TURKISH NATIONALISTS AGREE TO AN ARMISTICE

MUSTAPHA KEMAL ACCEPTS PROPOSAL FOR ARMISTICE CONFERENCE AT MUDANIA

In Reply to Entente Note
Kemal Is Firm in Demanding Thrace.

INSISTS GREEKS
EVACUATE IT

Demands It Be Immediately
Restored to Angora Gov't
Up to Maritza River West.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The text of Mustapha Kemal's reply to the Allied joint note of September 23, was made public to-night by the Foreign Office. The reply is dated September 29, and proposes immediately to stop the military operations which have been developing toward Constantinople and Chanak "in pursuit of the Greek armies."

It accepts the proposal for an armistice conference at Mudania, next Tuesday, with representatives of the entente, and nominates General Ismet Pasha to act for the Turks.

Dealing with Thrace, the reply is worded by marked firmness. It credits the entente with sentiments of justice toward Turkey, but demands that Thrace shall not be left one day longer under the Greek army, saying it is indispensable that Thrace shall be evacuated immediately and restored to the Angora Government up to the west of the Maritza River, including Adrianople.

The note, which is signed by Yusuf Kemal, Minister of Foreign Affairs, begins by saying that a formal reply to the Entente's note will be sent in a few days by his Government.

"Confident in the assurance which M. Franklin-Bouillon has given the commander in chief of the Turkish army, in accord with the representatives of the Entente powers meeting in Paris, and persuaded that negotiations will at once be proceeded with to establish a just peace, the note continues, 'an order has been given to stop immediately our military movements, which have been unceasingly developing in the direction of Constantinople and Chanak Kaleh in pursuit of the Greek armies.'"

The assurances given by M. Franklin-Bouillon have established the sentiments of justice with which the propositions of the Entente are truly inspired with a view to assuring the rights of Turkey. Nevertheless, as the maintenance of Thrace, if only for a day more, under the administration and occupation of the Greek army is a cause of danger of every kind, and grief to Turkey's people, it is necessary that Thrace, to the west of the Maritza River, with Adrianople, be evacuated immediately and restored immediately to the Government of the great National Assembly of Turkey."

The reply, in conclusion, accepts Mudania for a conference on October 3, and names Ismet Pasha, commander of the armies on the west front, as Turkish representative and asks to be informed as to the names of the generals representing the Entente powers.

BUSH FIRES RAGING WITHIN THREE MILES OF SUDBURY, ONT.

Sudbury, Ont., Oct. 1.—Bush fires are raging within three miles of this town, although they are not dangerous. The fire started last Wednesday in the vicinity of Ramsey Lake and is burning considerable slash, and very little timber. Five rangers have been fighting the flames in the Burwash district during the entire week. They were started by settlers to clear the land, but the fires got beyond their control.

PREMIER HUGHES DENOUNCED BY LABOR COUNCIL

Threaten General Strike in Event of War to Prevent Manufacture of Munitions.

FISHING VILLAGE OF CHANAK SCENE OF MUCH ACTIVITY

Has Veritable Arsenal of Material of War; Mobile
Fortresses Afloat Nearby.

Chanak, Oct. 1.—Never before in its eventful history, dating back to the Trojan Wars, has this tiny fishing village been the scene of so much activity. Here, one sees a veritable arsenal of material of war, while afloat there is an imposing array of mobile fortresses. If Mustapha Kemal Pasha essays to conquer this stronghold which dominates the Dardanelles, he will encounter not only the fire from a triple line of trenches, extending in a semi-circle around the town, but the combined bombardment from six super-dreadnoughts, a dozen cruisers, a squadron of destroyers as well as a rain of bombs from the air. Allied military experts who have examined the defences, say that they are a great advantage over those of the world war.

In the centre of the town, which boasts a population of 8,000 stands the British general headquarters which is situated in the Florence Nightingale Hospital made famous in the Crimean War. The chief figure is General "Tom" Marden, hero of many exploits in the world war, who was especially selected to command this well-prepared defence. Radiating from the headquarters are the officers' quarters and the huts and dugouts of the men. Overlooking all is a range of hills within whose shadows lie many olive orchards and farmlands.

Major General Frederick B. Maurice, who returned from an inspection trip of the entrenchments, said: "The Turks will not have such an easy time now as they did in 1916. Then, we were obliged to hang on by our eyelids. Now we have a firm foothold. Then we operated in the face of well-prepared enemy. Now we have constructed defenses unhindered by the adversary."

Chanak or Chanak Kaleh, as it was called in the time of Alexander the Great, and means "Castle of Pets," no longer smiles in peaceful potters and fishermen who hawk their wares to the passing ships. Chanak has time now only for soldiers and accoutrements of war. The solemn stillness which pervades the town at night is broken only by the clatter of horses' hoofs and the sharp commands of soldiers calling out the guards.

The residents of Chanak, who are mostly Turkish, expect daily to have to leave their homes. Many families already have departed, fearing a repetition of the events of Gallipoli campaign when the dreadnought Queen Elizabeth, firing from the Gulf of Saros, wrought indescribable havoc.

ARMISTICE CONFERENCE HAS BEEN CALLED FOR TUESDAY AT MUDANIA

Paris, Oct. 1.—An armistice conference has been called for Tuesday at Mudania, where the military representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy will meet those of the Turkish Nationalists and discuss the evacuation of the neutral zones on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, the withdrawal of the Greeks from Thrace and the possible occupation of Thrace by the Allies.

The call for the conference already has been accepted by France, and it is believed here that Great Britain and Italy, if they have not already done so, will reply favorably to the invitation to attend.

BATHURST'S NEW PAPER MILL TO REVOLUTIONIZE LUMBER INDUSTRY OF THE PROVINCE

The Mill, According to Angus McLean, Head of the New Enterprise, Will Have a Capacity of 100 Tons Per Day and Will Require Two Machines—Means Giving Employment to 400 Extra Men, With Preference to Men of Bathurst and Vicinity—Mr. McLean Expresses His Confidence in New Brunswick's Future.

Special to The Journal.

Bathurst, September 30.—Bathurst's new paper mill for the manufacture of newsprint, will be the first of the kind in the Maritime Provinces.

It will be the vanguard of a series of paper mills in various parts of New Brunswick, revolutionizing the lumber industry of the Province.

The lumber industry, as carried on for the past half century or more, has reached its high water mark, and the exportation of lumber in the rough, or raw state, is now on ebb tide and, before many years there will be little doing along that line.

Instead of that, a great paper mill industry will have grown up in New Brunswick, adding materially to the labor and capital wealth of the Province.

Such were the conclusions reached by the writer after half an hour's chat, today, with Mr. Angus McLean, that great Captain of Industry, who heads the Bathurst Company, Limited, whose Pulp and Saw Mills and electric plant have done so much to put Bathurst on the map, and whose latest venture is a up-to-date paper mill for the manufacture of newsprint.

Mr. McLean had correspondence to the right and left and in front of him from many parts of Canada, asking information re the new enterprise. He found time to give the writer some facts that will be of general interest.

"The new paper mill," said Mr. McLean, "will manufacture news print and will have a total capacity of 100 tons per day. That will require two machines. Only one machine will be operated at the start, but it is the intention to operate two machines just as soon as we have established a market for our output. We will commence with 50 tons per day."

"The main machine room will be 90 x 300 feet, and will be 30 feet high. The shipping room will be 50 x 200 feet, and the grinder and screen room 100 x 250."

"The new buildings will be of steel and concrete, making them absolutely fire proof. The work of construction will be carried on by the Bathurst Company itself, under experts from outside in the various kinds of engineering and construction work."

Asked what additional population would come to Bathurst as a result of the building of the new paper mill, Mr. McLean said:

"We will follow our usual custom of drawing from the town and vicinity for the bulk of our help. We will, of course, have to bring in some forty or fifty expert paper makers and machine workers; but the new enterprise will mean more employment for three hundred and fifty or four hundred people and the bulk of these we expect to get from Bathurst and the outlying districts."

Regarding the future of New Brunswick, Mr. McLean said the fact that his Company was engaging in a new enterprise of the magnitude of the paper mill pretty clearly indicated the Company's confidence in the future of New Brunswick. Speaking especially of the lumber business, Mr. McLean made a prophecy that will be read and near with much interest.

"The lumber industry of the Province so far as the saw mill end of it is concerned has reached its high water mark and the tide is now receding and will continue to ebb rapidly until there is little or no incoming tide in that direction. That will, of course, have its disadvantages, but it would also have its advantages, and there is no occasion for despair. The Pulp and Paper Mills will be the backbone of the lumber business in the near future and will replace the lumber mills of the country to a very large extent. Under the new order a tremendous waste of lumber will be practically eliminated. Pulp and paper plants will be able to utilize every part of a tree down to a three inch top, and in addition to that the expenditure for labor will be fully three times as much in manufacturing one thousand feet of timber into paper than one thousand feet manufactured into lumber."

Mr. McLean is naturally pleased that Bathurst is leading the van in the erection of a mill for the manufacture of newsprint, but feels that other such mills will be established in other parts of the Province. He was glad that Bathurst had grown greatly since the Bathurst Lumber Company began its Pulp Mill operations eight years ago, and was proud of the fact that this year many new buildings were erected or in course of construction—a beautiful new opera house, another fine new hotel, a splendid hall for the Knights of Columbus and other societies, as well as some twenty-five other new buildings.

The paper mill will add to the general prosperity of the town. All the machinery of the new paper mill will be operated by electricity from the Bathurst Company's plant at Nepisiquit Falls, twenty miles from Bathurst, where there is a nine thousand horse power already developed, the energy being transmitted with the assistance of steel poles. The Nepisiquit Falls plant also supplies New Brunswick and other Northumberland County parts with energy amounting to one thousand horse power.

The officers of the Bathurst Company Limited are as follows:—Angus McLean—President and General Manager; A. B. McLean, Vice-President and Assistant General Manager; M. E. Preisch, Vice-President; S. B. Bond, Secretary; George A. Schryver, Treasurer. The Executive includes the above named gentlemen as well as, John Ball, Manager of the Pulp Mill; Smith Morse, Auditor; A. E. Loosan, Director; Jack Lordon, Woods Superintendent; H. O. Schryver, Purchasing Agent; L. A. Palmer, Shipping Superintendent; Hugh McKinnon, Foreman No. 1 Mill; William Allen, Shipper No. 1 Mill; Ben Hammon, Book keeper; William and David Stanton, Machine-Room Superintendents; P. E. Austin, Kraft Superintendent; Ernest Harper, Sulphite Superintendent; James Thompson, Storeroom Superintendent; Gordon Chalmers, Master Mechanic; L. H. Cookson, Civil Engineer; Red Hugh McLean, Manager Costs production; Amos Hall, Store Manager.

Mr. William Kingston is, Mr. McLean's private Secretary; and several competent young ladies assist the various members of the Executive.

Your correspondent sees a great future for Bathurst, and a town of splendid opportunities along many lines of industry for the right men and women.

THE RESIDENTIAL QUARTER SMYRNA AGAIN IN FLAMES

Armenians, Fearing They Would Be Blamed, Threw Themselves Into the

RECONCILIATION IS NOT POSSIBLE, SAYS MRS. STILLMAN

Her Victory One of Tears,
She Says—Praises Loyalty of People of Quebec.

(Canadian Press)

Three Rivers, Que., Oct. 1.—There can never be a reconciliation between herself and James A. Stillman, Mrs. Anne L. Stillman said yesterday on learning of the decision handed down in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., finding her son baby Guy Stillman, legitimate and dismissing charges of misconduct made against her by her husband.

Mrs. Stillman received the news of her victory from a correspondent of the Canadian Press as she was hurrying by yesterday down the St. Maurice River from the Stillman camp at Grand Anse to summon medical aid for baby Guy, who is said to be seriously ill at the camp.

The correspondent boarded the yacht from the tug and handed Mrs. Stillman news despatches reporting the finding of the referee's decision. Mrs. Stillman was plainly overcome by emotion.

"It is a victory of tears," she said, "for after all it was not another Catherine. So much pain for others—my father, my family hurt, and my children with a marked name, whom I must help to take their place in the world again. I cannot be gay. It is all too deep for joy." Asked if a reconciliation might be possible, Mrs. Stillman replied: "There is a French word which will be my answer 'Jamais' (never). Why 'jamais' you ask? Because the father of my son is dead; no real father could have hurt him so. It would not be fair. The French said at Verdun 'Il ne passeront pas.' It was in this spirit that I waged my battle and it is this spirit that conquers."

"What do you intend to do in the case of the agents of Mr. Stillman?" she was asked.

"I will leave to my children the duty to deal with them. Stupid tales were imagined to compromise my good name and to hurt me and my children, but thank God, the simple and loyal people of Quebec cannot be bought against a mother rising in despair to avenge the honor of her son. They thought that by trampling the body of a child under their boots they could gag me, but I was upheld in the right of all mothers, and the spirit of the mothers gave me the strength to go through the dirt of the courts and to face the abuses of my prosecutors. The good people of this country have understood that, and the way they stood by me showed they realized that I was not fighting for myself alone."

Mrs. Stillman said she would not institute divorce proceedings against Mr. Stillman, because by so doing, she said, he would be able to legitimize the children of Florence Leeds, which would be to the detriment of her own children.

His Acceptance, However, of Conference at Mudania Has Temporarily Eased the Tensity of the Situation in the Near East—There Are Other Bridges to be Crossed Before Peace Is Assured, According to Belief of Ministers—Question of Thrace May Prove the Obstruction on the Road to Peace.

London, Oct. 1.—With the virtual acceptance by Kemal Pasha of a conference at Mudania Tuesday, or as soon as possible thereafter, the whole Near Eastern situation is considered temporarily easier. However, the fact that Turkish troops are still concentrating in the Ismid zone, notwithstanding that they have retired slightly in the Chanak zone, would indicate, according to remarks made after the British cabinet's second meeting today, that "Kemal is still playing a game."

Other Bridges to Cross. While the members of the cabinet appear to be much gratified at the happy conclusion, for the moment, of a difficulty which might have necessitated the use of force in the Chanak zone, there are other bridges to cross. Up to the present, there is no information from General Harrington, the British commander at Constantinople, that Kemal will attend the Mudania conference, although General Harrington's despatches indicate that he might.

Several Cabinet Meetings. After several cabinet meetings Saturday, one of them running into an o'clock Sunday morning, information from the Near East was considered not altogether satisfactory and two additional meetings were held today. It is possible that others will be held Monday, though Premier Lloyd George went to Chequers Court, his summer residence, late this afternoon. The Mudania meeting will be a purely military affair, to arrange, according to the original note to Kemal Pasha, that the neutral zone shall be respected and also to agree upon lines behind which the Greeks are to withdraw in Thrace, both points pending the general peace conference. There will be present military representatives of the three Allied Powers as well as Greece and Turkey.

It is pointed out that the very basis of this conference is respect for the neutral zone and before it begins the Chanak area entirely. On this point there has been quibbling until the British Cabinet permitted General Harrington to send a virtual ultimatum to the Turks to clear out. Although the Turks have not yet withdrawn completely they have evacuated the heights of Eren Keui and have desisted, also from parading before the British wire entanglements.

If the Turks around Ismid commence such actions or attempt to enter the neutral zone at that point, there is likelihood that to British will raise the question before entering the conference. It is known that while General Harrington is making every effort to maintain peace, he is a most exacting and determined person when given cause.

Question of Thrace. Another question which may arise within the conference is the form of Government or control to be established in Thrace pending the terms of peace. It is certain that the Turks will demand that they be permitted to take over and occupy Thrace immediately for the purpose of protecting their nationals, keeping order and preventing confusion and crime with the withdrawal of the Greeks. It is suggested that Allied officials and troops might be used for this purpose. Under these heads the conference promises many disputes. In some diplomatic circles there is a certain optimism over the situation, it being pointed out that the Turks are "too wise to fight," when they know they risk all by such a course, whereas, they are assured of many advantages before a peace conference opens.

The Turks have evidently made a concession with regard to time limit set for the embarkation of refugees at Smyrna, which expired Saturday. They did not officially extend the limit, but they are permitting, without molesting the vessels now in Smyrna harbor to take the refugees aboard, and many are being evacuated under the United States and British flags. It is said that so far 170,000 have been embarked, but nearly as many more are still awaiting relief.

The presence in London of the form Greek premier, Venizelos, continues to occupy attention. He called officially at the Foreign office this morning, but did not see Lord Curzon nor Premier Lloyd George at No. 10 Downing Street. It is explained that his visits might be misinterpreted. However, there is no doubt that he intends to make a broad for Greece and that he will try to secure a favorable settlement from the Greek viewpoint on the Thrace and other questions. Venizelos is silent on the advisability of action by the new Greek Cabinet toward the reorganization of the army and the defence of Thrace.

QUANTITIES OF OPIUM SEIZED IN RAID AT HALIFAX

One Chinaman Found Smoking
the Drug, and Four Arrests Made.

Halifax, Oct. 1.—Quantities of opium were seized, one Chinaman was found smoking the drug, four were arrested, and fifty Orientals were thrown into custody when a police raid on Chinese occupied premises at 25 1-2 Sackville street today.

The police entered by breaking down a side door. They state that they found opium concealed in various places around the establishment. There was also an alarm system by which a gong could be rung in the upper parts of the building from the downstairs floor.

PATRICK COSGRAVE SHOT AND KILLED

Dublin, Oct. 1.—Patrick Cosgrave, uncle of William Cosgrave, President of the Dail Eireann, was shot and killed, yesterday, in a hotel here by four armed men who raided the place. The intruders ordered everybody to throw up their hands. Mr. Cosgrave refused to comply and grappled with one of the men, who shot him. Another man was shot and seriously injured Saturday night while chatting with friends in the street in Dublin. His assailants escaped.

BENNIE SWIM HAS LESS THAN WEEK'S LEASE ON LIFE

The Twice Postponed Execution Is Set for Early Morning Friday, October 6.

Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 1.—Bennie Swim, condemned to hang for the murder last March of his cousin, Mrs. Olive Swim Trenholm and her husband, Harvey Trenholm, at Benton Ridge, Carleton County, has less than a week to live unless there is an unexpected turn in his case. The twice postponed execution is set for early on the morning of Friday, October 6, and preliminary preparations are being made for carrying out the death sentence.

It is definitely stated that High Sheriff Albion R. Foster has engaged one of the officially recognized executioners to carry out the penalty, but the hangman has not yet been named. Sheriff Foster is now on a touring trip, but is expected here Tuesday.

Meanwhile Bennie Swim has been sick. Deputy Sheriff Moore stated that the condemned man had a serious attack of tonsillitis last week which has confined him to bed most of the time and left him in a somewhat weakened condition, although he is thought now to be nearly recovered.

Swim's execution has been twice postponed, first pending investigations concerning his sanity, and second following an accident to the official hang man when en route to carry out the penalty.

on Friday afternoon. Captain McIntosh was measuring some trees on his lot. He noticed a mother moose with a yearling approaching but gave little attention. Suddenly from among the bushes its mate rushed upon him. Captain McIntosh got what shelter he could among the trees but the moose did not withdraw from the attack until the cow and calf moved away.
