NEWS GLEANED THROUGHOUT NEW BRUNSWICK

PARTICULARS OF TRAGIC END OF JOLICURE MAN

Joseph Wells, Aged Resident of Westmorland Parish, Lost in Woods Two Nights and Three Days.

Sackville, ov. 24.—Particulars have been received of the tragic death of Joseph Wells, an aged resident of Jolicure, who became lost in the woods at that village, brief mention of which has already been made. Mr. Wells had been living with a son for sometime, and had been in the habit of visiting friends a mile or two distant, remaining all night with them and returning the next day. On Friday forenoon he started off as usual through the woods. Nothing was thought of his trip and he was expected to return the next day, but the day wore on and he did not return. That evening the son, who had been away from home all day, became uneasy and began telephoning. He was naturally very much worried when he learned that his father had not reached his destination at all, and that these friends had no knowledge of his whereabouts whatever. Unfortunately it was then too late to do anything, but the following morning the neighborhood was aroused and a searching party started out to look for the old man. The search was kept up for several hours, without success, but finally a young man heard a cry and hastening in that direction soon discovered the missing one. His hands and feet were quite badly frozen, and while he was conscious, he was able to tell very little. The young man was unable to get Mr. Wells home without help. He was therefore obliged to tramp back through the woods for a considerable distance in order to notify the other searchers. Then a stretcher had to be improvised and finally the searching party started off again. They had no difficulty in locating the missing man, but the task of carrying him through the woods and over bogs was not an easy one by any means. As soon as the party arrived at the Wells' home a doctor was summoned, but the unfortunate man, although possessing a strong constitution, had suffered very greatly during the two nights he was exposed to the elements, and his death which occurred the next day was not unexpected.

Mr. Wells had many friends throughout Westmorland parish and news of his tragic death came to them as a shock.

GAGETOWN

Gagetown, Nov. 23—The Queens County Circuit Court, King's Bench division, convened again on Tuesday morning in the Court House, after their week-end recess.

With only two cases taken up last week, in both of which, the Channel case and Thompson case, acquittals were secured, the court is proceeding slowly, and it is expected that this week will not see the end.

Tuesday morning, His Honor Mr. Justice McKeown took his place at ten o'clock, and a jury was empanelled in the case of the King versus Wilfred Alward, as follows: Herbert Webster, George Armstrong, Edward B. Scovil, George Mullin, Malcolm Sharpe, Milton Hughes, George A. Vallis, John J. Jones, James Cassidy, James Kelly, Robert S. Baird and Ren E. Gaunce.

The first charge against Alward is that on May 9, he broke and entered the dwelling house of Judson B. Keith, at Canaan, and stole a revolver, 45 hunter's traps and eight pocket handkerchiefs. F. M. O'Neill, L.L.B., is Crown prosecutor and H. V. Belyea, K. C., is for the defence.

During Tuesday, four witness were called for the Crown, Judson B. Keith, his wife, Mrs. Rose Keith, Mrs. Mabel Lewis and Harry Price. As it was reported to the court that Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Lewis were both suffering from heavy colds, His Honor permitted the depositions which they made at the preliminary hearing to be read in court. Six witnesses for the defence gave evidence, Van Black and Lee Black, Alfred Kierstead, Mrs. George Black, Isaac Cromwell and the accused

It appeared in evidence that in March Wilfred Alward, who is a strapping young woodsman, had been trapping out a season and had had one of his traps seized by Judson B. Keith, the local game warden at Canaan. He is said to have sworn that he would get the trap back, and a few days later, told Mrs. Lewis, with whom he boarded, that he had recovered it.

About this time, the revolvers and traps and other smaller articles disappeared from Keith's house. Nothing was said about the matter until July, when young Alward got into a quarrel with Vanning Kierstead, local road supervisor, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Keith's, and then the matter of the lost traps was laid to Alward's charge.

The defence sought to establish an alibi, that on the night of May 9th Alward and the Black boys and Alfred Kierstead were away trapping bears, and also that the revolver, at least, had been seen in the possession of Cyrus Lewis, a young boy, son of Mrs. Mabel Lewis, one of the Crown witnesses, when he was at the homes of Isaac Cromwell and also of Mrs. Black during July. The traps in question were mostly traps which Mr. Keith had confiscated from illegal trappers and were hidden over the wood-shed at his house, where, it was shown, lumbermen who boarded at the house would have had access.

The Crown was not able to produce any of the stolen goods after they had been taken from Keith's house.

Later in the afternoon, Mr. Belyea addressed the jury; followed by F. M. O'Neill, for the Crown. Mr. O'Neill pointed out that Mr. Keith had had to deal with lawless characters during his work in the woods, and had found the prisoner engaged in illegal trapping. Was the word of the prisoner to be believed when he denied all knowledge of the crime? He recalled Alward's words to Mrs. Lewis about recovering his lost trap. Mr. Keith, who boarded the lumbermen, would have seen any traps being taken away among their belongings. He said that the defence had not been able to produce an alibi for the whole twenty-four hours of May 9, and that Cyrus Lewis had been dragged in since the preliminary hearing to cloud the real issue.

After deliberating only a few minutes, the jury brought in a verdict of nut guilty in the case of Wilfred Alward, charged with breaking and entering the house of Judson B. Keith, at Canaan Forks, and stealing a revolver, forty-five hunter's traps and other smaller articles.

Guard The Children From Autumn Colds

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHY RHEUMATISM OFTEN COMES BACK

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach the Root of the Trouble.

Most treatments for rheumatism do no more than aim to keep down the poison in the blood and enable nature to overcome that particular attack. Then when the system becomes run-down from any cause the disease again gets the upper hand and it all has to be done over.

Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels of excretion, the bowels, kidneys and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished, and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attack. This is proved by the case of Mrs. J. Hewitt, Beach, P. O., Hamilton, Ont., who says: "For a number of years I was troubled with muscular rheumatism, which caused me a great deal of suffering. I would get rid of the trouble for a time, but it always came back. A friend recommended Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I have not had an attack of rheumatism since I took them, and that is five years ago. I have since used the pills for anaemia and found them equally good, and I now recommend them to any friends who may be ailing."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
