said that she and Mrs. Tennant had attended the funeral of the late Mr. Estey, representing the Council. A letter to Mrs. L. E. The Health Centre.

Miss Melkilejohn then spoke on the Health Centre and its objective. She said misunderstanding and prejudice among some of the people and for this reason, she had asked permission to speak to the Council. The Health Centre will train public health nurses, of which there is great need. She explained that the rentals at Cavendish Hall would in part defray expenses, but it was the purpose of the management to grant the free use of rooms to voluntary organizations, such as the V.O.N.'s and the Anti-Tubercular society. The rental per year is $1500 and she emphasized the fact that the Centre was the property of the city of St. John.

There would be opened up opportunities of teaching that has never been done in this city and that is necessary for its development and progress. Besides the clinics for free treatment of eye, ear troubles, etc., other branches of the difficulties that arise among school children it was intended to establish a clinic for mentally deficient children.

It was pointed out that the Centre must come from New Brunswick, as each province has its own problem and cannot meet the demands of its own work. Courses in trained attendance were to be opened as soon as possible and everything done to make possible better conditions from the work done in this the front door of Canada. Miss Melkilejohn completed her address with a reminder of the opening of the Centre on the 12th of December from 3 to 10 p.m.

Mrs. Loring spoke for permission to speak before the next regular meeting of the Council on the subject of Immigration, of which committee she is convener for the Local Council. She read a short letter from Miss Charlotte Whitton, the secretary of the Minister of Immigration at Ottawa.

The Children's Aid.

Mrs. W. B. Tennant gave the report of the Children's Aid, which showed that 23 children are in the home, ranging from 9 months to 14 years. The average cost has been lowered from $1.26 per day to 84 cents per day, for each child. The expenses will be a little over $800 for this year, which will be met in part by the grant from the city and the results from the Rosebud Tag Day, which generally brings in $2000. There is an overdraft of $1800, owing to the fact that the city has not been able to pay its full grant as yet, as taxes have not all been paid in.

The committees formed to carry on the Tag Day, which is to be on December 9th, were as follows: general convener, Mrs. E. A. Smith; tag committee, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell, Mrs. H. B. MARRIAGE A LA MODE

A Turkish marriage ceremony begins on Monday. On Thursday the bride and bridegroom have supper together. The hour of the meal, however, depends upon the shyness or the obstinacy of the bride, custom having decreed that the meal cannot be served until she shall have spoken to the bridegroom.

Experienced matrons recommend coyness to oriental brides and the latter's husbands therefore frequently have to resort to strategy in order to hasten the supper hour.

MRS. NEWCOMB ENTHUSIASTIC

Three Men Are Dead As Still Is Exploded

Philadelphia, Nov. 29—Three men are dead as a result of the explosion of the 100 gallon still in a stable here last night. One man was instantly killed, the other two died in hospitals today.

Two of the six injured are reported in a serious condition.

Where shall we shop today?

Did you know that D. MAGEE'S SONS LTD., were having a special sale of Muskrat and Electric Seal Coats for this week-end? They're having some other specials in their Women's Department too, but as soon as I saw the fur coats and heard the price they were asking for them I made up my mind that you would be most interested in those.

The quality of electric seal has improved wonderfully lately and they tell me that the demand for it is rapidly increasing too.

These coats bear the Magee's label and the guarantee is behind the label so you take no risk at this sale,—you merely take a lovely fur coat at a ridiculously low price and you're getting it at just the time you need it most.

Under the coat you will want a nice one-piece dress, and so dresses are included in the sale too,—lovely dresses of silk and wool, all marked at a special clearance price. You'll be surprised when you see them and I know you'll want one of them whether you buy a fur coat or not.

Calico Hats

Calico hats are shown for Palm Beach wear—they are much more festive than they sound, however, for they are in oriental patterns, and lined with plain colors, and quite frequently are decorated with wooden beads or coarse embroidery following the intricate patterns.

Even the smallest bits of Paisley may be used this year. Bags are trimmed with it and a plain velvet hat is given a colorful touch by a band of it wound about the crown or applied about the brim.

Lavellieres Of Beauty

The more recent arrivals in Lavellieres show a beauty of design that is indeed beautiful. Fashioned from gold or Platinum, the pendants hang from delicate thread-like chains and are set with the various precious and semi-precious jewels.
