

ARMISTICE DAY CEREMONIES IN THE CITY OF SAINT JOHN

The fourth anniversary of the close of hostilities in the Great War was solemnly and impressively observed in St. John on Saturday. The Great War Veterans' Association in the morning decorated the replica of a Soldier's grave in France, in King Square. Several hundred persons saw the ceremony. Yesterday the G. W. V. A. decorated soldiers' graves in Fernhill cemetery. On Saturday afternoon a memorial service was held in Trinity church. In the forenoon 12,000 poppies were sold, the proceeds to be devoted to the relief of the families of men who served in the colossal struggle. A beautiful ceremony was carried out in the post office in the morning when a wreath of poppies was placed on the tablet erected to the memory of the various New Brunswick units which served overseas. For two minutes, beginning at 11 a.m., the wheels of commerce, industry and street transportation were halted, while the people paid silent tribute to the gallant boys who fought so well, many citizens at the same time offering thanksgiving for peace.

In King Square

The King Square replica was covered with a large Union Jack. At five minutes to eleven Mayor McLellan raised the flag and uncovered the grave. A small wooden cross bearing the letters, R. I. P., marked the head of the grave. Three returned soldiers stood on either side facing inward. As the Mayor raised the flag, Bugles H. S. Vessels of the 31st Battalion sounded the Last Post, while all around a silence was maintained, all standing with bowed heads, and all men with heads uncovered.

Following the sounding of the Last Post, the Rev. Neil MacLellan and the Rev. Raymond McCarthy walked slowly up the walk from the direction of the square and placed poppies on the grave.

Among those present at the grave service were Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, E. A. Schofield, R. T. Hayes, Major William Vassie, Major N. P. McLeod, A. I. Macdonald of the G. W. V. A., Commissioner Bullock, and the Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.

At The Post Office

The ceremony in the post office was most impressive. The request of the Women's Canadian Club, Rev. H. B. Clarke placed a wreath of poppies on the tablet. His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley presided and with him on the steps were Rev. Mr. Clarke, Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Pugsley and Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, president, and several members of the Women's Canadian Club and Alexander McMillan.

Former service men on the post office staff opened the ceremony with the singing of "O Canada," which they sang in excellent voice. The Lieutenant-governor then explained the occasion and introduced Rev. Mr. Clarke. After placing a large wreath of poppies on the tablet, Mr. Clarke delivered an inspiring address.

Canon Armstrong

Hon. Dr. Pugsley then called upon Rev. Canon Armstrong, who pictured graphically the conditions which surrounded the burial places in France and Flanders since the war.

While Canon Armstrong was speaking the 11 o'clock gong struck and after two minutes of silence, he concluded the ceremony by asking the people to honor and reverence the memory of those to whom this day was consecrated.

The ceremony was then brought to a close with the National Anthem.

At noon the poppy sellers were served luncheon at the G. W. V. A. rooms. A committee in charge of this was composed of Mrs. J. H. Tilloson, Mrs. S. C. Tippetts, Mrs. Harry Cameron and Mrs. Frank Ash.

A large wreath of poppies was placed in the morning over the memorial tablet on the C. P. R. building, which bears the names of departed heroes who were formerly members of the C. P. R. staff. Wreaths were also displayed in windows throughout the city in memory of some departed member of a firm or family who was killed in the world war.

R. E. Armstrong, president of the Navy League, addressed fifty boys at the public library. His subject was "What the Day Stands For." The two minutes silence was observed. Mr. Armstrong endeavored to impress on the boys the meaning of Armistice, or, as it is termed in England, "Remembrance of Forget-me-not day." The boys manifested a keen interest.

Trinity Church Services. An impressive Memorial Day service was held Saturday afternoon in Trinity church. The attendance was very large, the L.O.D.E., Red Cross, G.W.V.A., Women's Canadian Club, and other societies being well represented. Following the organ prelude the hymn "O King of Kings, Whose Reign of Old Hath Been from Everlasting" was sung. The opening sentences were read, followed by the General Confession, and absolution. The Lord's Prayer was repeated and the 46th Psalm, "God is Our Hope and Strength," read, and the 24th Psalm, "The Earth is the Lord's and the Fullness Thereof." The lesson, Revelation, 21:1-7, was read and the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," sung.

A memorial to the dead followed: "Let us remember before God and with high honor those who gave their lives in the cause of liberty and justice; and ask life blessing on our country and on all nations that peace and justice will dwell among us." This was followed by prayer and the Doxology. The National Anthem was then sung which was followed by an address by Rev. H. B. Clarke, on the day and its significance and meaning. The offertory followed and the "Benediction" was pronounced. After the Benediction the recessional hymn, "O valiant hearts who to your glory came," was sung.

KNOX CHURCH CONGREGATION HONOR ITS HEROIC DEAD

Beautiful Marble Tablet Unveiled With Solemn Ceremony at Morning Service Yesterday—Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, Col. McLeod, Major Peat and Col. Houlston, and Sergeant-Major Horsman Participated—Lieut. - Gov. Pugsley, Mrs. Pugsley, Col. Vassie, Premier and Mrs. Foster, Mayor McLellan, Hon. Dr. Baxter, Col. MacLaren and Many Others Present.

"To the Glory of God and in proud memory of the men of this congregation who gave their lives in the great war."

Frank R. Armstrong, James W. McDougall, Harold Boyer, The Christian F. Dick, Donald M. Noble, Harold E. Brown, Gordon Ken, Arthur Myers, William Harper, William M. Henderson, William C. Noble, Walter C. Noble, Walter R. Armstrong, Alexander Brown.

And how can men die better? This is the inscription that tells the story of the sacrifice that was made in the congregation of Knox Church, which unveiled yesterday, with solemn ceremony, a beautiful marble tablet at the morning service. This thought was emphasized by the pastor, Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, B.D., when in his reference to the purpose of their coming together, he reminded the congregation that it was not the names, or the marble upon which they were inscribed that was valuable, but what was invisible in that which lies beyond the marble and the gold.

Colonel Norman McLeod read the Psalm for the day and Major Peat, M.D., the passage from Hebrews XI, 32-40. Appropriate hymns were sung by the choir and congregation, in which the large body of soldiers participated. The band of the 62nd Fusiliers played during the offering with exquisite harmony, modulated to the time and place.

"And the place was the gold of Parvaim," was the text that gave a message full of the brightness of gems the richness of gold and the symmetry of the beautiful house of God that was described in the second book of Chronicles, third chapter and sixth verse.

The Temple sat like a crown upon the brow of Mount Zion and was covered in the devoted heart of David, with the wisdom and riches of Solomon to build it, the highest thought of God in that time of the world's history. It was the most beautiful building that had ever been erected, for symmetry, adornment and accuracy of detail. Gathered from all over the then known world were the gems and minerals that composed its glory of structure and the gold was the most golden gold that could be obtained. It came from Mesopotamia, at great cost of life and labor, and it overlaid the pillars inside the temple. All this, with the magnificent foundation and material glory has disappeared. On its ruins God is building a world-wide temple, a spiritual building, whose followers, the polished characters of His followers, built upon the foundation of the strength of goodness and whose adornment is the gold of those who have brought it from the Hill of Calvary, with sacrificial love. The gems, said the preacher, are the lives of those who are giving devoted service to the work of the world's uplift, with never-failing service. The chief cornerstone is Jesus Christ. "The beauty and grandeur of this temple can only be as beautiful and as grand as we, the stones and gems, make it and we can do it only by self-sacrifice, holy and beautiful."

Canada's Contribution

He further elaborated the thought of the best and costliest only being used in the material Temple of long ago and stated that on the present occasion, with the perfume of patriotism, were they offering praise to the men, whose names were written in the gold of imperishable love on the white marble tablet. Back of that which was visible, were the youth, strength, and purpose of mind, heart and body that had been sent by Canada as her made of gold in golden hearts, full of desire for lofty endeavor.

"These men are not dead," said the speaker, "for the promise of Jesus was that he who gave his life should save it. He urged the people to bring about results commensurate with the sacrifices that the men had made. 'God looks to His followers to pray and work and live that the temple of peace shall arise in strength and beauty, set with the gems of our best efforts and gold that is better than he gold of Parvaim.'"

The short service was then read, preparatory to the unveiling, with the

THE MYSTERIOUS LIMERICK

As the time of closing of the missing line limerick contest (today noon) approaches, hundreds more suggestions keep pouring in, and still the majority seem to think that the solution of the mystery will be found somewhere in the vicinity of Musquash. Following is the mysterious verse and a few more of the many hundreds of suggestions for the missing line.

THE MYSTERIOUS LIMERICK

He sat on a bench in the Square
And muttered "By heck, it aint fair,
I was gyped in that deal
And I'm going to squeal"

Now Mayor McLellan beware.

Like the Times filled with hydro hot air.

To The Journal who's both fair and square.

For hydro is all bosh and hot air.

For water there's none, just hot air.

On Monday we'll have the same Mayor.

My fortune's in need of repair.

There's no power at Musquash to spare.

For there's only nine million out there.

Till the Telegraph gets a good scare.

We must have McLellan for Mayor.

I won't pay for juice that's not there.

Though the hydro goes in the air.

For it's more than I really can bear.

And vote for McLellan for Mayor.

If they don't elect McLellan Mayor.

If Fisher's defeated for Mayor.

Of tricks the The Journal laid bare.

Promoters of Musquash beware.

The H. P. of Musquash ain't there.

Of hydro commission beware.

The Musquash I'll dam when I swear.

The grafter got more than his share.

"A nig" in the wood-pile" somewhere.

Flow softly old Musquash—my prayer.

If that Musquash dam hydro's hot air.

For hydro is nothing but hot air.

So in goes McLellan for Mayor.

And boost good McLellan for Mayor.

That water is mostly hot air.

Their pledges were naught but hot air.

For the Telegraph's only hot air.

If Fisher is put in for Mayor.

We wait Hydro with Harry as Mayor.

On Fisher and Moore—What a pair?

Or the deal will catch all in its snare.

Like an old woman with the nightmare

For "hydro at cost" is a scare.

Though the debt hidden hand is laid bare.

Of the Mo(ore) Fostered Musquash beware.

If taxes are higher next year.

Till the joker in hydro's laid bare.

If "Hidden Hand" beats McLellan for Mayor.

If it takes off the rest of my hair,

For Fred Fisher is no man for Mayor.

For I'm fed up with all this hot air.

For my tax bills are causing grey hair.

congregation standing, and Colonel Houlston, the commandant of the Military Depot, No. 7, then drew aside the Union Jack, which covered the handsome, chaste white marble tablet, that is set on the west wall of the church. Immediately the bugler, Sergeant-Major William H. Horsman, sounded with silvery notes the "Last Post" and the hymn "For Those Who From Their Labors Rest," was sung.

The 62nd Battalion, which was well represented, filed out, among them battle-worn men with many scars and badges, young untired men of the Signal Corps, whose new uniforms marked their youth in years and experience, and in the rear came the colonels and majors, all of whom had seen service. Then came the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Pugsley, Mrs. Vassie, Col. Vassie, Premier and Mrs. Foster, Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter and His Worship, Mayor McLellan, Commissioner Thornton, Col. Murray MacLaren, M. D., M. P., and others. It was a historical and distinguished service, in the old historic Scotch place of worship, Knox Presbyterian church.

DISTRESS IN THE THROAT CAUSED GREAT ANXIETY

Not an uncommon experience, was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmet of Shubenacadie, N. S.: "Many remedies failed, still splendid results were found in Catarrhoxone." I have been a most dreadful sufferer from Bronchial trouble and Catarrh. On damp days, I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines but didn't get permanent relief. I used Catarrhoxone. It strengthened my throat, stopped my cough, and made me well. Try Catarrhoxone yourself, see what wonders it works on a bad throat, or colds, catarrh, bronchitis. I used all kinds of old ways, because you breathe Catarrhoxone. Get the dollar outfit which includes the inhaler and last two months. Small size 50c. Dealers, The Catarrhoxone Co., Montreal.

McLELLAN RIGHT, SAYS LEADING BUSINESS MAN

Independent, Unbiased Opinion of H. H. Hatfield Is That Mayor's Platform Only Safe and Sane One.

H. H. Hatfield of Hartland, president of the Hatfield Co., Ltd., was on Saturday at the Victoria. As an outsider and one who has no personal or political interest in the majority contest in the city, Mr. Hatfield's opinion on the hydro situation may prove of some value. As a business man he expressed himself very positively that the McLellan platform is the only safe and sane business proposition so far presented for the consideration of the voters.

In addition to the produce business Mr. Hatfield is a director of the Farmers' Telephone Co., Ltd., which has established quite an extensive business in Carleton County.

BOYS KNEEL AND PRAY IN COURT

A very touching scene was witnessed by those present at the sitting of the Police Court Saturday morning. The juvenile court was in session before Magistrate Ritchie, there being twelve boys arraigned on as many different charges. When the alarm rang warning the people that it was eleven o'clock the Magistrate instead of ordering the boys to stand and keep silence asked them to kneel and pray, they complied with his request adding their prayers to those of the rest of the world on the anniversary of the day when the world was again clothed in the garb of peace.
